AMID WARNINGS OF PERIL

It's 'Happy Birthday' U.N.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The United Nations celebrated its 25th birthday today with a warning from one of its original drafters that world events threaten to relegate it to "marginal importance."

"The United Nations is in the throes of a crisis," Gen. Carlos P. Romulo told a formal commemorative session at the San Francisco Opera House, where delegates met in 1945 to give birth to the world body."

Romulo said the press of events "threatens to reduce the U.N." to margional importance when it should be playing the central role at this decisive stage in world affairs."

The Philippine foreign secretary, former president of the General Assembly, pointed out that the U.S.—USSR strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) "are being held outside U.N. auspices.

"So are the negotiations for a detente between the NATO and Warsaw Pact Countries. The United Nations has only a secondary part in the diplomatic soundings toward peace in the Middle East, and has no role at all in the settlement of the Vietnam War."

Romulo spoke at a formal commemoration by diplomats from the U.N.'s 126 member countries in the San Francisco Opera House.

The Western White House at San Clemente said today President Nixon would not be able to attend the ceremonies because of prior commitments but was honoring the occasion by entertaining U Thant at the White House later.

Former President Harry S Truman sent a special message from his home in Independence, Mo., recalling how the U.N. was formed from the ashes of World War II—"In the midst of war we had been planning to do away with war once and for all."

The 86-year-old Truman said his first decision after the death of President Franklin Roosevelt on April 12, 1945, was "that the United Nations Conference at San Francisco would meet on April 25 with no delay or change in schedule.

". . .If in the intervening 25 years the United Nations has not always lived up to our highest hopes, it has nevestheless managed to make substantial contributions to peacekeeping

The official observance will conclude tonight with a glittering state dinner at the Fairmont Hotel at which Secretary General U Thant will speak.

The charter, signed in the War Memorial Veterans Building after three months of work in the Opera House, was put on display for the occasion.

Jetliner, 104 Aboard, Shot In War

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — An Italian jetliner was hit, possibly by a rocket, as it flew over Syria at 31,000 feet today during fierce ground-air fighting between Syrian and Israeli forces. It made a safe landing despite a yard-wide hole blasted in one wing.

None of the 104 persons aboard the Alitalia DC8 was hurt in the incident, believed to be the first time a commercial plane has been damaged by gunfire during flight over the war-torn Middle East.

Officials said it was not known whether the plane was hit by Syrian or Israeli fire or by a rocket or antiaircraft fire. They reported the incident happened after Syrian authorities ordered all commercial aircraft out of the area for security reasons.

Later both Syria and Israel blamed the other for the incident.

Syrian forces are known to be equipped with Soviet-built antiaircraft rockets capable of hitting targets at high altitude. Conventional antiaircraft shells are more accurate at lower altitudes.

The pilot of the jetliner, Giorgio Pizzo, 38, said he was close to Damascus on a flight to Rome from Tehran, Iran, via Beirut, when the plane was hit.

"At first I thought it was a collision with another plane because there was a British Overseas Airways Corp. plane scheduled half an hour ahead of us," Pizzo told newsmen after landing at Beirut. "Then I realized we had been hit by a shell.

"There was no explosion. I figured it hit the fuel tank and switched off to avoid fire. I landed at Beirut without flaps.

"Frankly, I am surprised that the plane did not explode. When we got out at Beirut we were astonished at the extent of damage — a yard-wide hole. Of course, we lost a lot of fuel."

Pizzo, an Alitalia pilot for 15 years, said there were 94 passengers and 10 crew members aboard.

"I am sure it wasn't intentional," Pizzo said. "We were hit by a stray shell."

One of the crew, stewardess Ordella Nicoletti, said she believed the plane was hit by an antiaircraft missile.

"The lower part of the left wing was hit," she said. "I was talking to a woman near the wing which was hit and I could see splinters flying from it. There was no great panic but the whole plane was about to lose balance. Passengers were very scared and the women were screaming."

The plane made a normal landing at Beirut. Passengers got off through an emergency exit.

Tentative $36 Million Budget Set

By DAVID DIETZ

Marin County supervisors, acting in the wake of citizen protests over rising government costs, wiped out proposed pay raises yesterday for 21 department heads and left an uncertain number of their assistants with only $1 token increases.

The action, estimated to save more than $100,000, came as the board tentatively adopted a $36 million budget for 1970-71, climaxing two weeks of public hearings. That left the projected tax rate at $2.49 per $100 of assessed valuation, up nearly 10 cents from this year.

The budget windup also saw the board make an added cut in county supplementation to Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) grants, chop employees previously voted into the record spending program and approve sweeping changes in next year's capital improvements program.

NOISY SHOW

Earlier, about 300 persons filled the board chambers in a noisy show of support for a hastily organized drive to restore the budget to its current level of $33 million and hold the tax rate at $2.395.

Despite appeals by County Administrator Alan Bruce, the board unanimously declined pay increases to department heads, and agreed to vote the $1 hike only to assistants who may otherwise be passed on the pay scale by subordinates who recently won a 5 per cent contractual boost.

County Personnel Director Maren Rinne had recommended increases from 7.5 to 10 per cent for the 144 management people. Bruce wouldn't endorse that, even ruling himself out for a proposed boost from $2,334 monthly to $2,510, but said giving department heads and their assistants anything less than the 5 per cent contractual hike afforded the bulk of the county's 1,200 employees would be unsound.

BRUCE APPEALS

Bruce's appeal quickly fell flat when Supervisor Louis H. Baar, with support from Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni, moved to deny any raises. Bruce and two other department heads, Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell and Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, pointed out this would result in many assistants drawing less pay than subordinates.

Arrigoni drew no response from Broemmel when he asked if the assessor would be willing to offset any raises by cutting items from his previously approved budget.

"The way industry is laying off people," said Supervisor William A. Gnoss, "the people in these positions ought to be satisfied they're holding their jobs."

But Bruce said it was a "rough situation" to ask management to accept no raise in view of budget economies enacted by the board.

Board chairman John F. McInnis observed that manage-

Israeli Tanks Hit Key Syria Bases

Artillery, Jets Join In Attack

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israeli tanks attacking with air and artillery support swept into Syria across the Golan Heights cease-fire line today in a major offensive against Arab bases. Syrian forces counteracted and both sides reported heavy fighting.

Israel communiques said the armored task force "seized control" of Syrian positions in a foray that began at noon on the third day of one of the biggest battles since the 1967 Middle East War.

Syria announced that warplanes, tanks and mechanized infantry launched a counterattack four hours later against Israeli forces which "partially infiltrated" some positions. A spokesman in Damascus said the Syrians were "destroying enemy forces" and that 12 Israeli tanks had been knocked out.

The incursion near Rafid in the southern part of the 50-mile Golan Heights front came as wave after wave of Israeli fighter-bombers attacked three Syrian bases, two of them on the outskirts of Damascus, for the second consecutive day.

Syrian jets rose to challenge the raiders, and Damascus communiques said seven planes were shot down. Israel conceded the loss of one plane, and claimed its pilots knocked down two Soviet-built MIG21s.

The Golan Heights has been a flashpoint ever since the 1967 was when Israeli forces stormed into the area and seized it in a move to deprive Syrian gunners of vantage points used for years to shell Israeli settlements north of the Sea of Galilee.

Israeli and Egyptian warplanes traded raids across the Suez Canal today, and Israel said its gunners shot down an Egyptian MIG17. A spokesman in Tel Aviv said two Israeli soldiers were wounded by Egyptian air strikes.

Israeli officials said the armored task force swept into Syrian-held territory near the Rafid bulge in the middle of the Golan Heights cease-fire line. Near Rafid, 12 miles south of Quneitra, the Isralei line bulges forward into Syrian territory in the area where most of the major clashes on the Golan Heights have started.

Pentagon Presses For POW Listings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon today renewed its call for "a full accounting" by North Vietnam of all American military men and civilians being held captive by the Communists.

In a statement, the Defense Department rejected as "inaccurate and incomplete" a list of 334 American prisoners of war which three Americans who visited Hanoi reported in New York to be complete and verified by the North Vietnamese.

Daniel Z. Henkin, assistant defense secretary for public affairs, said the list compiled by a New York peace group "does not include the names of at least 40 men whom we carry as being 'captured.'"

(Among those prisoners is Air Force Capt. William W. Butler of San Rafael who was shot down in November 1967.

Mrs. Butler and other members of the National League of Families of American Prisoners of War in Southeast Asia were to meet with Charles W. Yost, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, today in San Francisco to ask for U.N. backing for efforts to learn the names of all captives and to win better treatment for them.)

"The unofficial release of an inaccurate and incomplete list of names from unofficial sources can only add to the great anguish of the hundreds of wives, children and parents of more than 1,500 servicemen who are prisoners, including captured," Henkin said.

"What we want from the enemy is a complete and official identification of all men who are prisoners, including civilian newsmen, and a full accounting of all military and civilians who are missing."

Grand Jurors Will Probe Cotati Case

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Grand Jury next month will begin investigation of charges of conflict of interest leveled against three Rohnert Park city officials.

Dist. Atty. Kiernan Hyland said the grand jury investigation was ordered after meetings with Paul Golis, leader of citizens accusing the officials; Edward Trigeiro, grand jury foreman, and John W. Hawkes, Assistant District Attorney.

Golis and 22 other residents have charged Councilmen James W. Rodgers and Jack Buchanan and City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan with conflict of interest in connection with a franchise granted to Storer Cable Television.

In a petition to the district attorney's office and grand jury, the citizens charged that business dealings of the officials with representatives of the cable television firm had prevented them from seeking good performance from the firm.

Yank Jet Bombs Antiaircraft Site Deep Inside Of North Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI) — A U.S. Navy jet bombed an antiaircraft site deep inside North Vietnam in the first American air strike north of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) in a month, the U.S. Military Command said today.

Military spokesmen said the pilot of the A7 Corsair fighter-bomber was ordered to attack the site Thursday when antiaircraft gunners took "hostile actions" against the reconnaissance aircraft it was escorting.

In Cambodia, military spokesmen reported Communist forces launched a full-scale attack before dawn today on Kompong Speu, the major town on the highway linking the capital of Phnom Penh with the country's only deep sea port and oil refinery.

The Command said the gunsite bombed in North Vietnam was northwest of the coastal city of Vinh, 135 miles north of the DMZ that divides the two Vietnams. Results of the attack were not determined, spokesmen said, but there was no damage to the American planes.

It was the first air strike against North Vietnam since May 25 when U.S. planes raided gun positions that had fired on reconnaissance aircraft near Dong Hoi, which is south of Vinh. Earlier in May, American planes raided North Vietnam's southern panhandle regions in a weekend series of missions that U.S. sources described as a response to increasing hostilities by the North Vietnamese along the DMZ.

In Cambodia, spokesmen said the Communist attack in Kompong Speu began with an assault on a Cambodian military officers barracks on the southern side of the town, then spread to other areas on its outskirts. Cambodian troops were reported fighting from defensive positions around the edge of the town.

Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops were reported to have surrounded Kompong Speu earlier this week, and the town has been harassed by sporadic gunfire for the past two days.

Communists held Kompong Speu and closed the highway for several days earlier this month but were driven out by Cambodian and South Vietnamese armored infantry units and planes in a battle that left the town heavily damaged.

In Saigon, the U.S. Command reported the loss of two American aircraft earlier this month over Laos and said total aircraft losses in the war since Jan. 1, 1960, had passed the 7,000 mark. Military sources said the aircraft lost had a total value of about $7 billion.

Spokesmen said the two planes lost over Laos crashed from operational causes. The pilot of a carrier-based Navy A4 Skyhawk was killed in a crash June 22, and the pilot of an Air Force OV10 Bronco parachuted to safety when his plane crashed June 17.

In fighting in South Vietnam, the Command reported 10 Americans killed and 26 wounded in two battles and Communist mortam attacks. And another battalion of the 1st Air Cavalry Division was withdrawn today, spokesmen said, reducing American troop strength there to about 6,000 four days before the deadline for total withdrawal.

American troops also discovered a 150-ton arms cache 13 miles inside Cambodia and 98 miles northwest of Saigon, spokesmen said.

Six Communist mortar attacks late Thursday night and early today against U.S. installations in South Vietnam killed one American and wounded 11 others, the Command said. Nine Americans were killed and 15 wounded in two battles.

Marin Beach Areas May Face Quarantine

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

REDWOOD CITY — A state quarantine to bar public use of polluted areas of Bolinas Lagoon and Bolinas Bay was asked yesterday by regional water pollution officials. (See other stories, page 6.)

The request for the order from the state Department of Public Health did not detail the area to be closed to all use, except boating. Instead, it declared the area should be as large "as needed to protect public health."

The source of the pollution, the Bolinas Community Public Utility District, was ordered to bar any new connection to its system until it completes a sewage treatment plant in 1972. The order brought prompt objections from two property owners about to build in the community.

The district is the only one in the Bay Area still discharging raw sewage all year, but is nearing agreement on a joint treatment system with the Stinson Beach County Water District.

Roger B. James, senior engineer for the regional board, told newsmen that the quarantine could include Stinson Beach State Park. But Morgan Stewart, supervising sanitary engineer for the state Department of Public Health, told newsmen he doubted the state beach would be included.

Stewart said a recent study by his department suggested that the quality of water may be safe for swimming in the area, except within 1,000 feet of the

Marin Beach Areas May Face Quarantine

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

REDWOOD CITY — A state quarantine to bar public use of polluted areas of Bolinas Lagoon and Bolinas Bay was asked yesterday by regional water pollution officials. (See other stories, page 6.)

The request for the order from the state Department of Public Health did not detail the area to be closed to all use, except boating. Instead, it declared the area should be as large "as needed to protect public health."

The source of the pollution, the Bolinas Community Public Utility District, was ordered to bar any new connection to its system until it completes a sewage treatment plant in 1972. The order brought prompt objections from two property owners about to build in the community.

The district is the only one in the Bay Area still discharging raw sewage all year, but is nearing agreement on a joint treatment system with the Stinson Beach County Water District.

Roger B. James, senior engineer for the regional board, told newsmen that the quarantine could include Stinson Beach State Park. But Morgan Stewart, supervising sanitary engineer for the state Department of Public Health, told newsmen he doubted the state beach would be included.

Stewart said a recent study by his department suggested that the quality of water may be safe for swimming in the area, except within 1,000 feet of the

Hospital Bill Seen As Campaign Fuel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats served notice today they plan to make President Nixon's almost certain-to-be overturned veto of the $2.76 billion Hill-Burton hospital construction bill a major issue in the November elections.

The Senate quickly scheduled a vote Tuesday on overriding the veto after the House Thursday again passed the measure on a 279-to-98 roll call vote — 27 more votes than the two-thirds majority required. It was the first time in 10 years the House had voted to override a presidential veto.

Sixty-seven Republicans joined 212 Democrats to pass the bill, "the objections of the President to the contrary notwithstanding." Only three Democrats — Reps. William M. Colmer, Miss.; O.C. Fisher, Tex., and John O. Marsh, Va. — supported the veto.

But Democratic chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien announced that 88 of the 95 GOP members who voted against the bill would "be primary targets for Democratic candidates" in November.

Nixon returned the bill to Congress Tuesday without his signature partly because it overshot his budget proposals by more than $350 million. More important, he said, it included language to require that he spend all the money Congress might appropriate later not only for hospital construction but for other major health programs, including the vast research efforts of the National Institute of Health. The spending requirement would make it more difficult to stay within spending limitations imposed by Congress itself, Nixon said.

He called the bill "a long step down the road of fiscal irresponsibility" and asked Congress to change the objectionable features.

It was the Senate, however, that unanimously added the requirement about spending future Congressional appropriations, and it was expected the veto would be easily overridden there.

The main aim of the bill is to extend for three years grant provisions of the Hill-Burton Act that is about to expire after 24 years. It was under those provisions that the government helped to foot the bill for hospital construction.

The authorization bill also would set up a new loan subsidy program for hospital construction as was requested by Nixon, who wanted the old grant system abolished and emphasis shifted to out-patient facilities.

House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma said Nixon's veto showed "the deep chasm separating the Republican administration and the Democratic Congress," in reordering the nation's priorities.

If the Senate goes along with the House as expected, the bill will be only the 74th measure enacted out of 2,252 bills Presidents have vetoed since 1792.

Assigned by the New York World in 1889 to duplicate the feat of Jules Verne's hero in "Around the World in Eighty Days," Nellie Bly gained fame by making the trip in 72 days, 11 hours, and 6 minutes.

New Cabinet Aide Predicts Jobless Rate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration's new labor secretary says up to 4.6 million Americans may be out of jobs before the situation begins to improve.

Secretary-designate James D. Hodgson told UPI in an interview the unemployment rate could go as high as 5.6 per cent, which would add a half million jobless to 4.1 million reported on the rolls last month.

He is the first administration official to set that precise a figure on the prospective peak of unemployment which has been rising sharply since January. But he gave no prediction as to when turnaround might come.

George P. Schultz, whom Hodgson succeeds July 1, has said only the unemployment rate could go still higher. Herbert Stein, a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, has said the average for the year could be as high as 5 per cent.

Hodgson said any further rise in joblessness probably will be centered in the defense industry, but he said overall unemployment should decrease later as the nation shifts from a wartime to a peacetime economy and inflation is curbed.

Another Nixon Dilemma: Should He Veto Expanded School Aid?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With even the Republicans ignoring White House appeals for economy, the Senate has adopted a $4.8 billion aid-to-education bill that exceeds President Nixon's request by $1 billion and may give him an election year dilemma.

The near-midnight final vote on the measure Thursday was 70-4.

Unless Congress takes back some of its generosity in shaping a final compromise version of the measure, Nixon may be sorely tempted to veto it again — and again risk humilation in a showdown like yesterday's hospital bill override vote in the House.

In addition to tacking $265.5 million onto the education bill through the floor amendments — for everything from bilingual schooling for American Indians to $5 million for "dropout prevention — the Senate:

—Hooted down, in a loud voice vote, a proposal by Republican Sen. Edward J. Gurney of Florida to bar universities from closing down briefly this fall to give students a chance to work in election campaigns. Some politicians believe the students will be effective in helping elect antiwar Democratic candidates to Congress.

—Approved, over the opposition of 15 southerners and three Western Republicans, a $150 million down payment on Nixon's plan to help southern school districts carry out desegregation plans this fall.

U.S. Urges Crackdown To Halt Kidnappings

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Secretary of State William P. Rogers called today for concerted action by the Organization of American States (OAS) against the wave of diplomatic kidnappings and terrorism in Latin America.

In an address to the OAS general assembly, Rogers urged the 23-nation organization to "initiate steps to prepare a new international agreement defining these acts as international crimes and establishing appropriate measures to deal with them."

He said the United States supports proposals to define terrorism and kidnapping as "common crimes and to treat them accordingly, domestically and internationally."

Rogers did not mention directly the question of political asylum for persons who engage in kidnapping and other forms of terrorism. But his endorsement of the proposal that they be treated as "common crimes" appeared to give indirect support to moves by Argentina and Brazil to have OAS states agree to deny political asylum to such persons.

Argentina and Brazil, where a number of kidnapings of diplomats have occurred, are leading the drive to have the OAS condemn kidnapings and other acts of terrorism. This has emerged as the key political issue at the two-week meeting which opened Thursday.

Argentina and Brazil appeared to have majority support, although Panama Foreign Minister Juan Antonio Tack said his country was not interested in discussing this point "unless the conference also agrees to consider the terrorism of the oligarchy."

The OAS, he said, must show interest in dealing with "the terrorism of hunger and the terrorism of poverty" in Latin America.

On other questions, Rogers told the OAS assembly:

—The United States has decided to submit its policies for hemisphere economic development for review by the Inter-America Committee on the Alliance for Progress, starting this summer or early fall.

—The United States is adjusting its trade policies to encourage a search for export markets for Latin American manufactured products, in an effort to end the region's heavy dependence on manufactured imports.

—Member states should use improved machinery for the peaceful settlement of disputes now being established by the OAS.

Inmate Listed Serious After 4 Stab Wounds

A 30-year-old San Quentin Prison inmate was reported in serious condition and undergoing surgery at the prison hospital today after he was stabbed four times in the back this morning.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said Thomas D. Peters was found in front of his cell in the south block at 7:30 a.m. today. He had been stabbed with an icepick-type weapon, Park said.

One of Peters' lungs was collapsed, Park said, and the other may be injured. He also suffered head injuries.

Prison officials have a possible suspect in the stabbing, Park said, but his name was not released pending investigation.

Peters was serving five-years-to-life for a 1961 first-degree burglary conviction in Los Angeles County.

Ex-Felon Bound Over On Three Charges

Vernon Robert Solomon, 34-year-old ex-convict who lives in San Francisco, has been bound over to Marin Superior Court on charges of burglarizing a Fairfax residence on June 26, 1969, and two counts of possessing stolen property the same month.

He is to appear in court Monday for arraignment.

Solomon is also awaiting trial in superior court on a charge of burglarizing a Mill Valley residence on June 28, 1969.

U.S. Urges Crackdown To Halt Kidnappings

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Secretary of State William P. Rogers called today for concerted action by the Organization of American States (OAS) against the wave of diplomatic kidnappings and terrorism in Latin America.

In an address to the OAS general assembly, Rogers urged the 23-nation organization to "initiate steps to prepare a new international agreement defining these acts as international crimes and establishing appropriate measures to deal with them."

He said the United States supports proposals to define terrorism and kidnapping as "common crimes and to treat them accordingly, domestically and internationally."

Rogers did not mention directly the question of political asylum for persons who engage in kidnapping and other forms of terrorism. But his endorsement of the proposal that they be treated as "common crimes" appeared to give indirect support to moves by Argentina and Brazil to have OAS states agree to deny political asylum to such persons.

Argentina and Brazil, where a number of kidnapings of diplomats have occurred, are leading the drive to have the OAS condemn kidnapings and other acts of terrorism. This has emerged as the key political issue at the two-week meeting which opened Thursday.

Argentina and Brazil appeared to have majority support, although Panama Foreign Minister Juan Antonio Tack said his country was not interested in discussing this point "unless the conference also agrees to consider the terrorism of the oligarchy."

The OAS, he said, must show interest in dealing with "the terrorism of hunger and the terrorism of poverty" in Latin America.

On other questions, Rogers told the OAS assembly:

—The United States has decided to submit its policies for hemisphere economic development for review by the Inter-America Committee on the Alliance for Progress, starting this summer or early fall.

—The United States is adjusting its trade policies to encourage a search for export markets for Latin American manufactured products, in an effort to end the region's heavy dependence on manufactured imports.

—Member states should use improved machinery for the peaceful settlement of disputes now being established by the OAS.

Inmate Listed Serious After 4 Stab Wounds

A 30-year-old San Quentin Prison inmate was reported in serious condition and undergoing surgery at the prison hospital today after he was stabbed four times in the back this morning.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said Thomas D. Peters was found in front of his cell in the south block at 7:30 a.m. today. He had been stabbed with an icepick-type weapon, Park said.

One of Peters' lungs was collapsed, Park said, and the other may be injured. He also suffered head injuries.

Prison officials have a possible suspect in the stabbing, Park said, but his name was not released pending investigation.

Peters was serving five-years-to-life for a 1961 first-degree burglary conviction in Los Angeles County.

Ex-Felon Bound Over On Three Charges

Vernon Robert Solomon, 34-year-old ex-convict who lives in San Francisco, has been bound over to Marin Superior Court on charges of burglarizing a Fairfax residence on June 26, 1969, and two counts of possessing stolen property the same month.

He is to appear in court Monday for arraignment.

Solomon is also awaiting trial in superior court on a charge of burglarizing a Mill Valley residence on June 28, 1969.

Celebration To Mark 'Birthday' Of Mill Valley

The Mill Valley Art Commission is planning a celebration commemorating the 70th anniversary of Mill Valley's incorporation.

Materials of the exhibit will be obtained on loan from the California Historical Society, the Oakland Art Museum and private individuals, Peterson said.

Lucretia Little, official Mill Valley historian, delivered a sketch of Mill Valley's history at the art commission meeting Wednesday. She was appointed by Chairman Lyman Emerson to help plan the celebration.

BOLINAS

district's discharge at the mouth of the lagoon. Further study, however, taking a week or two, would be required before imposing a quarantine, he said.

The area long has been posted against taking shellfish, which accumulate bacteria from the sewage.

Daniel F. Murphy, the regional board's area engineer, conceded that violations of the shellfish ban were common. His own photographs of the area showed several eager clam diggers.

Murphy told the board he did not know if the diggers were still alive.

Several directors suggested that the Bolinas district build interim treatment facilities, but this idea was dropped when it was pointed out that the cost would be prohibitive.

Objecting to the ban on new connections — in effect a ban on new construction — two immediately affected property owners pleaded unsuccessfully for exemptions. The two, Hunt Conrad and Ernest Hansen, were told they could seek exemptions from the board at a later date on the basis of economic hardship.

Robert Murphy, San Rafael attorney representing Conrad, said his client already had spent $20,000 in planning his home.

The prospects for the two, however, appeared uncertain in light of the county health department's own ban on new connections in the community. Morris Scott, supervising sanitarian in the department, told the board that the department intended to impose the ban until the treatment plant opens in February 1972.

At the urging of Hugh Dougherty, a director of the Stinson Beach district, the board asked the State Water Resources Control Board to assign the same high priority to the Stinson Beach district's application for federal funds given to the Bolinas district's application. The state board was about to split the joint application for the joint sewage system, Dougherty said.

"You cannot drive the front of a car faster than the back end," Dougherty said of the state's splitting of the joint application.

Failure of the Bolinas district to meet the timetable for construction of the system will subject it to fines up to $6,000 a day, the board's staff warned. The timetable was set by the district board.

The district discharges about 37,000 gallons of waste a day, the staff reported. It illustrated the point with color slides showing globs of fecal material floating in the lagoon mouth.

Stinson Beach and newer areas of Bolinas are on septic tanks, and the board commended the county's drafting of an ordinance to toughen regulation of the tanks. The number of tanks in the two communities has about doubled to some 730 since 1954, the board's staff reported.

Murphy predicted that there will be "considerable resistance" to the ordinance when county supervisors hear it on July 7.

The Pentagon lists 1,553 servicemen as missing or captured as of June 30. Of those catpured, 376 are believed to be in North Vietnam—42 more than listed by the Americans in New York.

A Pentagon spokesman said also listed as missing are three American newsmen and 15 other reporters fom other countries who had been covering the Vietnam War.

The New York report was said to be the first North Vietnamese comment on the list of prisoners drawn up by the Committee of Liaison with Families of Servicemen detained in North Vietnam, headed by Mrs. Cora Weiss.

The list, based on letters from prisoners between Dec. 1 and April 7, was submitted to Hanoi for verification last April, the group said.

BOLINAS

district's discharge at the mouth of the lagoon. Further study, however, taking a week or two, would be required before imposing a quarantine, he said.

The area long has been posted against taking shellfish, which accumulate bacteria from the sewage.

Daniel F. Murphy, the regional board's area engineer, conceded that violations of the shellfish ban were common. His own photographs of the area showed several eager clam diggers.

Murphy told the board he did not know if the diggers were still alive.

Several directors suggested that the Bolinas district build interim treatment facilities, but this idea was dropped when it was pointed out that the cost would be prohibitive.

Objecting to the ban on new connections — in effect a ban on new construction — two immediately affected property owners pleaded unsuccessfully for exemptions. The two, Hunt Conrad and Ernest Hansen, were told they could seek exemptions from the board at a later date on the basis of economic hardship.

Robert Murphy, San Rafael attorney representing Conrad, said his client already had spent $20,000 in planning his home.

The prospects for the two, however, appeared uncertain in light of the county health department's own ban on new connections in the community. Morris Scott, supervising sanitarian in the department, told the board that the department intended to impose the ban until the treatment plant opens in February 1972.

At the urging of Hugh Dougherty, a director of the Stinson Beach district, the board asked the State Water Resources Control Board to assign the same high priority to the Stinson Beach district's application for federal funds given to the Bolinas district's application. The state board was about to split the joint application for the joint sewage system, Dougherty said.

"You cannot drive the front of a car faster than the back end," Dougherty said of the state's splitting of the joint application.

Failure of the Bolinas district to meet the timetable for construction of the system will subject it to fines up to $6,000 a day, the board's staff warned. The timetable was set by the district board.

The district discharges about 37,000 gallons of waste a day, the staff reported. It illustrated the point with color slides showing globs of fecal material floating in the lagoon mouth.

Stinson Beach and newer areas of Bolinas are on septic tanks, and the board commended the county's drafting of an ordinance to toughen regulation of the tanks. The number of tanks in the two communities has about doubled to some 730 since 1954, the board's staff reported.

Murphy predicted that there will be "considerable resistance" to the ordinance when county supervisors hear it on July 7.

The Pentagon lists 1,553 servicemen as missing or captured as of June 30. Of those catpured, 376 are believed to be in North Vietnam—42 more than listed by the Americans in New York.

A Pentagon spokesman said also listed as missing are three American newsmen and 15 other reporters fom other countries who had been covering the Vietnam War.

The New York report was said to be the first North Vietnamese comment on the list of prisoners drawn up by the Committee of Liaison with Families of Servicemen detained in North Vietnam, headed by Mrs. Cora Weiss.

The list, based on letters from prisoners between Dec. 1 and April 7, was submitted to Hanoi for verification last April, the group said.

Hearing Delay In Walton Firing Case

A court hearing on a request for a preliminary injunction against the Sausalito School District board for its May 4 firing of Sidney F. Walton Jr., Martin Luther King School principal, was continued yesterday until Wednesday at 9 a.m. at the request of Walton's attorney.

Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley granted the continuance after attorney John George requested the extra time to allow him to work for an out-of-court settlement with Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino, representing the school district.

George refused to reveal the nature of the proposed settlement.

On June 1, Walton charged in a petition filed in the court that a "notice of intention to dismiss" served on him May 15 was the type of notification required for permanent employees of the district.

Since he is still a probationary employee, he claimed he should have been notified no later than March 15, as required by the Education Code.

The Wednesday hearing will be before Judge Joseph S. Wilson.

Youth, 18, Arraigned On Marijuana Count

Lawrence R. Davidson, 18, of Fairfax, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of possessing marijuana on June 8 when arrested in the parking lot of a Fairfax school.

His case was referred to the probation department for possible transferral to juvenile court and he was told to return for the report on July 9.

An appearance of NBC's Today show Monday from 8:30 to 9 a.m. has been scheduled for Mel R. Morse, executive director of the Marin Humane Society.

Morse, also chairman of the board of the National Humane Education Center in Virginia, will discuss the Marin society's educational program designed to eliminate cruelty to animals.

Fight Eases On Sewage Wastes

I-J Special Report

REDWOOD CITY — Pressure to bar all sewage discharge from Richardson Bay, Corte Madera Creek and San Rafael Bay was eased temporarily yesterday by regional water pollution officials in light of recent local efforts to attack the problem.

The staff of the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board suggested months ago that the board consider giving dihchargers a deadline to stop dumping often inadequately treated sewage in the shallow waters. (Another water board story, page 1.)

The staff suggestion raised a storm of protest from affected sanitary district officials who argued successfully that more time was needed to study and build alternate discharge methods — especially to study the feasibility of reclaiming the waste water for uses such as irrigation.

In the case of Richardson Bay, considered by the regional board to have the most critical pollution problem, the basic alternatives are either to reclaim the waste water or to ship it through Tennessee Valley for treatment and dumping in the ocean.

The regional board's staff yesterday won board approval, however, for a suggestion that Richardson Bay dischargers also consider "fail-safe treatment" until either of the more permanent solutions is reached. This would require costly construction of duplicate treatment facilities to be used when existing facilities fail — which does happen.

The board also pulled in its horns on a proposed crackdown on polluting houseboats in Richardson Bay. The county was acting on the problem, according to a staff report on new county ordinances and a tougher enforcement program to force houseboats to connect to sewers instead of dumping raw sewage in the bay.

Gavin Craig, chief legal counsel for the State Water Resources Control Board, reported that the county counsel's office was "proceeding with reasonable dispatch, and there's a reasonable promise that the situation will be cleaned up in time — how much time is the question."

Craig advised the board that to act now would be "somewhat a duplication of the county's efforts."

Hugh Lawrence, Sausalito attorney representing major property owners in the houseboat area, assured the board that pending plans for modern berthing facilities — including sewer connections — would accommodate all the houseboats.

The regional board urged the county to develop by Sept. 15 "a firm and detailed time schedule" to speed connection of the houseboats to sewers.

The board's staff reported that the 284 houseboats were dumping an estimated 43,050 gallons of waste water a day in the bay.

School Salary Pact

The Independent-Journal erred Tuesday in reporting the Sausalito School District board has "voted to reinstate James T. Toliver's salary to an administrative level of $14,024." The board simply agreed to honor Toliver's administrative contract with the district, a contract which came into effect automatically in April when the former school board rescinded a resolution which would have reduced Toliver, currently vice principal at Martin Luther King School, to a teaching post.

U.S. Ban On All Sewage In Bay Asked

I-J Special Report

REDWOOD CITY — A federal ban on all sewage discharge into the bay from all vessels was proposed yesterday by the staff of the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

Fred H. Dierker, executive officer of the board, said this will be his recommendation to the board at its July 16 meeting.

He said the action could be sought under a new federal law that provided that a state could ask the secretary of the interior to impose such a ban.

The regional board long has favored such a ban, but always runs into strong opposition from the marine industry. The issue was revived this time by Matson Navigation Company's plan to use its ships as public restaurants while in port.

The board's staff estimated that more than six million gallons of sewage a year are discharged from major passenger ships in the bay.

The new law exempted "public vessels" from most of its provisions, Dierker reported. It was uncertain whether the Navy could be covered by such a ban if one were imposed, he said.

Alaska's Summit Lake drains simultaneously into the Bering Sea to the west and the Pacific Ocean to the south, on either side of the Continental Divide.

Bill Giving South More Of Gas Tax Clears Panel

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation boosting Southern California's share of gasoline tax revenue by 5 per cent has cleared the Assembly Transportation Committee and awaited action by the full house today.

The committee Thursday approved the measure after changing its Senate-passed provisions, which would have permitted the state Highway Commission to allocate the entire revenue as it saw fit.

Currently Southern California's share of the money is 55 per cent and Northern California gets 45 per cent under a formula established in 1947. The measure by Sen. James R. Mills, D-San Diego, would have wiped out the formula in favor of commission discretion.

The bill is now identical to another measure that has already cleared the Assembly and been sent to the Senate. Similar legislation has always died in the upper house.

Mills, who did not object to the change in his bill, warned the committee such action could prove fatal to the proposal if it is returned to the Senate for concurrence in the amendment.

"The Senate Committee on Transportation, I believe, would recommend against concurrence," he said. "You, perhaps, can predict the outcome as well as I."

John Fraser, lobbyist for the Northern California State Automobile Association, opposed boosting the south's share. He said the north would lose $38 million if the formula is changed.

Under the present 55-45 formula, Southern California gets $418 million and the north gets $342 million a year for highway construction. The 60-40 formula would give the south $456 million and the north $304 million.

Special Session

The Ross School District board will have a special budget session Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Ross School library to discuss approval of a tentative 1970-71 budget of $501,378.

Female Devices Cause Sewage Plant Havoc

I-J Special Report

REDWOOD CITY — Regional water pollution officials yesterday called for state investigation of a new female device that has sewage treatment plant operators up the walls.

The device is a small rubber cup used during menstruation. They flush easily, but raise havoc when they reach the treatment plants.

There they literally gum up the works, and have to be cleaned out of the filtering equipment by hand. That's on the new equipment — on the old, the cups skim on through and come up bobbing in the receiving waters.

Bay Area plant operators wonder if the day is coming when there will be millions of the little cups covering the surface of the bay.

Board chairman William C. Weber of San Mateo won a unanimous vote to ask the State Water Resources Control Board to investigate the problem.

Fight Eases On Sewage Wastes

I-J Special Report

REDWOOD CITY — Pressure to bar all sewage discharge from Richardson Bay, Corte Madera Creek and San Rafael Bay was eased temporarily yesterday by regional water pollution officials in light of recent local efforts to attack the problem.

The staff of the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board suggested months ago that the board consider giving dihchargers a deadline to stop dumping often inadequately treated sewage in the shallow waters. (Another water board story, page 1.)

The staff suggestion raised a storm of protest from affected sanitary district officials who argued successfully that more time was needed to study and build alternate discharge methods — especially to study the feasibility of reclaiming the waste water for uses such as irrigation.

In the case of Richardson Bay, considered by the regional board to have the most critical pollution problem, the basic alternatives are either to reclaim the waste water or to ship it through Tennessee Valley for treatment and dumping in the ocean.

The regional board's staff yesterday won board approval, however, for a suggestion that Richardson Bay dischargers also consider "fail-safe treatment" until either of the more permanent solutions is reached. This would require costly construction of duplicate treatment facilities to be used when existing facilities fail — which does happen.

The board also pulled in its horns on a proposed crackdown on polluting houseboats in Richardson Bay. The county was acting on the problem, according to a staff report on new county ordinances and a tougher enforcement program to force houseboats to connect to sewers instead of dumping raw sewage in the bay.

Gavin Craig, chief legal counsel for the State Water Resources Control Board, reported that the county counsel's office was "proceeding with reasonable dispatch, and there's a reasonable promise that the situation will be cleaned up in time — how much time is the question."

Craig advised the board that to act now would be "somewhat a duplication of the county's efforts."

Hugh Lawrence, Sausalito attorney representing major property owners in the houseboat area, assured the board that pending plans for modern berthing facilities — including sewer connections — would accommodate all the houseboats.

The regional board urged the county to develop by Sept. 15 "a firm and detailed time schedule" to speed connection of the houseboats to sewers.

The board's staff reported that the 284 houseboats were dumping an estimated 43,050 gallons of waste water a day in the bay.

School Salary Pact

The Independent-Journal erred Tuesday in reporting the Sausalito School District board has "voted to reinstate James T. Toliver's salary to an administrative level of $14,024." The board simply agreed to honor Toliver's administrative contract with the district, a contract which came into effect automatically in April when the former school board rescinded a resolution which would have reduced Toliver, currently vice principal at Martin Luther King School, to a teaching post.

U.S. Ban On All Sewage In Bay Asked

I-J Special Report

REDWOOD CITY — A federal ban on all sewage discharge into the bay from all vessels was proposed yesterday by the staff of the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

Fred H. Dierker, executive officer of the board, said this will be his recommendation to the board at its July 16 meeting.

He said the action could be sought under a new federal law that provided that a state could ask the secretary of the interior to impose such a ban.

The regional board long has favored such a ban, but always runs into strong opposition from the marine industry. The issue was revived this time by Matson Navigation Company's plan to use its ships as public restaurants while in port.

The board's staff estimated that more than six million gallons of sewage a year are discharged from major passenger ships in the bay.

The new law exempted "public vessels" from most of its provisions, Dierker reported. It was uncertain whether the Navy could be covered by such a ban if one were imposed, he said.

Alaska's Summit Lake drains simultaneously into the Bering Sea to the west and the Pacific Ocean to the south, on either side of the Continental Divide.

Bill Giving South More Of Gas Tax Clears Panel

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation boosting Southern California's share of gasoline tax revenue by 5 per cent has cleared the Assembly Transportation Committee and awaited action by the full house today.

The committee Thursday approved the measure after changing its Senate-passed provisions, which would have permitted the state Highway Commission to allocate the entire revenue as it saw fit.

Currently Southern California's share of the money is 55 per cent and Northern California gets 45 per cent under a formula established in 1947. The measure by Sen. James R. Mills, D-San Diego, would have wiped out the formula in favor of commission discretion.

The bill is now identical to another measure that has already cleared the Assembly and been sent to the Senate. Similar legislation has always died in the upper house.

Mills, who did not object to the change in his bill, warned the committee such action could prove fatal to the proposal if it is returned to the Senate for concurrence in the amendment.

"The Senate Committee on Transportation, I believe, would recommend against concurrence," he said. "You, perhaps, can predict the outcome as well as I."

John Fraser, lobbyist for the Northern California State Automobile Association, opposed boosting the south's share. He said the north would lose $38 million if the formula is changed.

Under the present 55-45 formula, Southern California gets $418 million and the north gets $342 million a year for highway construction. The 60-40 formula would give the south $456 million and the north $304 million.

Special Session

The Ross School District board will have a special budget session Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Ross School library to discuss approval of a tentative 1970-71 budget of $501,378.

Female Devices Cause Sewage Plant Havoc

I-J Special Report

REDWOOD CITY — Regional water pollution officials yesterday called for state investigation of a new female device that has sewage treatment plant operators up the walls.

The device is a small rubber cup used during menstruation. They flush easily, but raise havoc when they reach the treatment plants.

There they literally gum up the works, and have to be cleaned out of the filtering equipment by hand. That's on the new equipment — on the old, the cups skim on through and come up bobbing in the receiving waters.

Bay Area plant operators wonder if the day is coming when there will be millions of the little cups covering the surface of the bay.

Board chairman William C. Weber of San Mateo won a unanimous vote to ask the State Water Resources Control Board to investigate the problem.

Manson Girl Tries To Fire Attorney

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Leslie Van Houten, 19-year-old defendant in the Tate-Labianca murder case, unsuccessfully tried to fire her lawyer Thursday in a united move by the "Manson Family" to prevent a "court drama."

Miss Van Houten, one of the three female members of the cult accused in the seven slayings, interrupted court proceedings as attorney Ira Reiner was questioning the prospective jurors about their qualifications.

"Your honor, he's not speaking my voice, he's speaking Mr. Reiner's voice," she said. "I want to dismiss him or release him or whatever it is."

Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older denied her request and the defendant muttered, "where do I go from there?"

Another of the Manson "girls," Susan Atkins, 22, sought Wednesday to prevent her lawyer from questioning the jurors and she was similarly rebuffed.

Charles Manson, 35, accused mastermind of the slayings, earlier instructed his attorney, Irving Kanarek, not to raise any defense but to sit mute in the courtroom during jury selection which he has done.

Miss Atkins attorney, Daye Shinn, said the move to accept the 12 jurors without interrogation was an attempt by the "Manson Family" to put up a unified defense.

However, Shinn, Reiner, and the third woman defendant's attorney, Paul Fitzgerald, have ignored the requests and questioned the prospective jurors.

Fitzgerald, who represents Patricia Krenwinkel, said of his client, "she and the others want to deny the establishment of the satisfaction of putting on a court drama."

Later in the day, Manson made an appearance in superior court in nearby Santa Monica in connection with the killing of musician Gary Hinman.

When Manson's request that he be permitted to act as his own attorney was denied, he turned his back on the judge as he has done previously in the Tate-Labianca proceedings.

Judge Laurence Rittenbrand ordered Manson to sit down.

"Am I forced to do that?" Manson asked.

"Yes, that's an order," the judge said and Manson turned around and sat down.

Pitzer To Resign Post At Stanford

STANFORD (UPI)—Dr. Kenneth S. Pitzer is resigning as Stanford University's president Aug. 31, declaring that "pressures tending to distract or disrupt the educational process have increased significantly" because of the Vietnam war.

Pitzer, 56, made his decision public Thursday, remarking that "the gulf between the campus community and society at large has widened, particularly in the past two months.

"There is little confidence on campus about our promised disengagement from the war," he continued. "As a result, pressures tending to distract or disrupt the educational process have increased significantly."

DR. KENNETH S. PITZER
"Pressures on campus"

W. Palmer Fuller III, Stanford board of trustees president to whom the resignation was submitted, said an acting president would be appointed "in the near future" and added he hoped Pitzer "will find at Stanford or elsewhere the kind of future challenge which he seeks." Pitzer is a chemist.

Pitzer's "feeling that the heavy burden of administration in these days of crises is incompatible with the basic interests of the scholar and educator is indeed understandable," Fuller continued.

"Entirely too much of my effort has been devoted to matters of a purely administrative or even of a police nature," Pitzer had written.

Commenting on the war, Pitzer said that "although troop levels in Vietnam have been reduced, there is little confidence on campus about our promised disengagement from the war."

The situation at Stanford represents another manifestation of the destructive nature of current conflict," he said. "Both on the campus and in society, support for reasoned discourse and non-violent change has steadily diminished."

Pitzer came to Stanford in December, 1968, after seven years as president of Rice University. Two days later he was greeted with his first demonstration—students jamming his office for a discussion of world affairs.

Police were called onto the Stanford campus 13 times this spring and made more than 40 arrests since April 1. The most serious outbreaks were April 29 and 30 following the announcement of American intervention into Cambodia. At least 65 persons were injured.

Early in April an unidentified person poured water soluble paint on Pitzer while he attended a campus affair, and rock throwers repeatedly have broken his office windows. The Pitzer home has been sprayed with slogans.

In 1969, a nine-day occupation of an electronics laboratory came during a dispute over classified and war-related research at the university and at the Stanford Research Institute.

Trustees, contrary to demands of protestors, severed legal ties between the university and SRI after that and a faculty-student committee approved guidelines last spring barring research that involves "secrecy...of results."

During Pitzer's administration, trustees expanded their membership by adding eight alumni, four of age 35 or under.

Another dispute on the campus concerned the continuing of a Reserve Officers Training Program. University officials now are exploring a possible officer training program off campus.

Pitzer, an opponent of the Vietnam War, has said that, "...in my view, it is clearly a violation of human rights to draft a young man to fight a war which he regards as grossly immoral and about which the nation is unsure."

India Cabinet Aide Quits In Split On War

Singh, 44, a strong Socialist and critic of U.S. intervention in Cambodia, told newsmen he had decided to leave the Cabinet rather than accept the post of minister for steel.

Government sources said Mrs. Gandhi would appoint Bali Ram Bhagat, 47, the present minister of foreign trade, to the foreign affairs post. Bhagat's interests previously have been in economic development.

Dinesh Singh, the son of a maharaja, was a former private secretary to Mrs. Gandhi's father, Jawalharlal Nehru, and was regarded one of the prime minister's closest advisers. He was appointed foreign minister in February 1969.

Last month, Singh supported a congressional resolution calling for the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Cambodia. Previously the government had urged withdrawal of all foreign troops.

Sources close to Mrs. Gandhi said she was displeased by Singh's efforts in recent weeks to create his own bloc inside the Congress party already split by factionalism.

Lt. Col. Spencer Hall Jr., son of Mrs. Kathryn Hall of 42 Meadow Way, Fairfax, has received the Air Medal at Tan Son Nhut AFB, Vietnam, for action in Southeast Asia, the Air Force has announced.

Col. Hall, who holds the aeronautical rating of command pilot, was cited for his outstanding airmanship and courage on important successful missions completed under hazardous conditions.

Case Is Referred

The case of Timothy Mark O'Brien, 19, of San Rafael, who is accused of burglarizing a San Rafael residence March 5, has been referred to the probation department for a report as to whether he can be tried in Juvenile Court. Return to Marin Municipal Court was set Tuesday for July 7.

Senate Dove Condemns GOP Plan As 'Cynical'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., charged today a Republican attempt to force a premature showdown on his amendment to end the war in Vietnam was "a cynical power play."

McGovern and other leaders of the senate's antiwar bloc again vowed to stop a vote — scheduled for 1 p.m. Monday — on a carbon copy of their antiwar amendment introduced by administration backers in an effort to defeat it.

"This kind of tactic really worries me," McGovern told newsmen. "It's the kind of cynical power play we've seen here for the last six weeks."

The measure — which would give President Nixon one year to get all U.S. troops out of Vietnam — was brought to the floor Thursday by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., under his own name. He promptly denounced the proposal he sponsored as reckless, unconstitutional and unprecedented.

Allott contended it was high time the Senate voted down the amendment to put at rest any doubts about the Senate's feeling.

But McGovern and other sponsors, knowing that it would be defeated soundly if brought up now, will try to table the Allott amendment just before the vote Monday. McGovern made no attempt to disguise his anger at Allott's move.

"If anyone were to try that on Allott, you'd hear him cry from here to the Rockies," he said.

Despite the bitterness, the Senate's long, rambling discourse over the war — which has now occupied it almost exclusively for the last six weeks — appeared to be nearing an end.

Administration supporters, who have stalled successfully, agreed to a showdown vote Tuesday at 2 p.m. EDT on another amendment — much less restrictive than the McGovern proposal — that would cut off funds for future U.S. offensives inside Cambodia.

The amendment, sponsored by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, has been extensively rewritten on the Senate floor to guarantee the President may take action in Cambodia or elsewhere, if necessary, to protect American lives.

Some administration allies, such as Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., feel the Cooper-Church amendment has now been changed to their liking and predict it will pass overwhelmingly. The vote was timed to come on the exact day President Nixon has promised to have all U.S. troops out of Cambodia.

McGovern vowed he would not permit any similar changes in his measure when he brings it to the floor later in the year as part of the administration's $20 billion military hardware bill.

McGovern said he was certain the Senate would reject Allott's attempt to pre-empt him when the tabling motion is made Monday. He said he and other sponsors of the antiwar measure had throught for a time about letting the Allott measure come to a vote, even though it faced defeat, to put all senators on record. But he said they decided against the tactic because it would lock some fence-sitting members into taking positions against the amendment.

Other senators feel the current setbacks for the Cambodian government are bound to worsen later in the summer and the issue will be clearly drawn then.

McGovern said he doubted administration supporters would be able to mount a successful filibuster against his amendment, as they did on the Cooper-Church measure. The reason, he said, is that the military procurement bill — to which it is attached — is vital legislation and the administration would not tolerate extended debate.

Mill Valley Bicyclist Hurt In Auto Crash

A 12-year-old Mill Valley boy has been treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut arm following an accident in Mill Valley, police reported yesterday.

Police said George Jagell, of 40 Birch Avenue, was riding his bicycle south on Miller Avenue at 11:01 a.m. Monday when the bicycle was struck by a car driven by Allen M. Beasley, 20, of 152 Almonte Boulevard, and Tamalpais Valley.

Rec Budget Set In Terra Linda

A $63,845 1970-71 budget was approved last night by the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District board. The figure represents a $3,085 increase over this year's budget.

John A. Colistra, chairman of the board, said the new budget contains additional funds for capital improvements.

The board last night also authorized spending $1,200 to move the fence around the district's pool in order to include grass in the pool area.

Sausalito Youth Hurt By 80-Foot Tumble

A 22-year-old Sausalito man was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with chest injuries, scalp cuts and multiple scrapes received in an 80-foot fall.

According to the Marin County Sheriff's Department, Charles Cox tumbled down an embankment of the access road to Kent Lake Spillway at 1:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Marin Bosses Lose Raises To Budget Ax

The cut in welfare supplementation, part of a flurry of last-minute moves to build up budget reserves for next year, came on the heels of a program reduction last week. The new cut, adding $173,000 to reserves, means that new AFDC cases will receive no county aid on top of their basic grant, whereas the level had earlier been reduced to one-third.

Supervisor Michael Wornum opposed the new cut, feeling aid recipients were entitled to a hearing.

The board then dropped an inspector's position that had been added to the sheriff's narcotics division, Baar objecting; cut a civil engineer from the public works department, Arrigoni dissenting; reduced from $30,000 to $15,000 the contribution to the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau, McInnis and Baar against, and unanimously reduced by 20 per cent the $19,000 appropriated to county departments for convention trips.

McInnis said the county chamber action would be interpreted as vindictive because the group was listed among the organizations backing the massive budget rollback earlier in the day.

Bruce urged restraint during the employee reductions, saying, "I'm not going to be able to hold the department heads together with what's happening now and what happened earlier (pay raise setback.)"

The cuts brought next year's reserve fund to $216,930, although Mitchell cautioned the board would need a far greater sum if the state carries out proposed welfare cutbacks, forcing that burden on the county.

In capital improvement changes, the board reduced from $100,000 to $70,000 the budgeted amount for property improvements at Juvenile Hall and earmarked the $30,000 to county airport expansion; deferred a $359,800 project to build a combined health and law enforcement laboratory; raised from $55,000 to $222,022 the amount for expanding the Veterans Memorial Auditorium to 1,200 seats, deferring the opening to September 1971; added $18,500 for Civic Center parking improvements, and budgeted $5,000 instead of $35,000 as the county's contribution to the Saucelito Canal dredging project, although indicating it would appropriate the rest of the money later.

Delay in the auditorium opening means that the county will ask the Art and Garden Center to hold the annual county fair at its Ross site against next year, since Bruce had recommended the 1971 event be held inside the auditorium and there is no money in the budget for landscaping at the Civic Center site.

In other action, the supervisors approved a $34,000 budget for the human rights department, which was saved from elimination last week, and voted a 3 per cent cost-of-living increase in county retirement benefits, retroactive to April 1, but agreed to defer until next April a 2 per cent raise to 11.63 per cent in the county's share of the program.

The board indicated it wanted the human rights department to have an executive director, although Bruce had recommended a $7,000 coordinator as department head.

Motorcycle Stolen

A silver 1968 Riverside Moped motorcycle, license 706611, has been stolen from Jerry Knight of 104 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo police reported yesterday. Knight told police the machine was taken from his driveway between 10 p.m. yesterday and 6 a.m. today.

College Trustees Will Meet Monday

The Marin Junior College Board's scheduled special meeting last night was postponed to 8 p.m. Monday because of the meeting this week of the Board of Governors of California Community Colleges at San Francisco International Airport.

The board will discuss educational concepts in plans for the proposed Novato campus. A report on the second campus was to be taken up by the board of governors. Place for Monday's meeting will be announced.

Tennis Club Arson Suspect Denies Count

Joseph Benjamin Tate, 29, who lives on a houseboat at Waldo Point, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of arson. A preliminary hearing was set Wednesday for July 14.

Tate was arrested June 10 underneath the Strawberry Point Tennis Club apparently trying to set the building afire. He had arrived there in a 20-foot sailboat and told sheriff's deputies he was looking for a restroom.

Marin Bosses Lose Raises To Budget Ax

The cut in welfare supplementation, part of a flurry of last-minute moves to build up budget reserves for next year, came on the heels of a program reduction last week. The new cut, adding $173,000 to reserves, means that new AFDC cases will receive no county aid on top of their basic grant, whereas the level had earlier been reduced to one-third.

Supervisor Michael Wornum opposed the new cut, feeling aid recipients were entitled to a hearing.

The board then dropped an inspector's position that had been added to the sheriff's narcotics division, Baar objecting; cut a civil engineer from the public works department, Arrigoni dissenting; reduced from $30,000 to $15,000 the contribution to the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau, McInnis and Baar against, and unanimously reduced by 20 per cent the $19,000 appropriated to county departments for convention trips.

McInnis said the county chamber action would be interpreted as vindictive because the group was listed among the organizations backing the massive budget rollback earlier in the day.

Bruce urged restraint during the employee reductions, saying, "I'm not going to be able to hold the department heads together with what's happening now and what happened earlier (pay raise setback.)"

The cuts brought next year's reserve fund to $216,930, although Mitchell cautioned the board would need a far greater sum if the state carries out proposed welfare cutbacks, forcing that burden on the county.

In capital improvement changes, the board reduced from $100,000 to $70,000 the budgeted amount for property improvements at Juvenile Hall and earmarked the $30,000 to county airport expansion; deferred a $359,800 project to build a combined health and law enforcement laboratory; raised from $55,000 to $222,022 the amount for expanding the Veterans Memorial Auditorium to 1,200 seats, deferring the opening to September 1971; added $18,500 for Civic Center parking improvements, and budgeted $5,000 instead of $35,000 as the county's contribution to the Saucelito Canal dredging project, although indicating it would appropriate the rest of the money later.

Delay in the auditorium opening means that the county will ask the Art and Garden Center to hold the annual county fair at its Ross site against next year, since Bruce had recommended the 1971 event be held inside the auditorium and there is no money in the budget for landscaping at the Civic Center site.

In other action, the supervisors approved a $34,000 budget for the human rights department, which was saved from elimination last week, and voted a 3 per cent cost-of-living increase in county retirement benefits, retroactive to April 1, but agreed to defer until next April a 2 per cent raise to 11.63 per cent in the county's share of the program.

The board indicated it wanted the human rights department to have an executive director, although Bruce had recommended a $7,000 coordinator as department head.

Shameful Skullduggery To Fool The People

It is not pleasant to see elected representatives of the people stoop to skullduggery to fool those who elected them.

Nothing does more to disillusion youth with the democratic process. And enemies of democracy can derive satisfaction from such tactics — while of course ignoring the fact that the "dictatorships of the proletariat" which they espouse do the same sort of thing routinely.

There are two late examples of such skullduggery: one on the federal level, the other on the Marin County level.

THE SENATE and House of Representatives — presumably with connivance of the airlines, whose lobby could scarcely have been unaware of what was happening — enacted an airline ticket tax increase with the remarkable proviso that the amount of tax cannot be specified in writing on the ticket or in any information about it.

The obvious purpose is to keep the airline ticket buyer from realizing the tax has been increased. It seems remarkable that the airlines' lobby did not put up a loud squawk, since the buyer is led to believe the airline — not the government — has caused his trip to cost more.

THERE ARE OTHER examples of concealed taxes — as on liquor, for instance. But the general rule, and the right one, is to require that the price tag show how much represents tax, rather than to forbid such information. The familiar example of this is the gasoline pump, on which is listed the amount of state and federal taxes per gallon.

For congressmen to vote for a tax increase with a requirement that it be concealed from the buyer is unconscionable. But that is what they did.

LITTLE BETTER was the performance of the Marin County Board of Supervisors this week in juggling accounts to try to conceal that two county road projects would add 2.8 cents to the tax rate.

The projects are both needed: extension of Miller Avenue outside of Mill Valley, and slide repair on the Fairfax-Bolinas Road. But since the $144,000 to finance them had not been included in the road budget, the supervisors went along with this scheme by John F. Barrows, assistant county administrator: They took $144,000 of sales tax revenue out of the general fund and put it in the road fund.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar objected to the underhanded method. Better to finance the road projects out of property taxes, he contended. But he went along with Supervisors John F. McInnis, Michael Wornum and William A. Gnoss to vote for the transfer. Only Peter R. Arrigoni cast his vote against it and not because he objected to the method.

THE PURPOSE was to make it appear that sales tax will finance the road projects.

But — to replace the $144,000 in the general fund requires a 2.8-cent property tax increase. Thus, the two road jobs actually increase the property tax rate by 2.8 cents while ostensibly being financed by the sales tax.

HIDDEN TAXES are a curse. When Congress passes a law forbidding their disclosure, or when the Marin County Board of Supervisors approves juggling funds to try to conceal them, the members should hang their heads in shame.

Eat Your Weeds

A friend of ours — a nice, normal guy ordinarily — has a thing about that common Marin weed called pig parsley or purslane. It is his favorite pot herb, a succulent succulent, in a manner of speaking.

Pig parsley is such a persistent weed in many Marin gardens, it is good to know it is useful and tasty. Our friend says it takes a lot to make a little because pig parsley is such a juicy, thick-leaved succulent. He seasons his with a little pork or sausages.

If you know your weeds, weeding can become an exercise in gastronomic anticipation. But, unfortunately, most weeds are inedible, few are really tasty, and some are downright poisonous.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Bill For Nuclear Power Control Draws Conservationist Screams

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNW) — A bill which apparently has every chance of passing is going through the legislative hopper. It warrants comment primarily because it is opposed by a group of rabid conservationists.

The measure is AB 818, by Assemblyman John V. Briggs, R-Fullerton, with a number of co-authors in both Senate and Assembly. The co-authors are split about 50-50 between Democrats and Republicans, testifying that the measure has no connection with partisan politics.

It provides for the State Powerplant Siting Committee, to review and evaluate proposed sites for location of thermal electric power plants.

THE CONSERVATION Co-Ordinators — Save Our Bay Action Committee, which last year became involved with BCDC legislation, is struck with "old-fashioned, hair raising horror" at the progress of the bill from the Assembly Committee on Natural Resources to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The measure, the conservationist prophets of doom claim, would "totally destroy the California coastline and give it in total to the utility companies."

Just how a measure designed to put the construction of nuclear power plants under scrutiny could "totally destroy" the California coastline is something of a mystery.

However, it has lately become the plaint of the conservationists that anything connected with advancement and progress is going to "destroy the state."

ONE THING the conservationists can't seem to recognize is that the state is filling up with people, and the end is not yet in sight. Therefore, the conservationists are going to be forced to move over, and not attempt to keep everything for themselves to the disadvantage of the burgeoning population.

They use the bill, AB 818, in an attempt to halt construction by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. of a nuclear plant at Davenport, Santa Cruz County, a project which as yet is not even off the ground but would be controlled by passage of Briggs' measure.

The legislature is declaring in the bill that it is state policy to serve the public interest, protect the ecology, as well as utilize nuclear energy wherever possible, yet the conservationists are against the bill.

They may be surprised someday when they switch on the lights, and no lights come on.

CYNIC'S CORNER

"Good heavens, 18-year-olds with the vote! What's going to become of us all?"

"You use the momentum of the boat to carry it to the dock. Otherwise you might have to buy a new dock and a new boat!"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Pride In Nation Should Be Taught

We commend you on your coverage of the Flag Day ceremonies put on by the Elks Club.

We only regret that instead of teaching pride in our flag and country many of our public institutions are teaching otherwise. Our educators might wonder why their school tax increases have been defeated so often lately. Have they ever thought that the tax payer might be objecting to what they allow their teachers to teach our youngsters?

We, for one, have withdrawn our daughter from the high school summer program because our flag, which we look on with pride, has been desecrated in the art class. To this family the flag stands for the spirit of all Americans, down through the ages, no matter what their race or creed has been, that have given their lives that "this nation under God, with liberty and justice for all" may survive. We will not willing partake in any course where our flag is desecrated or our country condemned. We love our flag and the United States of America, as both flag and country still represent to us man's dream of democracy, freedom and liberty.

If those who desecrate the flag; and are against the establishment can come forth and create a better world, without the use of violence, without being financially supported by the establishment, without having one set of rules for themselves and another for others; let them comeforth and create a world of peace, justice and freedom for all.

Who Authorizes Those 'Overdrafts'?

At the risk of making monthly bank statements a subject more sophisticated in appeal than it really is, I wish to give public support to Mr. Don Dimitratos of the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department. You reported briefly on problems arising because of a purported deficit in his department's budget. Mr. Dimitratos has been approached. as have other department heads, as if he were guilty of the deficit. It is unlikely that he overspent. He operates within his budget. However, he is not informed, as he spends within his budget as he does, how much remains in his department's part of the city bank account.

It would appear out of hand to any businessman or anyone with a personal checking account, that a department head is not given a monthly or quarterly bank statement to check against his own records. . .

There is no such thing as a department head writing checks without signatures of OK from higher officials, or boards where they exist. If it is illegal for a city official to pay bills or approve checks without money in the bank, how does an official know whether he's within the bank balance?. . .

As a friend of the county library users who got kicked out and as a friend of the Mill Valley employees, I find the city's approach to its own service institutions in poor taste and reeking of ignorance and indifference, as in the case of those without imagination who let things fall apart and then try to pull their things together with string and flour paste, stolen from somewhere.

RALPH MORENO
Mill Valley.

Why Human Rights Director Resigned

The "Reporter's Notebook" column by David Dietz in your June 22 issue reflects in my opinion a surface understanding of the controversy now swirling around the proposed destruction of the Marin County Human Rights Department. . .

While I was a member of the Human Rights Commission I worked closely with Austin J. Thompson for two years. I was impressed and sometimes concerned by the arduous schedule that he kept for months on end. More than a few weeks he put in 50 and 60 hours for the people of Marin County.

In the several running battles between the county administrator's office and the Human Rights Department it became clear to me that Mr. Thompson took policy direction from the commission and cooperated with the county administrator, but he refused to be controlled by Mr. Bruce in matters like a meaningful New Careers program.

It was not a total surprise to me then that Mr. Bruce suggested several weeks ago that of all the county department budgets evaluated for economizing, that the Human Rights Department might be cut or wiped out . . .

If the administrator could not cashier Mr. Thompson by wiping out his department then he could gather "reports" of poor work performance or abuse of sick leave. I have seen Mr. Thompson exhaust himself on the County's behalf and am personally aware of a painful knee injury he suffered while on county business. The injury continues to plague him.

I would surmise that Mr. Bruce did not ask all of the human rights commissioners about Mr. Thompson's work performance, but listened intently to one particular commissioner who sought Thompson's removal. . .

I find it a curious coincidence that the county personnel director is recommending impressive salary raises for high county officials that will be considered some months hence. Curious because in a time of budget crisis the Human Rights Department is being gutted. Even more curious because Human Rights Commissioner Bella Aaron is also Chairman of the County Personnel Commission. How can Mrs. Aaron serve the needs of both commissions without a conflict of interest?

The upshot of the entire sorry development in my opinion is that there is an attempt to destroy Mr. Thompson. It seems to me that he resigned because he would not be controlled by an ambitious commissioner or a county administrator who wanted the human rights director under his thumb. . .

Rev. FRANCIS GEDDES
San Anselmo.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

June 26, 1960

Thousands visited Point Reyes Station to view the 11th annual West Marin Junior Livestock Show parade of 130 entries.

Two Berkeley fishermen caught 26 sharks in Tomales Bay, averaging eight or nine feet long and weighing as much as 400 pounds.

20 YEARS AGO

June 26, 1950

Marin County supervisors approved plans to convert an eight-mile, three-lane roadway from San Rafael to Ignacio into a four-lane divided highway.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

Dick Shawn, boning up on Biblical history, discovered that King Solomon had over 700 wives, but that his father contented himself with 20. "I guess," reasons Shawn, "that the old man just wasn't the marrying kind."

In the lobby of one of New York's ritziest hotels, several coin phones are fastened to a wall near the cashier's cage. On three successive days, an alert reporter noticed a dazzling, modishly attired blonde drop a dime in one of the phone boxes and dial what must have been a dead number (because the dime was always returned). Each time she would coo to the imaginary party at the other end, "I'm in a dreadful predicament, Pamela! Arthur has evidently forgotton our date and I have nobody to lunch with." And each of the three times a different gentleman who just happened to be using the phone adjacent quickly hung up, introduced himself to the lady — and took her to lunch.

New American Team Needed To Direct Vietnam Withdrawal

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Highly qualified people in the administration are convinced that a wholly new U.S. military-diplomatic team in Saigon and Paris is needed to carry through the Nixon withdrawal programs speedily and effectively.

This would mean replacement of Gen. Creighton Abrams, commander of American forces in Vietnam, and of veteran Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, and naming a successor to Henry Cabot Lodge whose seat at the Paris talks has long been vacant.

Those who advocate a new team to deal with the final phases of our part in the Vietnamese war have not a breath of criticism of either General Abrams or Ambassador Bunker. They are able men and have turned in a superior performance.

THE CASE for replacement is this:

1 — It has been a long, grinding, punishing assignment for both General Abrams and Ambassador Bunker, who have long wanted to retire, and relief is in order.

2 — The problems of winding down the U. S. role in Vietnam are substantially different from those of cranking it up and, while Abrams and Bunker are loyal to their assignments, it would be reasonable and could be quite desirable for President Nixon to put the concluding execution of new policy into the hands of new people.

3 — Since Nixon has said he hopes the Cambodia operation and the increasing combat effectiveness of the South Vietnamese would persuade Hanoi to begin to negotiate seriously, the time is at hand to fill Lodge's empty chair in Paris with a high-level representative of the President.

4 — There would be significant and practical symbolic value in putting in a new team at the top at this particular moment.

MANY OF the leaders of the Saigon government — not including President Thieu — cannot quite bring themselves to believe that the U. S. troops are really going to pull out as announced, and keep hoping that before long some way will be found to call it off or slow it down. Some of the U. S. military brass in Vietnam also hold this view.

Many in the U. S. have serious doubts that the process of steady withdrawal is a certainty.

Few things would do more to demonstrate to both the South Vietnamese that they must accept withdrawal and be ready for it and to those Americans at home who doubt withdrawal is a firm commitment than for the President to put carrying it out in the hands of fresh people.

THE VALUE of such a move in the United States can hardly be overstated. Many of Nixon's critics seem intent upon fanning distrust that the President's withdrawal program is designed, not to get the United States out of the war, but to produce a military victory. Action, not words alone, can best counter this false argument, and it seems to those who are suggesting it that putting a new military-diplomatic team in charge of withdrawal would be an impressive action.

Those in the United States who seem eager to disprove that the President is doing what they say they want him to do — withdraw — use some odd arguments to create distrust in Mr. Nixon's intentions.

They argue, on one hand, that Vietnamization won't work and, on the other, that it will work so well that the South Vietnamese army will become so strong it will seek a military victory over the North Vietnamese forces within its borders. What's wrong with that?

They argue, as if it were some kind of plot, that Hanoi may be forced to recognize the enduring nature of the strength of the ARVN and thus be forced to negotiate a settlement in Paris not entirelyt o its liking. What's wrong with that?

THESE ARE the President's firm goals: to withdraw steadily; to strengthen the ARVN so it can defend the nation; to help it become strong enough that Hanoi will either negotiate or abandon its aggression in South Vietnam; and to prove to the American people this this is proceeding.

It strikes some within the administration that a new U. S. military-diplomatic team in Saigon and Paris would further all of these objectives.

There are plenty of qualified men to man the new team.

Policy Making Moves Farther From Cabinet

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Do you remember candidate Nixon and the new President Nixon who planned to make more use of a strengthened cabinet and to slim down the White House staff?

That "old" Nixon is just a memory. Speaking loudly by his recent actions, the President has all but erased those visionary words. He is finding the cabinet as unwieldy an instrument as did his immediate predecessors.

The White House staff, on the other hand, is growing in size and in importance. Decision makers in whom the President has confidence are gravitating to the executive power center, and the trend has been quite apparent in recent weeks.

IN THE FOREIGN policy arena, the President found no role at all for the cabinet in deciding to move U. S. troops into Cambodia. The cabinet, as a panel, was not consulted, and all indications are that the White House adviser on national security, Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, had the major advisory role in that decision.

Now the same trend is evident in domestic affairs. It has, however, been obscured by speculation as to the ideological significance of replacing Robert Finch with Elliot Richardson in the HEW jungle and the liberal-to-conservative implications of shifting Labor Secy. George P. Shultz to the new budget agency.

IT IS RATHER widely assumed here that Richardson is going to HEW to play the tough-fisted administrator in that sprawling department. Finch, by most accounts, did not do that.

Richardson is, however, not a Nixon intimate of long standing or an official who has, in the past, had easy entree to the President.

Finch, on the other hand, is the old Nixon friend — the campaign manager of Nixon's unsuccessful presidential campaign in 1960. In the recent controversy over whether Nixon is isolated by his personal staff, Shultz has been mentioned as a cabinet member who has had no trouble reaching the President with his views.

IT IS NOTEWORTHY that the two "insiders" are moving inside the White House where they will certainly have a more influential policy role than their successors in the cabinet.

In fact, the successor to Shultz, James D. Hodgson, may have tough sledding as secretary of labor. He is not the darling of organized labor and lacks the rapport with labor leaders which Shultz enjoyed.

Even if Finch does not become a sort of Henry Kissinger for domestic affairs — a role which some bureaucrats expect him to fill —the former HEW secretary will certainly be influential in domestic affairs. As for Shultz, he will have a purse-string say with respect to all government programs.

Shameful Skullduggery To Fool The People

It is not pleasant to see elected representatives of the people stoop to skullduggery to fool those who elected them.

Nothing does more to disillusion youth with the democratic process. And enemies of democracy can derive satisfaction from such tactics — while of course ignoring the fact that the "dictatorships of the proletariat" which they espouse do the same sort of thing routinely.

There are two late examples of such skullduggery: one on the federal level, the other on the Marin County level.

THE SENATE and House of Representatives — presumably with connivance of the airlines, whose lobby could scarcely have been unaware of what was happening — enacted an airline ticket tax increase with the remarkable proviso that the amount of tax cannot be specified in writing on the ticket or in any information about it.

The obvious purpose is to keep the airline ticket buyer from realizing the tax has been increased. It seems remarkable that the airlines' lobby did not put up a loud squawk, since the buyer is led to believe the airline — not the government — has caused his trip to cost more.

THERE ARE OTHER examples of concealed taxes — as on liquor, for instance. But the general rule, and the right one, is to require that the price tag show how much represents tax, rather than to forbid such information. The familiar example of this is the gasoline pump, on which is listed the amount of state and federal taxes per gallon.

For congressmen to vote for a tax increase with a requirement that it be concealed from the buyer is unconscionable. But that is what they did.

LITTLE BETTER was the performance of the Marin County Board of Supervisors this week in juggling accounts to try to conceal that two county road projects would add 2.8 cents to the tax rate.

The projects are both needed: extension of Miller Avenue outside of Mill Valley, and slide repair on the Fairfax-Bolinas Road. But since the $144,000 to finance them had not been included in the road budget, the supervisors went along with this scheme by John F. Barrows, assistant county administrator: They took $144,000 of sales tax revenue out of the general fund and put it in the road fund.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar objected to the underhanded method. Better to finance the road projects out of property taxes, he contended. But he went along with Supervisors John F. McInnis, Michael Wornum and William A. Gnoss to vote for the transfer. Only Peter R. Arrigoni cast his vote against it and not because he objected to the method.

THE PURPOSE was to make it appear that sales tax will finance the road projects.

But — to replace the $144,000 in the general fund requires a 2.8-cent property tax increase. Thus, the two road jobs actually increase the property tax rate by 2.8 cents while ostensibly being financed by the sales tax.

HIDDEN TAXES are a curse. When Congress passes a law forbidding their disclosure, or when the Marin County Board of Supervisors approves juggling funds to try to conceal them, the members should hang their heads in shame.

Eat Your Weeds

A friend of ours — a nice, normal guy ordinarily — has a thing about that common Marin weed called pig parsley or purslane. It is his favorite pot herb, a succulent succulent, in a manner of speaking.

Pig parsley is such a persistent weed in many Marin gardens, it is good to know it is useful and tasty. Our friend says it takes a lot to make a little because pig parsley is such a juicy, thick-leaved succulent. He seasons his with a little pork or sausages.

If you know your weeds, weeding can become an exercise in gastronomic anticipation. But, unfortunately, most weeds are inedible, few are really tasty, and some are downright poisonous.

Bill For Nuclear Power Control Draws Conservationist Screams

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNW) — A bill which apparently has every chance of passing is going through the legislative hopper. It warrants comment primarily because it is opposed by a group of rabid conservationists.

The measure is AB 818, by Assemblyman John V. Briggs, R-Fullerton, with a number of co-authors in both Senate and Assembly. The co-authors are split about 50-50 between Democrats and Republicans, testifying that the measure has no connection with partisan politics.

It provides for the State Powerplant Siting Committee, to review and evaluate proposed sites for location of thermal electric power plants.

THE CONSERVATION Co-Ordinators — Save Our Bay Action Committee, which last year became involved with BCDC legislation, is struck with "old-fashioned, hair raising horror" at the progress of the bill from the Assembly Committee on Natural Resources to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The measure, the conservationist prophets of doom claim, would "totally destroy the Clifornia coastline and give it in total to the utility companies."

Just how a measure designed to put the construction of nuclear power plants under scrutiny could "totally destroy" the California coastline is something of a mystery.

However, it has lately become the plaint of the conservationists that anything connected with advancement and progress is going to "destroy the state."

ONE THING the conservationists can't seem to recognize is that the state is filling up with people, and the end is not yet in sight. Therefore, the conservationists are going to be forced to move over, and not attempt to keep everything for themselves to the disadvantage of the burgeoning population.

They use the bill, AB 818, in an attempt to halt construction by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. of a nuclear plant at Davenport, Santa Cruz County, a project which as yet is not even off the ground but would be controlled by passage of Briggs' measure.

The legislature is declaring in the bill that it is state policy to serve the public interest, protect the ecology, as well as utilize nuclear energy wherever possible, yet the conservationists are against the bill.

They may be surprised someday when they switch on the lights, and no lights come on.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Pride In Nation Should Be Taught

We commend you on your coverage of the Flag Day ceremonies put on by the Elks Club.

We only regret that instead of teaching pride in our flag and country many of our public institutions are teaching otherwise. Our educators might wonder why their school tax increases have been defeated so often lately. Have they ever thought that the tax payer might be objecting to what they allow their teachers to teach our youngsters?

We, for one, have withdrawn our daughter from the high school summer program because our flag, which we look on with pride, has been desecrated in the art class. To this family the flag stands for the spirit of all Americans, down through the ages, no matter what their race or creed has been, that have given their lives that "this nation under God, with liberty and justice for all" may survive. We will not willing partake in any course where our flag is desecrated or our country condemned. We love our flag and the United States of America, as both flag and country still represent to us man's dream of democracy, freedom and liberty.

If those who desecrate the flag; and are against the establishment can come forth and create a better world, without the use of violence, without being financially supported by the establishment, without having one set of rules for themselves and another for others; let them comeforth and create a world of peace, justice and freedom for all.

Who Authorizes Those 'Overdrafts'?

At the risk of making monthly bank statements a subject more sophisticated in appeal than it really is, I wish to give public support to Mr. Don Dimitratos of the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department. You reported briefly on problems arising because of a purported deficit in his department's budget. Mr. Dimitratos has been approached. as have other department heads, as if he were guilty of the deficit. It is unlikely that he overspent. He operates within his budget. However, he is not informed, as he spends within his budget as he does, how much remains in his department's part of the city bank account.

It would appear out of hand to any businessman or anyone with a personal checking account, that a department head is not given a monthly or quarterly bank statement to check against his own records. . .

There is no such thing as a department head writing checks without signatures of OK from higher officials, or boards where they exist. If it is illegal for a city official to pay bills or approve checks without money in the bank, how does an official know whether he's within the bank balance?. . .

As a friend of the county library users who got kicked out and as a friend of the Mill Valley employees, I find the city's approach to its own service institutions in poor taste and reeking of ignorance and indifference, as in the case of those without imagination who let things fall apart and then try to pull their things together with string and flour paste, stolen from somewhere.

Why Human Rights Director Resigned

The "Reporter's Notebook" column by David Dietz in your June 22 issue reflects in my opinion a surface understanding of the controversy now swirling around the proposed destruction of the Marin County Human Rights Department. . .

While I was a member of the Human Rights Commission I worked closely with Austin J. Thompson for two years. I was impressed and sometimes concerned by the arduous schedule that he kept for months on end. More than a few weeks he put in 50 and 60 hours for the people of Marin County.

In the several running battles between the county administrator's office and the Human Rights Department it became clear to me that Mr. Thompson took policy direction from the commission and cooperated with the county administrator, but he refused to be controlled by Mr. Bruce in matters like a meaningful New Careers program.

It was not a total surprise to me then that Mr. Bruce suggested several weeks ago that of all the county department budgets evaluated for economizing, that the Human Rights Department might be cut or wiped out . . .

If the administrator could not cashier Mr. Thompson by wiping out his department then he could gather "reports" of poor work performance or abuse of sick leave. I have seen Mr. Thompson exhaust himself on the County's behalf and am personally aware of a painful knee injury he suffered while on county business. The injury continues to plague him.

I would surmise that Mr. Bruce did not ask all of the human rights commissioners about Mr. Thompson's work performance, but listened intently to one particular commissioner who sought Thompson's removal. . .

I find it a curious coincidence that the county personnel director is recommending impressive salary raises for high county officials that will be considered some months hence. Curious because in a time of budget crisis the Human Rights Department is being gutted. Even more curious because Human Rights Commissioner Bella Aaron is also Chairman of the County Personnel Commission. How can Mrs. Aaron serve the needs of both commissions without a conflict of interest?

The upshot of the entire sorry development in my opinion is that there is an attempt to destroy Mr. Thompson. It seems to me that he resigned because he would not be controlled by an ambitious commissioner or a county administrator who wanted the human rights director under his thumb. . .

New American Team Needed To Direct Vietnam Withdrawal

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Highly qualified people in the administration are convinced that a wholly new U.S. military-diplomatic team in Saigon and Paris is needed to carry through the Nixon withdrawal programs speedily and effectively.

This would mean replacement of Gen. Creighton Abrams, commander of American forces in Vietnam, and of veteran Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, and naming a successor to Henry Cabot Lodge whose seat at the Paris talks has long been vacant.

Those who advocate a new team to deal with the final phases of our part in the Vietnamese war have not a breath of criticism of either General Abrams or Ambassador Bunker. They are able men and have turned in a superior performance.

THE CASE for replacement is this:

1 — It has been a long, grinding, punishing assignment for both General Abrams and Ambassador Bunker, who have long wanted to retire, and relief is in order.

2 — The problems of winding down the U. COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Road Spending From Gas Tax Supposedly Removed From Politics

Fusselman

County government news in the I-J today (Wednesday) again caused me to change gears and comment on as much as space will allow.

I had intended to take next week off and not write a column for July 3. After reading the big notice in today's issue, calling taxpayers to band together and appear at the supervisors' meeting to protect the budget increases, I may want to write about it. We'll see.

Here are some things about road budgets that should be commented on: When I was first elected in 1942, I discovered that as long as there had been a County of Marin, the supervisor of each district was also road commissioner upon taking office. The boundaries of the road district were coterminus with the boundaries of the supervisorial districts.

A road engineer was assistant to each of the supervisors and one-fifth of his salary was charged to each district. Once a year the board decided on the allocation to each district of the gas tax money and other state subventions. It was always a battle.

ABOUT 1947, I think it was, the Collier-Burns Bill was passed by the legislature. It abolished all road districts as such and provided that a road commissioner be appointed by each county. This man was not to be interferred with by any member of the board of supervisors on penalty of withdrawal of state funds for that county. I abided by this rule but always put up a fight for my fair share at budget time. The state allocation was in a lump sum.

There was a rather amusing story regarding this. When Peter Behr was elected to the borad of supervisors, he was guest speaker at the Mill Valley Rotary Club, I think. He said that Mr. Fusselman was getting the lion's share of the road money for his district and that he was going to put a stop to it. He continued that he would oppose any more funds being spent beyond Wolfe Grade as anything beyond that was a cul-de-sac or dead end. (That from a man from Mill Valley which is the end of the line down there!) I clipped the article and often ribbed him about it.

Supervisor Arrigoni is off target in taking a political approach on road money (as quoted in the front page story). As director of public works, Donald Frost told him it would take 55 years to bring the roads up to standard. We all use them, you know.

During World War II, we were allowed only patching material and as a result the roads went to pieces. They were far from restored when I left the board, to follow Arrigoni's idea we would be paying through the nose year after year.

ANOTHER ITEM in the same I-J story was that Supervisor Bud Baar said, "This is the same gimmick Zucker used to build up his department."

There is no similarity. Advanced planning is in the abstract and rarely is fullfilled. Advanced work in the engineering department is precise detailed on, ready for bidding when the time comes.

No engineer in his right mind would try to build up his department just for show. Not only in this county but everywhere in California they are bugged with the new requirements. It's not just "California here we come." They are here. Stand anywhere and watch the cars go by.

Rivers Lambastes Defense Cutbacks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., has accused the administration and congressional military critics of leading the country into "the worst catastrophe this nation has ever encountered."

The volatile and influential chairman of the House Armed Services Committee charged America's defenses against the Soviet Union were being jeopardized by the current drive to trim military spending in favor of domestic needs.

Although Rivers and the administration have had their occasional differences over specific military programs, the disputes have generally been low key and confined to the matters at hand. Rivers carefully has refrained from opening up on the administration in the manner that he used to attack former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

"And the storm clouds are being seeded further by a dantic schemes," he declared.

"On the one hand," Rivers said, "the secretary of defense talks about "the secretary of tregerous demagoguery that finds the military and the national security budget a convenient scapegoat for grandiose domesmendous increase in Soviet missile strength, and on the other hand, the President talks about the need to reduce defense spending."

The result, Rivers said, was that the United States was moving away from a "flexible response" capability and back again to the doctrine of massive retaliation that prevailed in the 1950's.

"The commies know where and when we are weak," Rivers said. "They strike at their — not our — convenience."

The South Carolina Democrat noted Nixon recently commented that for the first time in years the government was spending more money on human needs than on national defense.

"If the America people knew the facts," insisted Rivers, "I think they would choose to survive as a free nation with fewer social programs rather than risk the consequences of Communist domination."

The chairman said in the near future he would give the American people the facts.

"The doves and the cowards aren't going to like what I am going to say, but they are not going to be able to refute the facts I plan to give this country," Rivers said.

Rivers expressed confidence the people were willing to pay for the adequate defense, even if it meant higher taxes.

"But the direction in which we are now heading can lead us only into the worst catastrophe this nation has ever encountered," Rivers declared.

Rivers warned his military audience against meeting its difficulties by engaging in the interservice infighting that took place when defense spending was trimmed after World War II.

"The way to get what is wanted for your service is not to try to take it out of the hide of one of the sister services," Rivers said. "The 70's will be a time of testing of service unity."

Gasoline Lead Battle Shaping Up

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The author of embattled antismog legislation, who lost another round in the fight over removing lead from gasoline, vowed today to stall the bill until "the black balloon turns white."

Assemblyman Peter Schabarum, R-Covina, announced he would place the bill on the Assembly "inactive" shelf after the lower house Thursday refused to strip it of amendments supported by Standard, Shell and some other major oil companies.

He charged the amendments, sponsored by Assemblyman Robert H. Burke, R-Huntington Beach, would give those companies a competitive advantage not available to certain other companies such as Union and Phillips.

The Assembly voted 35-33 to keep the amendments in the bill over Schabarum's protests. The amendments had been inserted last week despite Schabarum's opposition.

He promptly announced the bill will remain stalled on the inactive file "until the Standard Oil black balloon turns white," a reference to the company's advertising campaign for its gasoline.

The fight to get the lead out of gasoline has taken on the proportions of the bruising battle two years ago over California's legislation setting tougher automobile smog control standards than those of the federal government.

Both the Burke and Schabarum proposals would require the lead to be removed from gasoline in 1977. The Burke plan would allow use during the interim "phaseout" years of three grades of gasoline which contain lead, an additive to raise octane levels for higher performance.

The Scharabum proposal encourages the use of two grades of leaded gas.

"Most of the oil industry is desirous that there be no bill at all," Schabarum argued. "What we do here is going to have an impact across the country."

Nixon Again Plumps For Revenue Sharing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has directed the top men in his administration to apply pressure in an effort to revive his revenue sharing plan which would provide no-strings-attached grants to states and cities.

The president called for renewed lobbying efforts to win approval of the bill which has met studied indifference in Congress and has been almost forgotten since Nixon proposed it with some fanfare in August.

"Revenue sharing is the financial heart of the new federalism," Nixon said in a memo to the administration's senior officials. A copy of the memo was obtained by UPI.

"I encourage all of you to become familiar with the basic elements of the administration's revenue sharing proposal and to make known, at every suitable occasion, our strong desire to secure its enactment in 1970," the President said.

The plan would distribute to the 50 states and the District of Columbia an increasing share of federal tax revenue up to a peak of about $5 billion annually to be reached in 1976. The states would be required to pass some of the money along to cities and countries but there would be no other restrictions.

Nixon cited a "fiscal mismatch" between the federal government and the states and cities. Federal revenues rise with economic expansion because they are tied to a progressive income tax, while many local governments rely on much less sensitive sales and property taxes.

"The individual citizen can have the largest impact on public policy through his state and local governments," Nixon wrote. "By strengthening these governments, revenue sharing can enhance individual contributions to public decision-making.

"Through revenue sharing an important measure of political power is returned to the people."

Information distributed with the memo indicated that if the plan is approved this year, the first grants would be made between April 1 and June 30 next year. It would cost $275 million for the three months in the 1971 fiscal year that ends June 30, 1971.

By 1976, the distributions were expected to increase to about $5 billion annually.

Revenue shairng was first proposed by Walter Heller, chairman of President John F. Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers. At that time, it was suggested as a use for "surplus" federal revenue.

The Indochina War and the urban crisis at home have used up surplus revenue. The Nixon administration said the objective of the plan has changed.

"This is not a matter of sending back to the states excess federal revenues left over from federal program requirements," the administration said. "Revenue sharing should be viewed as an expenditure for a basic national purpose — strengthening the financial base of our federal system of governments."

SAN FRANCISCO — A Marin resident was selected yesterday to serve on a second regular Federal Grand Jury in San Francisco.

It is the first time two juries have been needed to handle criminal indictments.

James L. Browning Jr., the U.S. Attorney in San Francisco, said the second jury was needed because of investigations into organized crime and antitrust matters and because of a backlog of general criminal activities.

Linda A. Hunter of 19 Pixley Avenue, Corte Madera, was among those selected. The jury will serve until Oct. 25.

Workshop's Fund Needs Not All Met

The Marin Community Workshop has not, as reported in an Independent-Journal story yesterday, qualified for a $41,247 grant by raising $10,312 in private funds. The workshop must raise this amount in order to qualify for the grant.

The error originated in a press release from the state Department of Rehabilitation, which approved the grant.

Floating Dock Permit Sought In Greenbrae

James J. Menke, c/o Western Dock Enterprises, 834 Vallejo Avenue, Novato, has applied to the Army Corps of Engineers for a permit to install a floating dock in Greenbrae on Corte Madera Creek at 775 South Eliseo Drive.

Interested parties may submit objections to the dock in writing, in triplicate, within 30 days to the U.S. Army Engineer District, Corps of Engineers, 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco, 94102.

Felon Faces Charge Of Prison Escape

A jury in Marin Superior Court has convicted San Quentin inmate Clarence Milton Sprague, 32, of escaping from the prison on April 18, 1969.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Road Spending From Gas Tax Supposedly Removed From Politics

Fusselman

County government news in the I-J today (Wednesday) again caused me to change gears and comment on as much as space will allow.

I had intended to take next week off and not write a column for July 3. After reading the big notice in today's issue, calling taxpayers to band together and appear at the supervisors' meeting to protect the budget increases, I may want to write about it. We'll see.

Here are some things about road budgets that should be commented on: When I was first elected in 1942, I discovered that as long as there had been a County of Marin, the supervisor of each district was also road commissioner upon taking office. The boundaries of the road district were coterminus with the boundaries of the supervisorial districts.

A road engineer was assistant to each of the supervisors and one-fifth of his salary was charged to each district. Once a year the board decided on the allocation to each district of the gas tax money and other state subventions. It was always a battle.

ABOUT 1947, I think it was, the Collier-Burns Bill was passed by the legislature. It abolished all road districts as such and provided that a road commissioner be appointed by each county. This man was not to be interferred with by any member of the board of supervisors on penalty of withdrawal of state funds for that county. I abided by this rule but always put up a fight for my fair share at budget time. The state allocation was in a lump sum.

There was a rather amusing story regarding this. When Peter Behr was elected to the borad of supervisors, he was guest speaker at the Mill Valley Rotary Club, I think. He said that Mr. Fusselman was getting the lion's share of the road money for his district and that he was going to put a stop to it. He continued that he would oppose any more funds being spent beyond Wolfe Grade as anything beyond that was a cul-de-sac or dead end. (That from a man from Mill Valley which is the end of the line down there!) I clipped the article and often ribbed him about it.

Supervisor Arrigoni is off target in taking a political approach on road money (as quoted in the front page story). As director of public works, Donald Frost told him it would take 55 years to bring the roads up to standard. We all use them, you know.

During World War II, we were allowed only patching material and as a result the roads went to pieces. They were far from restored when I left the board, to follow Arrigoni's idea we would be paying through the nose year after year.

ANOTHER ITEM in the same I-J story was that Supervisor Bud Baar said, "This is the same gimmick Zucker used to build up his department."

There is no similarity. Advanced planning is in the abstract and rarely is fullfilled. Advanced work in the engineering department is precise detailed on, ready for bidding when the time comes.

No engineer in his right mind would try to build up his department just for show. Not only in this county but everywhere in California they are bugged with the new requirements. It's not just "California here we come." They are here. Stand anywhere and watch the cars go by.

Rivers Lambastes Defense Cutbacks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., has accused the administration and congressional military critics of leading the country into "the worst catastrophe this nation has ever encountered."

The volatile and influential chairman of the House Armed Services Committee charged America's defenses against the Soviet Union were being jeopardized by the current drive to trim military spending in favor of domestic needs.

Although Rivers and the administration have had their occasional differences over specific military programs, the disputes have generally been low key and confined to the matters at hand. Rivers carefully has refrained from opening up on the administration in the manner that he used to attack former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

"And the storm clouds are being seeded further by a dantic schemes," he declared

"On the one hand," Rivers said, "the secretary of defense talks about "the secretary of tregerous demagoguery that finds the military and the national security budget a convenient scapegoat for grandiose domesmendous increase in Soviet missile strength, and on the other hand, the President talks about the need to reduce defense spending."

The result, Rivers said, was that the United States was moving away from a "flexible response" capability and back again to the doctrine of massive retaliation that prevailed in the 1950's.

"The commies know where and when we are weak," Rivers said. "They strike at their — not our — convenience."

The South Carolina Democrat noted Nixon recently commented that for the first time in years the government was spending more money on human needs than on national defense.

"If the America people knew the facts," insisted Rivers, "I think they would choose to survive as a free nation with fewer social programs rather than risk the consequences of Communist domination."

The chairman said in the near future he would give the American people the facts.

"The doves and the cowards aren't going to like what I am going to say, but they are not going to be able to refute the facts I plan to give this country," Rivers said.

Rivers expressed confidence the people were willing to pay for the adequate defense, even if it meant higher taxes.

"But the direction in which we are now heading can lead us only into the worst catastrophe this nation has ever encountered," Rivers declared.

Rivers warned his military audience against meeting its difficulties by engaging in the interservice infighting that took place when defense spending was trimmed after World War II.

"The way to get what is wanted for your service is not to try to take it out of the hide of one of the sister services," Rivers said. "The 70's will be a time of testing of service unity."

Gasoline Lead Battle Shaping Up

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The author of embattled antismog legislation, who lost another round in the fight over removing lead from gasoline, vowed today to stall the bill until "the black balloon turns white."

Assemblyman Peter Schabarum, R-Covina, announced he would place the bill on the Assembly "inactive" shelf after the lower house Thursday refused to strip it of amendments supported by Standard, Shell and some other major oil companies.

He charged the amendments, sponsored by Assemblyman Robert H. Burke, R-Huntington Beach, would give those companies a competitive advantage not available to certain other companies such as Union and Phillips.

The Assembly voted 35-33 to keep the amendments in the bill over Schabarum's protests. The amendments had been inserted last week despite Schabarum's opposition.

He promptly announced the bill will remain stalled on the inactive file "until the Standard Oil black balloon turns white," a reference to the company's advertising campaign for its gasoline.

The fight to get the lead out of gasoline has taken on the proportions of the bruising battle two years ago over California's legislation setting tougher automobile smog control standards than those of the federal government.

Both the Burke and Schabarum proposals would require the lead to be removed from gasoline in 1977. The Burke plan would allow use during the interim "phaseout" years of three grades of gasoline which contain lead, an additive to raise octane levels for higher performance.

The Scharabum proposal encourages the use of two grades of leaded gas.

"Most of the oil industry is desirous that there be no bill at all," Schabarum argued. "What we do here is going to have an impact across the country."

Nixon Again Plumps For Revenue Sharing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has directed the top men in his administration to apply pressure in an effort to revive his revenue sharing plan which would provide no-strings-attached grants to states and cities.

The president called for renewed lobbying efforts to win approval of the bill which has met studied indifference in Congress and has been almost forgotten since Nixon proposed it with some fanfare in August.

"Revenue sharing is the financial heart of the new federalism," Nixon said in a memo to the administration's senior officials. A copy of the memo was obtained by UPI.

"I encourage all of you to become familiar with the basic elements of the administration's revenue sharing proposal and to make known, at every suitable occasion, our strong desire to secure its enactment in 1970," the President said.

The plan would distribute to the 50 states and the District of Columbia an increasing share of federal tax revenue up to a peak of about $5 billion annually to be reached in 1976. The states would be required to pass some of the money along to cities and countries but there would be no other restrictions.

Nixon cited a "fiscal mismatch" between the federal government and the states and cities. Federal revenues rise with economic expansion because they are tied to a progressive income tax, while many local governments rely on much less sensitive sales and property taxes.

"The individual citizen can have the largest impact on public policy through his state and local governments," Nixon wrote. "By strengthening these governments, revenue sharing can enhance individual contributions to public decision-making.

"Through revenue sharing an important measure of political power is returned to the people."

Information distributed with the memo indicated that if the plan is approved this year, the first grants would be made between April 1 and June 30 next year. It would cost $275 million for the three months in the 1971 fiscal year that ends June 30, 1971.

By 1976, the distributions were expected to increase to about $5 billion annually.

Revenue shairng was first proposed by Walter Heller, chairman of President John F. Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers. At that time, it was suggested as a use for "surplus" federal revenue.

The Indochina War and the urban crisis at home have used up surplus revenue. The Nixon administration said the objective of the plan has changed.

"This is not a matter of sending back to the states excess federal revenues left over from federal program requirements," the administration said. "Revenue sharing should be viewed as an expenditure for a basic national purpose — strengthening the financial base of our federal system of governments."

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

The Bane Of Calories Catches Up With Restaurant Columnist

Then out spake grave Horatius, the captain with this plate, "To every man upon this earth diet cometh soon or late, And how can man diet better than resisting two great odds:

By

That's taking a lot of liberties with McCauley's immortal stanza, but when you've been more or less in the profession of giving your appetite free rein for 13 years, the thought of eating — and the necessity to cut down on it — can cause you to do all sorts of unseemly things.

Fortunately I've discovered that many restaurants can and do serve something besides plates piled high with calories. And I've stopped chewing my fingernails for extra proteins and settled down to a remedial menu without too many gnawing pains in a region that's become excessively padded.

Dieting is an area where the steak eaters shine — provided they're satisfied with something like six to 10 ounces of meat, instead of 16, plus an extra 100 calories or more from potatoes or paste. You learn to substitute 15 calories of asparagus, 20 calories of spinach or maybe even 40 calories of cooked cabbage (cole slaw, 15 calories, is better).

If you like your wine, you have to leave space somewhere for at least 95 calories, which among other things requires foregoing a 150-calory highball. A glass of milk, I'll have you know, is 170 calories unless it's skimmed.

You use lemon juice on seafood instead of accepting the chef's favorite sauce. But most chefs these days are used to Americans' dieting, so they aren't especially insulted.

Chinese food is generally low in calories, but still requires analysis. You have to give up pork in the chow mein and spareribs. And at Lin Fa Gardens, which has a long list of all kinds of a la carte dishes, you can find plenty of vegetables, chicken, oyster beef and other appetizing items that help keep the padding down and at the same time satisfy.

Mind you, I'm only trying out this diet business to see how it works — in the interest of professional research, so to speak. I'll let you know later if there is really anything to it. Right now, I'll admit to casting a slightly slimmer shadow. With the light from the right direction, that is.

LIKE DANCING, (not rock and roll) on weekends?

Then you might like Kleist's Heidelberg at 6422 Old Redwood Highway, Santa Rosa, near the Windsor exit from the 101 Highway.

Kleist's is open for dinner Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays all year round, serving German and American food. Dancing is on Saturday nights and Sunday afternoons.

And it's not more than an hour's ride from most Marin County points.

ONDINE in Sausalito has received word from Holiday magazine that it is included again this year among those restaurants to receive its Distinguished Diner Awards and will be listed in Holiday's July issue. If I am not mistaken, this is Ondine's 11th consecutive year on the list, in its 13 years of operation.

The Sausalito dinery is also being given honorable mention for this distinction in the new Mobil guide or recommended restaurants and hostelries.

BERNARD EPSTEIN, chef and co-owner at Gregory's Restaurant in Corte Madera, was quite excited to have his excellent fare sampled last Saturday night by a distinguished chef, who might have elected to visit any number of more cosmopolitan restaurants.

This was Rene Verdon, chef at the White House under the late President John Kennedy, who wrote a book about that experience. He came with his wife and a party of five, tried Bernard's veal chanterelle and promised to return for more — after appearing on some TV programs in New York.

GETTING BACK to Sonoma County, if you haven't paid your last gas and electric bill yet, be sure to look at the PG&E Progress that was enclosed, which selected for its recipe of the month section the Hilltopper Restaurant in Santa Rosa — giving recognition to chef Paul Galas' beef Stroganoff en casserole served with rice pilaf.

AND IN THE VALLEY OF THE MOON, the Sonoma Valley Chamber of Commerce reports the restoration and reopening of a historic winery — the Glen Ellen Mill and Winery.

Now known as the Glen Ellen Mill and Wine Village, situated on land once owned by Gen. Mariano Guadalupe Vallejo, it was made into a grist mill and later a sawmill, winery and distillery during the middle of the 19th Century by one Joshua Chauvet. The mill ran for nearly 100 years and remains on display in its original location. Dedication of the old mill water wheel is tomorrow by present operators Charles Beardsley and David Fritschi.

The Pagani family acquired the property in 1915 and produced as much as 300,000 gallons of wine and 50,000 gallons of brandy a year up until 1958. Since then the buildings have stood silent and empty.

Buena Vista, the oldest operating winery in California, will offer its wines at a wine tasting room at the village. There will also be a contemporary art gallery. And many of the long empty oaken wine casks have been converted into shops on a promenade along Sonoma Creek.

Glen Ellen is a picturesque little town at the entrance to the Jack London State Park. It can be reached via Sonoma or Santa Rosa just off Highway 12.

If you have any difficulty locating the Glen Ellen Mill and Winery when you get there, stop off at London Lodge and inquire from Bill Colling. And you might stay for dinner.

IF YOU FIND work going on at La Casa Italian Restaurant on Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, during the next few days, it does not mean that the place is closed.

Ron Lipori has had his plans approved for exterior remodeling and a new sign; business will go on as usual. For some time he has been remodeling the interior to give it more the appearance of a dinner house.

Look for La Casa to continue to grow. Ron has also bought the property next door. One of these days it could develop into a much larger establishment with a cocktail lounge.

RON BRANDES, who owns Bib 'n' Rib on the San Anselmo Miracle Mile, now has his Missouri barbecue sauce distributed through 30 markets.

Ron has one of the commercial booths at the Marin Art and Garden Fair in Ross this year and his barbecue sauce will be on sale there. It's great for meat or seafood. In addition, he will also have two-pound bags of processed hickory from Missouri for barbecuing. This is in a sort of granulated form and does not require presoaking. Simply sprinkle it on the coals when they are white and you are ready to cook. And presto! You have that midwest smoky flavor. You'll find very little hickory on the local retail market this year.

Both the barbecue sauce and the hickory may be obtained from the Bib 'n' Rib, of course.

A CHANGE in the entertainment at Gatsby's in Sausalito now features guitarist and blues singer Lynne Highes Sundays from 4 to 8 p.m. and Mondays from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m., starting day after tomorrow. She currently has two long playing records on the Fontana label.

Smash Glass Door

Vandals between 7 p.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. Wednesday smashed a $75 plate glass door window at the T-Bone Family Steak House, 411 Third Street, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

Report Sought On Marriage Counseling

The Marin Mental Health Advisory Board — concerned by rising dissolution rates and resulting welfare cases — has asked for a feasibility report on marriage counseling services for the Marin Superior Court, chairman Peter W. Palmer said today.

He said the board on Wednesday asked Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, director of county community mental health services, to look into the possibility of supplying counselors for persons about to be divorced with an eye to saving some marriages and keeping divorcees off the welfare rolls.

The idea came up in a Bay Area Social Planning Council report by Marin director Daniel Sprague and Justice Richard M. Sims Jr. and was snapped up by the board, according to Palmer.

Many counties already have the counseling service, he said.

The report also expressed concern over "bifurcative control" of mental health planning in Marin. It suggested a single administration with a clear line of authority instead of the present division between the Marin Hospital District Board and the county, Palmer said.

Palmer said the board has supported this unification, but the county board of supervisors has not.

A complex contract between the county and Marin Hospital District Board defining the manner in which things in the mental health field may be done and what the hospital should supply was also approved by the board, Palmer said.

The next meeting is scheduled for July 15 at 8 p.m. in the Coral Room at Marin General Hospital.

Conditioning Class To Begin On Monday

Beginning Monday from 7 to 9 p.m. and running through Aug. 14 the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department will offer a physical conditioning class for men at Terra Linda High School.

The program will include weight training, jogging and calisthenics plus badminton and volleyball.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

The Bane Of Calories Catches Up With Restaurant Columnist

Then out spake grave Horatius, the captain with this plate, "To every man upon this earth diet cometh soon or late, And how can man diet better than resisting two great odds:

By

That's taking a lot of liberties with McCauley's immortal stanza, but when you've been more or less in the profession of giving your appetite free rein for 13 years, the thought of eating — and the necessity to cut down on it — can cause you to do all sorts of unseemly things.

Fortunately I've discovered that many restaurants can and do serve something besides plates piled high with calories. And I've stopped chewing my fingernails for extra proteins and settled down to a remedial menu without too many gnawing pains in a region that's become excessively padded.

Dieting is an area where the steak eaters shine — provided they're satisfied with something like six to 10 ounces of meat, instead of 16, plus an extra 100 calories or more from potatoes or paste. You learn to substitute 15 calories of asparagus, 20 calories of spinach or maybe even 40 calories of cooked cabbage (cole slaw, 15 calories, is better).

If you like your wine, you have to leave space somewhere for at least 95 calories, which among other things requires foregoing a 150-calory highball. A glass of milk, I'll have you know, is 170 calories unless it's skimmed.

You use lemon juice on seafood instead of accepting the chef's favorite sauce. But most chefs these days are used to Americans' dieting, so they aren't especially insulted.

Chinese food is generally low in calories, but still requires analysis. You have to give up pork in the chow mein and spareribs. And at Lin Fa Gardens, which has a long list of all kinds of a la carte dishes, you can find plenty of vegetables, chicken, oyster beef and other appetizing items that help keep the padding down and at the same time satisfy.

Mind you, I'm only trying out this diet business to see how it works — in the interest of professional research, so to speak. I'll let you know later if there is really anything to it. Right now, I'll admit to casting a slightly slimmer shadow. With the light from the right direction, that is.

LIKE DANCING, (not rock and roll) on weekends?

Then you might like Kleist's Heidelberg at 6422 Old Redwood Highway, Santa Rosa, near the Windsor exit from the 101 Highway.

Kleist's is open for dinner Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays all year round, serving German and American food. Dancing is on Saturday nights and Sunday afternoons.

And it's not more than an hour's ride from most Marin County points.

ONDINE in Sausalito has received word from Holiday magazine that it is included again this year among those restaurants to receive its Distinguished Diner Awards and will be listed in Holiday's July issue. If I am not mistaken, this is Ondine's 11th consecutive year on the list, in its 13 years of operation.

The Sausalito dinery is also being given honorable mention for this distinction in the new Mobil guide or recommended restaurants and hostelries.

BERNARD EPSTEIN, chef and co-owner at Gregory's Restaurant in Corte Madera, was quite excited to have his excellent fare sampled last Saturday night by a distinguished chef, who might have elected to visit any number of more cosmopolitan restaurants.

This was Rene Verdon, chef at the White House under the late President John Kennedy, who wrote a book about that experience. He came with his wife and a party of five, tried Bernard's veal chanterelle and promised to return for more — after appearing on some TV programs in New York.

GETTING BACK to Sonoma County, if you haven't paid your last gas and electric bill yet, be sure to look at the PG&E Progress that was enclosed, which selected for its recipe of the month section the Hilltopper Restaurant in Santa Rosa — giving recognition to chef Paul Galas' beef Stroganoff en casserole served with rice pilaf.

AND IN THE VALLEY OF THE MOON, the Sonoma Valley Chamber of Commerce reports the restoration and reopening of a historic winery — the Glen Ellen Mill and Winery.

Now known as the Glen Ellen Mill and Wine Village, situated on land once owned by Gen. Mariano Guadalupe Vallejo, it was made into a grist mill and later a sawmill, winery and distillery during the middle of the 19th Century by one Joshua Chauvet. The mill ran for nearly 100 years and remains on display in its original location. Dedication of the old mill water wheel is tomorrow by present operators Charles Beardsley and David Fritschi.

The Pagani family acquired the property in 1915 and produced as much as 300,000 gallons of wine and 50,000 gallons of brandy a year up until 1958. Since then the buildings have stood silent and empty.

Buena Vista, the oldest operating winery in California, will offer its wines at a wine tasting room at the village. There will also be a contemporary art gallery. And many of the long empty oaken wine casks have been converted into shops on a promenade along Sonoma Creek.

Glen Ellen is a picturesque little town at the entrance to the Jack London State Park. It can be reached via Sonoma or Santa Rosa just off Highway 12.

If you have any difficulty locating the Glen Ellen Mill and Winery when you get there, stop off at London Lodge and inquire from Bill Colling. And you might stay for dinner.

IF YOU FIND work going on at La Casa Italian Restaurant on Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, during the next few days, it does not mean that the place is closed.

Ron Lipori has had his plans approved for exterior remodeling and a new sign; business will go on as usual. For some time he has been remodeling the interior to give it more the appearance of a dinner house.

Look for La Casa to continue to grow. Ron has also bought the property next door. One of these days it could develop into a much larger establishment with a cocktail lounge.

RON BRANDES, who owns Bib 'n' Rib on the San Anselmo Miracle Mile, now has his Missouri barbecue sauce distributed through 30 markets.

Ron has one of the commercial booths at the Marin Art and Garden Fair in Ross this year and his barbecue sauce will be on sale there. It's great for meat or seafood. In addition, he will also have two-pound bags of processed hickory from Missouri for barbecuing. This is in a sort of granulated form and does not require presoaking. Simply sprinkle it on the coals when they are white and you are ready to cook. And presto! You have that midwest smoky flavor. You'll find very little hickory on the local retail market this year.

Both the barbecue sauce and the hickory may be obtained from the Bib 'n' Rib, of course.

A CHANGE in the entertainment at Gatsby's in Sausalito now features guitarist and blues singer Lynne Highes Sundays from 4 to 8 p.m. and Mondays from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m., starting day after tomorrow. She currently has two long playing records on the Fontana label.

Report Sought On Marriage Counseling

The Marin Mental Health Advisory Board — concerned by rising dissolution rates and resulting welfare cases — has asked for a feasibility report on marriage counseling services for the Marin Superior Court, chairman Peter W. Palmer said today.

He said the board on Wednesday asked Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, director of county community mental health services, to look into the possibility of supplying counselors for persons about to be divorced with an eye to saving some marriages and keeping divorcees off the welfare rolls.

The idea came up in a Bay Area Social Planning Council report by Marin director Daniel Sprague and Justice Richard M. Sims Jr. and was snapped up by the board, according to Palmer.

Many counties already have the counseling service, he said.

The report also expressed concern over "bifurcative control" of mental health planning in Marin. It suggested a single administration with a clear line of authority instead of the present division between the Marin Hospital District Board and the county, Palmer said.

Palmer said the board has supported this unification, but the county board of supervisors has not.

A complex contract between the county and Marin Hospital District Board defining the manner in which things in the mental health field may be done and what the hospital should supply was also approved by the board, Palmer said.

The next meeting is scheduled for July 15 at 8 p.m. in the Coral Room at Marin General Hospital.

Beginning Monday from 7 to 9 p.m. and running through Aug. 14 the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department will offer a physical conditioning class for men at Terra Linda High School.

Nixon To Seek Top Newsmen

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — President Nixon today was to host about 50 top news executives in an attempt to solicit support for his Southeast Asian policies.

The session is another step in the President's campaign to win acceptance for the whole spectrum of his foreign policy, particularly his plan for gradual disengagement from Vietnam.

It is expected to be a preview of the hour-long, nationally televised interview Wednesday night on U.S. global involvements.

The editors, publishers and broadcast executives, representing a cross-section of the nation's news media, will lunch with the President at the poolside of his bluff-top home overlooking the Pacific and attend about three hours of background briefings by State Department experts and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser.

Elated by what he termed the warmest reception of his presidency during a speech to the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce convention in St. Louis, Nixon announced plans for the televised foreign policy discussion on his arrival here for a long stay at the Western White House. He will return to Washington Monday, July 6.

The program, titled "A Conversation on Foreign Policy with the President," will be broadcast live from Nixon's Spanish-style vacation home at 10 p.m. EDT. The president will be interviewed by three newsmen, Howard K. Smith of ABC, John Chancellor of NBC and Eric Severeid of CBS, on all aspects of foreign policy from Vietnam to the Middle East.

It will follow by one day his report to the nation on the conclusion of the controversial U.S. thrusts into Communist sanctuaries inside Cambodia.

The Tuesday report will be in written form and will coincide with the June 30 deadline for the withdrawal of all American ground troops from Cambodia..

Mrs. Nixon leaves Sunday for a three-day trip to Peru to carry supplies to survivors of the tragic earthquakes there and to demonstrate U.S. concern for those left stricken and homeless.

The President will meet Monday with Secretary of State William P. Rogers, who is leaving for meetings in Asia with America's Vietnam allies and a trip to London to meet with Britain's newly elected conservative leaders.

Nixon also said Thursday:

—He has no plans to campaign for Republican candidates this fall. He believes the best thing he can do for the party is to make as good a record as possible in Washington on international and national issues.

—He never comments on what the Senate says or what individual candidates say. He made the remark when asked to comment on Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield's attack on his economic policy.

—He believes members of the senate should get outside Washington "and see what the country is thinking. We read newspapers, look at television, talk to each other. There is sort of intellectual incest which really reduces the level of dialogues . . ."

Unruh Son Freed In Marijuana Case

COMPTON, Calif. (UPI) — Marijuana possession charges against Randall Brook Unruh, 18, son of Jess Unruh, Democratic candidate for governor, have been dismissed because of insufficient evidence.

Deputy District Attorney Marin Kaye said Thursday the alleged marijuana seized may have belonged to one of the two juveniles with Unruh at the time of his arrest last Saturday.

SEEKS SUPPORT

Nixon To Seek Top Newsmen

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — President Nixon today was to host about 50 top news executives in an attempt to solicit support for his Southeast Asian policies.

The session is another step in the President's campaign to win acceptance for the whole spectrum of his foreign policy, particularly his plan for gradual disengagement from Vietnam.

It is expected to be a preview of the hour-long, nationally televised interview Wednesday night on U.S. global involvements.

The editors, publishers and broadcast executives, representing a cross-section of the nation's news media, will lunch with the President at the poolside of his bluff-top home overlooking the Pacific and attend about three hours of background briefings by State Department experts and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser.

Elated by what he termed the warmest reception of his presidency during a speech to the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce convention in St. Louis, Nixon announced plans for the televised foreign policy discussion on his arrival here for a long stay at the Western White House. He will return to Washington Monday, July 6.

The program, titled "A Conversation on Foreign Policy with the President," will be broadcast live from Nixon's Spanish-style vacation home at 10 p.m. EDT. The president will be interviewed by three newsmen, Howard K. Smith of ABC, John Chancellor of NBC and Eric Severeid of CBS, on all aspects of foreign policy from Vietnam to the Middle East.

It will follow by one day his report to the nation on the conclusion of the controversial U.S. thrusts into Communist sanctuaries inside Cambodia.

The Tuesday report will be in written form and will coincide with the June 30 deadline for the withdrawal of all American ground troops from Cambodia..

Mrs. Nixon leaves Sunday for a three-day trip to Peru to carry supplies to survivors of the tragic earthquakes there and to demonstrate U.S. concern for those left stricken and homeless.

The President will meet Monday with Secretary of State William P. Rogers, who is leaving for meetings in Asia with America's Vietnam allies and a trip to London to meet with Britain's newly elected conservative leaders.

Nixon also said Thursday:

—He has no plans to campaign for Republican candidates this fall. He believes the best thing he can do for the party is to make as good a record as possible in Washington on international and national issues.

—He never comments on what the Senate says or what individual candidates say. He made the remark when asked to comment on Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield's attack on his economic policy.

—He believes members of the senate should get outside Washington "and see what the country is thinking. We read newspapers, look at television, talk to each other. There is sort of intellectual incest which really reduces the level of dialogues . . ."

Unruh Son Freed In Marijuana Case

COMPTON, Calif. (UPI) — Marijuana possession charges against Randall Brook Unruh, 18, son of Jess Unruh, Democratic candidate for governor, have been dismissed because of insufficient evidence.

Deputy District Attorney Marin Kaye said Thursday the alleged marijuana seized may have belonged to one of the two juveniles with Unruh at the time of his arrest last Saturday.

'Air' Scouts Check Park For Indians

But the capricious Indians apparently kept their war party well hidden among the pine forests of the big recreation area.

"We made some good sweeps of the area, but we didn't see one single Indian," Park Superintendent Richard Boyer said.

He added, however, that there were Indians in the park but he did not know how many. The redskins, he said, "come and go in small numbers."

The fly-overs were used to try to pinpoint any large gathering of Indians who were violating park regulations, Boyer said.

Early Monday 22 Indians were arrested in a pre-dawn raid for violating campfire regulations after they entered the park in small numbers. They had built a big bonfire in the middle of a meadow.

It was their second attempt at reclaiming the park which they said was taken from them illegally during the Gold Rush days. On June 5 a line of rifle-carrying rangers and U.S. marshals blocked the park entrance when they showed up in a caravan of 40 cars.

After the futile attempt the Indians traveled to Big Bend where they set up a camp at a Pacific Gas & Electric Co. site. The occupation there ended with the arrest of 49 of them.

Couple Charged With Growing, Possessing Pot

A young San Anselmo couple arrested last Friday was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on marijuana charges.

Ernest Lewin, 23, and his wife, Kathleen Marie, 22, were charged with possessing, cultivating and being under the influence of marijuana and he was accused of possessing a device for smoking it.

The Lewins were arrested after a drug agent observed Mrs. Lewin in a car apparently smoking a pot cigarette. A search of their car and their house at 18 Scenic Drive produced a marijuana cigarette and small pot plants.

WATCHDOG POWERS

Super Bay Agency To Assembly Floor

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill to stretch a powerful "umbrella" regional government agency over nine counties of the San Francisco Bay Area reached the floor of the Assembly today.

The measure, subject to voter approval, would create an agency which would have no operating powers of its own but would be empowered to prohibit local entities from violating an areawide conservation and development plan.

The Assembly Local Government Committee endorsed the bill by chairman John Knox, D-Richmond, on a voice vote Thursday. Similar legislation has been proposed at previous sessions but never passed.

Subject to voter approval next June, the agency would be charged with developing a regional plan with provisions to assure protection of the bay; regulation of waste discharges into the water and air; integration of transportation, and development of regional parks and open space.

The agency would be financed by a combination gross receipts tax on area businesses and a maximum 1 per cent surtax on the state income tax paid by residents of the region.

"This is an effort to move away from the property tax as a source of support," Knox said.

The agency's governing board would include 20 elected members from city councils and boards of supervisors while the others would be citizens selected by the voters.

But the board's proposed composition drew fire from the League of California Cities and California County Supervirsors Association.

"If there is to be a regional type agency then it should be composed entirely of elected officials of city government or county government," said Richard Carpenter, representing the league.

Knox said the membership represented an attempt at compromise and "compromise means all sides are unhappy."

Carpenter said he agreed to the need for "some type of umbrella agency" but urged deletion from the bill a provision which authorized the agency to develop a comprehensive plan for a local city or county if the entity failed to do so. Knox agreed to the change.

The bill drew support from the San Francisco Bay Area Council, the League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women. Representatives of the two women's groups urged against submitting the proposal to the voters for ratification.

The regional government agency would include the counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, Napa, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Solano and Sonoma.

Academic Status For Physical Education Majors

Sonoma State College's physical education major has become the first of the 19 state colleges to receive academic status.

According to Dr. G. Edward Rudloff, chairman of health sciences and physical education, Sonoma State joins the University of Southern California, and the Universities of California at Berkeley, Los Angeles and Davis in accreditation of the program.

The academic status was granted by a statewide accreditation team on the basis of specific courses and course content. Physical education majors at Sonoma State will now be eligible for administrative and supervisory credentials.

Firemen Reject Alioto Plan To Cut Hours

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The threat of a firemen's strike here increased Thursday when the Firemen's Union rejected a proposal to settle a dispute over scheduling.

The executive board of the union turned down the suggestion by Mayor Joseph Alioto for reducing their work week by eliminating four fire units and distributing the manpower.

'Air' Scouts Check Park For Indians

But the capricious Indians apparently kept their war party well hidden among the pine forests of the big recreation area.

"We made some good sweeps of the area, but we didn't see one single Indian," Park Superintendent Richard Boyer said.

He added, however, that there were Indians in the park but he did not know how many. The redskins, he said, "come and go in small numbers."

The fly-overs were used to try to pinpoint any large gathering of Indians who were violating park regulations, Boyer said.

Early Monday 22 Indians were arrested in a pre-dawn raid for violating campfire regulations after they entered the park in small numbers. They had built a big bonfire in the middle of a meadow.

It was their second attempt at reclaiming the park which they said was taken from them illegally during the Gold Rush days. On June 5 a line of rifle-carrying rangers and U.S. marshals blocked the park entrance when they showed up in a caravan of 40 cars.

After the futile attempt the Indians traveled to Big Bend where they set up a camp at a Pacific Gas & Electric Co. site. The occupation there ended with the arrest of 49 of them.

Couple Charged With Growing, Possessing Pot

A young San Anselmo couple arrested last Friday was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on marijuana charges.

Ernest Lewin, 23, and his wife, Kathleen Marie, 22, were charged with possessing, cultivating and being under the influence of marijuana and he was accused of possessing a device for smoking it.

The Lewins were arrested after a drug agent observed Mrs. Lewin in a car apparently smoking a pot cigarette. A search of their car and their house at 18 Scenic Drive produced a marijuana cigarette and small pot plants.

Hub Rotarians Set New Slate

Other new officers seated were David J. Dorward, vice president; and directors George H. Merryman Jr., Ralph J. Fortune, William K. McClellan, Gene W. Burris, Charles La Voy and Rattenbury.

WATCHDOG POWERS

Super Bay Agency To Assembly Floor

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill to stretch a powerful "umbrella" regional government agency over nine counties of the San Francisco Bay Area reached the floor of the Assembly today.

The measure, subject to voter approval, would create an agency which would have no operating powers of its own but would be empowered to prohibit local entities from violating an areawide conservation and development plan.

The Assembly Local Government Committee endorsed the bill by chairman John Knox, D-Richmond, on a voice vote Thursday. Similar legislation has been proposed at previous sessions but never passed.

Subject to voter approval next June, the agency would be charged with developing a regional plan with provisions to assure protection of the bay; regulation of waste discharges into the water and air; integration of transportation, and development of regional parks and open space.

The agency would be financed by a combination gross receipts tax on area businesses and a maximum 1 per cent surtax on the state income tax paid by residents of the region.

"This is an effort to move away from the property tax as a source of support," Knox said.

The agency's governing board would include 20 elected members from city councils and boards ot supervisors while the others would be citizens selected by the voters.

But the board's proposed composition drew fire from the League of California Cities and California County Supervirsors Association.

"If there is to be a regional type agency then it should be composed entirely of elected officials of city government or county government," said Richard Carpenter, representing the league.

Knox said the membership represented an attempt at compromise and "compromise means all sides are unhappy."

Carpenter said he agreed to the need for "some type of umbrella agency" but urged deletion from the bill a provision which authorized the agency to develop a comprehensive plan for a local city or county if the entity failed to do so. Knox agreed to the change.

The bill drew support from the San Francisco Bay Area Council, the League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women. Representatives of the two women's groups urged against submitting the proposal to the voters for ratification.

The regional government agency would include the counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, Napa, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Solano and Sonoma.

Academic Status For Physical Education Majors

Sonoma State College's physical education major has become the first of the 19 state colleges to receive academic status.

According to Dr. G. Edward Rudloff, chairman of health sciences and physical education, Sonoma State joins the University of Southern California, and the Universities of California at Berkeley, Los Angeles and Davis in accreditation of the program.

The academic status was granted by a statewide accreditation team on the basis of specific courses and course content. Physical education majors at Sonoma State will now be eligible for administrative and supervisory credentials.

Firemen Reject Alioto Plan To Cut Hours

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The threat of a firemen's strike here increased Thursday when the Firemen's Union rejected a proposal to settle a dispute over scheduling.

The executive board of the union turned down the suggestion by Mayor Joseph Alioto for reducing their work week by eliminating four fire units and distributing the manpower.

Widows Be Wary Of Shady Deals

By LUIS KUTNER

It is hard to believe that there are men and women base enough to scan the obituary columns to gain prospects for dishonest operations. But such is the case.

From plastic-coated newspaper death notices to orders for oil paintings said to have been ordered as a "surprise for the wife," these offerings, with bills attached, come to a recently bereaved widow. At a time when she may be least on guard, she has most need to be wary.

The portrait racket is worked this way. The painting is a copy of a photograph. It is sent or delivered as a gift from the husband, supposedly a surprise. The wife is expected to pay for her husband's thoughtfulness.

Other rackets are charged purchases which were never ordered. Sometimes in signing a receipt for them, a woman finds that she has signed a contract for further purchases.

No one is obligated to pay for any of these gifts. If there is any trouble with the senders, they should be reported to the Better Business Bureau or the police.

The widow who is a home owner is the target of a whole family of swindlers.

For example, there is the furnace inspection racket. The furnace is examined, taken apart, and found to be "defective." The owner may be charged a heavy fee to have the work finished. One client was told that her furnace had to be replaced at a cost of $950. Se wisely called a repair man who welded the leaking part at a cost of $75, and who told her the furnace otherwise was perfect.

ANOTHER RACKET is to offer to paint a house or do other remodeling "without cost" as an advertisement. The cost in the end may be exorbitant and resulf in a mechanic's lien on the home, which will prevent its sale until paid.

We know of a client whose home needed repairs. She arranged to borrow money to pay for them and brought the contract for the loan to me. It should have been obvious that she was to get only one third of the money she was agreeing to repay, that there was no contract for the work so we could determine whether the money she would receive would pay for it, and—worst of all — she was to give the lender a deed to the home at once and the money was not to be put in escrow.

When she refused to sign the contract, she was upbraided by the prospective lender. Later she obtained a legitimate loan with legal and equitable protection based upon a proper contract. This house was the only asset she had, but she paid off the loan and later sold the property advantageously.

A popular variation on the inspection swindle is the termite racket. An "exterminator" passing through the area will inspect a house for termites. Often he will even display termites in a jar which were "found" somewhere in the house, as proof that an "expert" control job, including a costly spraying, is needed.

ANOTHER PSEUDO-INSPECTION gyp is the fake roofer. Again, he may show the owner of the house a handful of loose shingles to prove how desperately his always expensive services are needed and how little time the owner has to look around for another estimate.

Tree surgery, chimney repair, gutter cleaning, and driveway resurfacing are other favorite swindles to be on guard against. The National Better Business Bureau suggests the following basic precautions:

1. Be suspicious of anyone who comes to the door and offers to do a quick job at bargain rates.
2. Insist the offer be in writing and clearly outline what the work covers.
3. Demand local references. The swindler usually keeps moving and cannot produce anyone reliable in the neighborhood to vouch for him.
4. Check with the nearest Better Business Bureau before committing yourself.
5. Do not sign anything until your lawyer approves it.
6. Do not pay for the work until it is complete and you have inspected it.

A widow may also receive solicitations for memorial funds for various charities in the name of her late husband. Sometimes these are reinforced by the statement that the husband had made a promise to contribute. The fact that these requests are made at this time is one reason to suspect their good faith.

ANYONE WHO contributes to charity should make sure the contribution goes to aid the needy, not to swell some fund that pays 93 cents on every dollar for the fund-raising organization with only seven cents going to the charity.

If the husband had a wide circle of friends and business acquaintances, some individual may approach the widow with the statement that he had once lent money to the husband and now needs to be repaid. Sometimes he appears uninformed of this "friend's" death.

Such requests can be very disturbing and even frightening. Certainly it is essential to do a little investigating. The widow should demand proof of the indebtedness, whether the acquaintance making the

MRS. ROBERT SANDUSKY

MAYOR'S WIFE

She Recalls Mill Valley As A 'Fun Town To Grow Up In'

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Carolyne Wickham, wife of Mill Valley's new mayor, George Wickham, is a native of Mill Valley and has a family background that goes back many years in the history of the city.

Her mother, Mrs. James B. Phelps of Mill Valley, is the former Carolyne Weissich, one of twin girls in the Weissich family, Mill Valley residents for 60 years. She and her twin sister Marie, Mrs. F. S. Seitz of Greenbrae, played a leading role in the affairs of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley, Mrs. Seitz as a past president and Mrs. Phelps as past vice president.

Carolyne's late father, James B. Phelps, a food broker in San Francisco, was born in a longtime family home on Water Street, now Bridgeway, in Sausalito. His father, Charles Phelps, drove a stage coach out of San Quentin and went on to a career in railroading from steam to skunk trains and finally as conductor on the Northwestern Pacific commuter trains in Marin.

CAROLYNE'S GREAT grandfather, Edward H. Shoemaker, was superintendent of the North Pacific Coast line.

The mayor himself, originally from Omaha, Neb., came to Mill Valley early, and he and Carolyne both were graduated from Tamalpais High School. She went on to attend the College of Marin, while he began studies in engineering at the University of California.

They were married in 1944 in the Mill Valley Community Church after he received his commission in the U. S. Navy Air Force during World War II.

While her husband was in the service Carolyne worked for a year in the IBM department of the Bank of California in San Francisco and then did various kinds of volunteer work until he returned home and resumed his education at U.C.

After receiving a degree in civil engineering, he was employed for 12 years with the Utah Construction Co. in a position which involved traveling. Mayor Wickham is now a partner in the consulting engineering firm of Jacobs Associates in San Francisco.

THE WICKHAMS have three children, Mrs. Reed Witt of Larkspur (Stephanie); George Wickham Jr., 21, recently graduated from the College of Marin; and Jim, 12, a student at Edna Maguire School. The two older children are the third generation of the family to be graduated from Tamalpais High School.

Carolyne, who is a member of the Mill Valley Guild of Sunny Hills, the Mill Valley Tennis Club and Outdoor Art Club, says she enjoys family activities more than anything else. She likes flower arranging, plays tennis, and at present her son Jim is teaching her to sail.

Carolyne remembers Mill Valley as "a fun town to grow up in. It was just a country town, and we had great school spirit. We didn't have the problems the kids have now.

"What bothers me," she says, "is how people come to Mill Valley because of its beauty, which is unique, and then want to start changing it."

She feels that though it might be more exciting to work, it is important for a mother to be at home with children.

"I KNOW A lot of women have to go to work," she says, "but I think many mothers go to work too soon. I found that my children needed me more than ever when they were teen-agers. We have had parties with as many as 150 kids at our house, and everything went smoothly. There are adults present," she admits.

As for home life being affected by her husband's having been a councilman and now mayor, Carolyne says, "He spends a terrific amount of time on city affairs, and there are a lot of calls from many people, but I think they should call. That is what you are elected for, and you have to be prepared for this. Most councilmen like to know how people feel."

Carolyne has been active in state and national politics. She was co-chairman of the Reagan campaign headquarters in Mill Valley for Southern Marin and the Nixon-Agnew headquarters in Mill Valley for Southern Marin.

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Carolyne Wickham, wife of Mill Valley's new mayor, George Wickham, is a native of Mill Valley and has a family background that goes back many years in the history of the city.

Her mother, Mrs. James B. Phelps of Mill Valley, is the former Carolyne Weissich, one of twin girls in the Weissich family, Mill Valley residents for 60 years. She and her twin sister Marie, Mrs. F. S. Seitz of Greenbrae, played a leading role in the affairs of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley, Mrs. Seitz as a past president and Mrs. Phelps as past vice president.

Carolyne's late father, James B. Phelps, a food broker in San Francisco, was born in a longtime family home on Water Street, now Bridgeway, in Sausalito. His father, Charles Phelps, drove a stage coach out of San Quentin and went on to a career in railroading from steam to skunk trains and finally as conductor on the Northwestern Pacific commuter trains in Marin.

CAROLYNE'S GREAT grandfather, Edward H. Shoemaker, was superintendent of the North Pacific Coast line.

The mayor himself, originally from Omaha, Neb., came to Mill Valley early, and he and Carolyne both were graduated from Tamalpais High School. She went on to attend the College of Marin, while he began studies in engineering at the University of California.

They were married in 1944 in the Mill Valley Community Church after he received his commission in the U. S. Navy Air Force during World War II.

While her husband was in the service Carolyne worked for a year in the IBM department of the Bank of California in San Francisco and then did various kinds of volunteer work until he returned home and resumed his education at U.C.

After receiving a degree in civil engineering, he was employed for 12 years with the Utah Construction Co. in a position which involved traveling. Mayor Wickham is now a partner in the consulting engineering firm of Jacobs Associates in San Francisco.

THE WICKHAMS have three children, Mrs. Reed Witt of Larkspur (Stephanie); George Wickham Jr., 21, recently graduated from the College of Marin; and Jim, 12, a student at Edna Maguire School. The two older children are the third generation of the family to be graduated from Tamalpais High School.

Carolyne, who is a member of the Mill Valley Guild of Sunny Hills, the Mill Valley Tennis Club and Outdoor Art Club, says she enjoys family activities more than anything else. She likes flower arranging, plays tennis, and at present her son Jim is teaching her to sail.

Carolyne remembers Mill Valley as "a fun town to grow up in. It was just a country town, and we had great school spirit. We didn't have the problems the kids have now.

"What bothers me," she says, "is how people come to Mill Valley because of its beauty, which is unique, and then want to start changing it."

She feels that though it might be more exciting to work, it is important for a mother to be at home with children.

"I KNOW A lot of women have to go to work," she says, "but I think many mothers go to work too soon. I found that my children needed me more than ever when they were teen-agers. We have had parties with as many as 150 kids at our house, and everything went smoothly. There are adults present," she admits.

As for home life being affected by her husband's having been a councilman and now mayor, Carolyne says, "He spends a terrific amount of time on city affairs, and there are a lot of calls from many people, but I think they should call. That is what you are elected for, and you have to be prepared for this. Most councilmen like to know how people feel."

Carolyne has been active in state and national politics. She was co-chairman of the Reagan campaign headquarters in Mill Valley for Southern Marin and the Nixon-Agnew headquarters in Mill Valley for Southern Marin.

Consequences Of Drinking And Driving Can Happen To Anyone

ON BEING BLACK

Junkin' Is Chic Now But Necessary Then

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

Recently I observed some young people shopping in a local secondhand clothing store. As is chic today, they were junkin' to dress themselves as unlike the Establishment as possible.

I was amused and reminded of the days when a close girlfriend and I junked, as a means of being like the Establishment. Being the only black and chicano (they didn't use those titles then) in a white upper-middle-class school, we needed nothing further to make us "unlike" our classmates.

We used to stop downtown after school, armed with baby-sitting money, and make our way to L Street. Of course, there was no chance of meeting any of our classmates on that street, thus revealing our wardrobe source. In fact, everything about L Street was secondhand — the buildings, once ornate and stately, were now deteriorated and converted into various accommodations. The wino sleeping in a doorway with yellow-gray hair bore vague signs of having been very handsome in days gone by. But without a doubt L Street housed the best junk stores in the city.

So we spent hours rummaging through the racks and stacks of items, much of which was exactly what the store title implied — junk. But we were experienced "junkers" (even knew which days the new goods were brought in) and ultimately came up with a winner — something of quality and very wearable.

With our great finds in hand, we'd hurry home to wash our goodies so as to have something new to wear to school the next day. Then we didn't have automatic washers and dryers, so we washed those 25-cent skirts and 15-cent sweaters by hand and hung them over the radiator — hoping they would be dry by morning. (I wore damp clothing on more than one occasion.)

Speaking of washing, we used to buy those size 48 knit suits and when we washed them they shrunk down to perfect size 7s.

We wore secondhand clothing because we didn't have the money to buy new, expensive clothing and wanted to go to school nicely dressed. Though sometimes frustrating, those junkin' days were surely some of our most creative days. Ironically, we were considered well-dressed by our classmates.

Well, times have changed, and it is Middle America's young who haunt the junk-store scene now. They junk as an "out" — we junked as an "in."

Because of their numbers and their available cash, they have caused a radical change in the arena of junkin'. Junk-store proprietors now charge uptown prices for downtown goods, since the downtown-look is "in" and uptown is "out."

I've discovered through a process of evolution that for some people there is something psychologically therapeutic about junkin' — over and above the need for clothing. Perhaps it's that great "find" or getting something for virtually nothing or getting a nothing.

Some widows, in their loneliness and desire for companionship, have been victimized by "lonely hearts" clubs. There are also fake schools of one sort or another. Dance studios which have persuaded women of 70 or 80 years to sign for expensive courses of instruction have been exposed recently.

Don't sign anything before showing it to your lawyer. It is sounder to pay legal fees before you sign, than to lose money and then pay such fees to be extricated from a costly trap.

Rasmusen's Waning But Good Years

By MARY LOU STRIBLING

Henry Rasmusen was an accomplished artist in many media, but during the last years of his life, his creative energy was focused primarily upon monopainting. Some of the fruits of his long involvement in this unique field are being displayed through July 8 in the foyer of the planning commission's hearing room at the Marin Civic Center.

Monopainting combines techniques for printmaking with those of traditional painting. Paint is applied first to a wood, cardboard, or glass sheet, which serves as a printing block, and is then transferred by pressure to a permanent surface. This produces textures and spontaneous patterns which could not be duplicated by direct brushwork. Frequently, the tracery of pigments has a vitality which appears to generate from the paint itself, rather than the hand of the artist.

LAYER PAINTING

Although the process leads to endless discoveries, it by no means depends upon "happy accidents." Rasmusen often built up his compositions by superimposing a number of separate prints layer upon layer, adding or subtracting various elements as he went along. Distinctive imprints sometimes originated from plant forms, crumpled papers, and found objects, which were glued to his printing blocks, or from paint-saturated strings and silk threads which were sandwiched between papers, then withdrawn to leave rippling veils of color.

These devices can be identified by closely examining some of the paintings on display, but they are of purely academic interest and fade in significance beside the emotional quality and sensuous beauty of the end results.

Hundreds of eyes seem to peer out from "Dark Dreams," contributing to an illusion of formless, nightmare fantasies. In "Trail of the Dragon," a two-sectioned composition, trickles of scarlet bleed into the surrounding cellular patterns, evoking a fascinating but repelling association with viscera under the pitiless scrutiny of an autopsy.

But there are happier works, and although the show is not arranged chronologically, one has the feeling that the artist moved gradually toward increasing luminosity.

ONE OF LAST

"Golden Fleece," is one of his last accomplishments. Its title is perhaps symbolic, for like the legendary Jason, Rasmusen's life was a continuing search — a search for professional excellence, and for personal clues to the mystic relationship of man to the universe.

The painting is a glowing affirmation of his impressive artistic stature. And its radiant spirit suggests that his profound curiosity had finally led to answers which endowed him with a rare tranquility.

A core of forest soil measuring two by three inches can contain 500 to 600 tiny insects, 100 billion bacteria, and tens of millions of fungal cells.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Silhouettes' Funny But May Upset You

By KAY KSANDA

SAN FRANCISCO — "Silhouettes" is very, very funny but if you can't stand dirty jokes and homosexuals at play make you shudder, it's not for you.

First produced in Washington, D.C., in 1968, where the author Ted Harris won a critics award for the best playwright of the year, "Silhouettes" is like a weird encounter group; a pathetic fivesome trying not to tear each other to pieces, clinging together by humor, memories and compassion.

It's a rather dreary set. Staged in the round, the scene is a New York flat rented by a good-natured and aging female "Tom Jones" who works at a restaurant around the corner on Second Avenue. The focal point is a frumpy flowered bed.

Ann is in it, and not alone. As she rises from her bed, she engages her audience immediately by identifying it as her ever-watching neighbors. She loves them, entertains them, and kids them as she pads about in her bare feet and nightgown, slapping the cockroaches on the sink and extricating a cold chicken leg for breakfast.

Scandalized by Ann's appearance and actions, Gloria, the young woman who shares Ann's flat, rushes to cover her with a tattered robe. Berating her behavior and the presence in the bed of Ann's lover she wails. . ."He's been lying there naked ever since he got here three months ago."

And there, under the covers, Chuck stays throughout the play. He is played by Ron Tanguay of Sausalito.

The very young, jealous Gloria builds a bitter battle for the motherly affection they all seek from Ann as the prize ring on this merry-go-round.

And then the plot:

When the party is in full swing with Ann, Georgie and Randie dancing with streamers, skirts and hairspray; you are apprehensive that the police just might bust the bash.

The place is Jacksons Penthouse Theater, Bay and Powell, San Francisco, with performances Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. through July.

Mill Valley Council To Discuss Pay Requests

The Mill Valley City Council will discuss employee salary requests when it holds its fourth session on the 1970-71 budget Monday at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Proposed cutbacks in the parks and recreation department budget also will be considered.

Alto-Sutton Manor District Elects Slate

John A. Walters has been elected temporary chairman of the newly formed Alto-Sutton Manor District Association. Other officers are Joanne Kiewert, secretary, and Sara S. Ruffner, publicity chairman.

The group will hold an organizational meeting and elect directors Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Alto fire station.

2,400 Homes Without Electricity For Hour

Electricity was cut off to 2,400 homes on the west side of Petaluma last night when a utility pole burned on the Petaluma-Valley Ford Road.

Service was cut off at 10:37 p.m., but was restored to most areas an hour later. The cause of the fire was not known.

The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and from Parents' Magazine, unless otherwise noted. FAMILY

"Viva Max" — A bumbling Mexican general in a desperate attempt to impress a beautiful senorita tries to retake the Alamo with unexpected results. A gem of impudent but gentle humor.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Anne of the 1000 Days" — Magnificently staged and cast, this historical drama of lust and political intrigue encompasses the courtship, marriage, trial and beheading of Anne Boleyn.

"Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid"—Deft comedy about two charming outlaws that outlive their time. Sparking western with delightful scenery, witty script and memorable performances.

"Norwood" — Ex-Marine in search of a job has adventures and misadventures as he innocently chauffeurs stolen cars. Some incidents, salty dialogue are in poor taste.

"Paint Your Wagon" — A lusty, irreverent script is framework for musical set in a mining camp during Gold Rush days. Elaborately mounted broad comedy, raucous and at times tasteless, therefore not suitable for young children.

"Reivers" — A week-end adventure when an 11 year-old boy loses his childhood innocence and discovers the waywardness of men. Story has good human values, it is regrettable that the action in a brothel makes film unsuitable for younger audiences.

"True Grit" — When a young girl's father has been killed, she convinces a federal marshal to track down the murderer. Humor and suspense mingle effectively. Violence is an integral part of story.

"Z" — A superior thriller and an explosive political statement based on true incident that occurred in Greece in 1963 before military takeover. A French film with English subtitles.

BORDERLINE

(Most Sources Say Adults Only)

"Man Called Horse" — An English aristocrat is captured by Sioux Indians. He survives their savage cruelty by sheer determination to prove his manhood by their standards. Violent and brutal tribal rites are accurately detailed adding dramatic intensity and realism, but viewer should be aware that many scenes are very gory. Dialogue is 80 per cent in old Sioux tongue making story difficult to follow at times.

"Woodstock" — Interesting documentary of last summer's famous rock festival. Nudity, obscene language, use of drugs and love making may keep from the audience those most interested in seeing it. Parental guidance advised.

ADULTS ONLY

"Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice" — An irreverent social satire, slick in its trimmings and has a sharp bite in its characters, dialogue and frank appraisal of modern marriage and morals.

"Boys In The Band" A searing, compassionate study of seven homosexuals who gather to celebrate a birthday. A "truth game" brings into the open the anguish and self loathing of these tormented souls. Shockingly frank sex talk.

"M-A-S-H" — Title stands for Mobile Army Surgical Hospital. Anti-war film deals with three surgeons. Scenes are gruesome as they are funny. Bittersweet element of truth in action and dialogue.

"Wild Bunch" — An outlaw gang pursued by an army of undisciplined bounty hunters fight their way through this story. It is the ultimate in raw, morbid, blood violence. The excellence of the acting and cast makes the film more potent. There is much nudity and cursing.

Strike Closes 2 More Breweries In Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Fewer beer trucks made deliveries in five Northern California counties today because of a Teamsters Union strike.

Rossi Distributing Co. and Coors Distributing Co., both of San Francisco, closed down operations Thursday because of the contract dispute that started June 1. That left two firms still operating in this city.

Driver-salesmen had been paid $169.63, plus 10 cents for each case delivered in excess of 1,250 during a 37 1-2 hour week.

Powell May Seek Seat As Independent

NEW YORK (UPI) —Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. said Thursday he will run for his Hariem seat in the House in November as an independent if he is declared the loser in the Democratic primary after a recount.

By KAY KSANDA

SAN FRANCISCO — "Silhouettes" is very, very funny but if you can't stand dirty jokes and homosexuals at play make you shudder, it's not for you.

First produced in Washington, D.C., in 1968, where the author Ted Harris won a critics award for the best playwright of the year, "Silhouettes" is like a weird encounter group; a pathetic fivesome trying not to tear each other to pieces, clinging together by humor, memories and compassion.

It's a rather dreary set. Staged in the round, the scene is a New York flat rented by a good-natured and aging female "Tom Jones" who works at a restaurant around the corner on Second Avenue. The focal point is a frumpy flowered bed.

Ann is in it, and not alone. As she rises from her bed, she engages her audience immediately by identifying it as her ever-watching neighbors. She loves them, entertains them, and kids them as she pads about in her bare feet and nightgown, slapping the cockroaches on the sink and extricating a cold chicken leg for breakfast.

Scandalized by Ann's appearance and actions, Gloria, the young woman who shares Ann's flat, rushes to cover her with a tattered robe. Berating her behavior and the presence in the bed of Ann's lover she wails. . ."He's been lying there naked ever since he got here three months ago."

And there, under the covers, Chuck stays throughout the play. He is played by Ron Tanguay of Sausalito.

The very young, jealous Gloria builds a bitter battle for the motherly affection they all seek from Ann as the prize ring on this merry-go-round.

And then the plot:

When the party is in full swing with Ann, Georgie and Randie dancing with streamers, skirts and hairspray; you are apprehensive that the police just might bust the bash.

The place is Jacksons Penthouse Theater, Bay and Powell, San Francisco, with performances Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. through July.

Mill Valley Council To Discuss Pay Requests

The Mill Valley City Council will discuss employee salary requests when it holds its fourth session on the 1970-71 budget Monday at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Proposed cutbacks in the parks and recreation department budget also will be considered.

Alto-Sutton Manor District Elects Slate

John A. Walters has been elected temporary chairman of the newly formed Alto-Sutton Manor District Association. Other officers are Joanne Kiewert, secretary, and Sara S. Ruffner, publicity chairman.

The group will hold an organizational meeting and elect directors Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Alto fire station.

2,400 Homes Without Electricity For Hour

Electricity was cut off to 2,400 homes on the west side of Petaluma last night when a utility pole burned on the Petaluma-Valley Ford Road.

Service was cut off at 10:37 p.m., but was restored to most areas an hour later. The cause of the fire was not known.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and from Parents' Magazine, unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Viva Max" — A bumbling Mexican general in a desperate attempt to impress a beautiful senorita tries to retake the Alamo with unexpected results. A gem of impudent but gentle humor.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Anne of the 1000 Days" — Magnificently staged and cast, this historical drama of lust and political intrigue encompasses the courtship, marriage, trial and beheading of Anne Boleyn.

"Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid"—Deft comedy about two charming outlaws that outlive their time. Sparking western with delightful scenery, witty script and memorable performances.

"Norwood" — Ex-Marine in search of a job has adventures and misadventures as he innocently chauffeurs stolen cars. Some incidents, salty dialogue are in poor taste.

"Paint Your Wagon" — A lusty, irreverent script is framework for musical set in a mining camp during Gold Rush days. Elaborately mounted broad comedy, raucous and at times tasteless, therefore not suitable for young children.

"Reivers" — A week-end adventure when an 11 year-old boy loses his childhood innocence and discovers the waywardness of men. Story has good human values, it is regrettable that the action in a brothel makes film unsuitable for younger audiences.

"True Grit" — When a young girl's father has been killed, she convinces a federal marshal to track down the murderer. Humor and suspense mingle effectively. Violence is an integral part of story.

"Z" — A superior thriller and an explosive political statement based on true incident that occurred in Greece in 1963 before military takeover. A French film with English subtitles.

BORDERLINE
(Most Sources Say Adults Only)

"Man Called Horse" — An English aristocrat is captured by Sioux Indians. He survives their savage cruelty by sheer determination to prove his manhood by their standards. Violent and brutal tribal rites are accurately detailed adding dramatic intensity and realism, but viewer should be aware that many scenes are very gory. Dialogue is 80 per cent in old Sioux tongue making story difficult to follow at times.

"Woodstock" — Interesting documentary of last summer's famous rock festival. Nudity, obscene language, use of drugs and love making may keep from the audience those most interested in seeing it. Parental guidance advised.

ADULTS ONLY

"Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice" — An irreverent social satire, slick in its trimmings and has a sharp bite in its characters, dialogue and frank appraisal of modern marriage and morals.

"Boys In The Band" A searing, compassionate study of seven homosexuals who gather to celebrate a birthday. A "truth game" brings into the open the anguish and self loathing of these tormented souls. Shockingly frank sex talk.

"M-A-S-H" — Title stands for Mobile Army Surgical Hospital. Anti-war film deals with three surgeons. Scenes are gruesome as they are funny. Bittersweet element of truth in action and dialogue.

"Wild Bunch" — An outlaw gang pursued by an army of undisciplined bounty hunters fight their way through this story. It is the ultimate in raw, morbid, blood violence. The excellence of the acting and cast makes the film more potent. There is much nudity and cursing.

Strike Closes 2 More Breweries In Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Fewer beer trucks made deliveries in five Northern California counties today because of a Teamsters Union strike.

Rossi Distributing Co. and Coors Distributing Co., both of San Francisco, closed down operations Thursday because of the contract dispute that started June 1. That left two firms still operating in this city.

Driver-salesmen had been paid $169.63, plus 10 cents for each case delivered in excess of 1,250 during a 37 1-2 hour week.

Powell May Seek Seat As Independent

NEW YORK (UPI) —Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. said Thursday he will run for his Harlem seat in the House in November as an independent if he is declared the loser in the Democratic primary after a recount.

Assault Brings Term In Prison

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court yesterday sentenced Ivory Weeks Jr., 37, of San Rafael, to state prison for assault with a deadly weapon.

A jury in March found Weeks guilty of stabbing a Marin City woman on Dec. 27, but sentencing had been delayed because Weeks underwent an appendectomy at San Quentin where he was taken from Marin County jail for emergency surgery.

Weeks, who was on parole for second-degree murder, had stabbed Pauline Moore, 32, with a hunting knife outside her home after earlier threatening her.

PG&E To Cut Price Of Gas On July 1

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Pacific Gas and Electric Company's gas customers will get a rate reduction beginning July 1.

The cut reflects a $1.9 million annual drop in PG&E's expenses. Most of it—$1.6 million—is a result of the end of the federal surcharge on income taxes. The remainder is a result of a cut in the wholesale price of gas the company buys from Pacific Gas Transmission Company.

Novato Youth Facing Pot Selling Charge

Mark Keith Hanna, 18, of Novato was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of selling marijuana to an undercover agent on June 6.

His case was referred to the probation department for possible transferral to juvenile court. He is to return to court July 9.

Savings Increase At S&L Firms

WASHINGTON (UPI0 — Net savings at savings and loan associations throughout the nation increased last month for the fourth consecutive month as deposits exceeded withdrawals by $707 million, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported today.

Savings and loan deposits are closely watched by the housing industry because the associations make the majority of the nation's conventional mortgage loans.

The government report showed S & L's increased their loans close to $1.53 billion last month, up from $1.36 billion in April. Commitments for future loans increased to $1.58 billion last month, up from $1.39 billion in April.

N.Y. Abortion Can Be Done In Office, Clinic

NEW YORK (UPI) — Abortions in New York City, legally effective in hospitals next Wednesday, will be permitted in doctors' offices and clinics under strict regulations, the city's Board of Health ruled Thursday.

The proposed regulations, an amendment to the most permissive abortion laws in the nation, cannot become law until 20 days after they are published in the City Record, which probably will be done Monday.

'Auld Lang Syne' For SS Lurline

There was hardly a dry eye among the 810 passengers and 400 crew members of the SS Lurline which docked at Pier 35 after completing a 20-day cruise to Hawaii.

The 26,000-ton flagship of the Matson Navigation Co. has plied the Pacific, Caribbean and South Atlantic for the past 38 years. A victim of soaring operating costs and diminishing passenger loads, she was sold to the Chandris Line of Greece and will be renamed "Britanis."

Booked Solid

Campsites at Samuel P. Taylor Park in Marin and Armstrong Redwoods State Reserve in Sonoma are booked solid for the July 4 weekend, the California Department of Parks and Recreation has announced.

Savings and loan deposits are closely watched by the housing industry because the associations make the majority of the nation's conventional mortgage loans.

The government report showed S & L's increased their loans close to $1.53 billion last month, up from $1.36 billion in April. Commitments for future loans increased to $1.58 billion last month, up from $1.39 billion in April.

N.Y. Abortion Can Be Done In Office, Clinic

NEW YORK (UPI) — Abortions in New York City, legally effective in hospitals next Wednesday, will be permitted in doctors' offices and clinics under strict regulations, the city's Board of Health ruled Thursday.

The proposed regulations, an amendment to the most permissive abortion laws in the nation, cannot become law until 20 days after they are published in the City Record, which probably will be done Monday.

'Auld Lang Syne' For SS Lurline

There was hardly a dry eye among the 810 passengers and 400 crew members of the SS Lurline which docked at Pier 35 after completing a 20-day cruise to Hawaii.

The 26,000-ton flagship of the Matson Navigation Co. has plied the Pacific, Caribbean and South Atlantic for the past 38 years. A victim of soaring operating costs and diminishing passenger loads, she was sold to the Chandris Line of Greece and will be renamed "Britanis."

THIEF BOLDY STEALS TIME FROM CITY

A bold thief apparently walked out of San Rafael City Hall between 4:10 and 5 p.m. yesterday with a one-by-two-foot $100 bronze and wood clock, Virginia H. Congdon of the city manager's office told police today.

The clock, donated to City Hall in May 1968 by the San Rafael Improvement Club, was hung in the lobby close to the front entrance.

An employee reported checking the time at 4:10 and the clock was missed at 5 p.m. closing time, but nobody reported seeing the clock — or a package the right size — carried out, she said.

Free Tour Set Of Span Bus, Rail Proposal

The Golden Gate Bridge District is sponsoring a free public bus tour from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. tomorrow which will survey the proposed rail and bus routes in the Golden Gate corridor, according to Tee Taggart of Okamoto-Liskaman, district planning consultants.

John Torrey of Okamoto-Liskaman will be leader of the tour. According to Torrey, the routes to be reached by bus and explored by foot include a proposed rail system beginning at Kearny Street in San Francisco, continuing over the second deck of the Golden Gate Bridge and then as far as Novato.

The second route to be examined will begin along Columbus Street in San Francisco and then along the same route in Marin.

The third, to be a combination of rail and bus, will be along the route of the first plus a bus line via the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge to the Richmond BART station.

Those who want to take the tour are asked by Torrey to be at the west parking lot of the Golden Gate Bridge Administration Building with lunches, writing material and comfortable shoes, according to Torrey.

All buses, beverages and information will be provided, he said.

NOVATO'S 'MR. TELEPHONE'

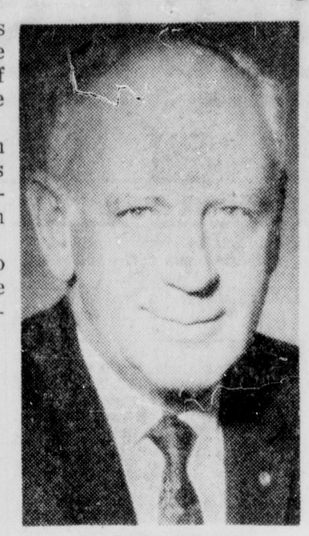
W. Ross Wright Ends 24-Year Career With Growing Company

W. Ross Wright, Novato's "Mr. Telephone," will retire Wednesday as vice president of Western California Telephone Co.

He started 24 years ago with what was then Novato Utilities Co., with 210 telephone customers. Novato now has more than 12,000 phones.

Wright was born 64 years ago in Chicago and grew up in the suburban community of Elmhurst, Ill.

He got in and out of the telephone business once before his long career in Novato. In 1927 he went to work for Illinois Bell Telephone Co. as an installer-repairman, but a few years later joined an import-export company which sent him to San Francisco to open a branch office.



W. ROSS WRIGHT
"Mr. Telephone" retiring

With outbreak of World War II, the company's business vanished, so Wright got a job at Mare Island Naval Shipyard, installing remote control batteries on cruisers.

"When the war ended, I could see that would not go on forever, so I went to work for Albert Cain, who owned the Novato Utilities Co.," Wright reminisced.

The company operated telephone, water and electric utilities in Novato. "Ray Patterson and I had to do everything with the telephone company," Wright related, often being called out during the night for emergencies.

Cain later sold the telephone exchange to Los Gatos Telephone Co. (which became Western California Telephone Co.) and Wright was named Novato exchange manager in 1959. He was advanced to district manager, responsible for Novato, Kenwood and McCloud exchanges, in 1968; and in May of last year he was made vice president and a member of the board of directors.

Besides his work with the telephone company, Wright has been prominent in Novato civic affairs. He has been a director of the Novato Chamber of Commerce, president of the Novato Rotary Club, and active in the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, Independent Telephone Pioneers Association, and Redwood Empire Association.

He married his high school sweetheart, Dorothy Oberman, 43 years ago. After he began work for the telephone exchange in Novato, they wanted "a place out in the country," so bought 1.3 acres at the end of Kendon Lane where they built their own house 19 years ago. "We love our house and have no intention of moving" on retirement, Wright said.

Their daughter, Sarah, is the wife of Ignacio Vella of Sonoma, a Sonoma County supervisor; their son, Bruce, lives near Grand Junction, Colo.

Gardening, fishing, reading, and visiting the grandchildren will take up his time in retirement, Wright said.

Strike Seen If Social, Probation Talks Fail

A walkout next Thursday by more than 160 Marin County social and probation workers loomed today, despite continuing negotiations.

Local 535 of the social workers union, which represents both groups in bargaining talks with county officials, is scheduled to seek strike sanction for some 90 probation employees Monday night from the Marin County Labor Council.

No formal sanction request has been made in behalf of more than 70 social workers.

Negotiations continued today in an effort to avert a threatened strike. Contracts with both groups expire at midnight Wednesday.

Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella said wages are the major issue in both cases, but he declined to divulge details. However, William Schutt, chairman of the social workers' negotiating team, said the group has asked for a 7.5 per cent hike, although indicating it would be willing to settle for 5 per cent if caseloads are reduced.

Campanella said the present pay range for probation workers is $781 to $1,200 monthly and $673 to $1,071 for social workers.

"I think we're closing on the economic issues," Campanella said, adding that talks were held with the social workers last night, with another session scheduled today, and that he was waiting to hear from probation spokesmen.

Meanwhile, progress has been reported slow toward a new contract with sheriff's deputies, county firemen and radio personnel in the communications department, all represented by the Marin County Employees Association.

That pact also expires Wednesday midnight, but it has an automatic 60-day extension clause.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows reported deputies are seeking a 17.5 per cent pay boost and the firemen a 10 per cent hike plus a 25 per cent reduction in duty hours.

Dissolution Asked By Wife Of Businessman

San Rafael real estate broker William A. Timmer, 50, was sued again yesterday in Marin Superior Court by his third wife, Louise S. Timmer, 44, who asked dissolution of their marriage.

Mrs. Timmer has gone to court four times previously asking twice for divorce and twice for separate maintenance, but the suits were dropped each time.

The couple was married in Las Vegas, Nev., on Oct. 20, 1962.

There is no child of the marriage.

Mrs. Timmer asked support for herself and division of community property which as described as "various substantial interest in personal and real property, the exact nature and extent of which are unknown at this time."

Generation Gap Discussions Set

A program to help the parent and teen-ager bridge the generation gap by teaching each to listen to and understand the content of what the other is saying will be offered by the Family Service Agency of Marin at 1005 A Street, San Rafael, beginning July 7.

Agency director Chester F. Villalba said the six sessions, to be held weekly on Tuesday nights from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., will be led by two family therapists.

Fairfax Planners Take Hands-Off Span Stand

The Fairfax Planning Commission took the position last night that concrete poured by the city to repair a bridge on Meadow Way over Meadow Way Creek is on private property so the city can't do anything about it, secretary Marie Whissell reported today.

Citizent had criticized the concrete pouring as unnecessary and badly done. The city council referred the issue to the planning commission.

The commission suggested that concerned citizens work with the owner to landscape the area, according to the secretary.

A proposed ordinance governing retaining walls in creeks was put off to the next regular meeting July 30, she said.

The Fairfax Planning Commission also:

PERMIT — Granted a conditional zoning permit to Ted Gates for a ladies shoe and dress shop at 42 Bolinas Road.

PREZONING — Set a public hearing July 30 to discuss a city council request to pre-zone land northwest of the city that Fairfax wants to annex.

ADJOURNED MEETING — Scheduled an adjourned meeting for July 23 to discuss the proposed new zoning ordinance.

Indian Still Near Death From Beating

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Richard Oakes, the Mohawk Indian who led the occupation of Alcatraz Island, remained in "critical" condition today and still in a coma two weeks after being hit in the head with a pool cue in a bar room brawl with a Samoan.

Doctors hold out very little hope for his recovery despite "religious" administrations earlier this week by tribal medicine men.

Oakes had resigned his position as a councilor on Alcatraz Island to become an advisor of the Pit River Indians in their efforts to reclaim their ancient lands in Northern California.

Police held Tommy Prichert, a Samoan, on charges of assault with intent to commit murder. The officers said the brawl had no relation to Oakes' other Indian activities, but may have resulted from animosities between the American Indians and the Samoans.

Oakes is the father of six children, one of whom died on Alcatraz Island in an accidental fall down a stairway.

Deputies Probe Dog Poisonings

Golden retrievers belonging to John S. Hoffmire, of 583 Virginia Drive, and Harriette M. Beardsley, of 4 Theresa Court, were poisoned last week.

Sgt. Angelo J. Mecchi of the Tiburon substation said deputies have no idea who is responsible. Local pharmacies have reported no recent sales of strychnine, he said.

$754 Loot Reported From Cabin Cruiser

Sailing equipment worth $745 was reported taken between June 14 and 18 from a cabin cruiser berthed in the Sausalito Yacht Harbor, Sausalito police said yesterday.

Owner Howard Feldman of Redwood City told police the stolen items include a sextant, marine cookstove, barometer, radio direction finder, compass, depth finder, fishing equipment and a rifle.

Car-Motorcycle Brush Hurts Rider

Gerard H. Anger, 22, of 95 Medway Road, Apt. 20, was treated for a sprained right leg at Marin General Hospital yesterday after his motorcycle collided at 7:49 p.m., according to police, with a car on Vivian Way south of Belvedere Street.

The car was driven by Charles H. Turner, of 22 Oakwood Avenue, San Anselmo, police reported.

Arraignment Today For 3 In Burglary Case

Three young men were to be arraigned today in Central Sonoma Municipal Court for the burglary of Ken Styles Truck and Auto Repair, 1080 Petaluma Boulevard North, Petaluma.

Booked into Sonoma County jail yesterday on suspicion of burglary were Paul Bernard Malarich, 19, of 7086 Gravenstein Highway South, Cotati; Stephen Douglas Tanneyhill, 24, of 285 Alden Avenue, Rohnert Park, and Thomas Elmer Davies, 22, of 2205 Goodwin Avenue, Petaluma.

Petaluma police and Sonoma County sheriff's deputies arrested the trio inside the repair garage at 3:15 a.m. after receiving an anonymous call about intruders in the building.

Youth Denies Three Cotati Drug Counts

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Mark David Icanberry, 27, of Oakland, has pleaded innocent in Central Sonoma Municipal Court to three drug offenses in Cotati.

Cotati Police Chief Anthony Locarini arrested Icanberry Monday on suspicion of possession and sale of marijuana and using a minor, a teen-age girl, to distribute the marijuana.

A preliminary hearing on the charges will be set at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Also arrested in the raid at 8299 Redwood Highway South, was James Horton Sanders Jr., 20, of 176 Adele Avenue, Rohnert Park. He was released on bail and scheduled for arraignment July 3 in Central Sonoma Municipal Court for possession and sale of marijuana.

Locarini said $400 worth of marijuana was confiscated at the home.

Ranch Picnic Sunday

A public picnic featuring steak and hamburger barbecue, will be held from noon to 5 p.m., Sunday at the Silviera Ranch on Highway 101 north of Novato, sponsored by the San Marin Improvement Association. There will be games for all ages and babysitting service will be provided, according to chairman Joan Burdet.

Two Women Hurt; Motorcyclist Escapes Scene

Two elderly women were taken to Marin General Hospital yesterday after they were stuck by a hit-and-run motorcyclist while crossing Meadow Drive in Santa Venetia.

Maysie E. Cox, 82, of 8 Meadow Drive, was treated for multiple scrapes. Bernice Barton, 81, of 845 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, refused treatment at the hospital and said she would see her own doctor for unspecified injuries.

The California Highway Patrol could not furnish a description of the driver of the motorcycle, who rode his machine north on Meadow Drive after striking the women at 11:55 a.m. The motorcycle was found abandoned on a nearby hill, the patrol said.

Marin City Sets Quiz On Needs For Housing

A questionaire to determine the number of median income housing units needed in Marin City was reviewed and approved for distribution by the Marin City Council last night.

Chairman Samuel L. Banks Jr. said the survey, which will be conducted in mid-July, is required if Marin City is to qualify for a 701 planning program loan.

"The basic issue is self-determination," Banks said. "The people of Marin City want to make sure their needs are known."

The questionnaire will give the council an idea of the demand for different types of housing in Marin City, and the desire of the people for ethnic balance in the community, Banks said.

The council also heard a report from a representative of the Golden Gate Bridge District on three proposals for rapid transit that now are under consideration.

All would use the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way from Sausalito to San Rafael. One plan calls for trains to cross the Golden Gate Bridge on a new lower deck, and the other two would require tubes to be constructed from San Francisco to Marin under the bay.

The council was assured that a terminal would be built in or near Marin City regardless of which plan is approved, Banks said.

A bold thief apparently walked out of San Rafael City Hall between 4:10 and 5 p.m. yesterday with a one-by-two-foot $100 bronze and wood clock, Virginia H. Congdon of the city manager's office told police today.

The clock, donated to City Hall in May 1968 by the San Rafael Improvement Club, was hung in the lobby close to the front entrance.

An employee reported checking the time at 4:10 and the clock was missed at 5 p.m. closing time, but nobody reported seeing the clock — or a package the right size — carried out, she said.

Free Tour Set Of Span Bus, Rail Proposal

The Golden Gate Bridge District is sponsoring a free public bus tour from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. tomorrow which will survey the proposed rail and bus routes in the Golden Gate corridor, according to Tee Taggart of Okamoto-Liskaman, district planning consultants.

John Torrey of Okamoto-Liskaman will be leader of the tour. According to Torrey, the routes to be reached by bus and explored by foot include a proposed rail system beginning at Kearny Street in San Francisco, continuing over the second deck of the Golden Gate Bridge and then as far as Novato.

The second route to be examined will begin along Columbus Street in San Francisco and then along the same route in Marin.

The third, to be a combination of rail and bus, will be along the route of the first plus a bus line via the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge to the Richmond BART station.

Those who want to take the tour are asked by Torrey to be at the west parking lot of the Golden Gate Bridge Administration Building with lunches, writing material and comfortable shoes, according to Torrey.

All buses, beverages and information will be provided, he said.

Arraignment Today For 3 In Burglary Case

Three young men were to be arraigned today in Central Sonoma Municipal Court for the burglary of Ken Styles Truck and Auto Repair, 1080 Petaluma Boulevard North, Petaluma.

Booked into Sonoma County jail yesterday on suspicion of burglary were Paul Bernard Malarich, 19, of 7086 Gravenstein Highway South, Cotati; Stephen Douglas Tanneyhill, 24, of 285 Alden Avenue, Rohnert Park, and Thomas Elmer Davies, 22, of 2205 Goodwin Avenue, Petaluma.

Petaluma police and Sonoma County sheriff's deputies arrested the trio inside the repair garage at 3:15 a.m. after receiving an anonymous call about intruders in the building.

Deputies Probe Dog Poisonings

Golden retrievers belonging to John S. Hoffmire, of 583 Virginia Drive, and Harriette M. Beardsley, of 4 Theresa Court, were poisoned last week.

Sgt. Angelo J. Mecchi of the Tiburon substation said deputies have no idea who is responsible. Local pharmacies have reported no recent sales of strychnine, he said.

NOVATO'S 'MR. TELEPHONE'

W. Ross Wright Ends 24-Year Career With Growing Company

W. Ross Wright, Novato's "Mr. Telephone," will retire Wednesday as vice president of Western California Telephone Co.

He started 24 years ago with what was then Novato Utilities Co., with 210 telephone customers. Novato now has more than 12,000 phones.

Wright was born 64 years ago in Chicago and grew up in the suburban community of Elmhurst, Ill.

He got in and out of the telephone business once before his long career in Novato. In 1927 he went to work for Illinois Bell Telephone Co. as an installer-repairman, but a few years later joined an import-export company which sent him to San Francisco to open a branch office.

W. ROSS WRIGHT
"Mr. Telephone" retiring

With outbreak of World War II, the company's business vanished, so Wright got a job at Mare Island Naval Shipyard, installing remote control batteries on cruisers.

"When the war ended, I could see that would not go on forever, so I went to work for Albert Cain, who owned the Novato Utilities Co.," Wright reminisced.

The company operated telephone, water and electric utilities in Novato. "Ray Patterson and I had to do everything with the telephone company," Wright related, often being called out during the night for emergencies.

Cain later sold the telephone exchange to Los Gatos Telephone Co. (which became Western California Telephone Co.) and Wright was named Novato exchange manager in 1959. He was advanced to district manager, responsible for Novato, Kenwood and McCloud exchanges, in 1968; and in May of last year he was made vice president and a member of the board of directors.

Besides his work with the telephone company, Wright has been prominent in Novato civic affairs. He has been a director of the Novato Chamber of Commerce, president of the Novato Rotary Club, and active in the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, Independent Telephone Pioneers Association, and Redwood Empire Association.

He married his high school sweetheart, Dorothy Oberman, 43 years ago. After he began work for the telephone exchange in Novato, they wanted "a place out in the country," so bought 1.3 acres at the end of Kendon Lane where they built their own house 19 years ago. "We love our house and have no intention of moving" on retirement, Wright said.

Their daughter, Sarah, is the wife of Ignacio Vella of Sonoma, a Sonoma County supervisor; their son, Bruce, lives near Grand Junction, Colo.

Gardening, fishing, reading, and visiting the grandchildren will take up his time in retirement, Wright said.

Youth Denies Three Cotati Drug Counts

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Mark David Icanberry, 27, of Oakland, has pleaded innocent in Central Sonoma Municipal Court to three drug offenses in Cotati.

Cotati Police Chief Anthony Locarini arrested Icanberry Monday on suspicion of possession and sale of marijuana and using a minor, a teen-age girl, to distribute the marijuana.

A preliminary hearing on the charges will be set at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Also arrested in the raid at 8299 Redwood Highway South, was James Horton Sanders Jr., 20, of 176 Adele Avenue, Rohnert Park. He was released on bail and scheduled for arraignment July 3 in Central Sonoma Municipal Court for possession and sale of marijuana.

Locarini said $400 worth of marijuana was confiscated at the home.

Ranch Picnic Sunday

A public picnic featuring steak and hamburger barbecue, will be held from noon to 5 p.m., Sunday at the Silviera Ranch on Highway 101 north of Novato, sponsored by the San Marin Improvement Association. There will be games for all ages and babysitting service will be provided, according to chairman Joan Burdet.

Two Women Hurt; Motorcyclist Escapes Scene

Two elderly women were taken to Marin General Hospital yesterday after they were stuck by a hit-and-run motorcyclist while crossing Meadow Drive in Santa Venetia.

Maysie E. Cox, 82, of 8 Meadow Drive, was treated for multiple scrapes. Bernice Barton, 81, of 845 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, refused treatment at the hospital and said she would see her own doctor for unspecified injuries.

The California Highway Patrol could not furnish a description of the driver of the motorcycle, who rode his machine north on Meadow Drive after striking the women at 11:55 a.m. The motorcycle was found abandoned on a nearby hill, the patrol said.

Marin City Sets Quiz On Needs For Housing

A questionaire to determine the number of median income housing units needed in Marin City was reviewed and approved for distribution by the Marin City Council last night.

Chairman Samuel L. Banks Jr. said the survey, which will be conducted in mid-July, is required if Marin City is to qualify for a 701 planning program loan.

"The basic issue is self-determination," Banks said. "The people of Marin City want to make sure their needs are known."

The questionnaire will give the council an idea of the demand for different types of housing in Marin City, and the desire of the people for ethnic balance in the community, Banks said.

The council also heard a report from a representative of the Golden Gate Bridge District on three proposals for rapid transit that now are under consideration.

All would use the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way from Sausalito to San Rafael. One plan calls for trains to cross the Golden Gate Bridge on a new lower deck, and the other two would require tubes to be constructed from San Francisco to Marin under the bay.

The council was assured that a terminal would be built in or near Marin City regardless of which plan is approved, Banks said.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 15th day of June, 1970, the SANITARY BOARD OF SANITARY DISTRICT NO. 2 OF MARIN COUNTY, a Subsidiary District of the Town of Corte Madera, California, adopted its Resolution of Intention No. 9-70 wherein it did declare that in its opinion the public interest and convenience required, and that it was the intention of said Board to order the following acquisitions and improvements in and for said District, to wit:

(a) The construction of sanitary sewer mains, manholes with standard frames and covers, lampholes and laterals, together with all appurtenances thereto;

(1) In Paradise Drive commencing in the intersection of Paradise Drive and Madsen Road (not a City street), then northwesterly approximately 920 feet, and in Paradise Drive commencing at said last mentioned intersection thence southerly approximately 1130 feet;

(2) In an easement to be acquired in Madsen Road (not a City street), commencing in its intersection with Paradise Drive, thence westerly approximately 1260 feet;

(3) In an easement to be acquired commencing in the intersection of Paradise Drive and Madsen Road (not a City street), thence northeasterly approximately 420 feet;

(4) In an easement to be acquired commencing in Paradise Drive from a point approximately 600 feet northwesterly from the intersection of Paradise Drive and Madsen Road (not a City street), thence westerly approximately 450 feet.

(b) The acquisition of rights of capacity and use in existing trunk and collector sewers, sewage pumping plants, treatment rights and other facilities of the Sanitary District.

(c) The doing of all work and acquisition of all lands and easements necessary and rights auxiliary to the above and/or necessary to complete the same.

All of said work and improvements are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and at the lines, grades and elevations shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications preliminarily approved therefor by the Board of said District and on file for public inspection in the office of the Secretary.

Notice is hereby given of the fact that in many cases said work and improvements will bring the finished surface of the ground to a grade different from the surface as it now exists, and that to said extent said grades will be changed and that said work will be done to said changed grades.

Said contemplated acquisitions and improvements, in the opinion of said Board, are of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and the costs and expenses thereof are made chargeable upon an assessment district, the exterior boundaries of which district are the composite and consolidated area as more particularly shown on a map thereof on file in the office of the Secretary, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars. Said map indicates by a boundary line the extent of the territory included in the proposed district and shall govern for all details as to the extent of the assessment district.

The estimated cost of said project is $83,696.40.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bear interest at the rate of not to exceed seven percent (7%) per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided in the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, the last installment of which bonds shall mature not to exceed fourteen (14) years from the second day of July next succeeding ten months from their date.

The descriptions of the acquisitions and improvements and the termini of the work contained in the Resolution of Intention are general in nature. All items of work do not necessarily extend for the full length of the description thereof. The plans and profiles of the work and maps and descriptions, as contained in the Engineer's report, shall be controlling as to the correct and detailed description thereof.

Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, said work shall be done pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913 and Section 17 of Article XIII of the California Constitution.

Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the Secretary.

Notice is further given that the District Engineer pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention, adopted pursuant thereto, did on the 15th day of June, 1970, file with the Secretary of said District his report in writing on said acquisitions and improvements, consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, maps and descriptions, and said Board did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminarily approved and confirmed same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purposes of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that Monday, the 20th day of July, 1970, at the hour of 7:30 o'clock P.M. of said day, in the regular meeting place of said Board, Town Hall, Town of Corte Madera, California, are the time and place appointed and fixed by said Board when and where it will consider and finally determine whether the public interest, convenience and necessity require said acquisitions and improvements, and when it will consider and determine whether the owners of a majority of the area of the property in the proposed assessment district have protested against said acquisitions and improvements or any portion thereof, and when and where it will consider and finally act upon the Engineer's report filed pursuant to said Resolution of Intention and when and where it will hear all protests in relation to said proposed acquisitions and improvements, or to the grades at which said work will be done, or the extent of the assessment district, or to the Engineer's estimate of the costs and expenses thereof, or to the proposed diagram and assessment, or to the maps and descriptions and that any person interested may file a written protest with the Secretary at or before the time set for the hearing referred to herein.

(b) The acquisition of rights of capacity and use in existing trunk and collector sewers, sewage pumping plants, treatment rights and other facilities of the Sanitary District.

(c) The doing of all work and acquisition of all lands and easements necessary and rights auxiliary to the above and/or necessary to complete the same.

All of said work and improvements are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and at the lines, grades and elevations shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications preliminarily approved therefor by the Board of said District and on file for public inspection in the office of the Secretary.

Notice is hereby given of the fact that in many cases said work and improvements will bring the finished surface of the ground to a grade different from the surface as it now exists, and that to said extent said grades will be changed and that said work will be done to said changed grades.

Said contemplated acquisitions and improvements, in the opinion of said Board, are of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and the costs and expenses thereof are made chargeable upon an assessment district, the exterior boundaries of which district are the composite and consolidated area as more particularly shown on a map thereof on file in the office of the Secretary, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars. Said map indicates by a boundary line the extent of the territory included in the proposed district and shall govern for all details as to the extent of the assessment district.

The estimated cost of said project is $83,696.40.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bear interest at the rate of not to exceed seven percent (7%) per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided in the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, the last installment of which bonds shall mature not to exceed fourteen (14) years from the second day of July next succeeding ten months from their date.

The descriptions of the acquisitions and improvements and the termini of the work contained in the Resolution of Intention are general in nature. All items of work do not necessarily extend for the full length of the description thereof. The plans and profiles of the work and maps and descriptions, as contained in the Engineer's report, shall be controlling as to the correct and detailed description thereof.

Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, said work shall be done pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913 and Section 17 of Article XIII of the California Constitution.

Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the Secretary.

Notice is further given that the District Engineer pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention, adopted pursuant thereto, did on the 15th day of June, 1970, file with the Secretary of said District his report in writing on said acquisitions and improvements, consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, maps and descriptions, and said Board did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminarily approved and confirmed same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purposes of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that Monday, the 20th day of July, 1970, at the hour of 7:30 o'clock P.M. of said day, in the regular meeting place of said Board, Town Hall, Town of Corte Madera, California, are the time and place appointed and fixed by said Board when and where it will consider and finally determine whether the public interest, convenience and necessity require said acquisitions and improvements, and when it will consider and determine whether the owners of a majority of the area of the property in the proposed assessment district have protested against said acquisitions and improvements or any portion thereof, and when and where it will consider and finally act upon the Engineer's report filed pursuant to said Resolution of Intention and when and where it will hear all protests in relation to said proposed acquisitions and improvements, or to the grades at which said work will be done, or the extent of the assessment district, or to the Engineer's estimate of the costs and expenses thereof, or to the proposed diagram and assessment, or to the maps and descriptions and that any person interested may file a written protest with the Secretary at or before the time set for the hearing referred to herein.

Recipients Bitter In Blasts At Reagan, Medi-Cal Cuts

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Reagan Administration's proposed economy cutbacks in the Medi-Cal program were angrily denounced Thursday by recipients at a public hearing.

State policemen ejected one man from the jammed hearing room and forcibly sat down another man during the proceedings conducted by the Health Review and Program Council.

Dr. Earl W. Brian, director of the Health Care Services Department which administers the Medi-Cal program, told newsmen he expects to reach a decision next week on the proposed new Medi-Cal regulations. The hearing was scheduled to resume this afternoon.

More than 500 Medi-Cal recipients opposing the changes showed up for the hearings. They included five busloads of persons from the San Francisco Bay Area. A small number of them carried signs calling for "No Cuts."

Alfred De Nocker, San Francisco, was pulled away from the microphone by a state policeman, shoved against a wall and ushered back to his seat after refusing to yield the microphone during his testimony.

De Nocker had asked Brian, chairman of the council, if he and his top aides could live on the funds provided for the medically needy in California.

"I insist on an answer," De Nocker told Brian. "Give us an answer. Why don't you answer?"

"You're not going to receive an answer to that question," Brian shot back, after warning De Nocker to limit his testimony to the proposals under consideration. "Unless you have further testimony, step down," Brian told De Nocker.

The large number of recipients forced a two-hour delay in the hearing as the session was moved into a larger auditorium. Nearly 100 recipients remained outside the building and listened to the hearing over a hastily set up public address system.

Prior to the change of hearing rooms, an unidentified man was spirited out of the overcrowded room by a policeman when he refused to move out of an aisle.

The proposed changes would eliminate from Medi-Cal persons classified as "medically needy," those who do not receive welfare cash payments but get limited Medi-Cal benefits. They also would reduce the amount of property recipients can own and the amount of income they can receive while continuing to benefit from Medi-Cal.

The Reagan Administration said the new regulations would save $9 million the first year and $1 million a year thereafter.

Assemblyman Leo T. McCarthy, D-San Francisco, told the council the proposals will "hit financially those Californians least able to withstand the blow—the elderly, the crippled, the ill."

McCarthy added the provisions would reduce the living standard to $150 per month for a single, elderly Medi-Cal recipient and "materially increase the medical fees an eligible person would have to pay from his own funds before getting modest state aid."

Fred Hiestand, director of the California Rural Legal Assistance Agency's senior citizens project in San Francisco, testified that the changes would "sacrifice the health of tens of thousands of Californians."

Local social services officials, mainly from Los Angeles and San Francisco counties, opposed the changes on the grounds they would increase county administrative problems with Medi-Cal.

Tiburon Budget Asks Salary Hikes Of 10%

The proposed Tiburon budget recommends 10 per cent pay raises for all city employees, not 5 to 15 per cent raises as reported in Wednesday's Independent-Journal.

Regular step adjustments during the year would provide further salary increases in most cases, however.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Australian Doctors Devise Reversible Sterility Surgery

TWO AUSTRALIAN gynecologists have devised a method of contraception that is unique. They wrap the ovaries in a Silastic bag and bury them in the pelvic wall.

Why the Silastic bag? In developing the technique, the physicians simply buried the ovaries. But, two of the six women got pregnant when the ovaries herniated out of the pouch. In effect, the method involves hidding the ovary from the sperm. The procedure may be the answer to temporary sterilization.

ACCORDING to Medical World News, four of the women who had the operation did not conceive. In the technique, called ovariotexy, an incision is made in the lower abdomen and each ovary is placed in a Silastic bag which is fitted loosely around the ovarian pedicle and sutured in place. A pouch is constructed in the side of the pelvic wall where the bag is buried.

Ovarian function continues but the ovum cannot escape into the abdominal cavity and enter the tube where it is fertilized. If the woman wants to have another child, the ovaries are removed from the sack and replaced in their former position.

ONE OF THE WOMEN was a 28-year-old mother of four who had side reactions to every known type of contraceptive, including the Pill. In addition, she developed a profound depression after the birth of her last child. Although sterilization was in order, she did not want to permanently give up the the ability to have children.

Another woman had a sad family history of hemophilia, and was the mother of a 7-month-old boy with the disease. She wanted to be sterilized but not permanently, because if and when a cure is found for hemophilia she wants to have more children.

Still another woman of 23 had four children and was incapable of taking care of them. Two others had mental disorders and wanted to avoid pregnancy at this time.

Some of the dangers associated with consuming this amount of sugar are dental caries, arteriosclerosis, and obesity, assuming you do not have diabetes. However, this is an excessive amount of sugar. You must put it on and in every food you eat.

New Hampshire College To Get Youngest President, 23

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 23-year-old graduate student will become the nation's youngest college president Aug. 1 when he takes over the presidency of Franconia College in New Hampshire.

Leon Botstein's appointment to head up the private liberal arts college near Laconia, N.H., was announced Thursday by Joseph Monserrat, president of the New York City Board of Education. Botstein has been an aide to Monserrat since he received his master's degree from Harvard.

"With this appointment the greatest cop-out of our times, the generation gap, will be exploded," Monserrat said.

The Rev. Paul W. Rahmeier, president of Franconia's board of trustees, said "We're not taking Leon because he's 23." Nor would we avoid him because he's 23. Age here is irrelevant."

Botstein, currently working on a doctorate, will also teach history at the nine-year old college.

Botstein plans to keep it that way. The college under his administration will emphasize student participation in every aspect of decision making and policy setting, he said, including rating the faculty's performance and helping support the financially strapped college through work projects.

He said he wants to change Franconia from an institution into a community.

"I want Franconia to be the kind of college where students 'turned off' by traditional methods of education can be 'turned on' by the opportunity of involvement," he said.

But for that, Franconia may see more structure, at least academically, than it witnesses under retiring president, Larry Lemmel, 36.

Botstein anticipates a much more structured curriculum, although it will still be innovative. "You don't have to be kooky to be experimental," he said.

Recipients Bitter In Blasts At Reagan, Medi-Cal Cuts

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Reagan Administration's proposed economy cutbacks in the Medi-Cal program were angrily denounced Thursday by recipients at a public hearing.

State policemen ejected one man from the jammed hearing room and forcibly sat down another man during the proceedings conducted by the Health Review and Program Council.

Dr. Earl W. Brian, director of the Health Care Services Department which administers the Medi-Cal program, told newsmen he expects to reach a decision next week on the proposed new Medi-Cal regulations. The hearing was scheduled to resume this afternoon.

More than 500 Medi-Cal recipients opposing the changes showed up for the hearings. They included five busloads of persons from the San Francisco Bay Area. A small number of them carried signs calling for "No Cuts."

Alfred De Nocker, San Francisco, was pulled away from the microphone by a state policeman, shoved against a wall and ushered back to his seat after refusing to yield the microphone during his testimony.

De Nocker had asked Brian, chairman of the council, if he and his top aides could live on the funds provided for the medically needy in California.

"I insist on an answer," De Nocker told Brian. "Give us an answer. Why don't you answer?"

"You're not going to receive an answer to that question," Brian shot back, after warning De Nocker to limit his testimony to the proposals under consideration. "Unless you have further testimony, step down," Brian told De Nocker.

The large number of recipients forced a two-hour delay in the hearing as the session was moved into a larger auditorium. Nearly 100 recipients remained outside the building and listened to the hearing over a hastily set up public address system.

Prior to the change of hearing rooms, an unidentified man was spirited out of the overcrowded room by a policeman when he refused to move out of an aisle.

The proposed changes would eliminate from Medi-Cal persons classified as "medically needy," those who do not receive welfare cash payments but get limited Medi-Cal benefits. They also would reduce the amount of property recipients can own and the amount of income they can receive while continuing to benefit from Medi-Cal.

The Reagan Administration said the new regulations would save $9 million the first year and $1 million a year thereafter.

Assemblyman Leo T. McCarthy, D-San Francisco, told the council the proposals will "hit financially those Californians least able to withstand the blow—the elderly, the crippled, the ill."

McCarthy added the provisions would reduce the living standard to $150 per month for a single, elderly Medi-Cal recipient and "materially increase the medical fees an eligible person would have to pay from his own funds before getting modest state aid."

Fred Hiestand, director of the California Rural Legal Assistance Agency's senior citizens project in San Francisco, testified that the changes would "sacrifice the health of tens of thousands of Californians."

Local social services officials, mainly from Los Angeles and San Francisco counties, opposed the changes on the grounds they would increase county administrative problems with Medi-Cal.

Australian Doctors Devise Reversible Sterility Surgery

TWO AUSTRALIAN gynecologists have devised a method of contraception that is unique. They wrap the ovaries in a Silastic bag and bury them in the pelvic wall.

Why the Silastic bag? In developing the technique, the physicians simply buried the ovaries. But, two of the six women got pregnant when the ovaries herniated out of the pouch. In effect, the method involves hidding the ovary from the sperm. The procedure may be the answer to temporary sterilization.

ACCORDING to Medical World News, four of the women who had the operation did not conceive. In the technique, called ovariotexy, an incision is made in the lower abdomen and each ovary is placed in a Silastic bag which is fitted loosely around the ovarian pedicle and sutured in place. A pouch is constructed in the side of the pelvic wall where the bag is buried.

Ovarian function continues but the ovum cannot escape into the abdominal cavity and enter the tube where it is fertilized. If the woman wants to have another child, the ovaries are removed from the sack and replaced in their former position.

ONE OF THE WOMEN was a 28-year-old mother of four who had side reactions to every known type of contraceptive, including the Pill. In addition, she developed a profound depression after the birth of her last child. Although sterilization was in order, she did not want to permanently give up the the ability to have children.

Another woman had a sad family history of hemophilia, and was the mother of a 7-month-old boy with the disease. She wanted to be sterilized but not permanently, because if and when a cure is found for hemophilia she wants to have more children.

Still another woman of 23 had four children and was incapable of taking care of them. Two others had mental disorders and wanted to avoid pregnancy at this time.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1917 the first troops of the American Expeditionary Force reached France to fight in World War I.

In 1944 the third largest French port, Cherborg, was liberated from the Nazis by the Allies.

A thought for the day: French critic Anatole France said, "We have medicines to make women speak: we have none to make them keep silent."

Plane Engines To Cut Down On Pollution

OTTAWA (UPI) — Modified airplane engines which will give off less smoke than present jets will be installed on commercial planes in Canada in about two years, the Department of Transport reports.

"Discussions have taken place with the airlines concerning the JT8D engine which is considered to be the main cause of air pollution by aircraft." Gerald Loiselle, of the Transport Ministry, said in answer to a question in parliament. "Manufacturers' production schedules will permit the airlines to equip their aircraft with modified engines, which greatly reduce the pollution factor, by 1972."

Remain Alert To Protect Trumps Against Attack

When the queen of trumps is out you should normally cash the ace or king on the first round of trumps. If the queen falls, you can look modest but clever. If nothing startling happens on the first trump trick, you can try a finesse for the queen later. One of the many exceptions to this rule occurs when you must protect your trumps against repeated attack.

FORCED TO RUFF

West led the queen of hearts and continued the suit, forcing South to ruff the third round. Since South knew all the normal rules of play, he led a spade to dummy's king and returned the nine of trumps for a finesse through East.

West won with the queen of spades and led a fourth heart, forcing South to ruff again. Now declarer had only the ace of spades left, and West had two trumps. Sooner or later West was sure to get the setting trick with his extra trump. Down one.

COULDN'T TELL

South couldn't tell which opponent had the queen of spades, but he could tell what would happen if he lost a trump finesse when dummy was out of trumps. A fourth heart would be led, and then only a 3-3 trump break would save the game.

There was no such danger if South tried a finesse on the first round of trumps. After ruffing the third heart, South should with a diamond and leads the ace of spades. Then queen re-lead his low trump and try a finesse with dummy's nine.

MAKES CONTRACT

As the cards lie, the finesse works. Declarer cashes the king of spades, returns to his hand mains out, but South goes about his business with the diamonds, allowing West to ruff at will. West gets one trump trick to add to the two hearts, but South makes his contract.

South would be safe even if East had the queen of spades. East would beat dummy's nine of spades but could not return a spades could ruff and thus relieve the attack on South's heart since dummy's king of trumps.

S. Africa Lacking Trained Engineers

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Despite its industrial growth and economic stability, South Africa is short about 1,000 graduate engineers.

F.P. Jacobs of Union Steel Corporation told a steel industry symposium that South Africa has fewer engineers in proportion to population than any other industrialized western nation.

Jacobs blamed the shortage on industries which do not provide enough support to technical training.

Remain Alert To Protect Trumps Against Attack

When the queen of trumps is out you should normally cash the ace or king on the first round of trumps. If the queen falls, you can look modest but clever. If nothing startling happens on the first trump trick, you can try a finesse for the queen later. One of the many exceptions to this rule occurs when you must protect your trumps against repeated attack.

FORCED TO RUFF

West led the queen of hearts and continued the suit, forcing South to ruff the third round. Since South knew all the normal rules of play, he led a spade to dummy's king and returned the nine of trumps for a finesse through East.

West won with the queen of spades and led a fourth heart, forcing South to ruff again. Now declarer had only the ace of spades left, and West had two trumps. Sooner or later West was sure to get the setting trick with his extra trump. Down one.

COULDN'T TELL

South couldn't tell which opponent had the queen of spades, but he could tell what would happen if he lost a trump finesse when dummy was out of trumps. A fourth heart would be led, and then only a 3-3 trump break would save the game.

There was no such danger if South tried a finesse on the first round of trumps. After ruffing the third heart, South should with a diamond and leads the ace of spades. Then queen re-lead his low trump and try a finesse with dummy's nine.

MAKES CONTRACT

As the cards lie, the finesse works. Declarer cashes the king of spades, returns to his hand mains out, but South goes about his business with the diamonds,

S. Africa Lacking Trained Engineers

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Despite its industrial growth and economic stability, South Africa is short about 1,000 graduate engineers.

F.P. Jacobs of Union Steel Corporation told a steel industry symposium that South Africa has fewer engineers in proportion to population than any other industrialized western nation.

Jacobs blamed the shortage on industries which do not provide enough support to technical training.

ALMANAC

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1917 the first troops of the American Expeditionary Force reached France to fight in World War I.

In 1944 the third largest French port, Cherborg, was liberated from the Nazis by the Allies.

A thought for the day: French critic Anatole France said, "We have medicines to make women speak: we have none to make them keep silent."

Plane Engines To Cut Down On Pollution

OTTAWA (UPI) — Modified airplane engines which will give off less smoke than present jets will be installed on commercial planes in Canada in about two years, the Department of Transport reports.

"Discussions have taken place with the airlines concerning the JT8D engine which is considered to be the main cause of air pollution by aircraft." Gerald Loiselle, of the Transport Ministry, said in answer to a question in parliament. "Manufacturers' production schedules will permit the airlines to equip their aircraft with modified engines, which greatly reduce the pollution factor, by 1972."

They Have Wings, But Stay On Ground

Quick now, what has wings, holds its weight at 1,250 pounds, makes the ground tremble with thunder, roars like a jet and moves 200 miles per hour?

Wrong, if you guessed Jackie Gleason answering the Last Call for Alcohol; Right if you answered Formula Race Car.

The subject arises because the Formula buggies will be in the limelight at Sears Point International Raceway tomorrow and Sunday for the Continental Series, featuring international road racing favorite John Cannon, the former RAF fighter pilot from Canada, and TV star Dick Smothers.

Developed by Sports Car Club of America, which is promoting this weekend's racing in conjunction with the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce, Formula cars are so-called because they are built to the specific formula prescribed by the Federation Internation de l'Automobile, the body that makes the rules for auto racing. In other words, all cars in the Formula A category are identical and the burden of performance is therefore on the driver.

Not Expense Of Indy Cars

Considerably less expensive than the Indianapolis type cars and the sophisticated Group 7 jalopies in the Canadian-American series, the Formula A has a single seat, four open whels, dual brake system, two-wheel drive, 1250-pound minimum weight without fuel, 305 cubic inch displacement engines using American production stock blocks and heads with pushrod operated valve mechanisms; 30-gallon gas tanks using regular pump gas.

Certain engine modifications are allowed except that the camshaft cannot be moved, the number of bearings changed, nor can the head or block be changed. No supercharging is permitted.

Wings and air spoilers on many of the cars provide an exotic appearance and stabilizing effect at high speeds. They prevent them from taking off for Cuba.

Weight and cubic inch displacement are the differences in the B/C Formula cars which share the program with the A's.

Golly, and all this time I thought a Formula was something you fed an infant.

I Pick Cannon To Win

Anyway, I pick Cannon, Ron Grable of Belmont and George Wintersteen of Pennsylvania to finish 1-2-3 Sunday in the main event.

CHARLEY FOX, new manager of the Giants, will be guest of honor at next Wednesday's dinner gathering of the Giant Boosters Club of Northern California at Rubini's in Fairfax.

SHARON WALSH, playing at Wimbledon this week, must have inherited much of her athletic ability from her pop, photographer Les Walsh.

Dad Was Quite An Athlete

Something I didn't know until yesterday is that Les was one of the better athletes to come out of San Rafael High School, around 1928 vintage.

According to Howie Adams of San Rafael, former teammate of Walsh: "Les was a great little athlete, thin but with plenty of guts and talent. He was catcher on the ball club and center on the football team — right where all the action is."

AL GHIRINGHELLI, SRHS Class of '40, asked former state high school half-mile champion Roger Lane if he could still clock a 1:56 as he did 30 years ago and Roger replied: "Sure — from the bedroom to the bathroom."

Adds Ghiringhelli: "Goes to show you, 30 years have passed, but a member of my class can still run the same time, only the distance is a little different."

Graebner Breezes To Victory

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Clark Graebner of New York earned a berth in the fourth round of the Wimbledon Open tennis championships today when he crushed Indian Davis Cupper Premjit Lall, 6-0, 6-2, 6-1.

Graebner won the first seven games, then broke Lall's service again in the sixth game of the second set with a cross-court backhand. He won the set 6-2 with two placements down the line that left the spirited but outclassed Lall grinning in despair.

Two other American men were in action today with a chance to gain the quarterfinals. Dennis Ralston, the 15th seed from Bakersfield, Calif., met second-seeded John Newcombe of Australia on center court and Tom Gorman of Seattle, Wash., who upset 12th-seeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa on Thursday, was paired against fifth-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia.

Rosemary Casals of San Francisco and Betty Ann Grubb of Santa Monica, Calif., were among the third-round winners in women's singles. Miss Casals, seeded fifth, had a tough time in subduing Denice Carter of Los Altos, Calif., 6-3, 8-6, and Miss Grubb beat Adda Bakker of the Netherlands, 7-5, 6-2.

Top-seed Rod Laver of Australia, the defending titleholder, leads five seeded compatriots and six Americans, including four seeds, into the fourth round in the men's singles battle.

In the women's singles, joint title favorites Billie Jean King of Berkeley, Calif., and Margaret Court of Australia spearheaded eight other Americans and three other Australians into the last 32 places.

The only surviving seeds of other nationalities are Andres Gimeno of Spain, Ilya Nastase of Romania, Britain's Roger Taylor and Virginia Wade, and Helga Niessen of West Germany.

Unlike past years, there have been no major upsets to electrify the crowds which have failed to show up in really big numbers this year. It's almost as if a computer has spewed out the results everybody expected.

Thursday's only surprises, but not big ones, same when Tom Gorman of Seattle ousted 12th ranked Cliff Drysdale of South Africa in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2, and Bob Carmichael of Australia disposed of sixth seeded Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia.

Laver had an easy passage Thursday, as did the other surviving men and women seeds who saw action, except Taylor, who had a tough set while defeating Charles Pasarell of Santurce, P.R., 8-6, 17-15, 6-4.

Laver moved closer to his goal of three consecutive Wimbledon crowns with a 6-2, 3-6, 6-0, 6-3 victory over Fred McMillan of South Africa.

The other men seeds still hoping to clash with the heavily favored Laver in the final are Australia's John Newcombe, Tony Roche, Ken Rosewall and Roy Emerson, and America's Clark Graebner, New York, Arthur Ashe, Gum Spring, Va., Stan Smith, Pasadena, Calif., and Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif.

FRENCH TENNIS STAR OUSTS SHARON WALSH

After defeating an American and an Australian in the first two rounds, Sharon Walsh of San Rafael met more than her match in a Frenchwoman yesterday when she was eliminated from the All-England Tennis Championships at Wimbledon, England by Francoise Durr of Paris, 7-5, 6-1.

Miss Walsh, who was graduated this month from San Rafael High School, earlier claimed victories over Patti Hogan of La Jolla, Calif., and Helen Gourlay of Australia.

RICHARD DELGADO — In happy victory.

Distance Runner Raps 'Militaristic Coaches'

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Richard Delgado is an articulate, outspoken young man who likes to run. And not just a few yards, but a few miles.

Recent record-breaking winner of the Novato Ridge Run, Delgado, mathematics teacher at San Rafael High School, didn't compete in high school or college sports because he couldn't follow philosophies of the coaching ranks.

In Delgado's words, "Coaches and the athletic establishment tend to deaden the creativity and form of expression of athletics, especially running."

STRAIGHT SHOOTER

Delgado is a straight shooter who will not only stand by his convictions, but he'll run for them. In 1965 he and three other young men ran cross country — literally — to demonstrate against the Vietnam war. They ran a relay race from the Marina Green in San Francisco all the way to the White Huse in Washington, D.C., three of them resting in a supply car while the other one ran. It took a total of 64 days.

"I'll tell you I was really tired and sore after that run," said Delgado. "But we did get to talk to someone from the President's office. I think it was effective."

Delgado was ranked 10th in the country last year in the six-mile run and has won numerous trophies and awards for his running. He has his sights set on the 1972 Olympics, and says he will be trying very hard in the six-mile event.

"Let's call my chances slight," he said.

His plans don't call for any running in the Dipsea race from Mill Valley to Stinson Beach, although he has run the race in the past, finishing fourth one year.

DANGEROUS DIPSEA

"I don't feel it (the Dipsea) is a fair competitive running test and it's too dangerous. I'm not going to risk my life or the lives of others. It is pleasant to walk the course, but it's insane to run it. I don't enjoy this type of racing, where you have to elbow or push your way past people."

Delgado didn't do any serious competitive running until his days in the Marine Corps. He also did some running during graduate studies at University of California and Stanford. Now a member of the West Valley Track Club, he does most of his practice running through the forests near his Woodacre home. He runs about an hour in the morning and an hour in the evening, getting in about 115 to 120 miles of running a week.

"It's a pleasure, running through the woods," he said. "People think running is painful to your legs, and your lungs hurt. It's not that way when you're well-trained and in good condition. Running can be a real pleasure."

Delgado, who stands 5-foot-11 and weighs 150 pounds, is strongly on the side of the runners in the recent flareup of long - hair vs. short - hair that raged on the Redwood High School campus and within the walls of the Tamalpais Union High School District office.

He says: "Maybe the hair is symbolic to the boy. It represents freedom. But it is just too

Last Marin Survivor Out Of Golf Tourney

Warren Richter of San Rafael, the last surviving Marin county player in the California State Amateur Golf Championship at Pebble Beach, was eliminated in the second round yesterday when he lost to Bill Feil of Los Angeles, 1 up.

Richter, a 21-year-old iron worker, was one of four Marin players who qualified on June 1 for the championship. Of the others only 1936 state champion Mat Palacio Jr. of San Rafael made it into the match play tournament, and he was defeated in the first round Wednesday, 3 and 2 by Ray Arrino of Sacramento.

Buzz Beattie of Ross withdrew Monday after the first qualifying round, and Doug Francisco of San Rafael declined to enter.

As the field for today's third round was cut to 16, only Forty-Niner quarterback John Brodie, Los Angeles attorney Dick Runkle and Stanford Club champion Frank Zack were still around to uphold the honors of experience.

Brodie beat San Francisco's Mike Moriarty, 5 and 4 and was to meet Bob Risch of Gardena today; Runkle faced Jim Petralia after defeating Chuck Van Linge of Portola, 3 and 2, and Zack went against one of the pre-tourney favorites, Vic Loustalot of Sacramento.

Candlestick Fans Ready For 3,000

Mays Nears Another Milestone

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— With the San Francisco Giants 16 1-2 games behind Cincinnati in the National League West, Willie Mays is proving to be a pleasant diversion.

Hometown fans will be flocking to Candlestick Park in a few days hoping to see Mays become the 10th man in baseball to collect 3,000 hits. He's 12 short of the mark now and has a nine-game homestand in front of him.

Wonderous Willie is taking things in stride. When approached after his 2,988th hit in Cincinnati, he replied simply, "I'll get the next 12 too."

Earlier this year, Henry Aaron of the Atlanta Braves became the ninth man to join the 3,000 Hit Club and now has 3,034.

Oddly, Aaron and Mays will be trying to outdo each other starting tonight when the Braves open a four-game series at Candlestick.

Righthander Gaylord Perry, ace of the Giants staff with an 11-6 record, will hurl tonight.

The Giants announced the signing Thursday of Jim Barr, righthanded pitcher of the NCAA champion USC Trojans. Barr, who compiled a 26-8 record with the Trojans, was assigned to the Giants Amarillo team in the Texas League.

SEEKS APPROVAL

Clay Wants Bout With Frazier

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cassius Clay is willing to make a comeback. The next move is up to boxing commissions for the states of Washington and Michigan.

The Washington commission meets today to decide the fate of Clay's application for a license, and the Michigan commission is expected to give its approval to the deposed heavyweight champion's comeback bid next week.

Neil Hoff, a Tacoma, Wash. attorney and spokesman for the group that hopes to stage a bout between Clay and his successor, Joe Frazier, said Clay's attorneys "have assured us of his desire to fight in Seattle. We are holding off on negotiations until the license is approved."

"As you know I have announced my retirement and said I would never fight again," Clay said in Philadelphia. "But if the boxing promoters and the American public want to decide who the real champion is—if there is any doubt in their minds and if all the negotiations are legal so it can finally come to pass—then let's prove once and for all by having Joe Frazier enter the ring.

Clay, who was stripped of the title and banned from boxing in 1967 when he refused to be inducted into the Army, is appealing his draft evasion conviction and is free on bail. He signed the Washington application "Cassius Clay" instead of usinf his Black Muslim name "Muhammad Ali" and is under suspension by the Muslims for saying he wanted to fight again because he needed the money.

It took a total of 64 days.

"I'll tell you I was really tired and sore after that run," said Delgado. "But we did get to talk to someone from the President's office. I think it was effective."

Delgado was ranked 10th in the country last year in the six-mile run and has won numerous trophies and awards for his running. He has his sights set on the 1972 Olympics, and says he will be trying very hard in the six-mile event.

"Let's call my chances slight," he said.

His plans don't call for any running in the Dipsea race from Mill Valley to Stinson Beach, although he has run the race in the past, finishing fourth one year.

DANGEROUS DIPSEA

"I don't feel it (the Dipsea) is a fair competitive running test and it's too dangerous. I'm not going to risk my life or the lives of others. It is pleasant to walk the course, but it's insane to run it. I don't enjoy this type of racing, where you have to elbow or push your way past people."

Delgado didn't do any serious competitive running until his days in the Marine Corps. He also did some running during graduate studies at University of California and Stanford. Now a member of the West Valley Track Club, he does most of his practice running through the forests near his Woodacre home. He runs about an hour in the morning and an hour in the evening, getting in about 115 to 120 miles of running a week.

"It's a pleasure, running through the woods," he said. "People think running is painful to your legs, and your lungs hurt. It's not that way when you're well-trained and in good condition. Running can be a real pleasure."

Delgado, who stands 5-foot-11 and weighs 150 pounds, is strongly on the side of the runners in the recent flareup of long - hair vs. short - hair that raged on the Redwood High School campus and within the walls of the Tamalpais Union High School District office.

He says: "Maybe the hair is symbolic to the boy. It represents freedom. But it is just too

Last Marin Survivor Out Of Golf Tourney

Warren Richter of San Rafael, the last surviving Marin county player in the California State Amateur Golf Championship at Pebble Beach, was eliminated in the second round yesterday when he lost to Bill Feil of Los Angeles, 1 up.

Richter, a 21-year-old iron worker, was one of four Marin players who qualified on June 1 for the championship. Of the others only 1936 state champion Mat Palacio Jr. of San Rafael made it into the match play tournament, and he was defeated in the first round Wednesday, 3 and 2 by Ray Arrino of Sacramento.

Buzz Beattie of Ross withdrew Monday after the first qualifying round, and Doug Francisco of San Rafael declined to enter.

As the field for today's third round was cut to 16, only Forty-Niner quarterback John Brodie, Los Angeles attorney Dick Runkle and Stanford Club champion Frank Zack were still around to uphold the honors of experience.

Brodie beat San Francisco's Mike Moriarty, 5 and 4 and was to meet Bob Risch of Gardena today; Runkle faced Jim Petralia after defeating Chuck Van Linge of Portola, 3 and 2, and Zack went against one of the pre-tourney favorites, Vic Loustalot of Sacramento.

Candlestick Fans Ready For 3,000

Mays Nears Another Milestone

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— With the San Francisco Giants 16 1-2 games behind Cincinnati in the National League West, Willie Mays is proving to be a pleasant diversion.

Hometown fans will be flocking to Candlestick Park in a few days hoping to see Mays become the 10th man in baseball to collect 3,000 hits. He's 12 short of the mark now and has a nine-game homestand in front of him.

Wonderous Willie is taking things in stride. When approached after his 2,988th hit in Cincinnati, he replied simply, "I'll get the next 12 too."

Earlier this year, Henry Aaron of the Atlanta Braves became the ninth man to join the 3,000 Hit Club and now has 3,034.

Oddly, Aaron and Mays will be trying to outdo each other starting tonight when the Braves open a four-game series at Candlestick.

Righthander Gaylord Perry, ace of the Giants staff with an 11-6 record, will hurl tonight.

The Giants announced the signing Thursday of Jim Barr, righthanded pitcher of the NCAA champion USC Trojans. Barr, who compiled a 26-8 record with the Trojans, was assigned to the Giants Amarillo team in the Texas League.

SEEKS APPROVAL

Clay Wants Bout With Frazier

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cassius Clay is willing to make a comeback. The next move is up to boxing commissions for the states of Washington and Michigan.

The Washington commission meets today to decide the fate of Clay's application for a license, and the Michigan commission is expected to give its approval to the deposed heavyweight champion's comeback bid next week.

Neil Hoff, a Tacoma, Wash. attorney and spokesman for the group that hopes to stage a bout between Clay and his successor, Joe Frazier, said Clay's attorneys "have assured us of his desire to fight in Seattle. We are holding off on negotiations until the license is approved."

"As you know I have announced my retirement and said I would never fight again," Clay said in Philadelphia. "But if the boxing promoters and the American public want to decide who the real champion is—if there is any doubt in their minds and if all the negotiations are legal so it can finally come to pass—then let's prove once and for all by having Joe Frazier enter the ring.

Clay, who was stripped of the title and banned from boxing in 1967 when he refused to be inducted into the Army, is appealing his draft evasion conviction and is free on bail. He signed the Washington application "Cassius Clay" instead of usinf his Black Muslim name "Muhammad Ali" and is under suspension by the Muslims for saying he wanted to fight again because he needed the money.

Isenbarger Is New 49er; Pappas Sold To The Cubs

By U.P INTERNATIONAL

Isenbarger, a 6-3, 205-pound jack-of-all-trades who gained 1,217 yards last year and was Indiana's punter, signed during workouts for tomorrow's Coaches All-American game at Lubbock, Tex.

He will start the game along with two other San Francisco draft choices, defensive back Bruce Taylor of Boston University and defensive end Cedric Hardman of North Texas State. Both have signed with the 49ers.

MILT PAPPAS
Sold by Braves

Baseball

ATLANTA — Veteran pitcher Milt Pappas has been sold by the Atlanta Braves to the Chicago Cubs for an undisclosed amount of cash, it was announced today.

The Cubs will be Pappas' fourth club since breaking into the majors 14 years ago. The 31-year-old righthander, whose lifetime record is 158-123, was 2-2 with the Braves this season and had a 6.06 earned run average.

Decathlon

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE — John Warkentin, a 23-year-old graduate of Fresno State College, won the U.S. decathlon championship yesterday. He compiled 8,026 points to become only the seventh American to achieve the magic 8,000-point plateau. Bill Toomey holds the world record of 8,417.

Yachting

LOS ANGELES — Mir, a 78-foot ketch out of Vancouver, apparently has taken the lead in the Los Angeles to Tahiti yacht race, the longest scheduled ocean race in the world.

According to a Wednesday afternoon report, Mir took advantage of a fresh wind to pull ahead of the ketch Blackfin, which had led from the start. Mir's skipper George O'Brian radioed his position at 1,749 miles out. Blackfin was 1,710 miles out in second place.

Swimming

SANTA CLARA — Dave Edgar of the University of Tennessee, regarded as the fastest swimmer in history, will be in the star studded field for the Santa Clara International Invitational swimming and diving meet July 10-12.

Seven swimmers of NCAA champion Indiana University will compete as members of the Bloomington Aquatic Club, including Mark Spitz and Gary Hall.

Edgar has set a pair of sprint records and won two NCAA championships.

Basketball

NEW YORK — The United States Olympic Committee will conduct an intensive training program at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado in order to select a 12-man basketball team to compete in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union.

Forty-four players have been invited to the three-week program beginning July 5.

Prep Sports Get Ax In Novato District

There will be fewer prep sports in the Novato Unified School District next school year, the result of budget trimming by the district trustees.

Varsity sports dropped from Novato and San Marin high schools were wrestling, water polo, cross country running and soccer. Also dropped was Class B basketball. The district also put the ax to seventh and eighth grade basketball, track, and the Junior High Girls Athletic Association program.

The cuts will lop $8,300 from the total $40,619, reducing the budget to $32,319. Of the total cut, $6,850 of it will be in coaches' salaries and the remainder in transportation costs.

"It was an interesting three-hour discussion on the values of field trips and athletics," Supt. James G. Bunker said of the Tuesday night board meeting.

"We were working to reduce the budget in a way that wouldn't touch major sports," said Bunker. "With our cuts, we came out with a 20 per cent cut in athletics."

The field trip budget was also cut, from $13,500 to $9,200.

The "B" basketball program in the district had been sagging, it was agreed by the athletic staff at the high schools. There were eight Class B players at Novato High and nine at San Marin.

"We figured we were spending more than $100 per boy in 'B' basketball," said Al Scott, athletic director at Novato High.

And when you're working on a tight budget, that kind of economics just doesn't work.

A surprise cut in the Novato High School program was wrestling, a sport in which the Hornets have won the Marin County Athletic League championship five times and the state championship once. Wrestling coach Ralph Cutler earlier had announced this was his last year of coaching.

Hunter On Mound For A's

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Jim Hunter chases his 12th victory of the season tonight against the Milwaukee Brewers, knowing he has one of baseball's top bullpens behind him.

Hunter, now 11-5, opens the four-game weekend series against Skip Lockwood (0-4). Hunter, a righthander, has won his last four and six of his last seven starts.

Milwaukee, wallowing in last place of the Western Division of the American League, gave idle Oakland a helping hand Thursday by beating Minnesota 4-1. That chopped a half-game off the Twins' lead in the West, leaving Oakland five games off the pace.

In winning five of seven games during a recent homestand, the A's bullpen was called upon 13 times and allowed only three runs in 24 innings.

"I have confidence in them all," said A's manager John McNamara. "I know what they can do and, a good thing for us, they're doing it."

He referred to the recent mound exploits of Jim Grant, Marcel Lachemann, Bob Locker, Paul Lindblad and Jim Roland.

After Milwaukee, the A's play three games at Chicago and wind up the road trip with three more against the California Angels.

Football Opener Tomorrow

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—The East will call upon the passing of underrated Gordon Slade and the devastating running ability of Jim Otis Saturday to try to stop the West from taking an unprecedented third straight victory in the 10th annual Coaches All America game.

Possibly the largest crowd in the history of the game will be on hand to watch Slade, the fourth leading passer in the NCAA last year, and Otis, the all-American from Ohio State, square off against the passing attack of the West at 6:30 p.m. (PDT). The game will be televised nationally in color.

The West, which leads the series 5-4, is expected to base its attack on the strong passing of San Diego State's Dennis Shaw and Missouri's Terry McMillan. Shaw will probably start.

Charles McClendon, the coach of the East team which hasn't won since 1967, will start Slade of Davidson at quarterback, Otis at running back, LSU's Eddie Ray at fullback and Indiana's John Isenbarger at flanker.

Mike Hillman of LSU will share signal calling duties with Slade. Clemson's Charlie Waters will spell Isenbarger and Warren Muir is Otis' No. 1 understudy. Isenbarger is also expected to play halfback and fullback as well as handle the punting chores.

West coach Dan Devine of Missouri said he would not name a starting quarterback before game time. He is expected to lean toward Shaw over his own McMillan. He said both men would be alternated continuously.

BOWLING TIPS

If too often you're letting the ball drop well behind the foul line, have a teammate check you, not just once, but for several successive frames. For best results the ball should touch the lane about six inches beyond the line.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Mets Still Fear Cubbies

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

That was the consensus in the world champions' clubhouse Thursday after an 8-3 victory completed a five-game sweep of the Cubs and vaulted the Mets into a 1 1-2-game lead in their division.

DIFFERENT

"They certainly don't look like the same team we played last year or the first series this year," commented Ken Boswell, one of the Mets' 1969 Miracle Men. "But I think they're beyond the point of choking up. And as soon as their pitching gets back, they'll be hard to beat again. They can still catch us as easily as we caught them."

"Nothing's wrapped up until you've got it clinched in September," said Joe Foy, who watched the Met miracle from faraway Kansas City last season. "Didn't the Mets come from nine games behind last year?"

BOMB HOLTZMAN

The Mets completed their humiliation of the Cubs when they bombed Ken Holtzman for six runs in the second inning, stole four bases including home and got a sturdy seven-hit pitching performance from Jerry Koosman. The Mets surged into first place on 12 victories in 15 games while the Cubs have lost seven in a row and eight of their last nine.

The key hits in the Mets' six-run second inning were doubles by Ron Swoboda and Bud Harrelson and singles by Donn Clendenon, Wayne Garret and Tommie Agee. Foy and Garrett worked the double steal with Foy scoring, and Cub errors were committed by Don Kessinger, Jack Hiatt and Glenn Beckert.

OTHER SCORES

The Philadelphia Phillies beat the Montreal Expos3-2 in 11 innings and the Pittsburgh Pirates rallied for a 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in other NL games. Los Angeles at Atlanta was rained out in the only other scheduled NL game.

In the American League, it was Baltimore 13, Boston 8 in 14 innings, New York 3 Cleveland 1, Detroit 2 Washington 1, Milwaukee 4 Minnesota 1 and California 7 Chicago 3.

Shaw's Top Drake In Summer Basketball

Shaw's of Redwood trounced Drake, 53-17 in one of three Drake summer basketball league games last night. Steve McGee of Shaw's had 18 points to lead all scorers.

Joe DeMaestri's 16 points led Novato to a 55-39 win over Chuck Moore Insurance, and Terra Linda defeated Marin Catholic, 58-52 despite the Wildcats' Jim Sulliva, who got 22 points.

Isenbarger Is New 49er; Pappas Sold To The Cubs

By U.P INTERNATIONAL

Isenbarger, a 6-3, 205-pound jack-of-all-trades who gained 1,217 yards last year and was Indiana's punter, signed during workouts for tomorrow's Coaches All-American game at Lubbock, Tex.

He will start the game along with two other San Francisco draft choices, defensive back Bruce Taylor of Boston University and defensive end Cedric Hardman of North Texas State. Both have signed with the 49ers.

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE — John Warkentin, a 23-year-old graduate of Fresno State College, won the U.S. decathlon championship yesterday. He compiled 8,026 points to become only the seventh American to achieve the magic 8,000-point plateau. Bill Toomey holds the world record of 8,417.

Yachting

LOS ANGELES — Mir, a 78-foot ketch out of Vancouver, apparently has taken the lead in the Los Angeles to Tahiti yacht race, the longest scheduled ocean race in the world.

According to a Wednesday afternoon report, Mir took advantage of a fresh wind to pull ahead of the ketch Blackfin, which had led from the start. Mir's skipper George O'Brian radioed his position at 1,749 miles out. Blackfin was 1,710 miles out in second place.

Swimming

SANTA CLARA — Dave Edgar of the University of Tennessee, regarded as the fastest swimmer in history, will be in the star studded field for the Santa Clara International Invitational swimming and diving meet July 10-12.

Seven swimmers of NCAA champion Indiana University will compete as members of the Bloomington Aquatic Club, including Mark Spitz and Gary Hall.

Edgar has set a pair of sprint records and won two NCAA championships.

Basketball

NEW YORK — The United States Olympic Committee will conduct an intensive training program at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado in order to select a 12-man basketball team to compete in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union.

Forty-four players have been invited to the three-week program beginning July 5.

Hunter On Mound For A's

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Jim Hunter chases his 12th victory of the season tonight against the Milwaukee Brewers, knowing he has one of baseball's top bullpens behind him.

Hunter, now 11-5, opens the four-game weekend series against Skip Lockwood (0-4). Hunter, a righthander, has won his last four and six of his last seven starts.

Milwaukee, wallowing in last place of the Western Division of the American League, gave idle Oakland a helping hand Thursday by beating Minnesota 4-1. That chopped a half-game off the Twins' lead in the West, leaving Oakland five games off the pace.

In winning five of seven games during a recent homestand, the A's bullpen was called upon 13 times and allowed only three runs in 24 innings.

"I have confidence in them all," said A's manager John McNamara. "I know what they can do and, a good thing for us, they're doing it."

After Milwaukee, the A's play three games at Chicago and wind up the road trip with three more against the California Angels.

Broncos ,Doves Win

The Broncos outslugged Cain's Tires, 13-10, and the Doves defeated CWA, 5-3 last night in San Rafael Adult Softball League games at Albert Park.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

If too often you're letting the ball drop well behind the foul line, have a teammate check you, not just once, but for several successive frames. For best results the ball should touch the lane about six inches beyond the line.

Mets Still Fear Cubbies

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

That was the consensus in the world champions' clubhouse Thursday after an 8-3 victory completed a five-game sweep of the Cubs and vaulted the Mets into a 1 1-2-game lead in their division.

DIFFERENT

"They certainly don't look like the same team we played last year or the first series this year," commented Ken Boswell, one of the Mets' 1969 Miracle Men. "But I think they're beyond the point of choking up. And as soon as their pitching gets back, they'll be hard to beat again. They can still catch us as easily as we caught them."

"Nothing's wrapped up until you've got it clinched in September," said Joe Foy, who watched the Met miracle from faraway Kansas City last season. "Didn't the Mets come from nine games behind last year?"

BOMB HOLTZMAN

The Mets completed their humiliation of the Cubs when they bombed Ken Holtzman for six runs in the second inning, stole four bases including home and got a sturdy seven-hit pitching performance from Jerry Koosman. The Mets surged into first place on 12 victories in 15 games while the Cubs have lost seven in a row and eight of their last nine.

The key hits in the Mets' six-run second inning were doubles by Ron Swoboda and Bud Harrelson and singles by Donn Clendenon, Wayne Garret and Tommie Agee. Foy and Garrett worked the double steal with Foy scoring, and Cub errors were committed by Don Kessinger, Jack Hiatt and Glenn Beckert.

OTHER SCORES

The Philadelphia Phillies beat the Montreal Expos3-2 in 11 innings and the Pittsburgh Pirates rallied for a 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in other NL games. Los Angeles at Atlanta was rained out in the only other scheduled NL game.

In the American League, it was Baltimore 13, Boston 8 in 14 innings, New York 3 Cleveland 1, Detroit 2 Washington 1, Milwaukee 4 Minnesota 1 and California 7 Chicago 3.

Shaw's Top Drake In Summer Basketball

Shaw's of Redwood trounced Drake, 53-17 in one of three Drake summer basketball league games last night. Steve McGee of Shaw's had 18 points to lead all scorers.

Joe DeMaestri's 16 points led Novato to a 55-39 win over Chuck Moore Insurance, and Terra Linda defeated Marin Catholic, 58-52 despite the Wildcats' Jim Sulliva, who got 22 points.

Prep Sports Get Ax In Novato District

There will be fewer prep sports in the Novato Unified School District next school year, the result of budget trimming by the district trustees.

Varsity sports dropped from Novato and San Marin high schools were wrestling, water polo, cross country running and soccer. Also dropped was Class B basketball. The district also put the ax to seventh and eighth grade basketball, track, and the Junior High Girls Athletic Association program.

The cuts will lop $8,300 from the total $40,619, reducing the budget to $32,319. Of the total cut, $6,850 of it will be in coaches' salaries and the remainder in transportation costs.

"It was an interesting three-hour discussion on the values of field trips and athletics," Supt. James G. Bunker said of the Tuesday night board meeting.

"We were working to reduce the budget in a way that wouldn't touch major sports," said Bunker. "With our cuts, we came out with a 20 per cent cut in athletics."

The field trip budget was also cut, from $13,500 to $9,200.

The "B" basketball program in the district had been sagging, it was agreed by the athletic staff at the high schools. There were eight Class B players at Novato High and nine at San Marin.

"We figured we were spending more than $100 per boy in 'B' basketball," said Al Scott, athletic director at Novato High.

And when you're working on a tight budget, that kind of economics just doesn't work.

A surprise cut in the Novato High School program was wrestling, a sport in which the Hornets have won the Marin County Athletic League championship five times and the state championship once. Wrestling coach Ralph Cutler earlier had announced this was his last year of coaching.

Football Opener Tomorrow

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—The East will call upon the passing of underrated Gordon Slade and the devastating running ability of Jim Otis Saturday to try to stop the West from taking an unprecedented third straight victory in the 10th annual Coaches All America game.

Possibly the largest crowd in the history of the game will be on hand to watch Slade, the fourth leading passer in the NCAA last year, and Otis, the all-American from Ohio State, square off against the passing attack of the West at 6:30 p.m. (PDT). The game will be televised nationally in color.

The West, which leads the series 5-4, is expected to base its attack on the strong passing of San Diego State's Dennis Shaw and Missouri's Terry McMillan. Shaw will probably start.

Mike Hillman of LSU will share signal calling duties with Slade. Clemson's Charlie Waters will spell Isenbarger and Warren Muir is Otis' No. 1 understudy. Isenbarger is also expected to play halfback and fullback as well as handle the punting chores.

West coach Dan Devine of Missouri said he would not name a starting quarterback before game time. He is expected to lean toward Shaw over his own McMillan. He said both men would be alternated continuously.

This year's Marin Art and Garden Fair, opening Wednesday on the historic Marin Art and Garden Center grounds at Ross, will make the end of an era in Marin's cultural history. After 1970, the center will no longer be home to Marin's county fair. To salute what is one of California's most colorful and most beautiful fairs, the Independent-Journal tomorrow presents a special issue that features a history of the fair.
One of the traditional participants in the Marin Art and Garden Fair is the Ross Valley Camera Club. The Bay Area Salon of Photography, which it sponsors annually, is always a popular attraction with fair visitors. And the caliber of prints and color slides exhibited is on an international level. There's an illustrated feature about the club and its role in the fair in tomorrow's magazine.

Kids Warm The Heart Of The Great Mails

Walter Mails stood on the ramparts of Candlestick Park and looked down on the playing field where there was no action. The Giants had the day off. It was an open date on the schedule.

"There's nothing lonelier than an empty ball park," said Mails. "Since 1914 I've lived my life in ball parks. Know when my happiest moments were?"

The good will ambassador of the Giants didn't wait for an answer from the fellow who stood next to him.

"I KNOW what you think they were —the 1920 World Series when I beat Brooklyn 1-0 in the sixth game and we went on to become the world champions at Cleveland," said Mails.

"Well, you're wrong. My happiest moments in baseball have been provided by kids. It warms my heart to hear them cheering. A ball park never is happier than when it is jammed with kids. There's something electric about the excitement they generate.

"I'M 73 now but not in spirit because of the job I've got. I should be paying Horace Stoneham instead of him paying me for the privilege of inviting kids to ball games. But don't tell him that."

Mails, as good a promotion man as he was a pitcher, never is at a loss for words. He is a non-stop talker but occasionally must stop for a breath which he did before continuing.

"THIS IS my 11th year with the Giants sponsoring kids' days," he said. "Know how many kids have been admitted free to Candlestick in that time?"

Once again, Mails didn't wait for an answer. He provided it himself.

"I'LL TELL you," said Mails. "This season we are going to pass the two million mark. How about that?"

Candlestick's concessionaires should be paying Mails, not Stoneham.

Every time Mails announces a free day for the kids, the concessionaries put on extra help. They already have elerted standby crews for July 1, the next kids' day.

MAILS IS a soft touch himself for kids to come to the ball park without hot dog money. He has a hard rule that kids must be escorted in groups by responsible adults to qualify for free admission.

Occasionally unescorted youngsters turn up. Then, Mails' hard rule bends a bit and he ends up buying them hot dogs. He denies this because he steadfastly insists he never breaks rules he sets. Maybe not, but he bends them from time to time.

"THERE IS only one way we can handle thekids' program in an orderly manner," said Mails. "That's by letter from a Little League team manager, a teacher or some other responsible person, who should designate the number of kids in their group."

To whom and where should the letters besent?

"The Great Mails, Candlestick Park," he said.

NORTH-SOUTH PROMOTERS UPSET

Pro Scouts Rob The All-Star Cradle

Motorists who passed Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley yesterday and today between the hours of 10 A.M. and 4 P.M. probably gave no second thought to the baseball practice taking place there. Closer inspection would have revealed, however, that the 16 players using the field belonged to no ordinary team.

It was the Northern California High School all-star team, practicing for Sunday's North-South game at Anaheim Stadium.

Ironically, Marin County's selection to the team, Terra Linda centerfielder Dewey Forry, had to withdraw from the game when he signed a contract with the Los Angeles Dodgers last Sunday. He reported Wednesday to the Dodgers' rookie team in Ogden, Utah.

Redwood coach Al Endriss, whose efforts were instrumental in bringing the game into existence, was talking about the game on Wednesday, when players for the North gathered for a three-day stay at the San Francisco Presidio.

"One of the aspects that really bothers me," he said, "Is that kids on the team are signed before the game."

Forry is joined in that situation this year by Clarence Metzger, a pitcher from Kennedy in Sacramento, who was drafted by the Giants and signed more than a week ago.

There are also players who were not chosen to the team but would have been had they not signed. Among them are Sonoma pitcher Dan Briggs, who signed with the Angels after being drafted in the second round, and Jerry White of Washington in San Francisco, who signed with Montreal.

Once a player signs he becomes a professional and can no longer compete in amateur athletics.

WON'T WAIT

Endriss, and almost everyone else connected with the game, which is sponsored by the California Police Activities League, are upset because the major leagues won't wait until after the game to sign players.

"They (the scouts) want help from us, but they won't compromise," said Endriss. He referred to the times during the season when a scout would call him and ask for his opinion on a player, or seek permission to hold an informal workout.

Endriss pointed out that none of the North players will go right to the big leagues. Most will be assigned, like Forry, to rookie teams, which are in the process of beginning their seasons, so that there is no undeniable need for the players to join the teams immediately.

"What does a few games mean in a rookie league?" asked Endriss.

LOWER POTENTIAL

Premature signings definitely lower the potential quality of the game. According to Endriss, the PAL has seriously thought of writing a letter of protest to Bowie Kuhn, the commissioner of baseball.

It must be said for the scouts that, as salesmen, they have the right to think of themselves. Every player they sign means a percentage for them, which in turn means that they will be out to sign as many players as they can, as fast as they can.

To such ends, unfortunately, they often employ cloak and dagger techniques.

"They lie to each other," said Forry before he signed, and Endriss added that he has known of scouts pressuring players to sign with such reasoning as "We won't make this good an offer to you if you play in the (North-South) game."

SOUTH FAVORED

On paper the South is a solid favorite Sunday. Three first-round draft choices will be in their starting lineup, to only one for the North. That would be pitcher Randy Scarbery of Roosevelt in Fresno, a first-round pick of the Houston Astros, of whom Endriss says, "The boy can flat out throw the ball." His presence on the mount could make the difference for the North.

John d'Acquisto of St. Augustine in San Diego, the first-round pick of the Giants, will start on the mound for the South. The other first round draftees are infielder George Ambrow of Polytechnic in Long Beach, taken by the Mets, and the Oakland A's first pick, outfielder Darnell Ford from Fremont in Los Angeles.

Leach Fifth In NCAA Golf Test

The former Novato High School star fired a two-under-par 70 yesterday following his first round 73 Wednesday for a halfway total of 143.

Lanny Wadkins, another sophomore from Wake Forest, holds the individual lead with 70-69—139, followed by Tommy Valentine of Georgia and John Mahaffey of Houston, both at 141, Don Padgett of Indiana at 142 and Randy Erskine of Michigan and Leach at 143.

CLEVELAND OPEN

Young Golfer Says He's Thinking Now

AURORA, Ohio (UPI) — Young Larry Hinson, who says he is spending a little time thinking while swinging the golf club, fired a first-round 5-under-par 65 to take a one-stroke lead into the second 18 holes today of the $150,000 Cleveland Open.

Dave Hill tried the same technique on the 6,661-yard Aurora Country Club Thursday but wasn't as successful. Despite a record breaking 29 on the front nine, his 37 over the last half of the course grouped him at 66 with four others for second place.

DIFFERENCE

Hinson, 24, who overcame a childhood bout with polio, missed the cut in the Cleveland Open a year ago. The difference?

"I'm thinking out there this year," he explained.

"Instead of just hitting the ball, I'm spending a little time thinking about which club to use and where to hit the ball."

Hill fired a 6-under-par 29 on his first nine holes, which set a nine-hole record for the course, the tournament, and the PGA tour this year. It was two strokes higher than the all-time PGA tournament record of 27.

But on the tenth hole, Hill tried to pitch the ball from a difficult lie on down hill rough to the fairway and it rolled into a ditch. He ended with a double bogey for the hole and struggled home with a 37 for the nine.

WRONG CHOICE

"That's what comes of thinking out there," Hill moaned later. "I was trying to play it smart and prepare to settle for a bogey. If I'd just taken a five iron and whaled the ball, I'd probably have landed near the green."

Hill said he did very little thinking on all the holes he played well. He missed a plane, came to the tourney a day late and had never seen the course before. His regular caddy, Junior Moore, made every club selection for him, except for the fatal 10 hole.

Thirty-two players broke par. The leaders said the good scores came about because of heavy rains before the round, which caused the greens to hold iron shots well.

Billy Maxwell, Bob Menne, and Dick Carmody tied at 67. Among 10 players bunched at 68 were Frank Beard, Bob Charles, Bert Greene, Mason Rudolph and Tom Weiskopf.

Added Incentive For Trackmen

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI) —The 1970 National AAU Track and Field championships open a two-night stand at Memorial Stadium tonight and, as an added incentive, officials announced a trip to Russia.

The championships, being hosted by Bakersfield for the fifth time since 1956 and over one of the fastest tracks in the world, already were to determine the makeup of teams for meets next month in France, Scandinavia and West Germany.

The addition of a Russian trip, beginning on July 6, came at a last-minute announcement which many among the 500 competitors on hand considered the one trip to make.

Cannon Heads Field In Sears Point Race

With a field of more than 200 sport car and Grand Prix machines checked into the Bay Area, qualifying will be held tomorrow at Sears Point Raceway for the $25,000 Continental Grand Prix. The Sears Point meet is the fifth and last West Coast stop in the $250,000 Continental Grand Prix series.

Defending Sears Point champion and current point leader in the series, John Cannon of Montreal, Canada, claims the favorite's role for the coveted pole spot. Cannon grabbed that position two weeks ago at Monterey, but not by much.

PRIME CONTENDERS

Four prime contenders will carry low odds into the 100-mile event set for 3:30 p.m. Sunday. Ron Grable of Cupertino, California is the only local driver given a chance at the checkered flag. Grable is in second place in the series and comes to Sears Point fresh from wins at Luguna Seca and Edmonton, Canada.

Dick Smothers of Hollywood and George Wintersteen of Villanova, Pa., are also rated good bets in a pair of new Lotus 70 cars powered by Chevrolet. The English racing machines came into their own at Monterey finishing second and third behind Grable. Japan's Hiroshi Fushida also appears ready for a winning effort after two money finishes at Kent and Monterey.

LAP RECORDS

The qualifying lap record at Sears is 1 minute, 36.79 seconds held by Sam Posey of Sharon, Conn. Cannon holds the lap record during a race at 1:38.02. Both marks are expected to fall in tomorrow's qualifying trials and Sunday's feature over the 2.5 mile, 12 turn road course.

Gates at the track will open at 9 A.M. each day. Tickets have been reduced to $3 Saturday, $5 Sunday. Children are $1. Grandstand seats are free to general admission ticket buyers, parking is free. Sears Point is located on the Blackpoint cutoff between San Rafael and Vallejo.

Kids Warm The Heart Of The Great Mails

Walter Mails stood on the ramparts of Candlestick Park and looked down on the playing field where there was no action. The Giants had the day off. It was an open date on the schedule.

"There's nothing lonelier than an empty ball park," said Mails. "Since 1914 I've lived my life in ball parks. Know when my happiest moments were?"

The good will ambassador of the Giants didn't wait for an answer from the fellow who stood next to him.

"I KNOW what you think they were —the 1920 World Series when I beat Brooklyn 1-0 in the sixth game and we went on to become the world champions at Cleveland," said Mails.

"Well, you're wrong. My happiest moments in baseball have been provided by kids. It warms my heart to hear them cheering. A ball park never is happier than when it is jammed with kids. There's something electric about the excitement they generate.

"I'M 73 now but not in spirit because of the job I've got. I should be paying Horace Stoneham instead of him paying me for the privilege of inviting kids to ball games. But don't tell him that."

Mails, as good a promotion man as he was a pitcher, never is at a loss for words. He is a non-stop talker but occasionally must stop for a breath which he did before continuing.

"THIS IS my 11th year with the Giants sponsoring kids' days," he said. "Know how many kids have been admitted free to Candlestick in that time?"

Once again, Mails didn't wait for an answer. He provided it himself.

"I'LL TELL you," said Mails. "This season we are going to pass the two million mark. How about that?"

Candlestick's concessionaires should be paying Mails, not Stoneham.

Every time Mails announces a free day for the kids, the concessionaries put on extra help. They already have elerted standby crews for July 1, the next kids' day.

MAILS IS a soft touch himself for kids to come to the ball park without hot dog money. He has a hard rule that kids must be escorted in groups by responsible adults to qualify for free admission.

Occasionally unescorted youngsters turn up. Then, Mails' hard rule bends a bit and he ends up buying them hot dogs. He denies this because he steadfastly insists he never breaks rules he sets. Maybe not, but he bends them from time to time.

"THERE IS only one way we can handle thekids' program in an orderly manner," said Mails. "That's by letter from a Little League team manager, a teacher or some other responsible person, who should designate the number of kids in their group."

To whom and where should the letters besent?

"The Great Mails, Candlestick Park," he said.

NORTH-SOUTH PROMOTERS UPSET

Pro Scouts Rob The All-Star Cradle

Motorists who passed Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley yesterday and today between the hours of 10 A.M. and 4 P.M. probably gave no second thought to the baseball practice taking place there. Closer inspection would have revealed, however, that the 16 players using the field belonged to no ordinary team.

It was the Northern California High School all-star team, practicing for Sunday's North-South game at Anaheim Stadium.

Ironically, Marin County's selection to the team, Terra Linda centerfielder Dewey Forry, had to withdraw from the game when he signed a contract with the Los Angeles Dodgers last Sunday. He reported Wednesday to the Dodgers' rookie team in Ogden, Utah.

Redwood coach Al Endriss, whose efforts were instrumental in bringing the game into existence, was talking about the game on Wednesday, when players for the North gathered for a three-day stay at the San Francisco Presidio.

"One of the aspects that really bothers me," he said, "Is that kids on the team are signed before the game."

Forry is joined in that situation this year by Clarence Metzger, a pitcher from Kennedy in Sacramento, who was drafted by the Giants and signed more than a week ago.

There are also players who were not chosen to the team but would have been had they not signed. Among them are Sonoma pitcher Dan Briggs, who signed with the Angels after being drafted in the second round, and Jerry White of Washington in San Francisco, who signed with Montreal.

Once a player signs he becomes a professional and can no longer compete in amateur athletics.

WON'T WAIT

Endriss, and almost everyone else connected with the game, which is sponsored by the California Police Activities League, are upset because the major leagues won't wait until after the game to sign players.

"They (the scouts) want help from us, but they won't compromise," said Endriss. He referred to the times during the season when a scout would call him and ask for his opinion on a player, or seek permission to hold an informal workout.

Endriss pointed out that none of the North players will go right to the big leagues. Most will be assigned, like Forry, to rookie teams, which are in the process of beginning their seasons, so that there is no undeniable need for the players to join the teams immediately.

"What does a few games mean in a rookie league?" asked Endriss.

LOWER POTENTIAL

Premature signings definitely lower the potential quality of the game. According to Endriss, the PAL has seriously thought of writing a letter of protest to Bowie Kuhn, the commissioner of baseball.

It must be said for the scouts that, as salesmen, they have the right to think of themselves. Every player they sign means a percentage for them, which in turn means that they will be out to sign as many players as they can, as fast as they can.

To such ends, unfortunately, they often employ cloak and dagger techniques.

"They lie to each other," said Forry before he signed, and Endriss added that he has known of scouts pressuring players to sign with such reasoning as "We won't make this good an offer to you if you play in the (North-South) game."

SOUTH FAVORED

On paper the South is a solid favorite Sunday. Three first-round draft choices will be in their starting lineup, to only one for the North. That would be pitcher Randy Scarbery of Roosevelt in Fresno, a first-round pick of the Houston Astros, of whom Endriss says, "The boy can flat out throw the ball." His presence on the mount could make the difference for the North.

John d'Acquisto of St. Augustine in San Diego, the first-round pick of the Giants, will start on the mound for the South. The other first round draftees are infielder George Ambrow of Polytechnic in Long Beach, taken by the Mets, and the Oakland A's first pick, outfielder Darnell Ford from Fremont in Los Angeles.

Lanny Wadkins, another sophomore from Wake Forest, holds the individual lead with 70-69—139. followed by Tommy Valentine of Georgia and John Mahaffey of Houston, both at 141, Don Padgett of Indiana at 142 and Randy Erskine of Michigan and Leach at 143.

TABLE TENNIS

In addition to his running, Delgado is quite an accomplished table tennis player, and one time was the Northwest Intercollegiate singles and doubles champ. He also gets in some tennis and badminton when he can.

He has won races of 25 kilometers and 20 kilometers and has finished two marathon runs, but feels his best races are between 6 and 15 miles.

He completed his first year as a math teacher at San Rafael High, was at Armijo High School in Fairfield for two years prior.

Delgado became a proud pop last Saturday when his wife, Lynnette, gave birth to a baby girl. Hep romptly celebrated the following day by winning a 9.3-mile race, the Woodminster run in Oakland.

Novato Nine Cancels Game

Novato, which placed second in the first half of the Northern California American Legion Junior Baseball League, has canceled a practice game with Alameda tomorrow.

Manager Gene Ferretti said Novato fields are being used by other junior baseball programs. Novato's next game opening the second half of league play will be at Vacaville next Wednesday.

Napa has clinched the first half of the league with a 6-1 won-lost record. Novato had 5-3.

CLEVELAND OPEN

Young Golfer Says He's Thinking Now

AURORA, Ohio (UPI) — Young Larry Hinson, who says he is spending a little time thinking while swinging the golf club, fired a first-round 5-under-par 65 to take a one-stroke lead into the second 18 holes today of the $150,000 Cleveland Open.

Dave Hill tried the same technique on the 6,661-yard Aurora Country Club Thursday but wasn't as successful. Despite a record breaking 29 on the front nine, his 37 over the last half of the course grouped him at 66 with four others for second place.

DIFFERENCE

Hinson, 24, who overcame a childhood bout with polio, missed the cut in the Cleveland Open a year ago. The difference?

"I'm thinking out there this year," he explained.

"Instead of just hitting the ball, I'm spending a little time thinking about which club to use and where to hit the ball."

Hill fired a 6-under-par 29 on his first nine holes, which set a nine-hole record for the course, the tournament, and the PGA tour this year. It was two strokes higher than the all-time PGA tournament record of 27.

But on the tenth hole, Hill tried to pitch the ball from a difficult lie on down hill rough to the fairway and it rolled into a ditch. He ended with a double bogey for the hole and struggled home with a 37 for the nine.

WRONG CHOICE

"That's what comes of thinking out there," Hill moaned later. "I was trying to play it smart and prepare to settle for a bogey. If I'd just taken a five iron and whaled the ball, I'd probably have landed near the green."

Hill said he did very little thinking on all the holes he played well. He missed a plane, came to the tourney a day late and had never seen the course before. His regular caddy, Junior Moore, made every club selection for him, except for the fatal 10 hole.

Thirty-two players broke par. The leaders said the good scores came about because of heavy rains before the round, which caused the greens to hold iron shots well.

Billy Maxwell, Bob Menne, and Dick Carmody tied at 67. Among 10 players bunched at 68 were Frank Beard, Bob Charles, Bert Greene, Mason Rudolph and Tom Weiskopf.

Added Incentive For Trackmen

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI) —The 1970 National AAU Track and Field championships, open a two-night stand at Memorial Stadium tonight and, as an added incentive, officials announced a trip to Russia.

The championships, being hosted by Bakersfield for the fifth time since 1956 and over one of the fastest tracks in the world, already were to determine the makeup of teams for meets next month in France, Scandinavia and West Germany.

The addition of a Russian trip, beginning on July 6, came at a last-minute announcement which many among the 500 competitors on hand considered the one trip to make.

Stocks Drop On Light Turnover

NEW YORK (UPI) — Traders, plagued by a number of discomforting news items and the usually pre-weekend caution, sent the stock market lower in light turnover today.

Most point-sized losers cropped up in the oils and electronics, while the rail group continued to react adversely to the Penn Central's petition for reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws.

With about an hour to go, the UPI Market Indicator, measuring all stocks traded, showed a loss of 0.39 per cent on 1,470 issues crossing the tape. Of these, 666 retreated and 481 gained.

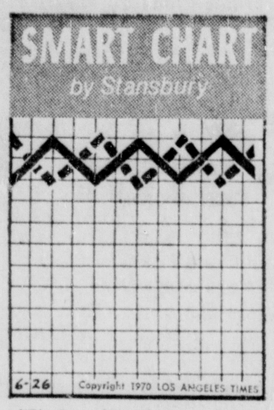
A four-hour turnover of 6,330,000 shares compared with 6,350,000 shares which changed hands at a comparable period yesterday.

The Commerce Department reported that the government's index of leading business indicators declined 0.8 per cent last month. This followed an increase of 0.1 per cent recorded in April.

The report is a statistical aggregate of eight business indicators which usually foreshadow changes in the economy.

Labor Secretary-Designate James D. Hodgson told UPI that inflation is being curbed, and said a recent slowing of wholesale price increases was "a harbinger of things to come," for retail prices.

But Hodgson predicted that unemployment may reach 5.6 per cent of the labor force, the highest peak figure for unemployment any administration official has yet cited.



"Their absurd complaint alleges a price-fixing conspiracy with our leading competitor."

HICKSVILLE, N.Y. (UPI) — Servo Corporation of America announced Monday it has been awarded a $2,146,980 contract from the U.S. Army for automatic atmospheric sounding sets.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — General Dynamics Corp. has obtained a $20 million Air Force letter contract to produce Atlas space launch vehicles.

Wallboard Cost Up

PORTALND, Ore. (UPI) — Georgia-Pacific Co. will raise prices July 1, on regular and fire rated gypsum wallboard by $2 to $2.50 a thousand square feet in California, the Pacific Northwest and the Southwest.

Defense Boxcar Order Proposed To Aid Harvest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Garner E. Shriver, R-Kan., has proposed to have the Defense Department buy its own boxcars so the western states can have enough to move the wheat harvest.

He said there is a chronic boxcar shortage around harvest time, much of it because the cars are held by the Defense Department in readiness in certain yards, at a demurrage fee. The railroads needing them cannot get them back into service, Shriver said.

"In Kansas alone, it has been estimated the boxcar shortage will result in an economic loss of $100 million this year," Shriver said.

The bill he proposed would let the Secretary of Defense arrange to build or buy 10,000 federal purpose box cars for defense freight.

Controversial Navy Ships Order Given

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy has let its biggest shipbuilding contract since World War II amid a congressional controversy leaving some doubt whether the agreement ever will be carried out.

The contract, totaling $2.14 billion, calls for construction of 30-new class destroyers, all at the Ingalls Shipbuilding Yards now owned by Litton Systems, Inc., at Pasacagoula, Miss.

Stocks Drop On Light Turnover

NEW YORK (UPI) — Traders, plagued by a number of discomforting news items and the usually pre-weekend caution, sent the stock market lower in light turnover today.

Most point-sized losers cropped up in the oils and electronics, while the rail group continued to react adversely to the Penn Central's petition for reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws.

With about an hour to go, the UPI Market Indicator, measuring all stocks traded, showed a loss of 0.39 per cent on 1,470 issues crossing the tape. Of these, 666 retreated and 481 gained.

A four-hour turnover of 6,330,000 shares compared with 6,350,000 shares which changed hands at a comparable period yesterday.

The Commerce Department reported that the government's index of leading business indicators declined 0.8 per cent last month. This followed an increase of 0.1 per cent recorded in April.

The report is a statistical aggregate of eight business indicators which usually foreshadow changes in the economy.

Labor Secretary-Designate James D. Hodgson told UPI that inflation is being curbed, and said a recent slowing of wholesale price increases was "a harbinger of things to come," for retail prices.

But Hodgson predicted that unemployment may reach 5.6 per cent of the labor force, the highest peak figure for unemployment any administration official has yet cited.

"Their absurd complaint alleges a price-fixing conspiracy with our leading competitor."

Defense Boxcar Order Proposed To Aid Harvest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Garner E. Shriver, R-Kan., has proposed to have the Defense Department buy its own boxcars so the western states can have enough to move the wheat harvest.

He said there is a chronic boxcar shortage around harvest time, much of it because the cars are held by the Defense Department in readiness in certain yards, at a demurrage fee. The railroads needing them cannot get them back into service, Shriver said.

"In Kansas alone, it has been estimated the boxcar shortage will result in an economic loss of $100 million this year," Shriver said.

The bill he proposed would let the Secretary of Defense arrange to build or buy 10,000 federal purpose box cars for defense freight.

Controversial Navy Ships Order Given

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy has let its biggest shipbuilding contract since World War II amid a congressional controversy leaving some doubt whether the agreement ever will be carried out.

The contract, totaling $2.14 billion, calls for construction of 30-new class destroyers, all at the Ingalls Shipbuilding Yards now owned by Litton Systems, Inc., at Pasacagoula, Miss.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Annuities Vs. Money In Bank

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I would appreciate your comments on the wisdom of purchasing an immediate annuity as opposed to leaving the money in the bank. — F.H.

A. If bank interest from your capital is sufficient to meet all your living expenses — including increments to cover probable inflation — by all means leave it in the bank. If, however, your position is similar to a large percentage of our senior citizens, you are faced with the real possibility of outliving your capital. An annuity contract, which guarantees income for the lifetime of the owner, can alleviate this fearsome prospect.

Because annuity income is in part a return of invested capital, it is generally paid at a significantly higher rate than is possible through a savings account. In addition, that portion which is classified as a return of capital is not subject to income tax.

The annual income from a $100,000 annuity, depending on the age of the annuitant at purchase and the various terms and provisions included, would be approximately $9,000. The same sum deposited in the bank at 5 per cent interest would be exhausted in 17 years if $9,000 was withdrawn annually.

Q. I own 800 shares of Midland-Ross in addition to holding American Telephone, Columbia Gas and Standard Oil of New Jersey. I am 80 and not able to keep posted on my holdings. Should I sell Midland-Ross? — S.H.

A. While Midland-Ross is not of the same high quality as the rest of your portfolio, I would hold it. Midland's disposition of three marginal divisions in 1969 and further operational adjustments this year should be reflected in improved profit margins.

Although these three divisions contributed about $60 million to sales volume annually, earnings in the area of the $2.01 per share reported in 1969 should be achieved for 1970. The 35 cents a share quarterly dividend rate which has been maintained for 16 quarters appears secure. When management's program for upgrading corporate operations is translated into improved profits, share recovery should follow.

AMID WARNINGS OF PERIL

It's 'Happy Birthday' U.N.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The United Nations celebrated its 25th birthday today with a warning from one of its original drafters that world events threaten to relegate it to "marginal importance."

"The United Nations is in the throes of a crisis," Gen. Carlos P. Romulo told a formal commemorative session at the San Francisco Opera House, where delegates met in 1945 to give birth to the world body."

Romulo said the press of events "threatens to reduce the U.N." to margional importance when it should be playing the central role at this decisive stage in world affairs."

The Philippine foreign secretary, former president of the General Assembly, pointed out that the U.S.—USSR strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) "are being held outside U.N. auspices.

"So are the negotiations for a detente between the NATO and Warsaw Pact Countries. The United Nations has only a secondary part in the diplomatic soundings toward peace in the Middle East, and has no role at all in the settlement of the Vietnam War."

Romulo spoke at a formal commemoration by diplomats from the U.N.'s 126 member countries in the San Francisco Opera House.

The Western White House at San Clemente said today President Nixon would not be able to attend the ceremonies because of prior commitments but was honoring the occasion by entertaining U Thant at the White House later.

Former President Harry S Truman sent a special message from his home in Independence, Mo., recalling how the U.N. was formed from the ashes of World War II—"In the midst of war we had been planning to do away with war once and for all."

The 86-year-old Truman said his first decision after the death of President Franklin Roosevelt on April 12, 1945, was "that the United Nations Conference at San Francisco would meet on April 25 with no delay or change in schedule.

". . .If in the intervening 25 years the United Nations has not always lived up to our highest hopes, it has nevestheless managed to make substantial contributions to peacekeeping

The official observance will conclude tonight with a glittering state dinner at the Fairmont Hotel at which Secretary General U Thant will speak.

The charter, signed in the War Memorial Veterans Building after three months of work in the Opera House, was put on display for the occasion.

ALL SAFE IN SKY DRAMA

Jetliner, 104 Aboard, Shot In War

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — An Italian jetliner was hit, possibly by a rocket, as it flew over Syria at 31,000 feet today during fierce ground-air fighting between Syrian and Israeli forces. It made a safe landing despite a yard-wide hole blasted in one wing.

None of the 104 persons aboard the Alitalia DC8 was hurt in the incident, believed to be the first time a commercial plane has been damaged by gunfire during flight over the war-torn Middle East.

Officials said it was not known whether the plane was hit by Syrian or Israeli fire or by a rocket or antiaircraft fire. They reported the incident happened after Syrian authorities ordered all commercial aircraft out of the area for security reasons.

Later both Syria and Israel blamed the other for the incident.

Syrian forces are known to be equipped with Soviet-built antiaircraft rockets capable of hitting targets at high altitude. Conventional antiaircraft shells are more accurate at lower altitudes.

The pilot of the jetliner, Giorgio Pizzo, 38, said he was close to Damascus on a flight to Rome from Tehran, Iran, via Beirut, when the plane was hit.

"At first I thought it was a collision with another plane because there was a British Overseas Airways Corp. plane scheduled half an hour ahead of us," Pizzo told newsmen after landing at Beirut. "Then I realized we had been hit by a shell.

"There was no explosion. I figured it hit the fuel tank and switched off to avoid fire. I landed at Beirut without flaps.

"Frankly, I am surprised that the plane did not explode. When we got out at Beirut we were astonished at the extent of damage — a yard-wide hole. Of course, we lost a lot of fuel."

Pizzo, an Alitalia pilot for 15 years, said there were 94 passengers and 10 crew members aboard.

"I am sure it wasn't intentional," Pizzo said. "We were hit by a stray shell."

One of the crew, stewardess Ordella Nicoletti, said she believed the plane was hit by an antiaircraft missile.

"The lower part of the left wing was hit," she said. "I was talking to a woman near the wing which was hit and I could see splinters flying from it. There was no great panic but the whole plane was about to lose balance. Passengers were very scared and the women were screaming."

The plane made a normal landing at Beirut. Passengers got off through an emergency exit.

Tentative $36 Million Budget Set

By DAVID DIETZ

Marin County supervisors, acting in the wake of citizen protests over rising government costs, wiped out proposed pay raises yesterday for 21 department heads and left an uncertain number of their assistants with only $1 token increases.

The action, estimated to save more than $100,000, came as the board tentatively adopted a $36 million budget for 1970-71, climaxing two weeks of public hearings. That left the projected tax rate at $2.49 per $100 of assessed valuation, up nearly 10 cents from this year.

The budget windup also saw the board make an added cut in county supplementation to Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) grants, chop employees previously voted into the record spending program and approve sweeping changes in next year's capital improvements program.

NOISY SHOW

Earlier, about 300 persons filled the board chambers in a noisy show of support for a hastily organized drive to restore the budget to its current level of $33 million and hold the tax rate at $2.395.

Despite appeals by County Administrator Alan Bruce, the board unanimously declined pay increases to department heads, and agreed to vote the $1 hike only to assistants who may otherwise be passed on the pay scale by subordinates who recently won a 5 per cent contractual boost.

County Personnel Director Maren Rinne had recommended increases from 7.5 to 10 per cent for the 144 management people. Bruce wouldn't endorse that, even ruling himself out for a proposed boost from $2,334 monthly to $2,510, but said giving department heads and their assistants anything less than the 5 per cent contractual hike afforded the bulk of the county's 1,200 employees would be unsound.

BRUCE APPEALS

Bruce's appeal quickly fell flat when Supervisor Louis H. Baar, with support from Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni, moved to deny any raises. Bruce and two other department heads, Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell and Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, pointed out this would result in many assistants drawing less pay than subordinates.

Arrigoni drew no response from Broemmel when he asked if the assessor would be willing to offset any raises by cutting items from his previously approved budget.

"The way industry is laying off people," said Supervisor William A. Gnoss, "the people in these positions ought to be satisfied they're holding their jobs."

But Bruce said it was a "rough situation" to ask management to accept no raise in view of budget economies enacted by the board.

Board chairman John F. McInnis observed that manage-

Israeli Tanks Hit Key Syria Bases

Artillery, Jets Join In Attack

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israeli tanks attacking with air and artillery support swept into Syria across the Golan Heights cease-fire line today in a major offensive against Arab bases. Syrian forces counteracted and both sides reported heavy fighting.

Israel communiques said the armored task force "seized control" of Syrian positions in a foray that began at noon on the third day of one of the biggest battles since the 1967 Middle East War.

Syria announced that warplanes, tanks and mechanized infantry launched a counterattack four hours later against Israeli forces which "partially infiltrated" some positions. A spokesman in Damascus said the Syrians were "destroying enemy forces" and that 12 Israeli tanks had been knocked out.

The incursion near Rafid in the southern part of the 50-mile Golan Heights front came as wave after wave of Israeli fighter-bombers attacked three Syrian bases, two of them on the outskirts of Damascus, for the second consecutive day.

Syrian jets rose to challenge the raiders, and Damascus communiques said seven planes were shot down. Israel conceded the loss of one plane, and claimed its pilots knocked down two Soviet-built MIG21s.

The Golan Heights has been a flashpoint ever since the 1967 was when Israeli forces stormed into the area and seized it in a move to deprive Syrian gunners of vantage points used for years to shell Israeli settlements north of the Sea of Galilee.

Israeli and Egyptian warplanes traded raids across the Suez Canal today, and Israel said its gunners shot down an Egyptian MIG17. A spokesman in Tel Aviv said two Israeli soldiers were wounded by Egyptian air strikes.

Israeli officials said the armored task force swept into Syrian-held territory near the Rafid bulge in the middle of the Golan Heights cease-fire line. Near Rafid, 12 miles south of Quneitra, the Israelei line bulges forward into Syrian territory in the area where most of the major clashes on the Golan Heights have started.

Israeli commanders said the tank column rolled over the

Pentagon Presses For POW Listings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon today renewed its call for "a full accounting" by North Vietnam of all American military men and civilians being held captive by the Communists.

In a statement, the Defense Department rejected as "inaccurate and incomplete" a list of 334 American prisoners of war which three Americans who visited Hanoi reported in New York to be complete and verified by the North Vietnamese.

Daniel Z. Henkin, assistant defense secretary for public affairs, said the list compiled by a New York peace group "does not include the names of at least 40 men whom we carry as being 'captured.'"

(Among those prisoners is Air Force Capt. William W. Butler of San Rafael who was shot down in November 1967.

Mrs. Butler and other members of the National League of Families of American Prisoners of War in Southeast Asia were to meet with Charles W. Yost, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, today in San Francisco to ask for U.N. backing for efforts to learn the names of all captives and to win better treatment for them.)

"The unofficial release of an inaccurate and incomplete list of names from unofficial sources can only add to the great anguish of the hundreds of wives, children and parents of more than 1,500 servicemen who are prisoners, including captured," Henkin said.

"What we want from the enemy is a complete and official identification of all men who are prisoners, including civilian newsmen, and a full accounting of all military and civilians who are missing."

Grand Jurors Will Probe Cotati Case

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Grand Jury next month will begin investigation of charges of conflict of interest leveled against three Rohnert Park city officials.

Dist. Atty. Kiernan Hyland said the grand jury investigation was ordered after meetings with Paul Golis, leader of citizens accusing the officials; Edward Trigeiro, grand jury foreman, and John W. Hawkes, Assistant District Attorney.

Golis and 22 other residents have charged Councilmen James W. Rodgers and Jack Buchanan and City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan with conflict of interest in connection with a franchise granted to Storer Cable Television.

In a petition to the district attorney's office and grand jury, the citizens charged that business dealings of the officials with representatives of the cable television firm had prevented them from seeking good performance from the firm.

The three officials, saying they had nothing to fear, joined

Yank Jet Bombs Antiaircraft Site Deep Inside Of North Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI) — A U.S. Navy jet bombed an antiaircraft site deep inside North Vietnam in the first American air strike north of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) in a month, the U.S. Military Command said today.

Military spokesmen said the pilot of the A7 Corsair fighter-bomber was ordered to attack the site Thursday when antiaircraft gunners took "hostile actions" against the reconnaissance aircraft it was escorting.

In Cambodia, military spokesmen reported Communist forces launched a full-scale attack before dawn today on Kompong Speu, the major town on the highway linking the capital of Phnom Penh with the country's only deep sea port and oil refinery.

The Command said the gunsite bombed in North Vietnam was northwest of the coastal city of Vinh, 135 miles north of the DMZ that divides the two Vietnams. Results of the attack were not determined, spokesmen said, but there was no damage to the American planes.

It was the first air strike against North Vietnam since May 25 when U.S. planes raided gun positions that had fired on reconnaissance aircraft near Dong Hoi, which is south of Vinh. Earlier in May, American planes raided North Vietnam's southern panhandle regions in a weekend series of missions that U.S. sources described as a response to increasing hostilities by the North Vietnamese along the DMZ.

In Cambodia, spokesmen said the Communist attack in Kompong Speu began with an assault on a Cambodian military officers barracks on the southern side of the town, then spread to other areas on its outskirts. Cambodian troops were reported fighting from defensive positions around the edge of the town.

Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops were reported to have surrounded Kompong Speu earlier this week, and the town has been harassed by sporadic gunfire for the past two days.

Communists held Kompong Speu and closed the highway for several days earlier this month but were driven out by Cambodian and South Vietnamese armored infantry units and planes in a battle that left the town heavily damaged.

In Saigon, the U.S. Command reported the loss of two American aircraft earlier this month over Laos and said total aircraft losses in the war since Jan. 1, 1960, had passed the 7,000 mark. Military sources said the aircraft lost had a total value of about $7 billion.

Spokesmen said the two planes lost over Laos crashed from operational causes. The pilot of a carrier-based Navy A4 Skyhawk was killed in a crash June 22, and the pilot of an Air Force OV10 Bronco parachuted to safety when his plane crashed June 17.

In fighting in South Vietnam, the Command reported 10 Americans killed and 26 wounded in two battles and Communist mortam attacks. And another battalion of the 1st Air Cavalry Division was withdrawn today, spokesmen said, reducing American troop strength there to about 6,000 four days before the deadline for total withdrawal.

American troops also discovered a 150-ton arms cache 13 miles inside Cambodia and 98 miles northwest of Saigon, spokesmen said.

Six Communist mortar attacks late Thursday night and early today against U.S. installations in South Vietnam killed one American and wounded 11 others, the Command said. Nine Americans were killed and 15 wounded in two battles.

Marin Beach Areas May Face Quarantine

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

REDWOOD CITY — A state quarantine to bar public use of polluted areas of Bolinas Lagoon and Bolinas Bay was asked yesterday by regional water pollution officials. (See other stories, page 6.)

The request for the order from the state Department of Public Health did not detail the area to be closed to all use, except boating. Instead, it declared the area should be as large "as needed to protect public health."

The source of the pollution, the Bolinas Community Public Utility District, was ordered to bar any new connection to its system until it completes a sewage treatment plant in 1972. The order brought prompt objections from two property owners about to build in the community.

The district is the only one in the Bay Area still discharging raw sewage all year, but is nearing agreement on a joint treatment system with the Stinson Beach County Water District.

Roger B. James, senior engineer for the regional board, told newsmen that the quarantine could include Stinson Beach State Park. But Morgan Stewart, supervising sanitary engineer for the state Department of Public Health, told newsmen he doubted the state beach would be included.

Stewart said a recent study by his department suggested that the quality of water may be safe for swimming in the area, except within 1,000 feet of the

Warsaw Pact Move

LONDON (UPI) — Russia has agreed with its Warsaw Pact allies not to reject a formal offer from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) to negotiate European East-West security issues, a high Communist diplomatic source disclosed today.

A joint Warsaw Pact statement, announcing the Red bloc's surprise decision is to be handed to the governments of NATO imminently. It could, if meant in earnest, open prospects for East-West exploratory European peace talks, Western authorities said.

Red Writer Ousted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Soviet journalist will be expelled from the United States in apparent retaliation for the Russian government's refusal to renew the visa of Time magazine newsman Stanley Cloud.

Expulsion of Boris M. Orekhov, New York correspondent for the Communist party newspaper Pravda, is expected to be officially announced soon by the State Department.

Reds Write Queen

HONG KONG (UPI) — Communist China sent a message of greeting to Queen Elizabeth II on her birthday earlier this month, indicating an improvement in Chinese relations with Great Britain, the South China Morning Post said today.

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Radical students of New Delhi University burned effigies Thursday of U.S. President Nixon and South Korean President Park Chung Hee.

The demonstration was held to protest what the students called "years of shameless occupation of Korea by American imperialists."

Hospital Bill Seen As Campaign Fuel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats served notice today they plan to make President Nixon's almost certain-to-be overturned veto of the $2.76 billion Hill-Burton hospital construction bill a major issue in the November elections.

The Senate quickly scheduled a vote Tuesday on overriding the veto after the House Thursday again passed the measure on a 279-to-98 roll call vote — 27 more votes than the two-thirds majority required. It was the first time in 10 years the House had voted to override a presidential veto.

Sixty-seven Republicans joined 212 Democrats to pass the bill, "the objections of the President to the contrary notwithstanding." Only three Democrats — Reps. William M. Colmer, Miss.; O.C. Fisher, Tex., and John O. Marsh, Va. — supported the veto.

But Democratic chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien announced that 88 of the 95 GOP members who voted against the bill would "be primary targets for Democratic candidates" in November.

Nixon returned the bill to Congress Tuesday without his signature partly because it overshot his budget proposals by more than $350 million. More important, he said, it included language to require that he spend all the money Congress might appropriate later not only for hospital construction but for other major health programs, including the vast research efforts of the National Institute of Health. The spending requirement would make it more difficult to stay within spending limitations imposed by Congress itself, Nixon said.

He called the bill "a long step down the road of fiscal irresponsibility" and asked Congress to change the objectionable features.

It was the Senate, however, that unanimously added the requirement about spending future Congressional appropriations, and it was expected the veto would be easily overridden there.

The main aim of the bill is to extend for three years grant provisions of the Hill-Burton Act that is about to expire after 24 years. It was under those provisions that the government helped to foot the bill for hospital construction.

The authorization bill also would set up a new loan subsidy program for hospital construction as was requested by Nixon, who wanted the old grant system abolished and emphasis shifted to out-patient facilities.

House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma said Nixon's veto showed "the deep chasm separating the Republican administration and the Democratic Congress," in reordering the nation's priorities.

If the Senate goes along with the House as expected, the bill will be only the 74th measure enacted out of 2,252 bills Presidents have vetoed since 1792.

Assigned by the New York World in 1889 to duplicate the feat of Jules Verne's hero in "Around the World in Eighty Days," Nellie Bly gained fame by making the trip in 72 days, 11 hours, and 6 minutes.

New Cabinet Aide Predicts Jobless Rate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration's new labor secretary says up to 4.6 million Americans may be out of jobs before the situation begins to improve.

Secretary-designate James D. Hodgson told UPI in an interview the unemployment rate could go as high as 5.6 per cent, which would add a half million jobless to 4.1 million reported on the rolls last month.

He is the first administration official to set that precise a figure on the prospective peak of unemployment which has been rising sharply since January. But he gave no prediction as to when turnaround might come.

George P. Schultz, whom Hodgson succeeds July 1, has said only the unemployment rate could go still higher. Herbert Stein, a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, has said the average for the year could be as high as 5 per cent.

Hodgson said any further rise in joblessness probably will be centered in the defense industry, but he said overall unemployment should decrease later as the nation shifts from a wartime to a peacetime economy and inflation is curbed.

Another Nixon Dilemma: Should He Veto Expanded School Aid?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With even the Republicans ignoring White House appeals for economy, the Senate has adopted a $4.8 billion aid-to-education bill that exceeds President Nixon's request by $1 billion and may give him an election year dilemma.

The near-midnight final vote on the measure Thursday was 70-4.

Unless Congress takes back some of its generosity in shaping a final compromise version of the measure, Nixon may be sorely tempted to veto it again — and again risk humilation in a showdown like yesterday's hospital bill override vote in the House.

In addition to tacking $265.5 million onto the education bill through the floor amendments — for everything from bilingual schooling for American Indians to $5 million for "dropout prevention — the Senate:

—Hooted down, in a loud voice vote, a proposal by Republican Sen. Edward J. Gurney of Florida to bar universities from closing down briefly this fall to give students a chance to work in election campaigns. Some politicians believe the students will be effective in helping elect antiwar Democratic candidates to Congress.

—Approved, over the opposition of 15 southerners and three Western Republicans, a $150 million down payment on Nixon's plan to help southern school districts carry out desegregation plans this fall.

U.S. Urges Crackdown To Halt Kidnappings

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Secretary of State William P. Rogers called today for concerted action by the Organization of American States (OAS) against the wave of diplomatic kidnappings and terrorism in Latin America.

In an address to the OAS general assembly, Rogers urged the 23-nation organization to "initiate steps to prepare a new international agreement defining these acts as international crimes and establishing appropriate measures to deal with them."

He said the United States supports proposals to define terrorism and kidnapping as "common crimes and to treat them accordingly, domestically and internationally."

Rogers did not mention directly the question of political asylum for persons who engage in kidnapping and other forms of terrorism. But his endorsement of the proposal that they be treated as "common crimes" appeared to give indirect support to moves by Argentina and Brazil to have OAS states agree to deny political asylum to such persons.

Argentina and Brazil, where a number of kidnapings of diplomats have occurred, are leading the drive to have the OAS condemn kidnapings and other acts of terrorism. This has emerged as the key political issue at the two-week meeting which opened Thursday.

Argentina and Brazil appeared to have majority support, although Panama Foreign Minister Juan Antonio Tack said his country was not interested in discussing this point "unless the conference also agrees to consider the terrorism of the oligarchy."

The OAS, he said, must show interest in dealing with "the terrorism of hunger and the terrorism of poverty" in Latin America.

On other questions, Rogers told the OAS assembly:

—The United States has decided to submit its policies for hemisphere economic development for review by the Inter-America Committee on the Alliance for Progress, starting this summer or early fall.

—The United States is adjusting its trade policies to encourage a search for export markets for Latin American manufactured products, in an effort to end the region's heavy dependence on manufactured imports.

—Member states should use improved machinery for the peaceful settlement of disputes now being established by the OAS.

Inmate Listed Serious After 4 Stab Wounds

A 30-year-old San Quentin Prison inmate was reported in serious condition and undergoing surgery at the prison hospital today after he was stabbed four times in the back this morning.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said Thomas D. Peters was found in front of his cell in the south block at 7:30 a.m. today. He had been stabbed with an icepick-type weapon, Park said.

One of Peters' lungs was collapsed, Park said, and the other may be injured. He also suffered head injuries.

Prison officials have a possible suspect in the stabbing, Park said, but his name was not released pending investigation.

Peters was serving five-years-to-life for a 1961 first-degree burglary conviction in Los Angeles County.

Ex-Felon Bound Over On Three Charges

Vernon Robert Solomon, 34-year-old ex-convict who lives in San Francisco, has been bound over to Marin Superior Court on charges of burglarizing a Fairfax residence on June 26, 1969, and two counts of possessing stolen property the same month.

He is to appear in court Monday for arraignment.

Solomon is also awaiting trial in superior court on a charge of burglarizing a Mill Valley residence on June 28, 1969.

district's discharge at the mouth of the lagoon. Further study, however, taking a week or two, would be required before imposing a quarantine, he said.

The area long has been posted against taking shellfish, which accumulate bacteria from the sewage.

Daniel F. Murphy, the regional board's area engineer, conceded that violations of the shellfish ban were common. His own photographs of the area showed several eager clam diggers.

Murphy told the board he did not know if the diggers were still alive.

Several directors suggested that the Bolinas district build interim treatment facilities, but this idea was dropped when it was pointed out that the cost would be prohibitive.

Objecting to the ban on new connections — in effect a ban on new construction — two immediately affected property owners pleaded unsuccessfully for exemptions. The two, Hunt Conrad and Ernest Hansen, were told they could seek exemptions from the board at a later date on the basis of economic hardship.

Robert Murphy, San Rafael attorney representing Conrad, said his client already had spent $20,000 in planning his home.

The prospects for the two, however, appeared uncertain in light of the county health department's own ban on new connections in the community. Morris Scott, supervising sanitarian in the department, told the board that the department intended to impose the ban until the treatment plant opens in February 1972.

At the urging of Hugh Dougherty, a director of the Stinson Beach district, the board asked the State Water Resources Control Board to assign the same high priority to the Stinson Beach district's application for federal funds given to the Bolinas district's application. The state board was about to split the joint application for the joint sewage system, Dougherty said.

"You cannot drive the front of a car faster than the back end," Dougherty said of the state's splitting of the joint application.

Failure of the Bolinas district to meet the timetable for construction of the system will subject it to fines up to $6,000 a day, the board's staff warned. The timetable was set by the district board.

The district discharges about 37,000 gallons of waste a day, the staff reported. It illustrated the point with color slides showing globs of fecal material floating in the lagoon mouth.

Stinson Beach and newer areas of Bolinas are on septic tanks, and the board commended the county's drafting of an ordinance to toughen regulation of the tanks. The number of tanks in the two communities has about doubled to some 730 since 1954, the board's staff reported.

Murphy predicted that there will be "considerable resistance" to the ordinance when county supervisors hear it on July 7.

The Pentagon lists 1,553 servicemen as missing or captured as of June 30. Of those catpured, 376 are believed to be in North Vietnam—42 more than listed by the Americans in New York.

A Pentagon spokesman said also listed as missing are three American newsmen and 15 other reporters fom other countries who had been covering the Vietnam War.

The New York report was said to be the first North Vietnamese comment on the list of prisoners drawn up by the Committee of Liaison with Families of Servicemen detained in North Vietnam, headed by Mrs. Cora Weiss.

The list, based on letters from prisoners between Dec. 1 and April 7, was submitted to Hanoi for verification last April, the group said.

Hearing Delay In Walton Firing Case

A court hearing on a request for a preliminary injunction against the Sausalito School District board for its May 4 firing of Sidney F. Walton Jr., Martin Luther King School principal, was continued yesterday until Wednesday at 9 a.m. at the request of Walton's attorney.

Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley granted the continuance after attorney John George requested the extra time to allow him to work for an out-of-court settlement with Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino, representing the school district.

George refused to reveal the nature of the proposed settlement.

On June 1, Walton charged in a petition filed in the court that a "notice of intention to dismiss" served on him May 15 was the type of notification required for permanent employees of the district.

Since he is still a probationary employee, he claimed he should have been notified no later than March 15, as required by the Education Code.

The Wednesday hearing will be before Judge Joseph S. Wilson.

Fight Eases On Sewage Wastes

I-J Special Report

REDWOOD CITY — Pressure to bar all sewage discharge from Richardson Bay, Corte Madera Creek and San Rafael Bay was eased temporarily yesterday by regional water pollution officials in light of recent local efforts to attack the problem.

The staff of the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board suggested months ago that the board consider giving dihchargers a deadline to stop dumping often inadequately treated sewage in the shallow waters. (Another water board story, page 1.)

The staff suggestion raised a storm of protest from affected sanitary district officials who argued successfully that more time was needed to study and build alternate discharge methods — especially to study the feasibility of reclaiming the waste water for uses such as irrigation.

In the case of Richardson Bay, considered by the regional board to have the most critical pollution problem, the basic alternatives are either to reclaim the waste water or to ship it through Tennessee Valley for treatment and dumping in the ocean.

The regional board's staff yesterday won board approval, however, for a suggestion that Richardson Bay dischargers also consider "fail-safe treatment" until either of the more permanent solutions is reached. This would require costly construction of duplicate treatment facilities to be used when existing facilities fail — which does happen.

The board also pulled in its horns on a proposed crackdown on polluting houseboats in Richardson Bay. The county was acting on the problem, according to a staff report on new county ordinances and a tougher enforcement program to force houseboats to connect to sewers instead of dumping raw sewage in the bay.

Gavin Craig, chief legal counsel for the State Water Resources Control Board, reported that the county counsel's office was "proceeding with reasonable dispatch, and there's a reasonable promise that the situation will be cleaned up in time — how much time is the question."

Craig advised the board that to act now would be "somewhat a duplication of the county's efforts."

Hugh Lawrence, Sausalito attorney representing major property owners in the houseboat area, assured the board that pending plans for modern berthing facilities — including sewer connections — would accommodate all the houseboats.

The regional board urged the county to develop by Sept. 15 "a firm and detailed time schedule" to speed connection of the houseboats to sewers.

The board's staff reported that the 284 houseboats were dumping an estimated 43,050 gallons of waste water a day in the bay.

School Salary Pact

The Independent-Journal erred Tuesday in reporting the Sausalito School District board has "voted to reinstate James T. Toliver's salary to an administrative level of $14,024." The board simply agreed to honor Toliver's administrative contract with the district, a contract which came into effect automatically in April when the former school board rescinded a resolution which would have reduced Toliver, currently vice principal at Martin Luther King School, to a teaching post.

U.S. Ban On All Sewage In Bay Asked

I-J Special Report

REDWOOD CITY — A federal ban on all sewage discharge into the bay from all vessels was proposed yesterday by the staff of the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

Fred H. Dierker, executive officer of the board, said this will be his recommendation to the board at its July 16 meeting.

He said the action could be sought under a new federal law that provided that a state could ask the secretary of the interior to impose such a ban.

The regional board long has favored such a ban, but always runs into strong opposition from the marine industry. The issue was revived this time by Matson Navigation Company's plan to use its ships as public restaurants while in port.

The board's staff estimated that more than six million gallons of sewage a year are discharged from major passenger ships in the bay.

The new law exempted "public vessels" from most of its provisions, Dierker reported. It was uncertain whether the Navy could be covered by such a ban if one were imposed, he said.

Alaska's Summit Lake drains simultaneously into the Bering Sea to the west and the Pacific Ocean to the south, on either side of the Continental Divide.

Bill Giving South More Of Gas Tax Clears Panel

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation boosting Southern California's share of gasoline tax revenue by 5 per cent has cleared the Assembly Transportation Committee and awaited action by the full house today.

The committee Thursday approved the measure after changing its Senate-passed provisions, which would have permitted the state Highway Commission to allocate the entire revenue as it saw fit.

Currently Southern California's share of the money is 55 per cent and Northern California gets 45 per cent under a formula established in 1947. The measure by Sen. James R. Mills, D-San Diego, would have wiped out the formula in favor of commission discretion.

The bill is now identical to another measure that has already cleared the Assembly and been sent to the Senate. Similar legislation has always died in the upper house.

Mills, who did not object to the change in his bill, warned the committee such action could prove fatal to the proposal if it is returned to the Senate for concurrence in the amendment.

"The Senate Committee on Transportation, I believe, would recommend against concurrence," he said. "You, perhaps, can predict the outcome as well as I."

John Fraser, lobbyist for the Northern California State Automobile Association, opposed boosting the south's share. He said the north would lose $38 million if the formula is changed.

Under the present 55-45 formula, Southern California gets $418 million and the north gets $342 million a year for highway construction. The 60-40 formula would give the south $456 million and the north $304 million.

Special Session

The Ross School District board will have a special budget session Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Ross School library to discuss approval of a tentative 1970-71 budget of $501,378.

Female Devices Cause Sewage Plant Havoc

I-J Special Report

REDWOOD CITY — Regional water pollution officials yesterday called for state investigation of a new female device that has sewage treatment plant operators up the walls.

The device is a small rubber cup used during menstruation. They flush easily, but raise havoc when they reach the treatment plants.

There they literally gum up the works, and have to be cleaned out of the filtering equipment by hand. That's on the new equipment — on the old, the cups skim on through and come up bobbing in the receiving waters.

Bay Area plant operators wonder if the day is coming when there will be millions of the little cups covering the surface of the bay.

Board chairman William C. Weber of San Mateo won a unanimous vote to ask the State Water Resources Control Board to investigate the problem.

Manson Girl Tries To Fire Attorney

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Leslie Van Houten, 19-year-old defendant in the Tate-Labianca murder case, unsuccessfully tried to fire her lawyer Thursday in a united move by the "Manson Family" to prevent a "court drama."

Miss Van Houten, one of the three female members of the cult accused in the seven slayings, interrupted court proceedings as attorney Ira Reiner was questioning the prospective jurors about their qualifications.

"Your honor, he's not speaking my voice, he's speaking Mr. Reiner's voice," she said. "I want to dismiss him or release him or whatever it is."

Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older denied her request and the defendant muttered, "where do I go from there?"

Another of the Manson "girls," Susan Atkins, 22, sought Wednesday to prevent her lawyer from questioning the jurors and she was similarly rebuffed.

Charles Manson, 35, accused mastermind of the slayings, earlier instructed his attorney, Irving Kanarek, not to raise any defense but to sit mute in the courtroom during jury selection which he has done.

Miss Atkins attorney, Daye Shinn, said the move to accept the 12 jurors without interrogation was an attempt by the "Manson Family" to put up a unified defense.

However, Shinn, Reiner, and the third woman defendant's attorney, Paul Fitzgerald, have ignored the requests and questioned the prospective jurors.

Fitzgerald, who represents Patricia Krenwinkel, said of his client, "she and the others want to deny the establishment of the satisfaction of putting on a court drama."

Later in the day, Manson made an appearance in superior court in nearby Santa Monica in connection with the killing of musician Gary Hinman.

When Manson's request that he be permitted to act as his own attorney was denied, he turned his back on the judge as he has done previously in the Tate-Labianca proceedings.

Judge Laurence Rittenbrand ordered Manson to sit down.

"Am I forced to do that?" Manson asked.

"Yes, that's an order," the judge said and Manson turned around and sat down.

Pitzer To Resign Post At Stanford

DR. KENNETH S. PITZER
"Pressures on campus"

STANFORD (UPI)—Dr. Kenneth S. Pitzer is resigning as Stanford University's president Aug. 31, declaring that "pressures tending to distract or disrupt the educational process have increased significantly" because of the Vietnam war.

Pitzer, 56, made his decision public Thursday, remarking that "the gulf between the campus community and society at large has widened, particularly in the past two months.

"There is little confidence on campus about our promised disengagement from the war," he continued. "As a result, pressures tending to distract or disrupt the educational process have increased significantly."

W. Palmer Fuller III, Stanford board of trustees president to whom the resignation was submitted, said an acting president would be appointed "in the near future" and added he hoped Pitzer "will find at Stanford or elsewhere the kind of future challenge which he seeks." Pitzer is a chemist.

Pitzer's "feeling that the heavy burden of administration in these days of crises is incompatible with the basic interests of the scholar and educator is indeed understandable," Fuller continued.

"Entirely too much of my effort has been devoted to matters of a purely administrative or even of a police nature," Pitzer had written.

Commenting on the war, Pitzer said that "although troop levels in Vietnam have been reduced, there is little confidence on campus about our promised disengagement from the war."

The situation at Stanford represents another manifestation of the destructive nature of current conflict," he said. "Both on the campus and in society, support for reasoned discourse and non-violent change has steadily diminished."

Pitzer came to Stanford in December, 1968, after seven years as president of Rice University. Two days later he was greeted with his first demonstration—students jamming his office for a discussion of world affairs.

Police were called onto the Stanford campus 13 times this spring and made more than 40 arrests since April 1. The most serious outbreaks were April 29 and 30 following the announcement of American intervention into Cambodia. At least 65 persons were injured.

Early in April an unidentified person poured water soluble paint on Pitzer while he attended a campus affair, and rock throwers repeatedly have broken his office windows. The Pitzer home has been sprayed with slogans.

In 1969, a nine-day occupation of an electronics laboratory came during a dispute over classified and war-related research at the university and at the Stanford Research Institute.

Trustees, contrary to demands of protestors, severed legal ties between the university and SRI after that and a faculty-student committee approved guidelines last spring barring research that involves "secrecy...of results."

During Pitzer's administration, trustees expanded their membership by adding eight alumni, four of age 35 or under.

Another dispute on the campus concerned the continuing of a Reserve Officers Training Program. University officials now are exploring a possible officer training program off campus.

Pitzer, an opponent of the Vietnam War, has said that, "...in my view, it is clearly a violation of human rights to draft a young man to fight a war which he regards as grossly immoral and about which the nation is unsure."

One of the best known statues in France is the Zouave, an Algerian infantryman attired in flowing desert regalia. He stands 20 feet tall, his stone back against one of the piers that lifts the River Seine bridge, the Pont d'Alma, over the river.

India Cabinet Aide Quits In Split On War

Singh, 44, a strong Socialist and critic of U.S. intervention in Cambodia, told newsmen he had decided to leave the Cabinet rather than accept the post of minister for steel.

Government sources said Mrs. Gandhi would appoint Bali Ram Bhagat, 47, the present minister of foreign trade, to the foreign affairs post. Bhagat's interests previously have been in economic development.

Dinesh Singh, the son of a maharaja, was a former private secretary to Mrs. Gandhi's father, Jawalharlal Nehru, and was regarded one of the prime minister's closest advisers. He was appointed foreign minister in February 1969.

Last month, Singh supported a congressional resolution calling for the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Cambodia. Previously the government had urged withdrawal of all foreign troops.

Sources close to Mrs. Gandhi said she was displeased by Singh's efforts in recent weeks to create his own bloc inside the Congress party already split by factionalism.

Fairfax Woman's Son Awarded Medal

Lt. Col. Spencer Hall Jr., son of Mrs. Kathryn Hall of 42 Meadow Way, Fairfax, has received the Air Medal at Tan Son Nhut AFB, Vietnam, for action in Southeast Asia, the Air Force has announced.

Col. Hall, who holds the aeronautical rating of command pilot, was cited for his outstanding airmanship and courage on important successful missions completed under hazardous conditions.

Case Is Referred

The case of Timothy Mark O'Brien, 19, of San Rafael, who is accused of burglarizing a San Rafael residence March 5, has been referred to the probation department for a report as to whether he can be tried in Juvenile Court. Return to Marin Municipal Court was set Tuesday for July 7.

Senate Dove Condemns GOP Plan As 'Cynical'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., charged today a Republican attempt to force a premature showdown on his amendment to end the war in Vietnam was "a cynical power play."

McGovern and other leaders of the senate's antiwar bloc again vowed to stop a vote — scheduled for 1 p.m. Monday — on a carbon copy of their antiwar amendment introduced by administration backers in an effort to defeat it.

"This kind of tactic really worries me," McGovern told newsmen. "It's the kind of cynical power play we've seen here for the last six weeks."

The measure — which would give President Nixon one year to get all U.S. troops out of Vietnam — was brought to the floor Thursday by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., under his own name. He promptly denounced the proposal he sponsored as reckless, unconstitutional and unprecedented.

Allott contended it was high time the Senate voted down the amendment to put at rest any doubts about the Senate's feeling.

But McGovern and other sponsors, knowing that it would be defeated soundly if brought up now, will try to table the Allott amendment just before the vote Monday. McGovern made no attempt to disguise his anger at Allott's move.

"If anyone were to try that on Allott, you'd hear him cry from here to the Rockies," he said.

Despite the bitterness, the Senate's long, rambling discourse over the war — which has now occupied it almost exclusively for the last six weeks — appeared to be nearing an end.

Administration supporters, who have stalled successfully, agreed to a showdown vote Tuesday at 2 p.m. EDT on another amendment — much less restrictive than the McGovern proposal — that would cut off funds for future U.S. offensives inside Cambodia.

The amendment, sponsored by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, has been extensively rewritten on the Senate floor to guarantee the President may take action in Cambodia or elsewhere, if necessary, to protect American lives.

Some administration allies, such as Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., feel the Cooper-Church amendment has now been changed to their liking and predict it will pass overwhelmingly. The vote was timed to come on the exact day President Nixon has promised to have all U.S. troops out of Cambodia.

McGovern vowed he would not permit any similar changes in his measure when he brings it to the floor later in the year as part of the administration's $20 billion military hardware bill.

McGovern said he was certain the Senate would reject Allott's attempt to pre-empt him when the tabling motion is made Monday. He said he and other sponsors of the antiwar measure had throught for a time about letting the Allott measure come to a vote, even though it faced defeat, to put all senators on record. But he said they decided against the tactic because it would lock some fence-sitting members into taking positions against the amendment.

Other senators feel the current setbacks for the Cambodian government are bound to worsen later in the summer and the issue will be clearly drawn then.

McGovern said he doubted administration supporters would be able to mount a successful filibuster against his amendment, as they did on the Cooper-Church measure. The reason, he said, is that the military procurement bill — to which it is attached — is vital legislation and the administration would not tolerate extended debate.

Mill Valley Bicyclist Hurt In Auto Crash

A 12-year-old Mill Valley boy has been treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut arm following an accident in Mill Valley, police reported yesterday.

Police said George Jagell, of 40 Birch Avenue, was riding his bicycle south on Miller Avenue at 11:01 a.m. Monday when the bicycle was struck by a car driven by Allen M. Beasley, 20, of 152 Almonte Boulevard, and Tamalpais Valley.

Rec Budget Set In Terra Linda

A $68,845 1970-71 budget was approved last night by the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District board. The figure represents a $3,085 increase over this year's budget.

John A. Colistra, chairman of the board, said the new budget contains additional funds for capital improvements.

The board last night also authorized spending $1,200 to move the fence around the district's pool in order to include grass in the pool area.

Sausalito Youth Hurt By 80-Foot Tumble

A 22-year-old Sausalito man was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with chest injuries, scalp cuts and multiple scrapes received in an 80-foot fall.

According to the Marin County Sheriff's Department, Charles Cox tumbled down an embankment of the access road to Kent Lake Spillway at 1:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Marin Bosses Lose Raises To Budget Ax

The cut in welfare supplementation, part of a flurry of last-minute moves to build up budget reserves for next year, came on the heels of a program reduction last week. The new cut, adding $173,000 to reserves, means that new AFDC cases will receive no county aid on top of their basic grant, whereas the level had earlier been reduced to one-third.

Supervisor Michael Wornum opposed the new cut, feeling aid recipients were entitled to a hearing.

The board then dropped an inspector's position that had been added to the sheriff's narcotics division, Baar objecting; cut a civil engineer from the public works department, Arrigoni dissenting; reduced from $30,000 to $15,000 the contribution to the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau, McInnis and Baar against, and unanimously reduced by 20 per cent the $19,000 appropriated to county departments for convention trips.

McInnis said the county chamber action would be interpreted as vindictive because the group was listed among the organizations backing the massive budget rollback earlier in the day.

Bruce urged restraint during the employee reductions, saying, "I'm not going to be able to hold the department heads together with what's happening now and what happened earlier (pay raise setback.)"

The cuts brought next year's reserve fund to $216,930, although Mitchell cautioned the board would need a far greater sum if the state carries out proposed welfare cutbacks, forcing that burden on the county.

In capital improvement changes, the board reduced from $100,000 to $70,000 the budgeted amount for property improvements at Juvenile Hall and earmarked the $30,000 to county airport expansion; deferred a $359,800 project to build a combined health and law enforcement laboratory; raised from $55,000 to $222,022 the amount for expanding the Veterans Memorial Auditorium to 1,200 seats, deferring the opening to September 1971; added $18,500 for Civic Center parking improvements, and budgeted $5,000 instead of $35,000 as the county's contribution to the Saucelito Canal dredging project, although indicating it would appropriate the rest of the money later.

Delay in the auditorium opening means that the county will ask the Art and Garden Center to hold the annual county fair at its Ross site against next year, since Bruce had recommended the 1971 event be held inside the auditorium and there is no money in the budget for landscaping at the Civic Center site.

In other action, the supervisors approved a $34,000 budget for the human rights department, which was saved from elimination last week, and voted a 3 per cent cost-of-living increase in county retirement benefits, retroactive to April 1, but agreed to defer until next April a 2 per cent raise to 11.63 per cent in the county's share of the program.

The board indicated it wanted the human rights department to have an executive director, although Bruce had recommended a $7,000 coordinator as department head.

Red Cross Still Needs Money For Peru Aid

The Marin chapter of the American Red Cross still needs funds to purchase relief supplies for those left homeless by the recent series of earthquakes in Peru, although contributions of food and clothing are no longer being sought by the Red Cross, according to Paul M. Anderson, disaster superintendent.

Checks may be made out to the Marin office, 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Motorcycle Stolen

A silver 1968 Riverside Moped motorcycle, license 706611, has been stolen from Jerry Knight of 104 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo police reported yesterday. Knight told police the machine was taken from his driveway between 10 p.m. yesterday and 6 a.m. today.

College Trustees Will Meet Monday

The Marin Junior College Board's scheduled special meeting last night was postponed to 8 p.m. Monday because of the meeting this week of the Board of Governors of California Community Colleges at San Francisco International Airport.

The board will discuss educational concepts in plans for the proposed Novato campus. A report on the second campus was to be taken up by the board of governors. Place for Monday's meeting will be announced.

Tennis Club Arson Suspect Denies Count

Joseph Benjamin Tate, 29, who lives on a houseboat at Waldo Point, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of arson. A preliminary hearing was set Wednesday for July 14.

Tate was arrested June 10 underneath the Strawberry Point Tennis Club apparently trying to set the building afire. He had arrived there in a 20-foot sailboat and told sheriff's deputies he was looking for a restroom.

Shameful Skullduggery To Fool The People

It is not pleasant to see elected representatives of the people stoop to skullduggery to fool those who elected them.

Nothing does more to disillusion youth with the democratic process. And enemies of democracy can derive satisfaction from such tactics — while of course ignoring the fact that the "dictatorships of the proletariat" which they espouse do the same sort of thing routinely.

There are two late examples of such skullduggery: one on the federal level, the other on the Marin County level.

THE SENATE and House of Representatives — presumably with connivance of the airlines, whose lobby could scarcely have been unaware of what was happening — enacted an airline ticket tax increase with the remarkable proviso that the amount of tax cannot be specified in writing on the ticket or in any information about it.

The obvious purpose is to keep the airline ticket buyer from realizing the tax has been increased. It seems remarkable that the airlines' lobby did not put up a loud squawk, since the buyer is led to believe the airline — not the government — has caused his trip to cost more.

THERE ARE OTHER examples of concealed taxes — as on liquor, for instance. But the general rule, and the right one, is to require that the price tag show how much represents tax, rather than to forbid such information. The familiar example of this is the gasoline pump, on which is listed the amount of state and federal taxes per gallon.

For congressmen to vote for a tax increase with a requirement that it be concealed from the buyer is unconscionable. But that is what they did.

LITTLE BETTER was the performance of the Marin County Board of Supervisors this week in juggling accounts to try to conceal that two county road projects would add 2.8 cents to the tax rate.

The projects are both needed: extension of Miller Avenue outside of Mill Valley, and slide repair on the Fairfax-Bolinas Road. But since the $144,000 to finance them had not been included in the road budget, the supervisors went along with this scheme by John F. Barrows, assistant county administrator: They took $144,000 of sales tax revenue out of the general fund and put it in the road fund.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar objected to the underhanded method. Better to finance the road projects out of property taxes, he contended. But he went along with Supervisors John F. McInnis, Michael Wornum and William A. Gnoss to vote for the transfer. Only Peter R. Arrigoni cast his vote against it and not because he objected to the method.

THE PURPOSE was to make it appear that sales tax will finance the road projects.

But — to replace the $144,000 in the general fund requires a 2.8-cent property tax increase. Thus, the two road jobs actually increase the property tax rate by 2.8 cents while ostensibly being financed by the sales tax.

HIDDEN TAXES are a curse. When Congress passes a law forbidding their disclosure, or when the Marin County Board of Supervisors approves juggling funds to try to conceal them, the members should hang their heads in shame.

Eat Your Weeds

A friend of ours — a nice, normal guy ordinarily — has a thing about that common Marin weed called pig parsley or purslane. It is his favorite pot herb, a succulent succulent, in a manner of speaking.

Pig parsley is such a persistent weed in many Marin gardens, it is good to know it is useful and tasty. Our friend says it takes a lot to make a little because pig parsley is such a juicy, thick-leaved succulent. He seasons his with a little pork or sausages.

If you know your weeds, weeding can become an exercise in gastronomic anticipation. But, unfortunately, most weeds are inedible, few are really tasty, and some are downright poisonous.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Bill For Nuclear Power Control Draws Conservationist Screams

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNW) — A bill which apparently has every chance of passing is going through the legislative hopper. It warrants comment primarily because it is opposed by a group of rabid conservationists.

The measure is AB 818, by Assemblyman John V. Briggs, R-Fullerton, with a number of co-authors in both Senate and Assembly. The co-authors are split about 50-50 between Democrats and Republicans, testifying that the measure has no connection with partisan politics.

It provides for the State Powerplant Siting Committee, to review and evaluate proposed sites for location of thermal electric power plants.

THE CONSERVATION Co-Ordinators — Save Our Bay Action Committee, which last year became involved with BCDC legislation, is struck with "old-fashioned, hair raising horror" at the progress of the bill from the Assembly Committee on Natural Resources to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The measure, the conservationist prophets of doom claim, would "totally destroy the California coastline and give it in total to the utility companies."

Just how a measure designed to put the construction of nuclear power plants under scrutiny could "totally destroy" the California coastline is something of a mystery.

However, it has lately become the plaint of the conservationists that anything connected with advancement and progress is going to "destroy the state."

ONE THING the conservationists can't seem to recognize is that the state is filling up with people, and the end is not yet in sight. Therefore, the conservationists are going to be forced to move over, and not attempt to keep everything for themselves to the disadvantage of the burgeoning population.

They use the bill, AB 818, in an attempt to halt construction by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. of a nuclear plant at Davenport, Santa Cruz County, a project which as yet is not even off the ground but would be controlled by passage of Briggs' measure.

The legislature is declaring in the bill that it is state policy to serve the public interest, protect the ecology, as well as utilize nuclear energy wherever possible, yet the conservationists are against the bill.

They may be surprised someday when they switch on the lights, and no lights come on.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Pride In Nation Should Be Taught

We commend you on your coverage of the Flag Day ceremonies put on by the Elks Club.

We only regret that instead of teaching pride in our flag and country many of our public institutions are teaching otherwise. Our educators might wonder why their school tax increases have been defeated so often lately. Have they ever thought that the tax payer might be objecting to what they allow their teachers to teach our youngsters?

We, for one, have withdrawn our daughter from the high school summer program because our flag, which we look on with pride, has been desecrated in the art class. To this family the flag stands for the spirit of all Americans, down through the ages, no matter what their race or creed has been, that have given their lives that "this nation under God, with liberty and justice for all" may survive. We will not willing partake in any course where our flag is desecrated or our country condemned. We love our flag and the United States of America, as both flag and country still represent to us man's dream of democracy, freedom and liberty.

If those who desecrate the flag; and are against the establishment can come forth and create a better world, without the use of violence, without being financially supported by the establishment, without having one set of rules for themselves and another for others; let them comeforth and create a world of peace, justice and freedom for all.

Who Authorizes Those 'Overdrafts'?

At the risk of making monthly bank statements a subject more sophisticated in appeal than it really is, I wish to give public support to Mr. Don Dimitratos of the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department. You reported briefly on problems arising because of a purported deficit in his department's budget. Mr. Dimitratos has been approached, as have other department heads, as if he were guilty of the deficit. It is unlikely that he overspent. He operates within his budget. However, he is not informed, as he spends within his budget as he does, how much remains in his department's part of the city bank account.

It would appear out of hand to any businessman or anyone with a personal checking account, that a department head is not given a monthly or quarterly bank statement to check against his own records. . .

There is no such thing as a department head writing checks without signatures of OK from higher officials, or boards where they exist. If it is illegal for a city official to pay bills or approve checks without money in the bank, how does an official know whether he's within the bank balance?. . .

As a friend of the county library users who got kicked out and as a friend of the Mill Valley employees, I find the city's approach to its own service institutions in poor taste and reeking of ignorance and indifference, as in the case of those without imagination who let things fall apart and then try to pull their things together with string and flour paste, stolen from somewhere.

Why Human Rights Director Resigned

The "Reporter's Notebook" column by David Dietz in your June 22 issue reflects in my opinion a surface understanding of the controversy now swirling around the proposed destruction of the Marin County Human Rights Department. . .

While I was a member of the Human Rights Commission I worked closely with Austin J. Thompson for two years. I was impressed and sometimes concerned by the arduous schedule that he kept for months on end. More than a few weeks he put in 50 and 60 hours for the people of Marin County.

In the several running battles between the county administrator's office and the Human Rights Department it became clear to me that Mr. Thompson took policy direction from the commission and cooperated with the county administrator, but he refused to be controlled by Mr. Bruce in matters like a meaningful New Careers program.

It was not a total surprise to me then that Mr. Bruce suggested several weeks ago that of all the county department budgets evaluated for economizing, that the Human Rights Department might be cut or wiped out . . .

If the administrator could not cashier Mr. Thompson by wiping out his department then he could gather "reports" of poor work performance or abuse of sick leave. I have seen Mr. Thompson exhaust himself on the County's behalf and am personally aware of a painful knee injury he suffered while on county business. The injury continues to plague him.

I would surmise that Mr. Bruce did not ask all of the human rights commissioners about Mr. Thompson's work performance, but listened intently to one particular commissioner who sought Thompson's removal. . .

I find it a curious coincidence that the county personnel director is recommending impressive salary raises for high county officials that will be considered some months hence. Curious because in a time of budget crisis the Human Rights Department is being gutted. Even more curious because Human Rights Commissioner Bella Aaron is also Chairman of the County Personnel Commission. How can Mrs. Aaron serve the needs of both commissions without a conflict of interest?

The upshot of the entire sorry development in my opinion is that there is an attempt to destroy Mr. Thompson. It seems to me that he resigned because he would not be controlled by an ambitious commissioner or a county administrator who wanted the human rights director under his thumb. . .

TRY AND STOP ME

Dick Shawn, boning up on Biblical history, discovered that King Solomon had over 700 wives, but that his father contented himself with 20. "I guess," reasons Shawn, "that the old man just wasn't the marrying kind."

In the lobby of one of New York's ritziest hotels, several coin phones are fastened to a wall near the cashier's cage. On three successive days, an alert reporter noticed a dazzling, modishly attired blonde drop a dime in one of the phone boxes and dial what must have been a dead number (because the dime was always returned). Each time she would coo to the imaginary party at the other end, "I'm in a dreadful predicament, Pamela! Arthur has evidently forgotton our date and I have nobody to lunch with." And each of the three times a different gentleman who just happened to be using the phone adjacent quickly hung up, introduced himself to the lady — and took her to lunch.

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Highly qualified people in the administration are convinced that a wholly new U.S. military-diplomatic team in Saigon and Paris is needed to carry through the Nixon withdrawal programs speedily and effectively.

This would mean replacement of Gen. Creighton Abrams, commander of American forces in Vietnam, and of veteran Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, and naming a successor to Henry Cabot Lodge whose seat at the Paris talks has long been vacant.

Those who advocate a new team to deal with the final phases of our part in the Vietnamese war have not a breath of criticism of either General Abrams or Ambassador Bunker. They are able men and have turned in a superior performance.

THE CASE for replacement is this:

1 — It has been a long, grinding, punishing assignment for both General Abrams and Ambassador Bunker, who have long wanted to retire, and relief is in order.

2 — The problems of winding down the U. S. role in Vietnam are substantially different from those of cranking it up and, while Abrams and Bunker are loyal to their assignments, it would be reasonable and could be quite desirable for President Nixon to put the concluding execution of new policy into the hands of new people.

3 — Since Nixon has said he hopes the Cambodia operation and the increasing combat effectiveness of the South Vietnamese would persuade Hanoi to begin to negotiate seriously, the time is at hand to fill Lodge's empty chair in Paris with a high-level representative of the President.

4 — There would be significant and practical symbolic value in putting in a new team at the top at this particular moment.

MANY OF the leaders of the Saigon government — not including President Thieu — cannot quite bring themselves to believe that the U. S. troops are really going to pull out as announced, and keep hoping that before long some way will be found to call it off or slow it down. Some of the U. S. military brass in Vietnam also hold this view.

Many in the U. S. have serious doubts that the process of steady withdrawal is a certainty.

Few things would do more to demonstrate to both the South Vietnamese that they must accept withdrawal and be ready for it and to those Americans at home who doubt withdrawal is a firm commitment than for the President to put carrying it out in the hands of fresh people.

THE VALUE of such a move in the United States can hardly be overstated. Many of Nixon's critics seem intent upon fanning distrust that the President's withdrawal program is designed, not to get the United States out of the war, but to produce a military victory. Action, not words alone, can best counter this false argument, and it seems to those who are suggesting it that putting a new military-diplomatic team in charge of withdrawal would be an impressive action.

Those in the United States who seem eager to disprove that the President is doing what they say they want him to do — withdraw — use some odd arguments to create distrust in Mr. Nixon's intentions.

They argue, on one hand, that Vietnamization won't work and, on the other, that it will work so well that the South Vietnamese army will become so strong it will seek a military victory over the North Vietnamese forces within its borders. What's wrong with that?

They argue, as if it were some kind of plot, that Hanoi may be forced to recognize the enduring nature of the strength of the ARVN and thus be forced to negotiate a settlement in Paris not entirelyt o its liking. What's wrong with that?

THESE ARE the President's firm goals: to withdraw steadily; to strengthen the ARVN so it can defend the nation; to help it become strong enough that Hanoi will either negotiate or abandon its aggression in South Vietnam; and to prove to the American people this this is proceeding.

It strikes some within the administration that a new U. S. military-diplomatic team in Saigon and Paris would further all of these objectives.

There are plenty of qualified men to man the new team.

Policy Making Moves Farther From Cabinet

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Do you remember candidate Nixon and the new President Nixon who planned to make more use of a strengthened cabinet and to slim down the White House staff?

That "old" Nixon is just a memory. Speaking loudly by his recent actions, the President has all but erased those visionary words. He is finding the cabinet as unwieldy an instrument as did his immediate predecessors.

The White House staff, on the other hand, is growing in size and in importance. Decision makers in whom the President has confidence are gravitating to the executive power center, and the trend has been quite apparent in recent weeks.

IN THE FOREIGN policy arena, the President found no role at all for the cabinet in deciding to move U. S. troops into Cambodia. The cabinet, as a panel, was not consulted, and all indications are that the White House adviser on national security, Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, had the major advisory role in that decision.

Now the same trend is evident in domestic affairs. It has, however, been obscured by speculation as to the ideological significance of replacing Robert Finch with Elliot Richardson in the HEW jungle and the liberal-to-conservative implications of shifting Labor Secy. George P. Shultz to the new budget agency.

IT IS RATHER widely assumed here that Richardson is going to HEW to play the tough-fisted administrator in that sprawling department. Finch, by most accounts, did not do that.

Richardson is, however, not a Nixon intimate of long standing or an official who has, in the past, had easy entree to the President.

Finch, on the other hand, is the old Nixon friend — the campaign manager of Nixon's unsuccessful presidential campaign in 1960. In the recent controversy over whether Nixon is isolated by his personal staff, Shultz has been mentioned as a cabinet member who has had no trouble reaching the President with his views.

IT IS NOTEWORTHY that the two "insiders" are moving inside the White House where they will certainly have a more influential policy role than their successors in the cabinet.

In fact, the successor to Shultz, James D. Hodgson, may have tough sledding as secretary of labor. He is not the darling of organized labor and lacks the rapport with labor leaders which Shultz enjoyed.

Even if Finch does not become a sort of Henry Kissinger for domestic affairs — a role which some bureaucrats expect him to fill —the former HEW secretary will certainly be influential in domestic affairs. As for Shultz, he will have a purse-string say with respect to all government programs.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Road Spending From Gas Tax Supposedly Removed From Politics

Fusselman

County government news in the I-J today (Wednesday) again caused me to change gears and comment on as much as space will allow.

I had intended to take next week off and not write a column for July 3. After reading the big notice in today's issue, calling taxpayers to band together and appear at the supervisors' meeting to protect the budget increases, I may want to write about it. We'll see.

Here are some things about road budgets that should be commented on: When I was first elected in 1942, I discovered that as long as there had been a County of Marin, the supervisor of each district was also road commissioner upon taking office. The boundaries of the road district were coterminus with the boundaries of the supervisorial districts.

A road engineer was assistant to each of the supervisors and one-fifth of his salary was charged to each district. Once a year the board decided on the allocation to each district of the gas tax money and other state subventions. It was always a battle.

ABOUT 1947, I think it was, the Collier-Burns Bill was passed by the legislature. It abolished all road districts as such and provided that a road commissioner be appointed by each county. This man was not to be interferred with by any member of the board of supervisors on penalty of withdrawal of state funds for that county. I abided by this rule but always put up a fight for my fair share at budget time. The state allocation was in a lump sum.

There was a rather amusing story regarding this. When Peter Behr was elected to the borad of supervisors, he was guest speaker at the Mill Valley Rotary Club, I think. He said that Mr. Fusselman was getting the lion's share of the road money for his district and that he was going to put a stop to it. He continued that he would oppose any more funds being spent beyond Wolfe Grade as anything beyond that was a cul-de-sac or dead end. (That from a man from Mill Valley which is the end of the line down there!) I clipped the article and often ribbed him about it.

Supervisor Arrigoni is off target in taking a political approach on road money (as quoted in the front page story). As director of public works, Donald Frost told him it would take 55 years to bring the roads up to standard. We all use them, you know.

During World War II, we were allowed only patching material and as a result the roads went to pieces. They were far from restored when I left the board, to follow Arrigoni's idea we would be paying through the nose year after year.

ANOTHER ITEM in the same I-J story was that Supervisor Bud Baar said, "This is the same gimmick Zucker used to build up his department."

There is no similarity. Advanced planning is in the abstract and rarely is fullfilled. Advanced work in the engineering department is precise detailed on, ready for bidding when the time comes.

No engineer in his right mind would try to build up his department just for show. Not only in this county but everywhere in California they are bugged with the new requirements. It's not just "California here we come." They are here. Stand anywhere and watch the cars go by.

Rivers Lambastes Defense Cutbacks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., has accused the administration and congressional military critics of leading the country into "the worst catastrophe this nation has ever encountered."

The volatile and influential chairman of the House Armed Services Committee charged America's defenses against the Soviet Union were being jeopardized by the current drive to trim military spending in favor of domestic needs.

Although Rivers and the administration have had their occasional differences over specific military programs, the disputes have generally been low key and confined to the matters at hand. Rivers carefully has refrained from opening up on the administration in the manner that he used to attack former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

"And the storm clouds are being seeded further by a dantic schemes," he declared.

"On the one hand," Rivers said, "the secretary of defense talks about "the secretary of tregerous demagoguery that finds the military and the national security budget a convenient scapegoat for grandiose domesmendous increase in Soviet missile strength, and on the other hand, the President talks about the need to reduce defense spending."

The result, Rivers said, was that the United States was moving away from a "flexible response" capability and back again to the doctrine of massive retaliation that prevailed in the 1950's.

"The commies know where and when we are weak," Rivers said. "They strike at their — not our — convenience."

The South Carolina Democrat noted Nixon recently commented that for the first time in years the government was spending more money on human needs than on national defense.

"If the America people knew the facts," insisted Rivers, "I think they would choose to survive as a free nation with fewer social programs rather than risk the consequences of Communist domination."

The chairman said in the near future he would give the American people the facts.

"The doves and the cowards aren't going to like what I am going to say, but they are not going to be able to refute the facts I plan to give this country," Rivers said.

Rivers expressed confidence the people were willing to pay for the adequate defense, even if it meant higher taxes.

"But the direction in which we are now heading can lead us only into the worst catastrophe this nation has ever encountered," Rivers declared.

Rivers warned his military audience against meeting its difficulties by engaging in the interservice infighting that took place when defense spending was trimmed after World War II.

"The way to get what is wanted for your service is not to try to take it out of the hide of one of the sister services," Rivers said. "The 70's will be a time of testing of service unity."

Gasoline Lead Battle Shaping Up

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The author of embattled antismog legislation, who lost another round in the fight over removing lead from gasoline, vowed today to stall the bill until "the black balloon turns white."

Assemblyman Peter Schabarum, R-Covina, announced he would place the bill on the Assembly "inactive" shelf after the lower house Thursday refused to strip it of amendments supported by Standard, Shell and some other major oil companies.

He charged the amendments, sponsored by Assemblyman Robert H. Burke, R-Huntington Beach, would give those companies a competitive advantage not available to certain other companies such as Union and Phillips.

The Assembly voted 35-33 to keep the amendments in the bill over Schabarum's protests. The amendments had been inserted last week despite Schabarum's opposition.

He promptly announced the bill will remain stalled on the inactive file "until the Standard Oil black balloon turns white," a reference to the company's advertising campaign for its gasoline.

The fight to get the lead out of gasoline has taken on the proportions of the bruising battle two years ago over California's legislation setting tougher automobile smog control standards than those of the federal government.

Both the Burke and Schabarum proposals would require the lead to be removed from gasoline in 1977. The Burke plan would allow use during the interim "phaseout" years of three grades of gasoline which contain lead, an additive to raise octane levels for higher performance.

The Scharabum proposal encourages the use of two grades of leaded gas.

"Most of the oil industry is desirous that there be no bill at all," Schabarum argued. "What we do here is going to have an impact across the country."

Nixon Again Plumps For Revenue Sharing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has directed the top men in his administration to apply pressure in an effort to revive his revenue sharing plan which would provide no-strings-attached grants to states and cities.

The president called for renewed lobbying efforts to win approval of the bill which has met studied indifference in Congress and has been almost forgotten since Nixon proposed it with some fanfare in August.

"Revenue sharing is the financial heart of the new federalism," Nixon said in a memo to the administration's senior officials. A copy of the memo was obtained by UPI.

"I encourage all of you to become familiar with the basic elements of the administration's revenue sharing proposal and to make known, at every suitable occasion, our strong desire to secure its enactment in 1970," the President said.

The plan would distribute to the 50 states and the District of Columbia an increasing share of federal tax revenue up to a peak of about $5 billion annually to be reached in 1976. The states would be required to pass some of the money along to cities and countries but there would be no other restrictions.

Nixon cited a "fiscal mismatch" between the federal government and the states and cities. Federal revenues rise with economic expansion because they are tied to a progressive income tax, while many local governments rely on much less sensitive sales and property taxes.

"The individual citizen can have the largest impact on public policy through his state and local governments," Nixon wrote. "By strengthening these governments, revenue sharing can enhance individual contributions to public decision-making.

"Through revenue sharing an important measure of political power is returned to the people."

Information distributed with the memo indicated that if the plan is approved this year, the first grants would be made between April 1 and June 30 next year. It would cost $275 million for the three months in the 1971 fiscal year that ends June 30, 1971.

By 1976, the distributions were expected to increase to about $5 billion annually.

Revenue shairng was first proposed by Walter Heller, chairman of President John F. Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers. At that time, it was suggested as a use for "surplus" federal revenue.

The Indochina War and the urban crisis at home have used up surplus revenue. The Nixon administration said the objective of the plan has changed.

"This is not a matter of sending back to the states excess federal revenues left over from federal program requirements," the administration said. "Revenue sharing should be viewed as an expenditure for a basic national purpose — strengthening the financial base of our federal system of governments."

Marinite Named To Federal Panel

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A Marin resident was selected yesterday to serve on a second regular Federal Grand Jury in San Francisco.

It is the first time two juries have been needed to handle criminal indictments.

James L. Browning Jr., the U.S. Attorney in San Francisco. said the second jury was needed because of investigations into organized crime and antitrust matters and because of a backlog of general criminal activities.

Linda A. Hunter of 19 Pixley Avenue, Corte Madera, was among those selected. The jury will serve until Oct. 25.

Floating Dock Permit Sought In Greenbrae

James J. Menke, c/o Western Dock Enterprises, 834 Vallejo Avenue, Novato, has applied to the Army Corps of Engineers for a permit to install a floating dock in Greenbrae on Corte Madera Creek at 775 South Eliseo Drive.

Interested parties may submit objections to the dock in writing, in triplicate, within 30 days to the U.S. Army Engineer District, Corps of Engineers, 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco, 94102.

Workshop's Fund Needs Not All Met

The Marin Community Workshop has not, as reported in an Independent-Journal story yesterday, qualified for a $41,247 grant by raising $10,312 in private funds. The workshop must raise this amount in order to qualify for the grant.

The error originated in a press release from the state Department of Rehabilitation, which approved the grant.

Felon Faces Charge Of Prison Escape

A jury in Marin Superior Court has convicted San Quentin inmate Clarence Milton Sprague, 32, of escaping from the prison on April 18, 1969.

The inmate is serving a five-year to life term for armed robbery. Return to court was set Tuesday for July 2 for sentencing on the new conviction by Judge Harold J. Haley.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

The Bane Of Calories Catches Up With Restaurant Columnist

Then out spake grave Horatius, the captain with this plate, "To every man upon this earth diet cometh soon or late, And how can man diet better than resisting two great odds:

By

That's taking a lot of liberties with McCauley's immortal stanza, but when you've been more or less in the profession of giving your appetite free rein for 13 years, the thought of eating — and the necessity to cut down on it — can cause you to do all sorts of unseemly things.

Fortunately I've discovered that many restaurants can and do serve something besides plates piled high with calories. And I've stopped chewing my fingernails for extra proteins and settled down to a remedial menu without too many gnawing pains in a region that's become excessively padded.

Dieting is an area where the steak eaters shine — provided they're satisfied with something like six to 10 ounces of meat, instead of 16, plus an extra 100 calories or more from potatoes or paste. You learn to substitute 15 calories of asparagus, 20 calories of spinach or maybe even 40 calories of cooked cabbage (cole slaw, 15 calories, is better).

If you like your wine, you have to leave space somewhere for at least 95 calories, which among other things requires foregoing a 150-calory highball. A glass of milk, I'll have you know, is 170 calories unless it's skimmed.

You use lemon juice on seafood instead of accepting the chef's favorite sauce. But most chefs these days are used to Americans' dieting, so they aren't especially insulted.

Chinese food is generally low in calories, but still requires analysis. You have to give up pork in the chow mein and spareribs. And at Lin Fa Gardens, which has a long list of all kinds of a la carte dishes, you can find plenty of vegetables, chicken, oyster beef and other appetizing items that help keep the padding down and at the same time satisfy.

Mind you, I'm only trying out this diet business to see how it works — in the interest of professional research, so to speak. I'll let you know later if there is really anything to it. Right now, I'll admit to casting a slightly slimmer shadow. With the light from the right direction, that is.

LIKE DANCING, (not rock and roll) on weekends?

Then you might like Kleist's Heidelberg at 6422 Old Redwood Highway, Santa Rosa, near the Windsor exit from the 101 Highway.

Kleist's is open for dinner Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays all year round, serving German and American food. Dancing is on Saturday nights and Sunday afternoons.

And it's not more than an hour's ride from most Marin County points.

ONDINE in Sausalito has received word from Holiday magazine that it is included again this year among those restaurants to receive its Distinguished Diner Awards and will be listed in Holiday's July issue. If I am not mistaken, this is Ondine's 11th consecutive year on the list, in its 13 years of operation.

The Sausalito dinery is also being given honorable mention for this distinction in the new Mobil guide or recommended restaurants and hostelries.

BERNARD EPSTEIN, chef and co-owner at Gregory's Restaurant in Corte Madera, was quite excited to have his excellent fare sampled last Saturday night by a distinguished chef, who might have elected to visit any number of more cosmopolitan restaurants.

This was Rene Verdon, chef at the White House under the late President John Kennedy, who wrote a book about that experience. He came with his wife and a party of five, tried Bernard's veal chanterelle and promised to return for more — after appearing on some TV programs in New York.

GETTING BACK to Sonoma County, if you haven't paid your last gas and electric bill yet, be sure to look at the PG&E Progress that was enclosed, which selected for its recipe of the month section the Hilltopper Restaurant in Santa Rosa — giving recognition to chef Paul Galas' beef Stroganoff en casserole served with rice pilaf.

AND IN THE VALLEY OF THE MOON, the Sonoma Valley Chamber of Commerce reports the restoration and reopening of a historic winery — the Glen Ellen Mill and Winery.

Now known as the Glen Ellen Mill and Wine Village, situated on land once owned by Gen. Mariano Guadalupe Vallejo, it was made into a grist mill and later a sawmill, winery and distillery during the middle of the 19th Century by one Joshua Chauvet. The mill ran for nearly 100 years and remains on display in its original location. Dedication of the old mill water wheel is tomorrow by present operators Charles Beardsley and David Fritschi.

The Pagani family acquired the property in 1915 and produced as much as 300,000 gallons of wine and 50,000 gallons of brandy a year up until 1958. Since then the buildings have stood silent and empty.

Buena Vista, the oldest operating winery in California, will offer its wines at a wine tasting room at the village. There will also be a contemporary art gallery. And many of the long empty oaken wine casks have been converted into shops on a promenade along Sonoma Creek.

Glen Ellen is a picturesque little town at the entrance to the Jack London State Park. It can be reached via Sonoma or Santa Rosa just off Highway 12.

If you have any difficulty locating the Glen Ellen Mill and Winery when you get there, stop off at London Lodge and inquire from Bill Colling. And you might stay for dinner.

IF YOU FIND work going on at La Casa Italian Restaurant on Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, during the next few days, it does not mean that the place is closed.

Ron Lipori has had his plans approved for exterior remodeling and a new sign; business will go on as usual. For some time he has been remodeling the interior to give it more the appearance of a dinner house.

Look for La Casa to continue to grow. Ron has also bought the property next door. One of these days it could develop into a much larger establishment with a cocktail lounge.

RON BRANDES, who owns Bib 'n' Rib on the San Anselmo Miracle Mile, now has his Missouri barbecue sauce distributed through 30 markets.

Ron has one of the commercial booths at the Marin Art and Garden Fair in Ross this year and his barbecue sauce will be on sale there. It's great for meat or seafood. In addition, he will also have two-pound bags of processed hickory from Missouri for barbecuing. This is in a sort of granulated form and does not require presoaking. Simply sprinkle it on the coals when they are white and you are ready to cook. And presto! You have that midwest smoky flavor. You'll find very little hickory on the local retail market this year.

Both the barbecue sauce and the hickory may be obtained from the Bib 'n' Rib, of course.

A CHANGE in the entertainment at Gatsby's in Sausalito now features guitarist and blues singer Lynne Highes Sundays from 4 to 8 p.m. and Mondays from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m., starting day after tomorrow. She currently has two long playing records on the Fontana label.

Report Sought On Marriage Counseling

The Marin Mental Health Advisory Board — concerned by rising dissolution rates and resulting welfare cases — has asked for a feasibility report on marriage counseling services for the Marin Superior Court, chairman Peter W. Palmer said today.

He said the board on Wednesday asked Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, director of county community mental health services, to look into the possibility of supplying counselors for persons about to be divorced with an eye to saving some marriages and keeping divorcees off the welfare rolls.

The idea came up in a Bay Area Social Planning Council report by Marin director Daniel Sprague and Justice Richard M. Sims Jr. and was snapped up by the board, according to Palmer.

Many counties already have the counseling service, he said.

The report also expressed concern over "bifurcative control" of mental health planning in Marin. It suggested a single administration with a clear line of authority instead of the present division between the Marin Hospital District Board and the county, Palmer said.

Palmer said the board has supported this unification, but the county board of supervisors has not.

A complex contract between the county and Marin Hospital District Board defining the manner in which things in the mental health field may be done and what the hospital should supply was also approved by the board, Palmer said.

The next meeting is scheduled for July 15 at 8 p.m. in the Coral Room at Marin General Hospital.

Smash Glass Door

Vandals between 7 p.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. Wednesday smashed a $75 plate glass door window at the T-Bone Family Steak House, 411 Third Street, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

Beginning Monday from 7 to 9 p.m. and running through Aug. 14 the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department will offer a physical conditioning class for men at Terra Linda High School.

The program will include weight training, jogging and calisthenics plus badminton and volleyball.

Nixon To Seek Top Newsmen

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — President Nixon today was to host about 50 top news executives in an attempt to solicit support for his Southeast Asian policies.

The session is another step in the President's campaign to win acceptance for the whole spectrum of his foreign policy, particularly his plan for gradual disengagement from Vietnam.

It is expected to be a preview of the hour-long, nationally televised interview Wednesday night on U.S. global involvements.

The editors, publishers and broadcast executives, representing a cross-section of the nation's news media, will lunch with the President at the poolside of his bluff-top home overlooking the Pacific and attend about three hours of background briefings by State Department experts and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser.

Elated by what he termed the warmest reception of his presidency during a speech to the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce convention in St. Louis, Nixon announced plans for the televised foreign policy discussion on his arrival here for a long stay at the Western White House. He will return to Washington Monday, July 6.

The program, titled "A Conversation on Foreign Policy with the President," will be broadcast live from Nixon's Spanish-style vacation home at 10 p.m. EDT. The president will be interviewed by three newsmen, Howard K. Smith of ABC, John Chancellor of NBC and Eric Severeid of CBS, on all aspects of foreign policy from Vietnam to the Middle East.

It will follow by one day his report to the nation on the conclusion of the controversial U.S. thrusts into Communist sanctuaries inside Cambodia.

The Tuesday report will be in written form and will coincide with the June 30 deadline for the withdrawal of all American ground troops from Cambodia..

Mrs. Nixon leaves Sunday for a three-day trip to Peru to carry supplies to survivors of the tragic earthquakes there and to demonstrate U.S. concern for those left stricken and homeless.

The President will meet Monday with Secretary of State William P. Rogers, who is leaving for meetings in Asia with America's Vietnam allies and a trip to London to meet with Britain's newly elected conservative leaders.

Nixon also said Thursday:

—He has no plans to campaign for Republican candidates this fall. He believes the best thing he can do for the party is to make as good a record as possible in Washington on international and national issues.

—He never comments on what the Senate says or what individual candidates say. He made the remark when asked to comment on Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield's attack on his economic policy.

—He believes members of the senate should get outside Washington "and see what the country is thinking. We read newspapers, look at television, talk to each other. There is sort of intellectual incest which really reduces the level of dialogues . . ."

Unruh Son Freed In Marijuana Case

COMPTON, Calif. (UPI) — Marijuana possession charges against Randall Brook Unruh, 18, son of Jess Unruh, Democratic candidate for governor, have been dismissed because of insufficient evidence.

Deputy District Attorney Marin Kaye said Thursday the alleged marijuana seized may have belonged to one of the two juveniles with Unruh at the time of his arrest last Saturday.

'Air' Scouts Check Park For Indians

But the capricious Indians apparently kept their war party well hidden among the pine forests of the big recreation area.

"We made some good sweeps of the area, but we didn't see one single Indian," Park Superintendent Richard Boyer said.

He added, however, that there were Indians in the park but he did not know how many. The redskins, he said, "come and go in small numbers."

The fly-overs were used to try to pinpoint any large gathering of Indians who were violating park regulations, Boyer said.

Early Monday 22 Indians were arrested in a pre-dawn raid for violating campfire regulations after they entered the park in small numbers. They had built a big bonfire in the middle of a meadow.

It was their second attempt at reclaiming the park which they said was taken from them illegally during the Gold Rush days. On June 5 a line of rifle-carrying rangers and U.S. marshals blocked the park entrance when they showed up in a caravan of 40 cars.

After the futile attempt the Indians traveled to Big Bend where they set up a camp at a Pacific Gas & Electric Co. site. The occupation there ended with the arrest of 49 of them.

Couple Charged With Growing, Possessing Pot

A young San Anselmo couple arrested last Friday was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on marijuana charges.

Ernest Lewin, 23, and his wife, Kathleen Marie, 22, were charged with possessing, cultivating and being under the influence of marijuana and he was accused of possessing a device for smoking it.

The Lewins were arrested after a drug agent observed Mrs. Lewin in a car apparently smoking a pot cigarette. A search of their car and their house at 18 Scenic Drive produced a marijuana cigarette and small pot plants.

Hub Rotarians Set New Slate

Dr. Joseph J. Alderson has been installed as 1970-71 president of the San Anselmo Rotary Club. He succeeds Clifford F. Rattenbury.

Paul "Dutch" Clymer, secretary-treasurer for 24 years, was succeeded by Jeremiah Sullivan. Clymer is retiring this year as dean of instruction at College of Marin.

Other new officers seated were David J. Dorward, vice president; and directors George H. Merryman Jr., Ralph J. Fortune, William K. McClellan, Gene W. Burris, Charles La Voy and Rattenbury.

WATCHDOG POWERS

Super Bay Agency To Assembly Floor

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill to stretch a powerful "umbrella" regional government agency over nine counties of the San Francisco Bay Area reached the floor of the Assembly today.

The measure, subject to voter approval, would create an agency which would have no operating powers of its own but would be empowered to prohibit local entities from violating an areawide conservation and development plan.

The Assembly Local Government Committee endorsed the bill by chairman John Knox, D-Richmond, on a voice vote Thursday. Similar legislation has been proposed at previous sessions but never passed.

Subject to voter approval next June, the agency would be charged with developing a regional plan with provisions to assure protection of the bay; regulation of waste discharges into the water and air; integration of transportation, and development of regional parks and open space.

The agency would be financed by a combination gross receipts tax on area businesses and a maximum 1 per cent surtax on the state income tax paid by residents of the region.

"This is an effort to move away from the property tax as a source of support," Knox said.

The agency's governing board would include 20 elected members from city councils and boards of supervisors while the others would be citizens selected by the voters.

But the board's proposed composition drew fire from the League of California Cities and California County Supervirsors Association.

"If there is to be a regional type agency then it should be composed entirely of elected officials of city government or county government," said Richard Carpenter, representing the league.

Knox said the membership represented an attempt at compromise and "compromise means all sides are unhappy."

Carpenter said he agreed to the need for "some type of umbrella agency" but urged deletion from the bill a provision which authorized the agency to develop a comprehensive plan for a local city or county if the entity failed to do so. Knox agreed to the change.

The bill drew support from the San Francisco Bay Area Council, the League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women. Representatives of the two women's groups urged against submitting the proposal to the voters for ratification.

The regional government agency would include the counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, Napa, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Solano and Sonoma.

Academic Status For Physical Education Majors

Sonoma State College's physical education major has become the first of the 19 state colleges to receive academic status.

According to Dr. G. Edward Rudloff, chairman of health sciences and physical education, Sonoma State joins the University of Southern California, and the Universities of California at Berkeley, Los Angeles and Davis in accreditation of the program.

The academic status was granted by a statewide accreditation team on the basis of specific courses and course content. Physical education majors at Sonoma State will now be eligible for administrative and supervisory credentials.

Firemen Reject Alioto Plan To Cut Hours

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The threat of a firemen's strike here increased Thursday when the Firemen's Union rejected a proposal to settle a dispute over scheduling.

The executive board of the union turned down the suggestion by Mayor Joseph Alioto for reducing their work week by eliminating four fire units and distributing the manpower.

Widows Be Wary Of Shady Deals

By LUIS KUTNER

It is hard to believe that there are men and women base enough to scan the obituary columns to gain prospects for dishonest operations. But such is the case.

From plastic-coated newspaper death notices to orders for oil paintings said to have been ordered as a "surprise for the wife," these offerings, with bills attached, come to a recently bereaved widow. At a time when she may be least on guard, she has most need to be wary.

The portrait racket is worked this way. The painting is a copy of a photograph. It is sent or delivered as a gift from the husband, supposedly a surprise. The wife is expected to pay for her husband's thoughtfulness.

Other rackets are charged purchases which were never ordered. Sometimes in signing a receipt for them, a woman finds that she has signed a contract for further purchases.

No one is obligated to pay for any of these gifts. If there is any trouble with the senders, they should be reported to the Better Business Bureau or the police.

The widow who is a home owner is the target of a whole family of swindlers.

For example, there is the furnace inspection racket. The furnace is examined, taken apart, and found to be "defective." The owner may be charged a heavy fee to have the work finished. One client was told that her furnace had to be replaced at a cost of $950. Se wisely called a repair man who welded the leaking part at a cost of $75, and who told her the furnace otherwise was perfect.

ANOTHER RACKET is to offer to paint a house or do other remodeling "without cost" as an advertisement. The cost in the end may be exorbitant and resulf in a mechanic's lien on the home, which will prevent its sale until paid.

We know of a client whose home needed repairs. She arranged to borrow money to pay for them and brought the contract for the loan to me. It should have been obvious that she was to get only one third of the money she was agreeing to repay, that there was no contract for the work so we could determine whether the money she would receive would pay for it, and—worst of all — she was to give the lender a deed to the home at once and the money was not to be put in escrow.

When she refused to sign the contract, she was upbraided by the prospective lender. Later she obtained a legitimate loan with legal and equitable protection based upon a proper contract. This house was the only asset she had, but she paid off the loan and later sold the property advantageously.

A popular variation on the inspection swindle is the termite racket. An "exterminator" passing through the area will inspect a house for termites. Often he will even display termites in a jar which were "found" somewhere in the house, as proof that an "expert" control job, including a costly spraying, is needed.

ANOTHER PSEUDO-INSPECTION gyp is the fake roofer. Again, he may show the owner of the house a handful of loose shingles to prove how desperately his always expensive services are needed and how little time the owner has to look around for another estimate.

Tree surgery, chimney repair, gutter cleaning, and driveway resurfacing are other favorite swindles to be on guard against. The National Better Business Bureau suggests the following basic precautions:

1. Be suspicious of anyone who comes to the door and offers to do a quick job at bargain rates.
2. Insist the offer be in writing and clearly outline what the work covers.
3. Demand local references. The swindler usually keeps moving and cannot produce anyone reliable in the neighborhood to vouch for him.
4. Check with the nearest Better Business Bureau before committing yourself.
5. Do not sign anything until your lawyer approves it.
6. Do not pay for the work until it is complete and you have inspected it.

A widow may also receive solicitations for memorial funds for various charities in the name of her late husband. Sometimes these are reinforced by the statement that the husband had made a promise to contribute. The fact that these requests are made at this time is one reason to suspect their good faith.

ANYONE WHO contributes to charity should make sure the contribution goes to aid the needy, not to swell some fund that pays 93 cents on every dollar for the fund-raising organization with only seven cents going to the charity.

If the husband had a wide circle of friends and business acquaintances, some individual may approach the widow with the statement that he had once lent money to the husband and now needs to be repaid. Sometimes he appears uninformed of this "friend's" death.

Such requests can be very disturbing and even frightening. Certainly it is essential to do a little investigating. The widow should demand proof of the indebtedness, whether the acquaintance making the

MAYOR'S WIFE

She Recalls Mill Valley As A 'Fun Town To Grow Up In'

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Carolyne Wickham, wife of Mill Valley's new mayor, George Wickham, is a native of Mill Valley and has a family background that goes back many years in the history of the city.

Her mother, Mrs. James B. Phelps of Mill Valley, is the former Carolyne Weissich, one of twin girls in the Weissich family, Mill Valley residents for 60 years. She and her twin sister Marie, Mrs. F. S. Seitz of Greenbrae, played a leading role in the affairs of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley, Mrs. Seitz as a past president and Mrs. Phelps as past vice president.

Carolyne's late father, James B. Phelps, a food broker in San Francisco, was born in a longtime family home on Water Street, now Bridgeway, in Sausalito. His father, Charles Phelps, drove a stage coach out of San Quentin and went on to a career in railroading from steam to skunk trains and finally as conductor on the Northwestern Pacific commuter trains in Marin.

CAROLYNE'S GREAT grandfather, Edward H. Shoemaker, was superintendent of the North Pacific Coast line.

The mayor himself, originally from Omaha, Neb., came to Mill Valley early, and he and Carolyne both were graduated from Tamalpais High School. She went on to attend the College of Marin, while he began studies in engineering at the University of California.

They were married in 1944 in the Mill Valley Community Church after he received his commission in the U. S. Navy Air Force during World War II.

While her husband was in the service Carolyne worked for a year in the IBM department of the Bank of California in San Francisco and then did various kinds of volunteer work until he returned home and resumed his education at U.C.

After receiving a degree in civil engineering, he was employed for 12 years with the Utah Construction Co. in a position which involved traveling. Mayor Wickham is now a partner in the consulting engineering firm of Jacobs Associates in San Francisco.

THE WICKHAMS have three children, Mrs. Reed Witt of Larkspur (Stephanie); George Wickham Jr., 21, recently graduated from the College of Marin; and Jim, 12, a student at Edna Maguire School. The two older children are the third generation of the family to be graduated from Tamalpais High School.

Carolyne, who is a member of the Mill Valley Guild of Sunny Hills, the Mill Valley Tennis Club and Outdoor Art Club, says she enjoys family activities more than anything else. She likes flower arranging, plays tennis, and at present her son Jim is teaching her to sail.

Carolyne remembers Mill Valley as "a fun town to grow up in. It was just a country town, and we had great school spirit. We didn't have the problems the kids have now.

"What bothers me," she says, "is how people come to Mill Valley because of its beauty, which is unique, and then want to start changing it."

She feels that though it might be more exciting to work, it is important for a mother to be at home with children.

"I KNOW A lot of women have to go to work," she says, "but I think many mothers go to work too soon. I found that my children needed me more than ever when they were teen-agers. We have had parties with as many as 150 kids at our house, and everything went smoothly. There are adults present," she admits.

As for home life being affected by her husband's having been a councilman and now mayor, Carolyne says, "He spends a terrific amount of time on city affairs, and there are a lot of calls from many people, but I think they should call. That is what you are elected for, and you have to be prepared for this. Most councilmen like to know how people feel."

Carolyne has been active in state and national politics. She was co-chairman of the Reagan campaign headquarters in Mill Valley for Southern Marin and the Nixon-Agnew headquarters in Mill Valley for Southern Marin.

MR. AND Mrs. William G. Gray were married at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church in Mill Valley and will live in Princeton, N.J., where he is attending graduate school. She is the former Genetha Day, daughter of Mrs. Chapin A. Day of San Rafael and the late Mr. Day and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gray of San Francisco. (Vano-Wells-Fagliano photo)

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Consequences Of Drinking And Driving Can Happen To Anyone

DEAR HELEN:

Please tell people over and over again: Don't drink and drive! If I could only reach out and tell everyone the dangers — that it might happen to them.

We had all been to a big wedding, a happy reception. Liquor, naturally. Then, the drive home. A relative of ours lost control of his car. Two people died.

Picture the scene at the police station. The guilt, the fear, the horror, the knowledge that this young man could never forget that awful moment, or the misery he had caused.

Picture if you can this man being imprisoned while his business was lost and his wife and children scraped by on nearly nothing.

He is back home now, but he'll never be the same, nor will his family. The ghosts of two dead people follow him everywhere.

I wish that all kids (grown-ups too) would go to court and see for themselves the penalties of drunk driving. Perhaps then they might sleep it off first, or call a taxi. — AUNT

DEAR AUNT:

You aren't alone. Read on:

DEAR HELEN:

I'm writing this with tears in my eyes, begging you to print it.

I am 15. Today I went to a funeral for an 18-year-old boy who was my neighbor. He had been walking home. A classmate and friend of his was drunk and ran him down.

Six months ago two other friends of mine were also killed in an automobile accident. The driver was high on something. Last July, a boy in my grade at school lost his leg. He was all smashed and tangled up in the bumper of a car driven by a drunk.

Helen, I'm begging all people not to drink to the extent that it blows their minds. If they can't do this, then, please ask them not to drive, because I don't think I can stand another friend or relative — or me — dying because of a bad habit. — IN MOURNING

DEAR IN MOURNING:

Nor can I. Read on:

DEAR HELEN:

Five teen-agers, coming home from a dance. Now there are four graves, and a boy permanently crippled.

There'd been a contest at the parking lot. The driver of the car won — he took the last drink. It was the last drink he ever took. He and three others.

But maybe they were luckier than the boy left behind. He can't move. He doesn't talk. He's completely paralyzed. — WILL NEVER DRINK AGAIN claim was known to her before or not, and she should refer the claimant to the executor or attorney for her husband's estate.

Some widows, in their loneliness and desire for companionship, have been victimized by "lonely hearts" clubs. There are also fake schools of one sort or another. Dance studios which have persuaded women of 70 or 80 years to sign for expensive courses of instruction have been exposed recently.

Don't sign anything before showing it to your lawyer. It is sounder to pay legal fees before you sign, than to lose money and then pay such fees to be extricated from a costly trap.

ON THE AGENDA

Openings Available For Camps Of The Bay Area Girl Scouts

The San Francisco Bay Girl Scout Camp department in Oakland has announced that some spaces are still available at H. E. Bothin Youth Center in Fairfax; and at Sonora, Deer Lake, Treasure Mountain, Timberloft and White Meadows. Also, if there are vacancies non-Scouts may also apply and places will be filled on a first-to-apply basis.

MARIN COUNTY Chapter of Delta Gamma Alumnae will present the United States flag in braille to Enchanted Hills Camp for Blind Children on Sunday at the camp.

Delta Gamma is a national sorority whose efforts, both on the college and alumnae level, are devoted to helping the blind.

THE FIRST bloodmobile to be in Mill Valley in over a year will be at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel School auditorium, 17 Buena Vista Avenue, on Sunday, from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. A. J. Almada, chairman of the Mt. Carmel blood bank, points out that the blood bank has always been available at no cost not only to parishioners but also to those outside the parish who might need it.

The blood bank is depleted, and a community-wide appeal is made at this time for donors. Only 30 minutes time is required. Refreshments will be served by members of the Mt. Carmel Women's Club.

AN ADDED attraction to the continuing Designers' Showcase decorated home will be a concert by the Redwood High School Madrigal Singers on Sunday at 3 p.m. Also, tonight at 7:30 the Mannequin League of Marin will hold a fashion show at the Showcase, 1420 Grand Avenue, San Rafael. Showcase hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., with special hours tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock.

All Novato businesswomen are invited to join the club. Membership chairman is Mrs. Joan Brazell. Club meetings are held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

ON BEING BLACK

Junkin' Is Chic Now But Necessary Then

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

Recently I observed some young people shopping in a local secondhand clothing store. As is chic today, they were junkin' to dress themselves as unlike the Establishment as possible.

I was amused and reminded of the days when a close girlfriend and I junked, as a means of being like the Establishment. Being the only black and chicano (they didn't use those titles then) in a white upper-middle-class school, we needed nothing further to make us "unlike" our classmates.

We used to stop downtown after school, armed with baby-sitting money, and make our way to L Street. Of course, there was no chance of meeting any of our classmates on that street, thus revealing our wardrobe source. In fact, everything about L Street was secondhand — the buildings, once ornate and stately, were now deteriorated and converted into various accommodations. The wino sleeping in a doorway with yellow-gray hair bore vague signs of having been very handsome in days gone by. But without a doubt L Street housed the best junk stores in the city.

So we spent hours rummaging through the racks and stacks of items, much of which was exactly what the store title implied — junk. But we were experienced "junkers" (even knew which days the new goods were brought in) and ultimately came up with a winner — something of quality and very wearable.

With our great finds in hand, we'd hurry home to wash our goodies so as to have something new to wear to school the next day. Then we didn't have automatic washers and dryers, so we washed those 25-cent skirts and 15-cent sweaters by hand and hung them over the radiator — hoping they would be dry by morning. (I wore damp clothing on more than one occasion.)

Speaking of washing, we used to buy those size 48 knit suits and when we washed them they shrunk down to perfect size 7s.

We wore secondhand clothing because we didn't have the money to buy new, expensive clothing and wanted to go to school nicely dressed. Though sometimes frustrating, those junkin' days were surely some of our most creative days. Ironically, we were considered well-dressed by our classmates.

Well, times have changed, and it is Middle America's young who haunt the junk-store scene now. They junk as an "out" — we junked as an "in."

Because of their numbers and their available cash, they have caused a radical change in the arena of junkin'. Junk-store proprietors now charge uptown prices for downtown goods, since the downtown-look is "in" and uptown is "out."

I've discovered through a process of evolution that for some people there is something psychologically therapeutic about junkin' — over and above the need for clothing. Perhaps it's that great "find" or getting something for virtually nothing or getting a nothing.

Rasmusen's Waning But Good Years

By MARY LOU STRIBLING

Henry Rasmusen was an accomplished artist in many media, but during the last years of his life, his creative energy was focused primarily upon monopainting. Some of the fruits of his long involvement in this unique field are being displayed through July 8 in the foyer of the planning commission's hearing room at the Marin Civic Center.

Monopainting combines techniques for printmaking with those of traditional painting. Paint is applied first to a wood, cardboard, or glass sheet, which serves as a printing block, and is then transferred by pressure to a permanent surface. This produces textures and spontaneous patterns which could not be duplicated by direct brushwork. Frequently, the tracery of pigments has a vitality which appears to generate from the paint itself, rather than the hand of the artist.

LAYER PAINTING

Although the process leads to endless discoveries, it by no means depends upon "happy accidents." Rasmusen often built up his compositions by superimposing a number of separate prints layer upon layer, adding or subtracting various elements as he went along. Distinctive imprints sometimes originated from plant forms, crumpled papers, and found objects, which were glued to his printing blocks, or from paint-saturated strings and silk threads which were sandwiched between papers, then withdrawn to leave rippling veils of color.

These devices can be identified by closely examining some of the paintings on display, but they are of purely academic interest and fade in significance beside the emotional quality and sensuous beauty of the end results.

Hundreds of eyes seem to peer out from "Dark Dreams," contributing to an illusion of formless, nightmare fantasies. In "Trail of the Dragon," a two-sectioned composition, trickles of scarlet bleed into the surrounding cellular patterns, evoking a fascinating but repelling association with viscera under the pitiless scrutiny of an autopsy.

But there are happier works, and although the show is not arranged chronologically, one has the feeling that the artist moved gradually toward increasing luminosity.

ONE OF LAST

"Golden Fleece," is one of his last accomplishments. Its title is perhaps symbolic, for like the legendary Jason, Rasmusen's life was a continuing search — a search for professional excellence, and for personal clues to the mystic relationship of man to the universe.

The painting is a glowing affirmation of his impressive artistic stature. And its radiant spirit suggests that his profound curiosity had finally led to answers which endowed him with a rare tranquility.

A core of forest soil measuring two by three inches can contain 500 to 600 tiny insects, 100 billion bacteria, and tens of millions of fungal cells.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Silhouettes' Funny But May Upset You

By KAY KSANDA

SAN FRANCISCO — "Silhouettes" is very, very funny but if you can't stand dirty jokes and homosexuals at play make you shudder, it's not for you.

First produced in Washington, D.C., in 1968, where the author Ted Harris won a critics award for the best playwright of the year, "Silhouettes" is like a weird encounter group; a pathetic fivesome trying not to tear each other to pieces, clinging together by humor, memories and compassion.

It's a rather dreary set. Staged in the round, the scene is a New York flat rented by a good-natured and aging female "Tom Jones" who works at a restaurant around the corner on Second Avenue. The focal point is a frumpy flowered bed.

Ann is in it, and not alone. As she rises from her bed, she engages her audience immediately by identifying it as her ever-watching neighbors. She loves them, entertains them, and kids them as she pads about in her bare feet and nightgown, slapping the cockroaches on the sink and extricating a cold chicken leg for breakfast.

Scandalized by Ann's appearance and actions, Gloria, the young woman who shares Ann's flat, rushes to cover her with a tattered robe. Berating her behavior and the presence in the bed of Ann's lover she wails. . ."He's been lying there naked ever since he got here three months ago."

And there, under the covers, Chuck stays throughout the play. He is played by Ron Tanguay of Sausalito.

The very young, jealous Gloria builds a bitter battle for the motherly affection they all seek from Ann as the prize ring on this merry-go-round.

And then the plot:

Enter stage left Georgie and Randie, two screamingly funny faggots with purses, blouses, and party-time stage business they must create new for every performance.

When the party is in full swing with Ann, Georgie and Randie dancing with streamers, skirts and hairspray; you are apprehensive that the police just might bust the bash.

The place is Jacksons Penthouse Theater, Bay and Powell, San Francisco, with performances Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. through July.

Mill Valley Council To Discuss Pay Requests

The Mill Valley City Council will discuss employee salary requests when it holds its fourth session on the 1970-71 budget Monday at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Proposed cutbacks in the parks and recreation department budget also will be considered.

Alto-Sutton Manor District Elects Slate

John A. Walters has been elected temporary chairman of the newly formed Alto-Sutton Manor District Association. Other officers are Joanne Kiewert, secretary, and Sara S. Ruffner, publicity chairman.

The group will hold an organizational meeting and elect directors Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Alto fire station.

2,400 Homes Without Electricity For Hour

Electricity was cut off to 2,400 homes on the west side of Petaluma last night when a utility pole burned on the Petaluma-Valley Ford Road.

Service was cut off at 10:37 p.m., but was restored to most areas an hour later. The cause of the fire was not known.

The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and from Parents' Magazine, unless otherwise noted. FAMILY

"Sleeping Beauty" — A reissue of Disney's spectacular animation of classic fairy tale, with Tchaikowsky background music, remains enchanting for whole family.

"Viva Max" — A bumbling Mexican general in a desperate attempt to impress a beautiful senorita tries to retake the Alamo with unexpected results. A gem of impudent but gentle humor.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Anne of the 1000 Days" — Magnificently staged and cast, this historical drama of lust and political intrigue encompasses the courtship, marriage, trial and beheading of Anne Boleyn.

"Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid"—Deft comedy about two charming outlaws that outlive their time. Sparking western with delightful scenery, witty script and memorable performances.

"Norwood" — Ex-Marine in search of a job has adventures and misadventures as he innocently chauffeurs stolen cars. Some incidents, salty dialogue are in poor taste.

"Paint Your Wagon" — A lusty, irreverent script is framework for musical set in a mining camp during Gold Rush days. Elaborately mounted broad comedy, raucous and at times tasteless, therefore not suitable for young children.

"Reivers" — A week-end adventure when an 11 year-old boy loses his childhood innocence and discovers the waywardness of men. Story has good human values, it is regrettable that the action in a brothel makes film unsuitable for younger audiences.

"True Grit" — When a young girl's father has been killed, she convinces a federal marshal to track down the murderer. Humor and suspense mingle effectively. Violence is an integral part of story.

"Z" — A superior thriller and an explosive political statement based on true incident that occurred in Greece in 1963 before military takeover. A French film with English subtitles.

BORDERLINE

(Most Sources Say Adults Only)

"Man Called Horse" — An English aristocrat is captured by Sioux Indians. He survives their savage cruelty by sheer determination to prove his manhood by their standards. Violent and brutal tribal rites are accurately detailed adding dramatic intensity and realism, but viewer should be aware that many scenes are very gory. Dialogue is 80 per cent in old Sioux tongue making story difficult to follow at times.

"Woodstock" — Interesting documentary of last summer's famous rock festival. Nudity, obscene language, use of drugs and love making may keep from the audience those most interested in seeing it. Parental guidance advised.

ADULTS ONLY

"Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice" — An irreverent social satire, slick in its trimmings and has a sharp bite in its characters, dialogue and frank appraisal of modern marriage and morals.

"Boys In The Band" A searing, compassionate study of seven homosexuals who gather to celebrate a birthday. A "truth game" brings into the open the anguish and self loathing of these tormented souls. Shockingly frank sex talk.

"M-A-S-H" — Title stands for Mobile Army Surgical Hospital. Anti-war film deals with three surgeons. Scenes are gruesome as they are funny. Bittersweet element of truth in action and dialogue.

"Wild Bunch" — An outlaw gang pursued by an army of undisciplined bounty hunters fight their way through this story. It is the ultimate in raw, morbid, blood violence. The excellence of the acting and cast makes the film more potent. There is much nudity and cursing.

Strike Closes 2 More Breweries In Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Fewer beer trucks made deliveries in five Northern California counties today because of a Teamsters Union strike.

Assault Brings Term In Prison

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court yesterday sentenced Ivory Weeks Jr., 37, of San Rafael, to state prison for assault with a deadly weapon.

A jury in March found Weeks guilty of stabbing a Marin City woman on Dec. 27, but sentencing had been delayed because Weeks underwent an appendectomy at San Quentin where he was taken from Marin County jail for emergency surgery.

Weeks, who was on parole for second-degree murder, had stabbed Pauline Moore, 32, with a hunting knife outside her home after earlier threatening her.

PG&E To Cut Price Of Gas On July 1

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Pacific Gas and Electric Company's gas customers will get a rate reduction beginning July 1.

The cut reflects a $1.9 million annual drop in PG&E's expenses. Most of it—$1.6 million—is a result of the end of the federal surcharge on income taxes. The remainder is a result of a cut in the wholesale price of gas the company buys from Pacific Gas Transmission Company.

Novato Youth Facing Pot Selling Charge

Mark Keith Hanna, 18, of Novato was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of selling marijuana to an undercover agent on June 6.

His case was referred to the probation department for possible transferral to juvenile court. He is to return to court July 9.

Savings Increase At S&L Firms

WASHINGTON (UPI0 — Net savings at savings and loan associations throughout the nation increased last month for the fourth consecutive month as deposits exceeded withdrawals by $707 million, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported today.

Savings and loan deposits are closely watched by the housing industry because the associations make the majority of the nation's conventional mortgage loans.

The government report showed S & L's increased their loans close to $1.53 billion last month, up from $1.36 billion in April. Commitments for future loans increased to $1.58 billion last month, up from $1.39 billion in April.

N.Y. Abortion Can Be Done In Office, Clinic

NEW YORK (UPI) — Abortions in New York City, legally effective in hospitals next Wednesday, will be permitted in doctors' offices and clinics under strict regulations, the city's Board of Health ruled Thursday.

The proposed regulations, an amendment to the most permissive abortion laws in the nation, cannot become law until 20 days after they are published in the City Record, which probably will be done Monday.

'Auld Lang Syne' For SS Lurline

There was hardly a dry eye among the 810 passengers and 400 crew members of the SS Lurline which docked at Pier 35 after completing a 20-day cruise to Hawaii.

The 26,000-ton flagship of the Matson Navigation Co. has plied the Pacific, Caribbean and South Atlantic for the past 38 years. A victim of soaring operating costs and diminishing passenger loads, she was sold to the Chandris Line of Greece and will be renamed "Britanis."

Strike Seen If Social, Probation Talks Fail

A walkout next Thursday by more than 160 Marin County social and probation workers loomed today, despite continuing negotiations.

Local 535 of the social workers union, which represents both groups in bargaining talks with county officials, is scheduled to seek strike sanction for some 90 probation employees Monday night from the Marin County Labor Council.

No formal sanction request has been made in behalf of more than 70 social workers.

Negotiations continued today in an effort to avert a threatened strike. Contracts with both groups expire at midnight Wednesday.

Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella said wages are the major issue in both cases, but he declined to divulge details. However, William Schutt, chairman of the social workers' negotiating team, said the group has asked for a 7.5 per cent hike, although indicating it would be willing to settle for 5 per cent if caseloads are reduced.

Campanella said the present pay range for probation workers is $781 to $1,200 monthly and $673 to $1,071 for social workers.

"I think we're closing on the economic issues," Campanella said, adding that talks were held with the social workers last night, with another session scheduled today, and that he was waiting to hear from probation spokesmen.

Meanwhile, progress has been reported slow toward a new contract with sheriff's deputies, county firemen and radio personnel in the communications department, all represented by the Marin County Employees Association.

That pact also expires Wednesday midnight, but it has an automatic 60-day extension clause.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows reported deputies are seeking a 17.5 per cent pay boost and the firemen a 10 per cent hike plus a 25 per cent reduction in duty hours.

Dissolution Asked By Wife Of Businessman

San Rafael real estate broker William A. Timmer, 50, was sued again yesterday in Marin Superior Court by his third wife, Louise S. Timmer, 44, who asked dissolution of their marriage.

Mrs. Timmer has gone to court four times previously asking twice for divorce and twice for separate maintenance, but the suits were dropped each time.

The couple was married in Las Vegas, Nev., on Oct. 20, 1962.

There is no child of the marriage.

Mrs. Timmer asked support for herself and division of community property which as described as "various substantial interest in personal and real property, the exact nature and extent of which are unknown at this time."

Generation Gap Discussions Set

A program to help the parent and teen-ager bridge the generation gap by teaching each to listen to and understand the content of what the other is saying will be offered by the Family Service Agency of Marin at 1005 A Street, San Rafael, beginning July 7.

Agency director Chester F. Villalba said the six sessions, to be held weekly on Tuesday nights from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., will be led by two family therapists.

Fairfax Planners Take Hands-Off Span Stand

The Fairfax Planning Commission took the position last night that concrete poured by the city to repair a bridge on Meadow Way over Meadow Way Creek is on private property so the city can't do anything about it, secretary Marie Whissell reported today.

Citizent had criticized the concrete pouring as unnecessary and badly done. The city council referred the issue to the planning commission.

The commission suggested that concerned citizens work with the owner to landscape the area, according to the secretary.

A proposed ordinance governing retaining walls in creeks was put off to the next regular meeting July 30, she said.

The Fairfax Planning Commission also:

PERMIT — Granted a conditional zoning permit to Ted Gates for a ladies shoe and dress shop at 42 Bolinas Road.

PREZONING — Set a public hearing July 30 to discuss a city council request to pre-zone land northwest of the city that Fairfax wants to annex.

ADJOURNED MEETING — Scheduled an adjourned meeting for July 23 to discuss the proposed new zoning ordinance.

Indian Still Near Death From Beating

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Richard Oakes, the Mohawk Indian who led the occupation of Alcatraz Island, remained in "critical" condition today and still in a coma two weeks after being hit in the head with a pool cue in a bar room brawl with a Samoan.

Doctors hold out very little hope for his recovery despite "religious" administrations earlier this week by tribal medicine men.

Oakes had resigned his position as a councilor on Alcatraz Island to become an advisor of the Pit River Indians in their efforts to reclaim their ancient lands in Northern California.

Police held Tommy Prichert, a Samoan, on charges of assault with intent to commit murder. The officers said the brawl had no relation to Oakes' other Indian activities, but may have resulted from animosities between the American Indians and the Samoans.

Oakes is the father of six children, one of whom died on Alcatraz Island in an accidental fall down a stairway.

Deputies Probe Dog Poisonings

Golden retrievers belonging to John S. Hoffmire, of 583 Virginia Drive, and Harriette M. Beardsley, of 4 Theresa Court, were poisoned last week.

Sgt. Angelo J. Mecchi of the Tiburon substation said deputies have no idea who is responsible. Local pharmacies have reported no recent sales of strychnine, he said.

$754 Loot Reported From Cabin Cruiser

Sailing equipment worth $745 was reported taken between June 14 and 18 from a cabin cruiser berthed in the Sausalito Yacht Harbor, Sausalito police said yesterday.

Owner Howard Feldman of Redwood City told police the stolen items include a sextant, marine cookstove, barometer, radio direction finder, compass, depth finder, fishing equipment and a rifle.

Car-Motorcycle Brush Hurts Rider

Gerard H. Anger, 22, of 95 Medway Road, Apt. 20, was treated for a sprained right leg at Marin General Hospital yesterday after his motorcycle collided at 7:49 p.m., according to police, with a car on Vivian Way south of Belvedere Street.

The car was driven by Charles H. Turner, of 22 Oakwood Avenue, San Anselmo, police reported.

THIEF BOLDY STEALS TIME FROM CITY

A bold thief apparently walked out of San Rafael City Hall between 4:10 and 5 p.m. yesterday with a one-by-two-foot $100 bronze and wood clock, Virginia H. Congdon of the city manager's office told police today.

The clock, donated to City Hall in May 1968 by the San Rafael Improvement Club, was hung in the lobby close to the front entrance.

An employee reported checking the time at 4:10 and the clock was missed at 5 p.m. closing time, but nobody reported seeing the clock — or a package the right size — carried out, she said.

Free Tour Set Of Span Bus, Rail Proposal

The Golden Gate Bridge District is sponsoring a free public bus tour from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. tomorrow which will survey the proposed rail and bus routes in the Golden Gate corridor, according to Tee Taggart of Okamoto-Liskaman, district planning consultants.

John Torrey of Okamoto-Liskaman will be leader of the tour. According to Torrey, the routes to be reached by bus and explored by foot include a proposed rail system beginning at Kearny Street in San Francisco, continuing over the second deck of the Golden Gate Bridge and then as far as Novato.

The second route to be examined will begin along Columbus Street in San Francisco and then along the same route in Marin.

The third, to be a combination of rail and bus, will be along the route of the first plus a bus line via the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge to the Richmond BART station.

Those who want to take the tour are asked by Torrey to be at the west parking lot of the Golden Gate Bridge Administration Building with lunches, writing material and comfortable shoes, according to Torrey.

All buses, beverages and information will be provided, he said.

Arraignment Today For 3 In Burglary Case

Three young men were to be arraigned today in Central Sonoma Municipal Court for the burglary of Ken Styles Truck and Auto Repair, 1080 Petaluma Boulevard North, Petaluma.

Booked into Sonoma County jail yesterday on suspicion of burglary were Paul Bernard Malarich, 19, of 7086 Gravenstein Highway South, Cotati; Stephen Douglas Tanneyhill, 24, of 285 Alden Avenue, Rohnert Park, and Thomas Elmer Davies, 22, of 2205 Goodwin Avenue, Petaluma.

Petaluma police and Sonoma County sheriff's deputies arrested the trio inside the repair garage at 3:15 a.m. after receiving an anonymous call about intruders in the building.

NOVATO'S 'MR. TELEPHONE'

W. Ross Wright Ends 24-Year Career With Growing Company

W. Ross Wright, Novato's "Mr. Telephone," will retire Wednesday as vice president of Western California Telephone Co.

He started 24 years ago with what was then Novato Utilities Co., with 210 telephone customers. Novato now has more than 12,000 phones.

Wright was born 64 years ago in Chicago and grew up in the suburban community of Elmhurst, Ill.

He got in and out of the telephone business once before his long career in Novato. In 1927 he went to work for Illinois Bell Telephone Co. as an installer-repairman, but a few years later joined an import-export company which sent him to San Francisco to open a branch office.

W. ROSS WRIGHT
"Mr. Telephone" retiring

With outbreak of World War II, the company's business vanished, so Wright got a job at Mare Island Naval Shipyard, installing remote control batteries on cruisers.

"When the war ended, I could see that would not go on forever, so I went to work for Albert Cain, who owned the Novato Utilities Co.," Wright reminisced.

The company operated telephone, water and electric utilities in Novato. "Ray Patterson and I had to do everything with the telephone company," Wright related, often being called out during the night for emergencies.

Cain later sold the telephone exchange to Los Gatos Telephone Co. (which became Western California Telephone Co.) and Wright was named Novato exchange manager in 1959. He was advanced to district manager, responsible for Novato, Kenwood and McCloud exchanges, in 1968; and in May of last year he was made vice president and a member of the board of directors.

Besides his work with the telephone company, Wright has been prominent in Novato civic affairs. He has been a director of the Novato Chamber of Commerce, president of the Novato Rotary Club, and active in the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, Independent Telephone Pioneers Association, and Redwood Empire Association.

He married his high school sweetheart, Dorothy Oberman, 43 years ago. After he began work for the telephone exchange in Novato, they wanted "a place out in the country," so bought 1.3 acres at the end of Kendon Lane where they built their own house 19 years ago. "We love our house and have no intention of moving" on retirement, Wright said.

Their daughter, Sarah, is the wife of Ignacio Vella of Sonoma, a Sonoma County supervisor; their son, Bruce, lives near Grand Junction, Colo.

Gardening, fishing, reading, and visiting the grandchildren will take up his time in retirement, Wright said.

Youth Denies Three Cotati Drug Counts

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Mark David Icanberry, 27, of Oakland, has pleaded innocent in Central Sonoma Municipal Court to three drug offenses in Cotati.

Cotati Police Chief Anthony Locarini arrested Icanberry Monday on suspicion of possession and sale of marijuana and using a minor, a teen-age girl, to distribute the marijuana.

A preliminary hearing on the charges will be set at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Also arrested in the raid at 8299 Redwood Highway South, was James Horton Sanders Jr., 20, of 176 Adele Avenue, Rohnert Park. He was released on bail and scheduled for arraignment July 3 in Central Sonoma Municipal Court for possession and sale of marijuana.

Locarini said $400 worth of marijuana was confiscated at the home.

Ranch Picnic Sunday

A public picnic featuring steak and hamburger barbecue, will be held from noon to 5 p.m., Sunday at the Silviera Ranch on Highway 101 north of Novato, sponsored by the San Marin Improvement Association. There will be games for all ages and babysitting service will be provided, according to chairman Joan Burdet.

Two Women Hurt; Motorcyclist Escapes Scene

Two elderly women were taken to Marin General Hospital yesterday after they were stuck by a hit-and-run motorcyclist while crossing Meadow Drive in Santa Venetia.

Maysie E. Cox, 82, of 8 Meadow Drive, was treated for multiple scrapes. Bernice Barton, 31, of 845 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, refused treatment at the hospital and said she would see her own doctor for unspecified injuries.

The California Highway Patrol could not furnish a description of the driver of the motorcycle, who rode his machine north on Meadow Drive after striking the women at 11:55 a.m. The motorcycle was found abandoned on a nearby hill, the patrol said.

Marin City Sets Quiz On Needs For Housing

A questionaire to determine the number of median income housing units needed in Marin City was reviewed and approved for distribution by the Marin City Council last night.

Chairman Samuel L. Banks Jr. said the survey, which will be conducted in mid-July, is required if Marin City is to qualify for a 701 planning program loan.

"The basic issue is self-determination," Banks said. "The people of Marin City want to make sure their needs are known."

The questionnaire will give the council an idea of the demand for different types of housing in Marin City, and the desire of the people for ethnic balance in the community, Banks said.

The council also heard a report from a representative of the Golden Gate Bridge District on three proposals for rapid transit that now are under consideration.

All would use the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way from Sausalito to San Rafael. One plan calls for trains to cross the Golden Gate Bridge on a new lower deck, and the other two would require tubes to be constructed from San Francisco to Marin under the bay.

The council was assured that a terminal would be built in or near Marin City regardless of which plan is approved, Banks said.

(b) The acquisition of rights of capacity and use in existing trunk and collector sewers, sewage pumping plants, treatment rights and other facilities of the Sanitary District.

(c) The doing of all work and acquisition of all lands and easements necessary and rights auxiliary to the above and/or necessary to complete the same.

All of said work and improvements are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and at the lines, grades and elevations shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications preliminarily approved therefor by the Board of said District and on file for public inspection in the office of the Secretary.

Notice is hereby given of the fact that in many cases said work and improvements will bring the finished surface of the ground to a grade different from the surface as it now exists, and that to said extent said grades will be changed and that said work will be done to said changed grades.

Said contemplated acquisitions and improvements, in the opinion of said Board, are of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and the costs and expenses thereof are made chargeable upon an assessment district, the exterior boundaries of which district are the composite and consolidated area as more particularly shown on a map thereof on file in the office of the Secretary, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars. Said map indicates by a boundary line the extent of the territory included in the proposed district and shall govern for all details as to the extent of the assessment district.

The estimated cost of said project is $83,696.40.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bear interest at the rate of not to exceed seven percent (7%) per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided in the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, the last installment of which bonds shall mature not to exceed fourteen (14) years from the second day of July next succeeding ten months from their date.

The descriptions of the acquisitions and improvements and the termini of the work contained in the Resolution of Intention are general in nature. All items of work do not necessarily extend for the full length of the description thereof. The plans and profiles of the work and maps and descriptions, as contained in the Engineer's report, shall be controlling as to the correct and detailed description thereof.

Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, said work shall be done pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913 and Section 17 of Article XIII of the California Constitution.

Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the Secretary.

Notice is further given that the District Engineer pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention, adopted pursuant thereto, did on the 15th day of June, 1970, file with the Secretary of said District his report in writing on said acquisitions and improvements, consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, maps and descriptions, and said Board did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminarily approved and confirmed same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purposes of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that Monday, the 20th day of July, 1970, at the hour of 7:30 o'clock P.M. of said day, in the regular meeting place of said Board, Town Hall, Town of Corte Madera, California, are the time and place appointed and fixed by said Board when and where it will consider and finally determine whether the public interest, convenience and necessity require said acquisitions and improvements, and when it will consider and determine whether the owners of a majority of the area of the property in the proposed assessment district have protested against said acquisitions and improvements or any portion thereof, and when and where it will consider and finally act upon the Engineer's report filed pursuant to said Resolution of Intention and when and where it will hear all protests in relation to said proposed acquisitions and improvements, or to the grades at which said work will be done, or the extent of the assessment district, or to the Engineer's estimate of the costs and expenses thereof, or to the proposed diagram and assessment, or to the maps and descriptions and that any person interested may file a written protest with the Secretary at or before the time set for the hearing referred to herein.

Recipients Bitter In Blasts At Reagan, Medi-Cal Cuts

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Reagan Administration's proposed economy cutbacks in the Medi-Cal program were angrily denounced Thursday by recipients at a public hearing.

State policemen ejected one man from the jammed hearing room and forcibly sat down another man during the proceedings conducted by the Health Review and Program Council.

Dr. Earl W. Brian, director of the Health Care Services Department which administers the Medi-Cal program, told newsmen he expects to reach a decision next week on the proposed new Medi-Cal regulations. The hearing was scheduled to resume this afternoon.

More than 500 Medi-Cal recipients opposing the changes showed up for the hearings. They included five busloads of persons from the San Francisco Bay Area. A small number of them carried signs calling for "No Cuts."

Alfred De Nocker, San Francisco, was pulled away from the microphone by a state policeman, shoved against a wall and ushered back to his seat after refusing to yield the microphone during his testimony.

De Nocker had asked Brian, chairman of the council, if he and his top aides could live on the funds provided for the medically needy in California.

"I insist on an answer," De Nocker told Brian. "Give us an answer. Why don't you answer?"

"You're not going to receive an answer to that question," Brian shot back, after warning De Nocker to limit his testimony to the proposals under consideration. "Unless you have further testimony, step down," Brian told De Nocker.

The large number of recipients forced a two-hour delay in the hearing as the session was moved into a larger auditorium. Nearly 100 recipients remained outside the building and listened to the hearing over a hastily set up public address system.

Prior to the change of hearing rooms, an unidentified man was spirited out of the overcrowded room by a policeman when he refused to move out of an aisle.

The proposed changes would eliminate from Medi-Cal persons classified as "medically needy," those who do not receive welfare cash payments but get limited Medi-Cal benefits. They also would reduce the amount of property recipients can own and the amount of income they can receive while continuing to benefit from Medi-Cal.

The Reagan Administration said the new regulations would save $9 million the first year and $1 million a year thereafter.

Assemblyman Leo T. McCarthy, D-San Francisco, told the council the proposals will "hit financially those Californians least able to withstand the blow—the elderly, the crippled, the ill."

McCarthy added the provisions would reduce the living standard to $150 per month for a single, elderly Medi-Cal recipient and "materially increase the medical fees an eligible person would have to pay from his own funds before getting modest state aid."

Fred Hiestand, director of the California Rural Legal Assistance Agency's senior citizens project in San Francisco, testified that the changes would "sacrifice the health of tens of thousands of Californians."

Local social services officials, mainly from Los Angeles and San Francisco counties, opposed the changes on the grounds they would increase county administrative problems with Medi-Cal.

Australian Doctors Devise Reversible Sterility Surgery

TWO AUSTRALIAN gynecologists have devised a method of contraception that is unique. They wrap the ovaries in a Silastic bag and bury them in the pelvic wall.

Why the Silastic bag? In developing the technique, the physicians simply buried the ovaries. But, two of the six women got pregnant when the ovaries herniated out of the pouch. In effect, the method involves hidding the ovary from the sperm. The procedure may be the answer to temporary sterilization.

ACCORDING to Medical World News, four of the women who had the operation did not conceive. In the technique, called ovariotexy, an incision is made in the lower abdomen and each ovary is placed in a Silastic bag which is fitted loosely around the ovarian pedicle and sutured in place. A pouch is constructed in the side of the pelvic wall where the bag is buried.

Ovarian function continues but the ovum cannot escape into the abdominal cavity and enter the tube where it is fertilized. If the woman wants to have another child, the ovaries are removed from the sack and replaced in their former position.

ONE OF THE WOMEN was a 28-year-old mother of four who had side reactions to every known type of contraceptive, including the Pill. In addition, she developed a profound depression after the birth of her last child. Although sterilization was in order, she did not want to permanently give up the the ability to have children.

Another woman had a sad family history of hemophilia, and was the mother of a 7-month-old boy with the disease. She wanted to be sterilized but not permanently, because if and when a cure is found for hemophilia she wants to have more children.

Still another woman of 23 had four children and was incapable of taking care of them. Two others had mental disorders and wanted to avoid pregnancy at this time.

EXCESS SUGAR EATING

C. S. writes: Can too much sugar be harmful? I eat about four pounds of table sugar a week.

REPLY

Some of the dangers associated with consuming this amount of sugar are dental caries, arteriosclerosis, and obesity, assuming you do not have diabetes. However, this is an excessive amount of sugar. You must put it on and in every food you eat.

ARCHES ARE WEAK

A. N. wirtes: Are there any special exercises to help fallen arches?

REPLY

Yes, and they are easy exercises. The most popular is to pick up marbles with the toes. Another is to stand on the balls of the feet. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on flat feet. It describes several exercises that you may find helpful.

SKIN DEPRESSION

E. T. writes: What would cause a depression in the skin at the base of the spine?

REPLY

Pilonidal cyst is the usual cause. Injury, as from riding in a car on a bumpy road, may encourage infection in the area. But if it is causing no trouble, let it alone.

SAFFLOWER USE

D. L. O. writes: Does safflower oil help high blood pressure?

REPLY

No. This product is used to lower the cholesterol level of the blood. Beyond this, it has no influence on the blood pressure.

New Hampshire College To Get Youngest President, 23

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 23-year-old graduate student will become the nation's youngest college president Aug. 1 when he takes over the presidency of Franconia College in New Hampshire.

Leon Botstein's appointment to head up the private liberal arts college near Laconia, N.H., was announced Thursday by Joseph Monserrat, president of the New York City Board of Education. Botstein has been an aide to Monserrat since he received his master's degree from Harvard.

"With this appointment the greatest cop-out of our times, the generation gap, will be exploded," Monserrat said.

The Rev. Paul W. Rahmeier, president of Franconia's board of trustees, said "We're not taking Leon because he's 23." Nor would we avoid him because he's 23. Age here is irrelevant."

Botstein, currently working on a doctorate, will also teach history at the nine-year old college.

Botstein plans to keep it that way. The college under his administration will emphasize student participation in every aspect of decision making and policy setting, he said, including rating the faculty's performance and helping support the financially strapped college through work projects.

He said he wants to change Franconia from an institution into a community.

"I want Franconia to be the kind of college where students 'turned off' by traditional methods of education can be 'turned on' by the opportunity of involvement," he said.

But for that, Franconia may see more structure, at least academically, than it witnesses under retiring president, Larry Lemmel, 36.

Botstein anticipates a much more structured curriculum, although it will still be innovative. "You don't have to be kooky to be experimental," he said.

Tiburon Budget Asks Salary Hikes Of 10%

The proposed Tiburon budget recommends 10 per cent pay raises for all city employees, not 5 to 15 per cent raises as reported in Wednesday's Independent-Journal.

Regular step adjustments during the year would provide further salary increases in most cases, however.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1917 the first troops of the American Expeditionary Force reached France to fight in World War I.

In 1944 the third largest French port, Cherborg, was liberated from the Nazis by the Allies.

A thought for the day: French critic Anatole France said, "We have medicines to make women speak: we have none to make them keep silent."

Plane Engines To Cut Down On Pollution

OTTAWA (UPI) — Modified airplane engines which will give off less smoke than present jets will be installed on commercial planes in Canada in about two years, the Department of Transport reports.

"Discussions have taken place with the airlines concerning the JT8D engine which is considered to be the main cause of air pollution by aircraft." Gerald Loiselle, of the Transport Ministry, said in answer to a question in parliament. "Manufacturers' production schedules will permit the airlines to equip their aircraft with modified engines, which greatly reduce the pollution factor, by 1972."

Remain Alert To Protect Trumps Against Attack

When the queen of trumps is out you should normally cash the ace or king on the first round of trumps. If the queen falls, you can look modest but clever. If nothing startling happens on the first trump trick, you can try a finesse for the queen later. One of the many exceptions to this rule occurs when you must protect your trumps against repeated attack.

FORCED TO RUFF

West led the queen of hearts and continued the suit, forcing South to ruff the third round. Since South knew all the normal rules of play, he led a spade to dummy's king and returned the nine of trumps for a finesse through East.

West won with the queen of spades and led a fourth heart, forcing South to ruff again. Now declarer had only the ace of spades left, and West had two trumps. Sooner or later West was sure to get the setting trick with his extra trump. Down one.

COULDN'T TELL

South couldn't tell which opponent had the queen of spades, but he could tell what would happen if he lost a trump finesse when dummy was out of trumps. A fourth heart would be led, and then only a 3-3 trump break would save the game.

There was no such danger if South tried a finesse on the first round of trumps. After ruffing the third heart, South should with a diamond and leads the ace of spades. Then queen re-lead his low trump and try a finesse with dummy's nine.

MAKES CONTRACT

As the cards lie, the finesse works. Declarer cashes the king of spades, returns to his hand mains out, but South goes about his business with the diamonds,

S. Africa Lacking Trained Engineers

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Despite its industrial growth and economic stability, South Africa is short about 1,000 graduate engineers.

F.P. Jacobs of Union Steel Corporation told a steel industry symposium that South Africa has fewer engineers in proportion to population than any other industrialized western nation.

Jacobs blamed the shortage on industries which do not provide enough support to technical training.

St. Louis' Carl Taylor went out of his way yesterday to take out Pittsburgh's Gene Alley, but Alley still made out and throw for double play, while Dave Cash ducked throw. Pirates won, 3-2.

They Have Wings, But Stay On Ground

Quick now, what has wings, holds its weight at 1,250 pounds, makes the ground tremble with thunder, roars like a jet and moves 200 miles per hour?

Wrong, if you guessed Jackie Gleason answering the Last Call for Alcohol; Right if you answered Formula Race Car.

The subject arises because the Formula buggies will be in the limelight at Sears Point International Raceway tomorrow and Sunday for the Continental Series, featuring international road racing favorite John Cannon, the former RAF fighter pilot from Canada, and TV star Dick Smothers.

Developed by Sports Car Club of America, which is promoting this weekend's racing in conjunction with the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce, Formula cars are so-called because they are built to the specific formula prescribed by the Federation Internation de l'Automobile, the body that makes the rules for auto racing. In other words, all cars in the Formula A category are identical and the burden of performance is therefore on the driver.

Not Expense Of Indy Cars

Considerably less expensive than the Indianapolis type cars and the sophisticated Group 7 jalopies in the Canadian-American series, the Formula A has a single seat, four open whels, dual brake system, two-wheel drive, 1250-pound minimum weight without fuel, 305 cubic inch displacement engines using American production stock blocks and heads with pushrod operated valve mechanisms; 30-gallon gas tanks using regular pump gas.

Certain engine modifications are allowed except that the camshaft cannot be moved, the number of bearings changed, nor can the head or block be changed. No supercharging is permitted.

Wings and air spoilers on many of the cars provide an exotic appearance and stabilizing effect at high speeds. They prevent them from taking off for Cuba.

Weight and cubic inch displacement are the differences in the B/C Formula cars which share the program with the A's.

Golly, and all this time I thought a Formula was something you fed an infant.

I Pick Cannon To Win

Anyway, I pick Cannon, Ron Grable of Belmont and George Wintersteen of Pennsylvania to finish 1-2-3 Sunday in the main event.

CHARLEY FOX, new manager of the Giants, will be guest of honor at next Wednesday's dinner gathering of the Giant Boosters Club of Northern California at Rubini's in Fairfax.

SHARON WALSH, playing at Wimbledon this week, must have inherited much of her athletic ability from her pop, photographer Les Walsh.

Dad Was Quite An Athlete

Something I didn't know until yesterday is that Les was one of the better athletes to come out of San Rafael High School, around 1928 vintage.

According to Howie Adams of San Rafael, former teammate of Walsh: "Les was a great little athlete, thin but with plenty of guts and talent. He was catcher on the ball club and center on the football team — right where all the action is."

AL GHIRINGHELLI, SRHS Class of '40, asked former state high school half-mile champion Roger Lane if he could still clock a 1:56 as he did 30 years ago and Roger replied: "Sure — from the bedroom to the bathroom."

Adds Ghiringhelli: "Goes to show you, 30 years have passed, but a member of my class can still run the same time, only the distance is a little different."

Graebner Breezes To Victory

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Clark Graebner of New York earned a berth in the fourth round of the Wimbledon Open tennis championships today when he crushed Indian Davis Cupper Premjit Lall, 6-0, 6-2, 6-1.

Graebner won the first seven games, then broke Lall's service again in the sixth game of the second set with a cross-court backhand. He won the set 6-2 with two placements down the line that left the spirited but outclassed Lall grinning in despair.

Two other American men were in action today with a chance to gain the quarter-finals. Dennis Ralston, the 15th seed from Bakersfield, Calif., met second-seeded John Newcombe of Australia on center court and Tom Gorman of Seattle, Wash., who upset 12th-seeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa on Thursday, was paired against fifth-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia.

Rosemary Casals of San Francisco and Betty Ann Grubb of Santa Monica, Calif., were among the third-round winners in women's singles. Miss Casals, seeded fifth, had a tough time in subduing Denice Carter of Los Altos, Calif., 6-3, 8-6, and Miss Grubb beat Adda Bakker of the Netherlands, 7-5, 6-2.

Top-seed Rod Laver of Australia, the defending titleholder, leads five seeded compatriots and six Americans, including four seeds, into the fourth round in the men's singles battle.

In the women's singles, joint title favorites Billie Jean King of Berkeley, Calif., and Margaret Court of Australia spearheaded eight other Americans and three other Australians into the last 32 places.

The only surviving seeds of other nationalities are Andres Gimeno of Spain, Ilya Nastase of Romania, Britain's Roger Taylor and Virginia Wade, and Helga Niessen of West Germany.

Unlike past years, there have been no major upsets to electrify the crowds which have failed to show up in really big numbers this year. It's almost as if a computer has spewed out the results everybody expected.

Thursday's only surprises, but not big ones, same when Tom Gorman of Seattle ousted 12th ranked Cliff Drysdale of South Africa in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2, and Bob Carmichael of Australia disposed of sixth seeded Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia.

Laver had an easy passage Thursday, as did the other surviving men and women seeds who saw action, except Taylor, who had a tough set while defeating Charles Pasarell of Santurce, P.R., 8-6, 17-15, 6-4.

Laver moved closer to his goal of three consecutive Wimbledon crowns with a 6-2, 3-6, 6-0, 6-3 victory over Fred McMillan of South Africa.

The other men seeds still hoping to clash with the heavily favored Laver in the final are Australia's John Newcombe, Tony Roche, Ken Rosewall and Roy Emerson, and America's Clark Graebner, New York, Arthur Ashe, Gum Spring, Va., Stan Smith, Pasadena, Calif., and Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif.

FRENCH TENNIS STAR OUSTS SHARON WALSH

After defeating an American and an Australian in the first two rounds, Sharon Walsh of San Rafael met more than her match in a French-woman yesterday when she was eliminated from the All-England Tennis Championships at Wimbledon, England by Francoise Durr of Paris, 7-5, 6-1.

Miss Walsh, who was graduated this month from San Rafael High School, earlier claimed victories over Patti Hogan of La Jolla, Calif., and Helen Gourlay of Australia.

RICHARD DELGADO — In happy victory.

THE SPORTING GENTRY

Distance Runner Raps 'Militaristic Coaches'

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Richard Delgado is an articulate, outspoken young man who likes to run. And not just a few yards, but a few miles.

Recent record-breaking winner of the Novato Ridge Run, Delgado, mathematics teacher at San Rafael High School, didn't compete in high school or college sports because he couldn't follow philosophies of the coaching ranks.

In Delgado's words, "Coaches and the athletic establishment tend to deaden the creativity and form of expression of athletics, especially running."

STRAIGHT SHOOTER

Delgado is a straight shooter who will not only stand by his convictions, but he'll run for them. In 1965 he and three other young men ran cross country — literally — to demonstrate against the Vietnam war. They ran a relay race from the Marina Green in San Francisco all the way to the White Huse in Washington, D.C., three of them resting in a supply car while the other one ran. It took a total of 64 days.

"I'll tell you I was really tired and sore after that run," said Delgado. "But we did get to talk to someone from the President's office. I think it was effective."

Delgado was ranked 10th in the country last year in the six-mile run and has won numerous trophies and awards for his running. He has his sights set on the 1972 Olympics, and says he will be trying very hard in the six-mile event.

"Let's call my chances slight," he said.

His plans don't call for any running in the Dipsea race from Mill Valley to Stinson Beach, although he has run the race in the past, finishing fourth one year.

DANGEROUS DIPSEA

"I don't feel it (the Dipsea) is a fair competitive running test and it's too dangerous. I'm not going to risk my life or the lives of others. It is pleasant to walk the course, but it's insane to run it. I don't enjoy this type of racing, where you have to elbow or push your way past people."

Delgado didn't do any serious competitive running until his days in the Marine Corps. He also did some running during graduate studies at University of California and Stanford. Now a member of the West Valley Track Club, he does most of his practice running through the forests near his Woodacre home. He runs about an hour in the morning and an hour in the evening, getting in about 115 to 120 miles of running a week.

"It's a pleasure, running through the woods," he said. "People think running is painful to your legs, and your lungs hurt. It's not that way when you're well-trained and in good condition. Running can be a real pleasure."

Delgado, who stands 5-foot-11 and weighs 150 pounds, is strongly on the side of the runners in the recent flareup of long - hair vs. short - hair that raged on the Redwood High School campus and within the walls of the Tamalpais Union High School District office.

He says: "Maybe the hair is symbolic to the boy. It represents freedom. But it is just too

Last Marin Survivor Out Of Golf Tourney

Warren Richter of San Rafael, the last surviving Marin county player in the California State Amateur Golf Championship at Pebble Beach, was eliminated in the second round yesterday when he lost to Bill Feil of Los Angeles, 1 up.

Richter, a 21-year-old iron worker, was one of four Marin players who qualified on June 1 for the championship. Of the others only 1936 state champion Mat Palacio Jr. of San Rafael made it into the match play tournament, and he was defeated in the first round Wednesday, 3 and 2 by Ray Arrino of Sacramento.

Buzz Beattie of Ross withdrew Monday after the first qualifying round, and Doug Francisco of San Rafael declined to enter.

As the field for today's third round was cut to 16, only Forty-Niner quarterback John Brodie, Los Angeles attorney Dick Runkle and Stanford Club champion Frank Zack were still around to uphold the honors of experience.

Brodie beat San Francisco's Mike Moriarty, 5 and 4 and was to meet Bob Risch of Gardena today; Runkle faced Jim Petralia after defeating Chuck Van Linge of Portola, 3 and 2, and Zack went against one of the pre-tourney favorites, Vic Loustalot of Sacramento.

Candlestick Fans Ready For 3,000

Mays Nears Another Milestone

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— With the San Francisco Giants 16 1-2 games behind Cincinnati in the National League West, Willie Mays is proving to be a pleasant diversion.

Hometown fans will be flocking to Candlestick Park in a few days hoping to see Mays become the 10th man in baseball to collect 3,000 hits. He's 12 short of the mark now and has a nine-game homestand in front of him.

Wonderous Willie is taking things in stride. When approached after his 2,988th hit in Cincinnati, he replied simply, "I'll get the next 12 too."

Earlier this year, Henry Aaron of the Atlanta Braves became the ninth man to join the 3,000 Hit Club and now has 3,034.

Oddly, Aaron and Mays will be trying to outdo each other starting tonight when the Braves open a four-game series at Candlestick.

Righthander Gaylord Perry, ace of the Giants staff with an 11-6 record, will hurl tonight.

The Giants announced the signing Thursday of Jim Barr, righthanded pitcher of the NCAA champion USC Trojans. Barr, who compiled a 26-8 record with the Trojans, was assigned to the Giants Amarillo team in the Texas League.

SEEKS APPROVAL

Clay Wants Bout With Frazier

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cassius Clay is willing to make a comeback. The next move is up to boxing commissions for the states of Washington and Michigan.

The Washington commission meets today to decide the fate of Clay's application for a license, and the Michigan commission is expected to give its approval to the deposed heavyweight champion's comeback bid next week.

Neil Hoff, a Tacoma, Wash. attorney and spokesman for the group that hopes to stage a bout between Clay and his successor, Joe Frazier, said Clay's attorneys "have assured us of his desire to fight in Seattle. We are holding off on negotiations until the license is approved."

"As you know I have announced my retirement and said I would never fight again," Clay said in Philadelphia. "But if the boxing promoters and the American public want to decide who the real champion is—if there is any doubt in their minds and if all the negotiations are legal so it can finally come to pass—then let's prove once and for all by having Joe Frazier enter the ring.

Clay, who was stripped of the title and banned from boxing in 1967 when he refused to be inducted into the Army, is appealing his draft evasion conviction and is free on bail. He signed the Washington application "Cassius Clay" instead of usinf his Black Muslim name "Muhammad Ali" and is under suspension by the Muslims for saying he wanted to fight again because he needed the money.

Isenbarger Is New 49er; Pappas Sold To The Cubs

By U.P INTERNATIONAL

Isenbarger, a 6-3, 205-pound jack-of-all-trades who gained 1,217 yards last year and was Indiana's punter, signed during workouts for tomorrow's Coaches All-American game at Lubbock, Tex.

He will start the game along with two other San Francisco draft choices, defensive back Bruce Taylor of Boston University and defensive end Cedric Hardman of North Texas State. Both have signed with the 49ers.

MILT PAPPAS
Sold by Braves

Baseball

ATLANTA — Veteran pitcher Milt Pappas has been sold by the Atlanta Braves to the Chicago Cubs for an undisclosed amount of cash, it was announced today.

The Cubs will be Pappas' fourth club since breaking into the majors 14 years ago. The 31-year-old righthander, whose lifetime record is 158-123, was 2-2 with the Braves this season and had a 6.06 earned run average.

Decathlon

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE — John Warkentin, a 23-year-old graduate of Fresno State College, won the U.S. decathlon championship yesterday. He compiled 8,026 points to become only the seventh American to achieve the magic 8,000-point plateau. Bill Toomey holds the world record of 8,417.

Yachting

LOS ANGELES — Mir, a 78-foot ketch out of Vancouver, apparently has taken the lead in the Los Angeles to Tahiti yacht race, the longest scheduled ocean race in the world.

According to a Wednesday afternoon report, Mir took advantage of a fresh wind to pull ahead of the ketch Blackfin, which had led from the start. Mir's skipper George O'Brian radioed his position at 1,749 miles out. Blackfin was 1,710 miles out in second place.

Swimming

SANTA CLARA — Dave Edgar of the University of Tennessee, regarded as the fastest swimmer in history, will be in the star studded field for the Santa Clara International Invitational swimming and diving meet July 10-12.

Seven swimmers of NCAA champion Indiana University will compete as members of the Bloomington Aquatic Club, including Mark Spitz and Gary Hall.

Edgar has set a pair of sprint records and won two NCAA championships.

Basketball

NEW YORK — The United States Olympic Committee will conduct an intensive training program at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado in order to select a 12-man basketball team to compete in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union.

Forty-four players have been invited to the three-week program beginning July 5.

Hunter On Mound For A's

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Jim Hunter chases his 12th victory of the season tonight against the Milwaukee Brewers, knowing he has one of baseball's top bullpens behind him.

Hunter, now 11-5, opens the four-game weekend series against Skip Lockwood (0-4). Hunter, a righthander, has won his last four and six of his last seven starts.

Milwaukee, wallowing in last place of the Western Division of the American League, gave idle Oakland a helping hand Thursday by beating Minnesota 4-1. That chopped a half-game off the Twins' lead in the West, leaving Oakland five games off the pace.

In winning five of seven games during a recent homestand, the A's bullpen was called upon 13 times and allowed only three runs in 24 innings.

"I have confidence in them all," said A's manager John McNamara. "I know what they can do and, a good thing for us, they're doing it."

He referred to the recent mound exploits of Jim Grant, Marcel Lachemann, Bob Locker, Paul Lindblad and Jim Roland.

After Milwaukee, the A's play three games at Chicago and wind up the road trip with three more against the California Angels.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Mets Still Fear Cubbies

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

That was the consensus in the world champions' clubhouse Thursday after an 8-3 victory completed a five-game sweep of the Cubs and vaulted the Mets into a 1 1-2-game lead in their division.

DIFFERENT

"They certainly don't look like the same team we played last year or the first series this year," commented Ken Boswell, one of the Mets' 1969 Miracle Men. "But I think they're beyond the point of choking up. And as soon as their pitching gets back, they'll be hard to beat again. They can still catch us as easily as we caught them."

"Nothing's wrapped up until you've got it clinched in September," said Joe Foy, who watched the Met miracle from faraway Kansas City last season. "Didn't the Mets come from nine games behind last year?"

BOMB HOLTZMAN

The Mets completed their humiliation of the Cubs when they bombed Ken Holtzman for six runs in the second inning, stole four bases including home and got a sturdy seven-hit pitching performance from Jerry Koosman. The Mets surged into first place on 12 victories in 15 games while the Cubs have lost seven in a row and eight of their last nine.

The key hits in the Mets' six-run second inning were doubles by Ron Swoboda and Bud Harrelson and singles by Donn Clendenon, Wayne Garret and Tommie Agee. Foy and Garrett worked the double steal with Foy scoring, and Cub errors were committed by Don Kessinger, Jack Hiatt and Glenn Beckert.

OTHER SCORES

The Philadelphia Phillies beat the Montreal Expos3-2 in 11 innings and the Pittsburgh Pirates rallied for a 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in other NL games. Los Angeles at Atlanta was rained out in the only other scheduled NL game.

In the American League, it was Baltimore 13, Boston 8 in 14 innings, New York 3 Cleveland 1, Detroit 2 Washington 1, Milwaukee 4 Minnesota 1 and California 7 Chicago 3.

Shaw's Top Drake In Summer Basketball

Shaw's of Redwood trounced Drake, 53-17 in one of three Drake summer basketball league games last night. Steve McGee of Shaw's had 18 points to lead all scorers.

Joe DeMaestri's 16 points led Novato to a 55-39 win over Chuck Moore Insurance, and Terra Linda defeated Marin Catholic, 58-52 despite the Wildcats' Jim Sulliva, who got 22 points.

Prep Sports Get Ax In Novato District

There will be fewer prep sports in the Novato Unified School District next school year, the result of budget trimming by the district trustees.

Varsity sports dropped from Novato and San Marin high schools were wrestling, water polo, cross country running and soccer. Also dropped was Class B basketball. The district also put the ax to seventh and eighth grade basketball, track, and the Junior High Girls Athletic Association program.

The cuts will lop $8,300 from the total $40,619, reducing the budget to $32,319. Of the total cut, $6,850 of it will be in coaches' salaries and the remainder in transportation costs.

"It was an interesting three-hour discussion on the values of field trips and athletics," Supt. James G. Bunker said of the Tuesday night board meeting.

"We were working to reduce the budget in a way that wouldn't touch major sports," said Bunker. "With our cuts, we came out with a 20 per cent cut in athletics."

The field trip budget was also cut, from $13,500 to $9,200.

The "B" basketball program in the district had been sagging, it was agreed by the athletic staff at the high schools. There were eight Class B players at Novato High and nine at San Marin.

"We figured we were spending more than $100 per boy in 'B' basketball," said Al Scott, athletic director at Novato High.

And when you're working on a tight budget, that kind of economics just doesn't work.

A surprise cut in the Novato High School program was wrestling, a sport in which the Hornets have won the Marin County Athletic League championship five times and the state championship once. Wrestling coach Ralph Cutler earlier had announced this was his last year of coaching.

Football Opener Tomorrow

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—The East will call upon the passing of underrated Gordon Slade and the devastating running ability of Jim Otis Saturday to try to stop the West from taking an unprecedented third straight victory in the 10th annual Coaches All America game.

Possibly the largest crowd in the history of the game will be on hand to watch Slade, the fourth leading passer in the NCAA last year, and Otis, the all-American from Ohio State, square off against the passing attack of the West at 6:30 p.m. (PDT). The game will be televised nationally in color.

The West, which leads the series 5-4, is expected to base its attack on the strong passing of San Diego State's Dennis Shaw and Missouri's Terry McMillan. Shaw will probably start.

Charles McClendon, the coach of the East team which hasn't won since 1967, will start Slade of Davidson at quarterback, Otis at running back, LSU's Eddie Ray at fullback and Indiana's John Isenbarger at flanker.

Mike Hillman of LSU will share signal calling duties with Slade. Clemson's Charlie Waters will spell Isenbarger and Warren Muir is Otis' No. 1 understudy. Isenbarger is also expected to play halfback and fullback as well as handle the punting chores.

West coach Dan Devine of Missouri said he would not name a starting quarterback before game time. He is expected to lean toward Shaw over his own McMillan. He said both men would be alternated continuously.

Coming this Saturday in Marin Magazine
This year's Marin Art and Garden Fair, opening Wednesday on the historic Marin Art and Garden Center grounds at Ross, will make the end of an era in Marin's cultural history. After 1970, the center will no longer be home to Marin's county fair. To salute what is one of California's most colorful and most beautiful fairs, the Independent-Journal tomorrow presents a special issue that features a history of the fair.
One of the traditional participants in the Marin Art and Garden Fair is the Ross Valley Camera Club. The Bay Area Salon of Photography, which it sponsors annually, is always a popular attraction with fair visitors. And the caliber of prints and color slides exhibited is on an international level. There's an illustrated feature about the club and its role in the fair in tomorrow's magazine.

Kids Warm The Heart Of The Great Mails

Walter Mails stood on the ramparts of Candlestick Park and looked down on the playing field where there was no action. The Giants had the day off. It was an open date on the schedule.

"There's nothing lonelier than an empty ball park," said Mails. "Since 1914 I've lived my life in ball parks. Know when my happiest moments were?"

The good will ambassador of the Giants didn't wait for an answer from the fellow who stood next to him.

"I KNOW what you think they were —the 1920 World Series when I beat Brooklyn 1-0 in the sixth game and we went on to become the world champions at Cleveland," said Mails.

"Well, you're wrong. My happiest moments in baseball have been provided by kids. It warms my heart to hear them cheering. A ball park never is happier than when it is jammed with kids. There's something electric about the excitement they generate.

"I'M 73 now but not in spirit because of the job I've got. I should be paying Horace Stoneham instead of him paying me for the privilege of inviting kids to ball games. But don't tell him that."

Mails, as good a promotion man as he was a pitcher, never is at a loss for words. He is a non-stop talker but occasionally must stop for a breath which he did before continuing.

"THIS IS my 11th year with the Giants sponsoring kids' days," he said. "Know how many kids have been admitted free to Candlestick in that time?"

Once again, Mails didn't wait for an answer. He provided it himself.

"I'LL TELL you," said Mails. "This season we are going to pass the two million mark. How about that?"

Candlestick's concessionaires should be paying Mails, not Stoneham.

Every time Mails announces a free day for the kids, the concessionaries put on extra help. They already have elerted standby crews for July 1, the next kids' day.

MAILS IS a soft touch himself for kids to come to the ball park without hot dog money. He has a hard rule that kids must be escorted in groups by responsible adults to qualify for free admission.

Occasionally unescorted youngsters turn up. Then, Mails' hard rule bends a bit and he ends up buying them hot dogs. He denies this because he steadfastly insists he never breaks rules he sets. Maybe not, but he bends them from time to time.

"THERE IS only one way we can handle thekids' program in an orderly manner," said Mails. "That's by letter from a Little League team manager, a teacher or some other responsible person, who should designate the number of kids in their group."

To whom and where should the letters besent?

"The Great Mails, Candlestick Park," he said.

NORTH-SOUTH PROMOTERS UPSET

Pro Scouts Rob The All-Star Cradle

Motorists who passed Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley yesterday and today between the hours of 10 A.M. and 4 P.M. probably gave no second thought to the baseball practice taking place there. Closer inspection would have revealed, however, that the 16 players using the field belonged to no ordinary team.

It was the Northern California High School all-star team, practicing for Sunday's North-South game at Anaheim Stadium.

Ironically, Marin County's selection to the team, Terra Linda centerfielder Dewey Forry, had to withdraw from the game when he signed a contract with the Los Angeles Dodgers last Sunday. He reported Wednesday to the Dodgers' rookie team in Ogden, Utah.

Redwood coach Al Endriss, whose efforts were instrumental in bringing the game into existence, was talking about the game on Wednesday, when players for the North gathered for a three-day stay at the San Francisco Presidio.

"One of the aspects that really bothers me," he said, "Is that kids on the team are signed before the game."

Forry is joined in that situation this year by Clarence Metzger, a pitcher from Kennedy in Sacramento, who was drafted by the Giants and signed more than a week ago.

There are also players who were not chosen to the team but would have been had they not signed. Among them are Sonoma pitcher Dan Briggs, who signed with the Angels after being drafted in the second round, and Jerry White of Washington in San Francisco, who signed with Montreal.

Once a player signs he becomes a professional and can no longer compete in amateur athletics.

WON'T WAIT

Endriss, and almost everyone else connected with the game, which is sponsored by the California Police Activities League, are upset because the major leagues won't wait until after the game to sign players.

"They (the scouts) want help from us, but they won't compromise," said Endriss. He referred to the times during the season when a scout would call him and ask for his opinion on a player, or seek permission to hold an informal workout.

Endriss pointed out that none of the North players will go right to the big leagues. Most will be assigned, like Forry, to rookie teams, which are in the process of beginning their seasons, so that there is no undeniable need for the players to join the teams immediately.

"What does a few games mean in a rookie league?" asked Endriss.

LOWER POTENTIAL

Premature signings definitely lower the potential quality of the game. According to Endriss, the PAL has seriously thought of writing a letter of protest to Bowie Kuhn, the commissioner of baseball.

It must be said for the scouts that, as salesmen, they have the right to think of themselves. Every player they sign means a percentage for them, which in turn means that they will be out to sign as many players as they can, as fast as they can.

To such ends, unfortunately, they often employ cloak and dagger techniques.

"They lie to each other," said Forry before he signed, and Endriss added that he has known of scouts pressuring players to sign with such reasoning as "We won't make this good an offer to you if you play in the (North-South) game."

SOUTH FAVORED

On paper the South is a solid favorite Sunday. Three first-round draft choices will be in their starting lineup, to only one for the North. That would be pitcher Randy Scarbery of Roosevelt in Fresno, a first-round pick of the Houston Astros, of whom Endriss says, "The boy can flat out throw the ball." His presence on the mount could make the difference for the North.

John d'Acquisto of St. Augustine in San Diego, the first-round pick of the Giants, will start on the mound for the South. The other first round draftees are infielder George Ambrow of Polytechnic in Long Beach, taken by the Mets, and the Oakland A's first pick, outfielder Darnell Ford from Fremont in Los Angeles.

Leach Fifth In NCAA Golf Test

The former Novato High School star fired a two-under-par 70 yesterday following his first round 73 Wednesday for a halfway total of 143.

Lanny Wadkins, another sophomore from Wake Forest, holds the individual lead with 70-69—139, followed by Tommy Valentine of Georgia and John Mahaffey of Houston, both at 141, Don Padgett of Indiana at 142 and Randy Erskine of Michigan and Leach at 143.

much for the coach's militaristic view."

TABLE TENNIS

In addition to his running, Delgado is quite an accomplished table tennis player, and one time was the Northwest Intercollegiate singles and doubles champ. He also gets in some tennis and badminton when he can.

He has won races of 25 kilometers and 20 kilometers and has finished two marathon runs, but feels his best races are between 6 and 15 miles.

He completed his first year as a math teacher at San Rafael High, was at Armijo High School in Fairfield for two years prior.

Delgado became a proud pop last Saturday when his wife, Lynnette, gave birth to a baby girl. Hep romptly celebrated the following day by winning a 9.3-mile race, the Woodminster run in Oakland.

Manager Gene Ferretti said Novato fields are being used by other junior baseball programs. Novato's next game opening the second half of league play will be at Vacaville next Wednesday.

Napa has clinched the first half of the league with a 6-1 won-lost record. Novato had 5-3.

Tennis Clinic Set For San Anselmo

A free children's tennis clinic will be held at Drake High School and the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo Monday through Friday, July 3.

Sponsored by the San Anselmo Women's Tennis Club and the city's park and recreation department, the clinic, open to boys and girls 8-14 years of age, will be from 1 to 5:30 p.m. each day.

Cannon Heads Field In Sears Point Race

With a field of more than 200 sport car and Grand Prix machines checked into the Bay Area, qualifying will be held tomorrow at Sears Point Raceway for the $25,000 Continental Grand Prix. The Sears Point meet is the fifth and last West Coast stop in the $250,000 Continental Grand Prix series.

Defending Sears Point champion and current point leader in the series, John Cannon of Montreal, Canada, claims the favorite's role for the coveted pole spot. Cannon grabbed that position two weeks ago at Monterey, but not by much.

PRIME CONTENDERS

Four prime contenders will carry low odds into the 100-mile event set for 3:30 p.m. Sunday. Ron Grable of Cupertino, California is the only local driver given a chance at the checkered flag. Grable is in second place in the series and comes to Sears Point fresh from wins at Luguna Seca and Edmonton, Canada.

Dick Smothers of Hollywood and George Wintersteen of Villanova, Pa., are also rated good bets in a pair of new Lotus 70 cars powered by Chevrolet. The English racing machines came into their own at Monterey finishing second and third behind Grable. Japan's Hiroshi Fushida also appears ready for a winning effort after two money finishes at Kent and Monterey.

LAP RECORDS

The qualifying lap record at Sears is 1 minute, 36.79 seconds held by Sam Posey of Sharon, Conn. Cannon holds the lap record during a race at 1:38.02. Both marks are expected to fall in tomorrow's qualifying trials and Sunday's feature over the 2.5 mile, 12 turn road course.

Gates at the track will open at 9 A.M. each day. Tickets have been reduced to $3 Saturday, $5 Sunday. Children are $1. Grandstand seats are free to general admission ticket buyers, parking is free. Sears Point is located on the Blackpoint cutoff between San Rafael and Vallejo.

CLEVELAND OPEN

Young Golfer Says He's Thinking Now

AURORA, Ohio (UPI) — Young Larry Hinson, who says he is spending a little time thinking while swinging the golf club, fired a first-round 5-under-par 65 to take a one-stroke lead into the second 18 holes today of the $150,000 Cleveland Open.

Dave Hill tried the same technique on the 6,661-yard Aurora Country Club Thursday but wasn't as successful. Despite a record breaking 29 on the front nine, his 37 over the last half of the course grouped him at 66 with four others for second place.

DIFFERENCE

Hinson, 24, who overcame a childhood bout with polio, missed the cut in the Cleveland Open a year ago. The difference?

"I'm thinking out there this year," he explained.

"Instead of just hitting the ball, I'm spending a little time thinking about which club to use and where to hit the ball."

Hill fired a 6-under-par 29 on his first nine holes, which set a nine-hole record for the course, the tournament, and the PGA tour this year. It was two strokes higher than the all-time PGA tournament record of 27.

But on the tenth hole, Hill tried to pitch the ball from a difficult lie on down hill rough to the fairway and it rolled into a ditch. He ended with a double bogey for the hole and struggled home with a 37 for the nine.

WRONG CHOICE

"That's what comes of thinking out there," Hill moaned later. "I was trying to play it smart and prepare to settle for a bogey. If I'd just taken a five iron and whaled the ball, I'd probably have landed near the green."

Hill said he did very little thinking on all the holes he played well. He missed a plane, came to the tourney a day late and had never seen the course before. His regular caddy, Junior Moore, made every club selection for him, except for the fatal 10 hole.

Thirty-two players broke par. The leaders said the good scores came about because of heavy rains before the round, which caused the greens to hold iron shots well.

Billy Maxwell, Bob Menne, and Dick Carmody tied at 67. Among 10 players bunched at 68 were Frank Beard, Bob Charles, Bert Greene, Mason Rudolph and Tom Weiskopf.

Added Incentive For Trackmen

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI) —The 1970 National AAU Track and Field championships open a two-night stand at Memorial Stadium tonight and, as an added incentive, officials announced a trip to Russia.

The championships, being hosted by Bakersfield for the fifth time since 1956 and over one of the fastest tracks in the world, already were to determine the makeup of teams for meets next month in France, Scandinavia and West Germany.

The addition of a Russian trip, beginning on July 6, came at a last-minute announcement which many among the 500 competitors on hand considered the one trip to make.

Stocks Drop On Light Turnover

NEW YORK (UPI) — Traders, plagued by a number of discomforting news items and the usually pre-weekend caution, sent the stock market lower in light turnover today.

Most point-sized losers cropped up in the oils and electronics, while the rail group continued to react adversely to the Penn Central's petition for reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws.

With about an hour to go, the UPI Market Indicator, measuring all stocks traded, showed a loss of 0.39 per cent on 1,470 issues crossing the tape. Of these, 666 retreated and 481 gained.

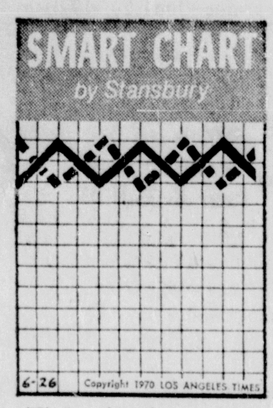
A four-hour turnover of 6,330,000 shares compared with 6,350,000 shares which changed hands at a comparable period yesterday.

The Commerce Department reported that the government's index of leading business indicators declined 0.8 per cent last month. This followed an increase of 0.1 per cent recorded in April.

The report is a statistical aggregate of eight business indicators which usually foreshadow changes in the economy.

Labor Secretary-Designate James D. Hodgson told UPI that inflation is being curbed, and said a recent slowing of wholesale price increases was "a harbinger of things to come," for retail prices.

But Hodgson predicted that unemployment may reach 5.6 per cent of the labor force, the highest peak figure for unemployment any administration official has yet cited.



"Their absurd complaint alleges a price-fixing conspiracy with our leading competitor."

Defense Boxcar Order Proposed To Aid Harvest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Garner E. Shriver, R-Kan., has proposed to have the Defense Department buy its own boxcars so the western states can have enough to move the wheat harvest.

He said there is a chronic boxcar shortage around harvest time, much of it because the cars are held by the Defense Department in readiness in certain yards, at a demurrage fee. The railroads needing them cannot get them back into service, Shriver said.

"In Kansas alone, it has been estimated the boxcar shortage will result in an economic loss of $100 million this year," Shriver said.

The bill he proposed would let the Secretary of Defense arrange to build or buy 10,000 federal purpose box cars for defense freight.

Controversial Navy Ships Order Given

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy has let its biggest shipbuilding contract since World War II amid a congressional controversy leaving some doubt whether the agreement ever will be carried out.

The contract, totaling $2.14 billion, calls for construction of 30-new class destroyers, all at the Ingalls Shipbuilding Yards now owned by Litton Systems, Inc., at Pasacagoula, Miss.
